The board shall review all plans for experimental research or hazardous treatment procedures involving persons admitted to any residential facility to assure that the research project is humane and not unduly hazardous and that it complies with the principles of the statement on the use of human subjects for research of the American association on mental deficiency and with the principles for research involving human subjects required by the United States department of health, education and welfare. No experimental research project involving persons admitted to any residential facility affected by this act shall be commenced unless it is approved by the mental disabilities board of visitors. The board shall investigate all cases of alleged mistreatment of a resident.

(3) The board shall, at least annually, inspect every residential facility which is providing a course of residential habilitation and treatment to any person pursuant to this act. The board shall inquire concerning all habilitation programs being implemented by the institution.

(4) The board shall inspect the file of each person admitted to a residential facility pursuant to this act to ensure that a habilitation plan exists and is being implemented. The board shall inquire concerning all use of restraints, isolation or other extraordinary measures.

(5) The board may assist any patient at a residential facility in resolving any grievance he may have concerning his admission or his course of treatment and habilitation in the facility.

(7) The mental disabilities board of visitors shall report annually to the governor and shall report to each session of the Montana legislature concerning the status of the residential facilities and habilitation programs which it has inspected.

(8) The mental disabilities board of visitors shall be attached to the governor for administrative purposes. It may employ staff for the purpose of carrying out its duties as set out in this act.

38-1233. Transfer of person to residential facility. If any person is a patient in a mental health facility and the professional person in charge of the patient determines that the patient is suffering from a developmental disability rather than mental illness and should more properly be admitted to a residential facility, then the professional person shall commence proceedings consistent with the procedures set forth in this act for admissions generally to effect such admission.

History: En. 38-1302 by Sec. 2, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1303. Voluntary admission—cost of admission. (1) Nothing in this act shall be construed in any way as limiting the right of any person to make voluntary application for admission at any time to any mental health facility or professional person. An application for admission to a mental health facility shall be in writing on a form prescribed by the facility and approved by the department of institutions. It shall not be valid unless it is approved by a professional person and a copy is given to the person voluntarily admitting himself. The form shall contain a statement of the rights of the person voluntarily applying for admission, as set out in this act, including the right to release.

(2) Any applicant who wishes to voluntarily apply for admission to the Montana state hospital shall first obtain certification from the regional mental health director of his mental health region or if not reasonably available, from a professional person that the applicant is suffering from a mental disorder and that the facilities available to the mental health region in which the applicant resides are unable to provide adequate evaluation and treatment.

(3) An application for voluntary admission shall give the facility the right to detain the applicant for no more than five (5) days past his written request for release.

(4) The cost of involuntarily committing a patient who is voluntarily admitted to a mental health facility at the time the involuntary proceedings are commenced shall be borne by the county of the patient's residence at the time of admission.

(5) The costs of transportation to a mental health facility under this section shall be provided by the patient, his parents, guardian, or the welfare department of the county of the patient's residence.

(6) Any person voluntarily entering or remaining in any mental health facility shall enjoy all the rights secured to a person involuntarily committed to the facility.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor who is sixteen (16) years of age or older may consent to receive mental health services to be rendered by a facility or a person licensed to practice medicine or psychology in this state.

(8) Voluntary commitment of a minor to a mental health facility for an inpatient course of treatment shall be for a period of no more than thirty (30) days. If the professional person in charge of a minor patient determines that the commitment should continue for a period of more than thirty (30) days, he shall commence involuntary commitment proceedings in accordance with this act. Counsel shall be appointed for the minor.

(9) If, in any voluntary commitment for any period of time to a mental health facility, a minor fails to join in the consent of his parents or guardian to the voluntary commitment, then the commitment shall be treated as an involuntary commitment. Notice of the substance of this subsection and of the right to counsel shall be set forth in conspicuous type in a conspicuous location on any form or application used for the voluntary commitment of a minor to a mental health facility. The notice shall be explained to the minor by the professional person approving the application.

History: En. 38-1303 by Sec. 3, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1304. Rights and waiver of rights. (1) Whenever a person is involuntarily detained, or is examined by a professional person pursuant to section 38-1305, or is notified that he will be the subject of a hearing pursuant to section 38-1305 or 38-1306, the person shall be informed of his constitutional rights and his rights under this act. A person may waive his procedural rights, provided that the waiver is knowingly and intentionally made. The right to counsel in a hearing held pursuant to section 38-1306 may not be waived. The right to treatment provided for in this act may not be waived.

(2) In the case of a person who has been detained for a seventy-two (72) hour inpatient evaluation and treatment or for a longer period of time, a waiver of rights can be knowingly and intentionally made only with the concurrence of the patient's attorney or of the responsible person appointed by the court. The right of the respondent to be physically present at a hearing may also be waived by his attorney and the responsible person with the concurrence of the professional person and the judge upon a finding supported by facts that:

(a) the presence of the respondent at the hearing would be likely to seriously adversely affect his mental condition, and

(b) an alternative location for the hearing in surroundings familiar to the respondent would not prevent such adverse effects on his mental condition.

(3) In the case of a minor, the waiver of rights can be knowingly and intentionally made:

(a) when the minor is under the age of twelve (12), by the parents of the minor;

(b) when the minor is over the age of twelve (12), by the youth and his parents;

(c) when the minor is over the age of twelve (12) and the minor and his parents do not agree, the minor can make an effective waiver of his rights only with advice of counsel.

If there is an apparent conflict of interest between a minor and his parents or guardian, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the minor.

(4) In addition to any other rights which may be guaranteed by the constitution of the United States and of this state, by the laws of this state or by this act, any person who is involuntarily detained or against whom a petition is filed pursuant to this act has the following rights:

(a) the right to notice reasonably in advance of any hearing or other court proceeding concerning him;

(b) the right in any hearing to be present, to offer evidence, and to present witnesses in any proceeding concerning him;

(c) the right in any hearing to cross-examine witnesses;

(d) the right to be represented by counsel;

(e) the right to remain silent;

(f) the right in any hearing to be proceeded against according to the rules of evidence applicable to civil matters generally;

(g) the right to view and copy all petitions on file with the court concerning him;

(h) the right to be examined by a professional person of his choice when such professional person is reasonably available;

(i) the right to be dressed in his own clothes at any hearing held pursuant to this act;

(j) the right to refuse any but lifesaving medication for up to twenty-four (24) hours prior to any hearing held pursuant to this act.

History: En. 38-1304 by Sec. 4, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1305. Petition alleging person as seriously mentally ill—contents and procedure. (1) A county attorney on his own initiative or upon the request of any person may file a petition with the court alleging that there is a person within the county who is seriously mentally ill and requesting that an evaluation of the person's condition be made.

(2) The petition shall contain:

(a) the name and address of the person requesting the petition and his interest in the case;

(b) the name of the respondent, and, if known, the address, age, sex, marital status, and occupation of the respondent;

(c) the purported facts supporting the allegation of mental illness;

(d) the name and address of every person known or believed to be legally responsible for the care, support, and maintenance of the person for whom evaluation is sought;

(e) the name and address of the person's next of kin, to the extent known to the county attorney and the person requesting the petition;

(f) the name and address of any person whom the county attorney believes might be willing and able to be appointed as responsible person;

(g) the name, address, and telephone number of the attorney, if any, who has most recently represented the person for whom evaluation is sought. If there is no attorney, there shall be a statement as to whether,

to the best knowledge of the person requesting the petition, the person for whom evaluation is sought is indigent and therefore unable to afford the services of an attorney; and

(h) a statement of the rights of the respondent which shall be in conspicuous print and identified by a suitable heading.

(3) Upon presentation to the court by the county attorney, the court shall immediately consider the petition with or without a hearing to determine if there is probable cause to believe that the respondent is seriously mentally ill. If the court finds no such probable cause, the petition shall be discharged. If the court finds probable cause it shall submit the petition to a professional person for evaluation. If probable cause is found, the court may appoint a responsible person to protect the interests of the respondent. The responsible person shall be notified as soon as possible that a petition has been filed. Notice of the petition and the finding of probable cause shall be hand delivered or mailed to the respondent and to the attorney, the person or persons legally responsible for care, support, and maintenance of the respondent, next of kin identified in the petition, and the person or persons identified by the county attorney as possible responsible persons.

(4) (a) Upon receipt of the petition, the professional person shall examine the respondent and make such inquiry as he or she may deem appropriate. If the respondent does not co-operate and if requested by the professional person, the court may order the respondent to submit to examination by a professional person at a time and place designated by the court. The examination so ordered shall not exceed a period of four (4) hours.

(b) When the professional person first contacts the respondent, before he begins any examination, he shall give a copy of the petition to the respondent, and shall explain to the respondent the nature of the proceeding and his rights as set forth in the petition.

(5) On the basis of his examination, the professional person shall recommend in writing either that the petition be dismissed or that a seventy-two (72) hour inpatient evaluation and treatment be ordered. If dismissal is recommended, the petition shall be summarily dismissed. The petition shall be dismissed if the respondent accepts voluntary treatment or admission to a mental health facility approved by the professional person conducting the examination. Whenever a professional person recommends that a seventy-two (72) hour evaluation and treatment be ordered, the recommendation shall be accompanied by a report explaining the reason for the recommendation and identifying any tests or evaluation devices which the professional person employed in evaluating the respondent. If the professional person recommends that a seventy-two (72) hour evaluation and treatment be ordered, notice of this recommendation shall be mailed or delivered to the respondent, the next of kin, when known, any person responsible for the care, support, and maintenance of the respondent, any other person identified in the petition, and the responsible person, if any, appointed by the court. Notice shall include the date, time, and place of the respondent's next appearance before the court.

(6) In the event the examining professional person recommends a seventy-two (72) hour inpatient evaluation and treatment, the respondent shall be brought before the court by the county attorney without undue delay, advised of the recommendation, supplied with a copy of the petition and the recommendation and advised of his rights to a hearing and to counsel. If a responsible person has not yet been appointed, the court shall appoint a responsible person at this time. If the right to a hearing and to counsel are waived, the court shall direct that the respondent be detained at a mental health facility for evaluation and treatment not to exceed seventy-two (72) hours. If a hearing is requested by the respondent, his attorney, or the responsible person appointed by the court, a time and place shall be set for the hearing. The matter shall be given precedence over all other court matters. If the respondent is unwilling or unable to retain counsel, the court shall appoint counsel and be responsible for notification.

(7) The hearing shall be held before the court without a jury. The respondent may present such testimony and relevant documentary evidence as he or the responsible person or counsel desires. The county attorney shall represent the state. The professional person who made the recommendation shall be present in court and may be cross-examined concerning his recommendation and his report. After full hearing the court shall determine whether the respondent is seriously mentally ill within the definition provided herein. If the court finds the respondent is not seriously mentally ill, he or she shall be discharged and the petition dismissed. If the court finds the respondent to be seriously mentally ill, it shall order the respondent detained at a mental health facility for examination and treatment not exceeding seventy-two (72) hours. However, the court may dismiss the petition if the respondent agrees to accept voluntary treatment or admission to a mental health facility.

(8) Persons receiving evaluation and treatment pursuant to this section shall be given a reasonable choice of an available professional person qualified to provide such services.

History: En. 38-1305 by Sec. 5, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1306. Petition for commitment—trial—determination of court. (1) If in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the patient the person detained under the provisions of section 38-1305 does not require further evaluation or treatment he shall be released within seventy-two (72) hours. If, in the opinion of the professional person, the patient requires further evaluation or treatment, he shall advise the court accordingly not less than three (3) days from the date of detention and shall within the same time file a petition requesting that the patient be committed to a facility for a period not in excess of three (3) months. The petition shall be accompanied by a written report and evaluation of the patient's mental and physical condition. The report shall explain the reasons for the petition and shall identify any tests or evaluation devices which the professional person employed in evaluating the patient. The professional person may retain the patient in custody by court order pending a hearing on the petition only if detention is necessary to prevent injury to the patient or others.

(2) Upon receipt of a petition for commitment not to exceed three (3) months, the court shall immediately set the time and place for a hearing, which shall be held not more than three (3) days from the receipt of the petition. The court may extend the period to seven (7) days. The time for the hearing may be further extended at the request of counsel for the patient. The court shall give written notice to the professional person who requested the commitment, the patient, his counsel, his next of kin, when known, the responsible person appointed by the court, and the county attorney. At any time prior to the date set for hearing, the patient, or his attorney, may request a jury trial, whereupon the time set for hearing will be vacated and the matter set on the court's jury calendar at the earliest date possible, the matter taking precedence over all other matters on the jury calendar.

(3) At any time prior to trial on the petition before court or jury, the patient may waive trial and give written consent to commitment to a facility for a period not to exceed three (3) months. Such consent must be joined in writing, by his attorney and by the responsible person appointed by the court.

(4) The patient shall be present and represented by counsel at all stages of the trial, and the sole question to be determined by the court or jury, as the case may be, shall be whether the patient is seriously mentally ill within the meaning set forth in this act. The professional person who filed the petition shall be present in court for the hearing and subject to cross-examination. The trial shall be governed by the Montana rules of civil procedure except that, if tried by a jury, at least three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of the jurors must concur on a finding that the patient is seriously mentally ill. The finding may be appealed to the Montana supreme court in the same manner as other civil matters. The standard of proof in any hearing held pursuant to this section shall be proof beyond a reasonable doubt. Any court may order a hearing closed to the public for the protection of the respondent.

(5) If, upon hearing, it is determined that the patient is not seriously mentally ill within the meaning of this act, he shall be discharged and the petition of the professional person dismissed. If it is determined that the patient is seriously mentally ill within the meaning of this act the court shall:

(a) commit the patient to a facility for a period of not more than three (3) months;

(b) order the patient to be placed in the care and custody of his relative or guardian or some other appropriate place other than an institution;

(c) order outpatient therapy; or

(d) make some other appropriate order for treatment. No treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall affect the patient's custody for a period of more than three (3) months.

In determining which of the above alternatives to order, the court shall choose the least restrictive alternatives necessary to protect the patient and the public and to permit effective treatment. The court shall consider and shall describe in its order what alternatives for treatment of the patient are available, what alternatives were investigated and why the investigated alternatives were not deemed suitable. The court shall enter into the record a detailed statement of the facts upon which it found the respondent to be seriously mentally ill.

At any time within the three (3) month period the patient may be discharged on the written order of the professional person in charge of the patient. In the event the patient is not discharged within the three (3) month period and if the term is not extended as provided herein, the patient shall be discharged by the facility at the end of three (3) months without further order of the court. Notice of such discharge will be filed with the court within five (5) days of the discharge.

(6) Not less than two (2) calendar weeks prior to the end of the three (3) month period of detention, the professional person in charge of the patient may petition the court for extension of the detention period. The petition shall be accompanied by a written report and evaluation of the patient's mental and physical condition. The report shall describe any tests and evaluation devices which have been employed in evaluating the patient, the course of treatment which has been undertaken for the patient and the future course of treatment anticipated by the professional person. Upon the filing of the petition, the court shall give written notice of the filing of the petition to the patient, his next of kin, if reasonably available, the responsible person appointed by the court, and to the patient's counsel. If any person so notified requests a hearing prior to the termination of the previous detention authority the court shall immediately set a time and place for such a hearing on a date not more than ten (10) days from the receipt of the request and notify the same people including the professional person in charge of the patient. Procedure on the petition for extension shall be the same in all respects, as the procedure on the petition for the original three (3) month commitment except the patient shall not be entitled to trial by jury. The hearing shall be held in the district court having jurisdiction over the facility in which the patient is detained unless otherwise ordered by the court. If upon the hearing the court finds the patient not seriously mentally ill within the meaning of this act, the patient shall be discharged and the petition dismissed. If the court finds that the patient continues to suffer from serious mental illness, the court shall order commitment, custody in relatives, outpatient therapy or other order as set forth in subsection (5) of this section except that no order shall affect his custody for more than six (6) months. In its order, the court shall describe what alternatives for treatment of the patient are available, what alternatives were investigated, and why the investigated alternatives were not deemed suitable. The court shall not order continuation of an alternative which does not include a comprehensive, individualized plan of treatment for the patient. Any court order for the continuation of an alternative shall include a specific finding that a comprehensive, individualized plan of treatment exists.

(7) Further extensions may be obtained under the same procedure described in subsection (6) of this section except that the patient's custody shall not be affected for more than one (1) year, without a renewal of the commitment under the procedures set forth in subsection (6) of this section, including a statement of the findings required by subsection (6).

(8) At any time during the patient's commitment the court may on its own initiative or upon application of the professional person in charge of the patient, the patient, his next of kin, his attorney, or the responsible person appointed by the court, order the patient to be placed in the care and custody of relatives or guardians, or to be provided outpatient therapy or other appropriate placement or treatment.

History: En. 38-1306 by Sec. 6, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Disagreement by Physicians

Where medical jurors disagreed as to necessity of commitment of petitioner in mental institution, order of commitment issued by district court was void and of no effect. Application of Bushman, 153 M 422, 458 P 2d 81.

Fairness of Inquisition

Petitioner who was committed to state hospital was not deprived of his constitutional rights where it appeared that district judge and court attendants went to hospital to advise him of hearing date and his privilege to have counsel, his mother was present at the hearing, which was held in the hospital, and everything was done by the court to see that petitioner's rights were protected and no advantage was taken of him. Petition of Kolocotronis, 145 M 564, 402 P 2d 977.

38-1307. Emergency situation — petition — detention. (1) When an emergency situation exists, a peace officer may take any person who appears to be seriously mentally ill and, as a result of serious mental illness, to be a danger to others or to himself into custody only for sufficient time to contact a professional person for emergency evaluation. If possible, a professional person should be called prior to taking the person into custody.

(2) If the professional person agrees that the person detained appears to be seriously mentally ill and that an emergency situation genuinely exists, then the person may be detained until the next regular business day. At that time, the professional person shall either cause the county attorney to file the petition provided for in section 38-1305 or shall release the detained person. In either case, the professional person shall file a report with the court explaining his actions.

(3) When the petition is filed, after an emergency detention, the court may order the respondent detained for the amount of time necessary for a professional person to conduct the examination and inquiry provided for in section 38-1305 and to report his findings and recommendations to the court. In no case shall such detention exceed twenty-four (24) hours from the time of the filing of the petition. Saturday, Sunday, and legal holidays shall not be included in computing the twenty-four (24) hour period. The court may also order the respondent detained during the seventy-two (72) hour evaluation and treatment period, if ordered, and through the period of the hearing on initial commitment, if held. No period of detention shall be ordered by the court pursuant to this section unless the court finds that such detention is required in the interest of public safety or the life or safety of the respondent. An order of detention shall include a statement of the factual basis for the order.

(4) Any person detained pursuant to this section shall be detained in the least restrictive environment required to protect the life and physical safety of the person detained or of members of the public. Whenever possible, a person detained pursuant to this section shall be detained in a mental health facility. A person may be detained in a jail or other correctional facility only if no mental health facility is available or if the available mental health facilities are inadequate to protect the person detained and the public. As soon as a mental health facility becomes available or the situation has changed sufficiently that an available mental health facility is adequate for the protection of the person detained and of the public, then the detained person shall be transferred from the jail or correctional facility to the mental health facility. In no case shall a person be detained in a jail or other correctional facility pursuant to this section for a longer period of time than is required for the county attorney to file a petition and for a professional person to complete his initial examination and inquiry and report his findings to the court.

(5) The county attorney of any county may make arrangements with any federal, state, regional, or private mental facility or with a mental health facility in any county for the detention of persons held pursuant to this section.

History: En. 38-1307 by Sec. 7, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1308. Outpatient care — conditional release. (1) When in the opinion of the professional person in charge of a mental health facility providing involuntary treatment, the committed person can be appropriately served by outpatient care prior to the expiration of the period of commitment, then such outpatient care may be required as a condition for early release for a period which, when added to the inpatient treatment period, shall not exceed the period of commitment. If the mental health facility designated to provide outpatient care is other than the facility providing involuntary treatment, the outpatient facility so designated must agree in writing to assume such responsibility.

(2) The mental health facility designated to provide outpatient care or the professional person in charge of the patient's case may modify the conditions for continued release when such modification is in the best interest of the patient.

(3) If the mental health facility designated to provide outpatient care determines that a conditionally released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his release, and because of that failure has become a substantial danger to himself or other persons, then, upon notification by the mental health facility designated to provide outpatient care, or on his own motion, the professional person in charge of the patient's case may order that the conditionally released person be apprehended and returned to the facility from which he was conditionally released. The professional person in charge of the patient's case may modify or rescind such order at any time. The professional person shall mail or deliver notice to the person detained, his attorney, if any, and his guardian or conservator, if any, his next of kin, if known, and the responsible person appointed by the court.

(4) The proceedings set forth in subsection (3) of this section may be initiated by the professional person in charge of the patient's case on the same basis set forth therein without the professional person requiring or ordering the apprehension and detention of the conditionally released person.

Upon expiration of the period of commitment, or when the patient is released from outpatient care, notice in writing to the court which committed the patient for treatment shall be provided by the professional person in charge of the patient.

History: En. 38-1308 by Sec. 8, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1309. Right to counsel and appeal — examination of respondent — records. (1) The person alleged to be seriously mentally ill shall have the right to be present at any hearing or trial. If he has no attorney, the judge shall appoint an attorney to represent him at either the hearing or the trial or both. If the court determines that the respondent is financially unable to employ an attorney, the court shall appoint counsel who shall be compensated from the public funds of the county where the respondent resides. The county of residence shall also pay all precommitment expenses including transportation to a mental health facility incurred in connection with the detention, examination, and precommitment custody of the respondent.

(2) The respondent, his attorney, or the responsible person appointed by the court may secure a professional person of his own choice to examine the respondent and to testify at the hearing before the court or jury as to the results of his examination.

(3) If the person wishing to secure the testimony of a professional person is unable to do so because of financial reasons, and if the respondent joins in the request for such examination, the court shall appoint a professional person other than the professional person requesting the commitment to perform the examination. Whenever possible, the court shall allow the respondent a reasonable choice of an available professional person qualified to perform the requested examination who will be compensated from the public funds of the county where the respondent resides.

(4) Every respondent subject to an order for short-term treatment or long-term care and treatment shall be advised of his right to appeal such order by the court at the conclusion of any hearing as a result of which such an order may be entered.

(5) Records and papers in proceedings under this act shall be maintained separately by the clerks of the several courts. Upon the release of any respondent or patient, the facility shall notify the clerk of the court within five (5) days of the release, and the clerk shall immediately seal the record in the case and omit the name of the respondent or patient from the index or indices of cases in such court unless the court orders the record opened for good cause shown.

History: En. 38-1310 by Sec. 10, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1311. Appeal procedure. Appellate review of any order of short-term evaluation and treatment or long-term commitment may be had by appeal to the supreme court of Montana in the manner as other civil cases. The patient shall not be released pending appeal unless ordered by the court. The appeal shall have priority above all other matters before the supreme court.

History: En. 38-1311 by Sec. 11, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1312. Effect of act on persons currently judged mentally ill. Any person who, by reason of a judicial decree entered by a court of this state prior to the enactment of this act adjudicating such person mentally ill shall, one (1) year following the effective date of this act be deemed to have been released and restored to legal capacity and competency unless, before that time, a petition for an extended detention order is filed with the court.

History: En. 38-1312 by Sec. 12, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

38-1313. Civil and legal rights of person committed. (1) Unless specifically stated in an order by the court, a person involuntarily committed to a facility for a period of evaluation or treatment shall not forfeit any legal right or suffer any legal disability by reason of the provisions of this act except in so far as it may be necessary to detain the person for treatment, evaluation or care.

(2) Whenever any person is committed to a mental health facility for a period of three (3) months or longer, the court ordering the commitment may make an order stating specifically any legal rights which are denied the respondent and any legal disabilities which are imposed on him. As part of its order, the court may appoint a person to act as conservator of the respondent's property. Any conservatorship created pursuant to this section shall terminate upon the conclusion of the involuntary commitment if not sooner terminated by the court. A conservatorship or guardianship extending beyond the period of involuntary commitment may not be created except according to the procedures set forth under Montana law for the appointment of conservators and guardians generally.

(3) Any person who has been committed to a mental health facility pursuant to this act shall be automatically restored upon the termination of the commitment to all of his civil and legal rights which may have been lost when he was committed. This subsection shall not affect, however, any guardianship or conservatorship created independently of the commitment proceedings, according to the provisions of Montana law relating to the appointment of conservators and guardians generally. Any person who leaves a mental health facility following a period of evaluation and treatment shall be given a written statement setting forth the substance of this subsection.

(4) Any person committed to a mental health facility prior to the effective date of this act shall enjoy all the rights and privileges of a person committed after the effective date of this act.

(5) No person who has received evaluation or treatment under any provisions of this act shall be discriminated against because of such status. For purposes of this section, "discrimination" means giving any unfavorable weight to the fact of hospitalization or outpatient care and treatment unrelated to a person's present capacity to meet standards applicable to all persons. The fact that a person has received evaluation and treatment, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, at any mental health facility shall not be admitted into evidence in any subsequent proceeding for involuntary commitment or for the appointment of a guardian or conservator.

History: En. 38-1313 by Sec. 13, Ch. 466, L. 1975.

The chief officer of any hospital or institution operated by such an agency and in which a person is so hospitalized shall be vested with the same powers as the superintendent of the Montana state hospital with respect to detention, custody, transfer, conditional release, or discharge of the person. Jurisdiction shall be retained in the appropriate courts of this state to inquire into the mental condition of persons so hospitalized, and to determine the necessity for continuance of their hospitalization.

(2) Consistent with other provisions of this act, a person committed under this act for a period of three (3) months or longer may be committed by the court to the custody of friends or next of kin residing outside the state or to a mental health facility located outside the state, if the out-of-state facility agrees to receive the patient, provided, however, that no such commitment shall be for a longer period of time than is permitted within the state. If the patient is indigent, the expense of supporting him in an out-of-state facility and the expense of transportation shall be borne by the state of Montana.

(3) The transfer of persons committed under the provisions of this act out of Montana or under the laws of another jurisdiction into Montana shall be governed by the provisions of the interstate compact on mental health.

(2) Patients have a right to the least restrictive conditions necessary to achieve the purposes of commitment.

(3) Patients shall have the same rights to visitation and reasonable access to private telephone communications as patients at any public hospitals, except to the extent that the professional person responsible for formulation of a particular patient's treatment plan writes an order imposing special restrictions. (6) Patients have a right to wear their own clothes and to keep and use their own personal possessions including toilet articles, except in so far as such clothes or personal possessions may be determined by a professional person in charge of the patient's treatment plan to be dangerous or otherwise inappropriate to the treatment regimen. The facility shall make provision for the laundering of patient clothing.

(b) There must be special provision made for geriatric and other nonambulatory patients to assure their safety and comfort, including special fittings on toilets and wheelchairs. Appropriate provision shall be made to permit nonambulatory patients to communicate their needs to the facility staff.

Privileges or release from the facility shall not be conditioned upon the performance of labor covered by this provision. Patients may voluntarily engage in such labor if the labor is compensated in accordance with the minimum wage laws of the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. sec. 206 as amended.

(2) (a) Patients may be required to perform therapeutic tasks which do not involve the operation and maintenance of the facility, provided the specific task or any change in assignment is:

(i) An integrated part of the patient's treatment plan and approved as a therapeutic activity by a professional person responsible for supervising the patient's treatment; and

(ii) Supervised by a staff member to oversee the therapeutic aspects of the activity.

(b) Patients may voluntarily engage in therapeutic labor for which the facility would otherwise have to pay an employee, provided the specific labor or any change in labor assignment is:

minimum wage as his ability to perform that particular job bears to the ability of a person not so afflicted.

(4) Patients may be required to perform tasks of a personal house-keeping nature such as the making of one's own bed.

(5) Deductions or payments for care and other charges shall not deprive a patient of a reasonable amount of the compensation received pursuant to this section for personal and incidental purchases and expenses.

The written order may be entered only after the professional person has personally seen the patient concerned and evaluated whatever episode or situation is said to call for restraint or isolation. Emergency use of restraints or isolation shall be for no more than one (1) hour, by which time a professional person shall have been consulted and shall have entered an appropriate order in writing. Such written order shall be effective for no more than twenty-four (24) hours and must be renewed if restraint and isolation are to be continued. The facility shall send notice of intent to involve the patient in experimental research to the patient, his next of kin, if known, his legal guardian, if any, the attorney who most recently represented him, and the responsible person appointed by the court at least ten (10) days prior to the commencement of such experimental research.

Such proposed research shall first have been reviewed and approved by the mental disabilities board of visitors before such consent shall be sought. Prior to such approval the board shall determine that such research complies with the principles of the statement on the use of human subjects for research of the American association on mental deficiency and with the principles for research involving human subjects required by the United States department of health, education, and welfare for projects supported by that agency.

At least one (1) of those consulted must consent to the treatment. If there is no responsible person or if the responsible person appointed by the court is no longer available, then a responsible person who is in no way connected with the facility or with the department of institutions shall be appointed before any such treatment procedure can be employed. The facility shall send notice of intent to employ extraordinary treatment procedures to the patient, his next of kin, if known, the legal guardian, if any, the attorney who most recently represented him and the responsible person appointed by the court at least ten (10) days prior to the commencement of such extraordinary treatment program.

This professional person shall also be responsible for ensuring that the patient is released, where appropriate, into a less restrictive form of treatment.

CHAPTER 30—ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Section 40-3011. Standard valuation law—life insurance.

40-3011. Standard valuation law—life insurance. (1). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(2) This subsection shall apply to only those policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of section 40-3831 (the standard non-forfeiture law).

Except as otherwise provided in (3) (a) (vii) (A) of this section for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, the minimum standard of valuation on all policies of domestic life insurers issued prior to January 1, 1922, shall be the American experience table of mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum, with preliminary term insurance for the first policy year, and for policies of such insurers issued subsequent to December 31, 1921, shall be the American experience table of mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum, with preliminary term insurance for the first policy year, except as follows: If the premium charged for term insurance under a limited payment life preliminary term policy providing for the payment of all premiums thereon in less than twenty (20) years from the date of the policy, or under an endowment preliminary term policy, exceeds that charged for life insurance under twenty (20) payment life preliminary term policies of the same insurer, the reserve thereon at the end of any year, including the first, shall not be less than the reserve on a twenty (20) payment life preliminary term policy issued in the same year and at the same age, together with an amount which shall be equivalent to the accumulation of a net level premium reserve sufficient to provide for a pure endowment at the end of the premium payment period equal to the difference between the value at the end of such period of such a twenty (20) payment life preliminary term policy and the full net level premium reserve at such time of such a limited payment life or endowment policy.

Reserves for all such policies and contracts may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by this subsection.

(3) This subsection shall apply to only those policies and contracts issued on or after the operative date of section 40-3831 (the standard non-forfeiture law), except as otherwise provided in (3) (a) (vii) (A) of this section for group annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to such operative date.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in (3) (a) (vii) (A) of this section, the minimum standard for the valuation of all such policies and contracts shall be the commissioner's reserve valuation method defined in subdivision (b), three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) interest, or in the case of policies and contracts, other than annuity and pure endowment contracts, issued on or after the effective date of this amendatory act of 1973 and prior to January 1, 1986, four per cent (4%) interest, and the following tables:

(i). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(ii) For all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies,—the 1941 standard industrial mortality table for such policies issued prior to the operative date of subsection (8-b) of section 40-3831 (the standard nonforfeiture law) as amended, and the commissioner's 1961 standard industrial mortality table for such policies issued on or after such operative date.

(iii) to (vi). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(vii) For group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis and other special benefits—such tables as may be approved by the commissioner.

(A) The minimum standard for the valuation of all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on the effective date of this subsection, as defined herein, and for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after such operative date under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall be the commissioner's reserve valuation method defined in (3) (b) of this section and the following tables and interest rates:

(I) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to January 1, 1986, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table, or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner, and six per cent (6%) interest for single premium immediate annuity contracts, and four per cent (4%) interest for all other individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(II) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after January 1, 1986, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table, or any modification of the table approved by the commissioner, and three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) interest.

(III) For all annuities and pure endowments purchased prior to January 1, 1986, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 group annuity mortality table, or any modification of the table approved by the commissioner, and six per cent (6%) interest.

(IV) For all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after January 1, 1986, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 group annuity mortality table, or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner, and three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) interest.

After the effective date of this amendatory act of 1973, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of the subsection (A) after a specified date before January 1, 1979, which shall be the operative date of the subparagraph for such insurer provided an insurer may elect a different operative date for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts from that elected for group annuity and pure endowment contracts. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this subparagraph for such insurer shall be January 1, 1979.

(b) and (c). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(d) Reserves for any category of policies, contracts or benefits as established by the commissioner, may be calculated at the option of the insurer according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for such category than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided, but the rate or rates of interest used shall not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any nonforfeiture benefits provided for therein. Provided, however, that reserves for participating life insurance policies may, with the consent of the commissioner, be calculated according to a rate of interest [lower than the rate of interest] used in calculating the nonforfeiture benefits in such policies, with the further proviso that if such lower rate differs from the rate used in the calculation of the nonforfeiture benefits by more than one-half per cent ($\frac{1}{2}\%$) the insurer issuing such policies shall file with the commissioner a plan providing for such equitable increases, if any, in the cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits in such policies as the commissioner shall approve.

regulation of insurance rates, were repealed by Sec. 37, Ch. 362, Laws 1969.

40-3634. Purpose and intent of chapter. The purpose of this chapter is to promote the public welfare by regulating insurance rates as herein provided to the end that they shall not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory, to authorize the existence and operation of qualified rating organizations and advisory organizations and require that specified rating services of such rating organizations be generally available to all admitted insurers, and to authorize co-operation between insurers in rate-making and other related matters.

It is the express intent of this chapter to permit and encourage competition between insurers on a sound financial basis, and nothing in this chapter is intended to give the commissioner power to fix and determine a rate level by classification or otherwise.

Title of Act

An act to provide for regulation of insurance rates and rating organizations, advisory organizations and joint underwriting and joint reinsurance; and repealing sections 40-3601 through 40-3633, R. C. M. 1947.

40-3635. "Rating organization" defined. In this chapter "rating organization" means every person, other than an admitted insurer, whether located within or outside this state, who has as his object or purpose the making of rates, rating plans or rating systems. Two or more admitted insurers which act in concert for the purpose of making rates, rating plans or rating systems, and which do not operate within the specific authorizations contained in sections 9, 11, 12, 20 and 21 [40-3642, 40-3644, 40-3645, 40-3653 and 40-3654] shall be deemed to be a rating organization. No single insurer shall be deemed to be a rating organization.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3636. "Advisory organization" defined. In this chapter "advisory organization" means every person, other than an admitted insurer, whether located within or outside this state, who prepares policy forms or makes underwriting rules incident to but not including the making of rates, rating plans or rating systems, or which collects and furnishes to admitted insurers or rating organizations loss or expense statistics or other statistical information and data and acts in an advisory, as distinguished from a rate-making, capacity. No duly authorized attorney at law, acting in the usual course of his profession, shall be deemed to be an advisory organization.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3637. "Member" and "subscriber" defined. Unless otherwise apparent from the context, in this chapter:

(a) "Member" means an insurer who participates in or is entitled to participate in the management of a rating, advisory or other organization.

(b) "Subscriber" means an insurer which is furnished at its request (1) with rates and rating manuals by a rating organization of which it is not a member; or (2) with advisory services by an advisory organization of which it is not a member.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3638. "Willful" and "willfully" defined. In this chapter "willful" or "willfully," in relation to an act or omission which constitutes a violation of this chapter, means with actual knowledge or belief that such act or omission constitutes such violation and with specific intent to commit such violation.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3639. Scope of chapter. This chapter applies to all insurers and all kinds of insurance, except that nothing contained in this chapter shall apply to:

(1) Life insurance.

(2) Disability insurance.

(3) Reinsurance, except joint reinsurance as provided in section 20 [40-3653] of this chapter.

(4) Insurance against loss of or damage to aircraft, their hulls, accessories and equipment, or against liability, other than workmen's compensation and employers' liability, arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of aircraft.

(5) Insurance of vessels or craft, their cargoes, marine builders' risks, marine protection and indemnity, or other risks commonly insured under marine, as distinguished from inland marine, insurance policies.

(6) Title insurance.

(7) Workmen's compensation or employers' liability insurance written in connection with workmen's compensation.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3640. Standards applicable to rates. The following standards shall apply to the making and use of rates pertaining to all classes of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable:

(a) Rates shall not be excessive or inadequate, as herein defined, nor shall they be unfairly discriminatory.

No rate shall be held to be excessive unless (1) such rate is unreasonably high for the insurance provided, and (2) a reasonable degree of competition does not exist in the area with respect to the classification to which such rate is applicable.

No rate shall be held to be inadequate unless (1) such rate is unreasonably low for the insurance provided, and (2) the continued use of such rate endangers the solvency of the insurer using the same, or unless (3) such rate is unreasonably low for the insurance provided and the use of such rate by the insurer using same has, or if continued will have, the effect of destroying competition or creating a monopoly.

(b) Consideration shall be given, to the extent applicable, to past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state, to revenues and profits from reserves, to conflagration and catastrophe hazards, if any, to a reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies, to past and prospective expenses, both country-wide and those specially applicable to this state, and to all other factors, including judgment factors, deemed relevant within and outside this state; and in the case of fire insurance rates, consideration may be given to the experience of the fire insurance business during the most recent five-year period for which such experience is available.

Consideration may also be given in the making and use of rates to dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers.

(c) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by any insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the operating methods of any such insurer or group with respect to any kind of insurance, or with respect to any subdivision or combination thereof.

(d) Risks may be grouped by classifications for the establishment of rates and minimum premiums. Classification rates may be modified to produce rates for individual risks in accordance with rating plans which establish standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. Such standards may measure any difference among risks that have a probable effect upon losses or expenses. Classifications or modifications of classifications of risks may be established based upon size, expense, management, individual experience, location or dispersion of hazard, or any other reasonable considerations, except that no special risk classification may be established based on anything adverse to the insured in a driving record which is three (3) years old or older. Such classifications and modifications shall apply to all risks under the same or substantially the same circumstances or conditions.

Amendments

Chapter 54, Laws of 1973, added "except that no special risk classification may be established on anything adverse to the insured in a driving record which is three (3) years old or older" at the end of the fourth sentence of subdivision (d).

Chapter 104, Laws of 1973, inserted "to revenues and profits from reserves," near the beginning of subdivision (b).

40-3641. Insurers authorized to act in concert. Subject to and in compliance with the provisions of this chapter authorizing insurers to be members or subscribers of rating or advisory organizations or to engage in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance, two or more insurers may act in concert with each other and with others with respect to any matters pertaining to the making of rates or rating systems, the preparation or making of insurance policy or bond forms, underwriting rules, surveys, inspections and investigations, the furnishing of loss or expense statistics or other information and data, or carrying on of research.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3642. Admitted insurers with common ownership or management—matters relating to cosurety bonds. With respect to any matters pertaining to the making of rates or rating systems, the preparation or making of insurance policy or bond forms, underwriting rules, surveys, inspections and investigations, the furnishing of loss or expense statistics or other information and data, or carrying on of research, two or more admitted insurers having a common ownership or operating in this state under common management or control, are hereby authorized to act in concert between or among themselves the same as if they constituted a single insurer, and to the extent that such matters relate to cosurety bonds, two or more admitted insurers executing such bonds are hereby authorized to act in concert between or among themselves the same as if they constituted a single insurer.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3643. Use of rates, rating systems, underwriting rules and policy or bond forms of rating or advisory organizations—agreements to adhere thereto. Members and subscribers of rating or advisory organizations may use the rates, rating systems, underwriting rules or policy or bond forms of such organizations, either consistently or intermittently, but, except as provided in sections 9, 12, 20 and 21 [40-3642, 40-3645, 40-3653 and 40-3654], shall not agree with each other or rating organizations or others to adhere thereto. The fact that two or more admitted insurers, whether or not members or subscribers of a rating or advisory organization, use, either consistently or intermittently, the rates or rating systems made or adopted by a rating organization, or the underwriting rules or policy or bond forms prepared by a rating or advisory organization, shall not be sufficient in itself to support a finding that an agreement to so adhere exists, and may be used only for the purpose of supplementing or explaining direct evidence of the existence of any such agreement.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3644. Exchange of information or experience data—consultation with rating organizations and insurers. Licensed rating organizations and admitted insurers are authorized to exchange information and experience data with rating organizations and insurers in this and other states and may consult with them with respect to rate-making and the application of rating systems.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3645. Agreements for apportionment of casualty insurance—approval of commissioner—review of practices of adherents—revocation of approval. (a) Agreements may be made among admitted insurers with respect to the equitable apportionment among them of casualty insurance which may be afforded applicants who are in good faith entitled to, but who are unable to procure, such insurance through ordinary methods, and with respect to the use of reasonable rate modifications for such insurance, such agreements to be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(b) All such agreements shall be submitted in writing to the commissioner for his consideration and approval, together with such information as he may reasonably require. The commissioner shall approve only such agreements as are found by him to contemplate (a) the use of rates which meet the standards prescribed by this chapter, and (b) activities and practices that are not unfair, unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

At any time after such agreements are in effect the commissioner may review the practices and activities of the adherents to such agreements and if, after a hearing upon not less than ten (10) days' notice to such adherents, he finds that any such practice or activity is unfair or unreasonable, or is otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, he may issue a written order to the parties to any such agreement, specifying in what respects such act or practice is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, and requiring the discontinuance of such activity or practice. For good cause, and after hearing upon not less than ten (10) days' notice to the adherents thereto, the commissioner may revoke approval of any such agreement.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3646. Joint underwriters and reinsurers. Upon compliance with the provisions of this chapter applicable thereto any rating organization, advisory organization, and any group, association or other organization of admitted insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance through such organization or by standing agreement among the members thereof, may conduct operations in this state. As respects insurance risks or operations in this state, no insurer shall be a member or subscriber of any such organization, group or association that has not complied with the provisions of this chapter applicable to it.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3647. Rating organizations. No rating organization shall conduct its operations in this state without first filing with the commissioner a written application for, and securing a license to act as, a rating organization. Any rating organization may make application for and obtain a license as a rating organization if it shall meet the requirements for license set forth in this chapter. Every such rating organization shall file with its application (a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement or association, and of its bylaws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business, all duly certified by the custodian or the originals thereof, (b) a list of its members and subscribers, (c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such rating organization may be served, and (d) a statement of its qualifications as a rating organization.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3648. Evidence prerequisite to license. To obtain and retain a license, a rating organization shall provide satisfactory evidence to the commissioner that it will:

(a) Permit any admitted insurer to become a member of or a subscriber to such rating organization at a reasonable cost and without discrimination, or withdraw therefrom.

(b) Neither have nor adopt any rule or exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to require any member or subscriber, as a condition to membership or subscribership, to adhere to its rates, rating plans, rating systems, underwriting rules or policy or bond forms.

(c) Neither adopt any rule nor exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers.

(d) Neither practice nor sanction any plan or act of boycott, coercion or intimidation.

(e) Neither enter into nor sanction any contract or act by which any person is restrained from lawfully engaging in the insurance business.

(f) Notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement or association, and of its bylaws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business; its list of members and subscribers; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organization may be served.

(g) Comply with the provisions of section 21 [40-3654].

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3649. Examination of application and investigation of applicant—issuance of license—fee. The commissioner shall examine each application for license to act as a rating organization and the documents filed therewith and may make such further investigation of the applicant, its affairs and its proposed plan of business as he deems desirable.

The commissioner shall issue the license applied for within sixty (60) days of its filing with him if, from such examination and investigation, he is satisfied that:

(a) The business reputation of the applicant and its officers is good.

(b) The facilities of the applicant are adequate to enable it to furnish the services it proposes to furnish.

(c) The applicant and its proposed plan of operation conform to the requirements of this chapter.

Otherwise, but only after hearing upon notice the commissioner shall, in writing, deny the application and notify the applicant of his decision and his reasons therefor.

The commissioner may grant an application in part only and issue a license to act as a rating organization for one or more of the classes of insurance or subdivisions thereof or class of risk, or a part or combination thereof as are specified in the application, if the applicant qualifies for only a portion of the classes applied for.

Licenses issued pursuant to this section shall remain in effect until revoked as provided in this chapter. The fee for the license shall be one hundred dollars ($100) annually which shall be deposited in the general fund.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3652. Advisory organizations. No advisory organization shall conduct its operations in this state unless and until it has filed with the commissioner (a) a copy of its constitution, articles of incorporation, agreement or association, and of its bylaws or rules and regulations governing its activities, all duly certified by the custodian of the originals thereof; (b) a list of its members and subscribers; and (c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process may be served.

Every such advisory organization shall notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement or association, and of its bylaws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business; its list of members and subscribers; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organization may be served.

The maintenance of such records in the office of a licensed rating organization of which an insurer is a member or subscriber will be sufficient compliance with this section for any insurer maintaining membership or subscribership in such organization, to the extent that the insurer uses the rates, rating plans, rating systems or underwriting rules of such organization. Such records shall be maintained in an office within this state or shall be made available for examination or inspection within this state by the commissioner at any time upon reasonable notice.

necessary, make or cause to be made an examination of any advisory organization or group, association or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance.

In lieu of any such examination, the commissioner may accept the report of an examination made by the insurance supervisory official of another state.

In examining any organization, group or association pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall ascertain whether such organization, group or association, and, in the case of a rating organization, any rate or rating system made or used by it, complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3656. Examination of admitted insurers. The commissioner may, at any reasonable time, make or cause to be made an examination of every admitted insurer transacting any class of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable to ascertain whether such insurer and every rate and rating system used by it for every class of insurance complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable thereto. Such examination shall not be a part of a periodic general examination participated in by representatives of more than one state.

40-3657. Examination of officers, managers, agents and employees. Such request may be made by his authorized representative, and shall be written. If the request is not granted within thirty (30) days after it is made, the requester may treat it as rejected. Any person aggrieved by the action of an insurer or rating organization in refusing the review requested, or in failing or refusing to grant all or part of the relief requested, may file a written complaint and request for hearing with the commissioner, specifying the grounds relied upon. If the commissioner has information concerning a similar complaint, he may deny the hearing. If he believes that probable cause for the complaint does not exist or that the complaint is not made in good faith, he shall deny the hearing. Otherwise, and if he finds that the complaint charges a violation of this chapter and that the complainant would be aggrieved if the violation is proven, he shall proceed as provided in section 27 [40-3660].

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3660. Noncompliance of rates. If, after examination of an insurer, rating organization, advisory organization, or group, association or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance, or upon the basis of other information, or upon sufficient complaint as provided in section 26 [40-3659], the commissioner has good cause to believe that such insurer, organization, group or association, or any rate, rating plan or rating system made or used by any such insurer or rating organization, does not comply with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it, he shall, unless he has good cause to believe such noncompliance is willful, give notice, in writing, to such insurer, organization, group or association stating therein in what manner and to what extent such noncompliance is alleged to exist and specifying therein a reasonable time, not less than ten (10) days thereafter, in which such noncompliance may be corrected. Notices under this section shall be confidential as between the commissioner and the parties unless a hearing is held under section 28 [40-3661].

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3661. Hearings. If the commissioner has good cause to believe such noncompliance to be willful, or if within the period prescribed by the commissioner in the notice required by section 27 [40-3660], the insurer, organization, group or association does not make such changes as may be necessary to correct the noncompliance specified by the commissioner, or establish to the satisfaction of the commissioner that such specified noncompliance does not exist, then the commissioner may hold a public hearing in connection therewith, provided that within a reasonable period of time, which shall be not less than ten (10) days before the date of such hearing, he shall mail written notice specifying the matters to be considered at such hearing to such insurer, organization, group or association. If no notice has been given as provided in section 27 [40-3660], such notice shall state therein in what manner and to what extent noncompliance is alleged to exist. The hearing shall not include any additional subjects not specified in the notices required by section 27 [40-3660] or this section.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3662. Issuance of order—suspension or revocation of certificate of authority or license. If, after a hearing pursuant to section 28 [40-3661], the commissioner finds:

(a) That any rate, rating plan or rating system violates the provisions of this chapter applicable to it, he may issue an order to the insurer or rating organization which has been the subject of the hearing, specifying in what respects such violation exists and stating when, within a reasonable period of time, the further use of such rate or rating system by such insurer or rating organization in contracts of insurance made thereafter shall be prohibited.

(b) That an insurer, rating organization, advisory organization, or a group, association or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance, is in violation of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it, other than the provisions dealing with rates, rating plans or rating systems, he may issue an order to such insurer, organization, group or association which has been the subject of the hearing, specifying in what respects such violation exists and requiring compliance within a reasonable time thereafter.

(c) That the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it by any insurer or rating organization which has been the subject of hearing was willful, he may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the certificate of authority of such insurer or the license of such rating organization with respect to the class of insurance which has been the subject matter of the hearing.

(d) That any rating organization has willfully engaged in any fraudulent or dishonest act or practices, he may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the license of such organization, in addition to any other penalty provided in this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3663. Failure to comply with order—suspension or revocation of license or certificate. In addition to other penalties provided in this code, the commissioner may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the license of any rating organization or the certificate of authority of any insurer with respect to the class or classes of insurance specified in such order which fails to comply within the time limited by such order or any extension thereof which the commissioner may grant, with an order of the commissioner lawfully made by him pursuant to section 29 [40-3662] and effective pursuant to section 31 [40-3664].

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3664. Appeals from the commissioner. Any person, insurer or rating organization aggrieved by any order or decision made by the commissioner under this chapter may appeal therefrom to the district court of the county where the aggrieved party may reside, or has his principal place of business in this state, or to the district court of Lewis and Clark county, Montana. The appeal shall be taken within thirty (30) days from the making and filing of the order or decision by filing in the office of the commissioner a notice of the appeal in writing. The commissioner shall, within twenty (20) days after filing of the notice, make and return to the district court a full and complete certified transcript of the finding and order appealed from and of all parts relative thereto on file in his office, including the notice of appeal. Upon filing of the certified transcript, all matters involved therein shall be brought on for trial upon the merits at the next term of the court after the filing of the transcript, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Upon the trial, the findings of fact on which the order is based shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein stated. During the pendency of the proceedings upon review, the order of the commissioner shall be suspended, but in the event of a final determination against any insurer, any overcharge by the insurer during review shall be refunded to the persons entitled thereto.

40-3665. Information not to be willfully withheld. (a) No person, insurer or organization shall willfully withhold information from, or knowingly give false or misleading information to, the commissioner or to any rating organization, advisory organization, insurer or group, association or other organization of insurers, which will affect the rates, rating systems or premiums for the classes of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable.

(b) Any person, insurer, organization, group or association who fails to comply with a final order of the commissioner under this chapter shall be liable to the state in an amount not exceeding fifty dollars ($50), but if such failure be willful, he or it shall be liable to the state in an amount not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) for such failure. The commissioner shall collect the amount so payable and may bring an action in the name of the people of the state of Montana to enforce collection. Such penalties may be in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

(c) A willful violation of the provisions of this chapter by any person is a misdemeanor.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3666. Payment of dividends, etc., not prohibited or regulated—plan for payment not rating system. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers shall not be deemed a rating plan or system.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3667. Acts, etc., done by authority of chapter not violation of other laws. No act done, action taken or agreement made pursuant to the authority conferred by this chapter shall constitute a violation of or grounds for prosecution or civil proceedings under any other law of this state heretofore or hereafter enacted which does not specifically refer to insurance.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3668. Administration or enforcement of chapter—supplementation or modification. The administration and enforcement of this chapter shall be governed solely by the provisions of this chapter. Except as provided in this chapter, no other law relating to insurance and no other provisions in this code heretofore or hereafter enacted shall apply to or be construed as supplementing or modifying the provisions of this chapter unless such other law or other provision expressly so provides and specifically refers to the sections of this chapter which it intends to supplement or modify.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 362, L. 1969.

40-3669. Recording and reporting of loss and expense experience.

(a) The commissioner shall promulgate and may modify reasonable rules and statistical plans, reasonably adapted to each of the rating systems used, and which shall thereafter be used by each insurer in the recording and reporting of its loss and country-wide expense experience, in order that the experience of all insurers may be made available at least annually in such form and detail as may be necessary to aid him in determining whether rates comply with the applicable standards of this act. Such rules and plans may also provide for the recording and reporting of expense experience items which are specially applicable to this state and are not susceptible of determination by a prorating of country-wide expense experience.

(b) In promulgating such rules and plans the commissioner shall give due consideration to the rating systems in use in this state and, in order that such rules and plans may be as uniform as is practicable among the several states to the rules and to the form of the plans used for such rating systems in other states. No insurer shall be required to record or report its loss experience on a classification basis that is inconsistent with the rating system used by it.

(c) The commissioner may designate one or more rating organizations or other agencies to assist him in gathering such experience and making compilations thereof, and such compilations shall be made available, subject to reasonable rules promulgated by the commissioner, to insurers and rating organizations.

Repealing Clause

Section 37 of Ch. 362, Laws 1969 read
"Sections 40-3601 through 40-3633, R. C.
M. 1947, are hereby repealed."

CHAPTER 37—THE INSURANCE CONTRACT

- Section 40-3729. Assignment of policies.
- 40-3738. Continuation of coverage for handicapped—individual contracts.
- 40-3739. Continuation of coverage for handicapped—group contracts.
- 40-3740. Equal application notwithstanding contrary exemption or law.

40-3713. Representations in applications.

Misstatements Material to Acceptance

Where application for automobile insurance contained nonfraudulent misstate-ments as to driving history on one insured which were material to acceptance of risk and hazard assumed by plaintiff, and insurer's agent received both letter from insurer rejecting application and notice of accident involving automobile to be insured on same day, insurer was not liable. American Indemnity Co. v. Elsupuru, 302 FSupp 878.

Unintentional Misrepresentation

Deceased who had been continually reassured by his doctor that his health was improving and who was himself encouraged as to his condition did not misrepresent his health so as to preclude recovery on credit life policy by declaring "to the best of my knowledge and belief I am now in good health." Lentz v. Prudential Insurance Co. of America, — M —, 520 P 2d 769.

40-3725. Construction of policies.

Construction against Insurer

A policy of insurance must be liberally construed in favor of the insured, and strictly construed against the insurer. Insurance Co. of North America v. Butte Aero Sales & Service, 243 F Supp 276.

Endorsement on insurance policy limiting aircraft insurance to named person and anyone else having certain number of hours of flying time and proper certification was construed against the insurer to mean that the named insured was at all times covered while others who flew the craft had to be certified also in order to be covered by the policy. Insurance Co. of North America v. Butte Aero Sales & Service, 243 F Supp 276, distinguished in 429 F 2d 896, 898.

Crop Insurance

Crop-hail insurance policy, which re-

Waiver of Misrepresentation

Motorist injured by negligence of insured was entitled to recover under insured's policy, even though insurance company was entitled to rescind policy for violation of this statute since insurance policy was effective until rescinded and since subsequent to discovering insured's fraud, insurance company acted affirmatively in accepting premium payments and paying other claims arising out of same accident all of which constituted implied waiver of right to rescind. McLane v. Farmers Ins. Exchange, 150 M 116, 432 P 2d 98.

quired information pertaining to acreage of crop prior to issuance, should be strictly construed against the insurer in determining that value of crop damage was based on percentage of area destroyed rather than on estimated crop value, since policy form was provided by the company. Billmayer v. Farmers Union Property & Casualty Co., 146 M 38, 404 P 2d 322, 20 ALR 3d 916.

Where the basis for recovery under a crop-hail insurance policy was on the acreage insured, stipulation that amount payable should not exceed the "actual loss or damage," read in light of the entire policy, pertained to loss or damage representing the percentage of injury to the crop, and not the value of the crop. Billmayer v. Farmers Union Property & Casualty Co., 146 M 38, 404 P 2d 322, 20 ALR 3d 916.

40-3729. Assignment of policies. A policy, or group certificate issued thereunder, may be assignable or not assignable, as provided by its terms. Subject to its terms relating to the assignability, any life or disability policy, or group certificate under either, whether heretofore or hereafter issued, under the terms of which the beneficiary may be changed upon the sole request of the insured or owner, may be assigned either by pledge or transfer of title, by an assignment executed by the insured or owner, alone and delivered to the insurer, whether or not the pledgee or assignee is the insurer. An assignment valid hereunder may transfer to the assignee all the rights, privileges, and incidents of ownership of the assignor in the policy or group certificate, including, but not limited to the rights to designate beneficiaries and of a group certificate holder to have an individual policy issued in accordance with sections 40-3918 and 40-3919. Any such assignment shall entitle the insurer to deal with the assignee as the owner or pledgee of the policy in accordance with the terms of the assignment, until the insurer has received at its home office written notice of termination of the assignment or pledge, or written notice by or on behalf of some other person claiming some interest in the policy in conflict with the assignment; provided, however, that the insurer shall not be prejudiced by any payment made or action taken inconsistent with the terms of any assignment before the insurer has received and had reasonable time to act on written notice of such assignment. This section acknowledges, declares and codifies the existing right of assignment of interests under insurance policies. An assignment otherwise valid shall not be invalid because it was made prior to the effective date of this section.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted references to group certificates in the first and second sentences; inserted "or owner" following "insured" in two places in the second sentence; inserted the third sentence; added the proviso to the fourth sentence; and added the final two sentences.

40-3733. Claims administration not waiver.

Waiver of Defects in Proof of Loss

Insurer's receipt and retention for 60 days of statement of loss due to fire constituted waiver of defense that insured failed to provide adequate proof of loss. Staggers v. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 159 M 254, 496 P 2d 1161.

40-3738. Continuation of coverage for handicapped—individual contracts. An individual hospital or medical expense insurance policy, or hospital or medical service plan contract, delivered or issued for delivery in this state more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the effective date of this act, which provides that coverage of a dependent child shall terminate upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the policy or contract shall also provide in substance that attainment of such limiting age shall not operate to terminate the coverage of such child while the child is and continues to be both (a) incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental retardation or physical handicap and (b) chiefly dependent upon the policyholder or subscriber for support and maintenance, provided proof of such incapacity and dependency is furnished to the insurer or hospital or medical service plan corporation by the policyholder or subscriber within thirty-one (31) days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the insurer or corporation but not more frequently than annually after the two-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

A group hospital or medical expense insurance policy, or hospital or medical service plan contract, delivered or issued for delivery in this state more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the effective date of this act, which provides that coverage of a dependent child of an employee or other member of the covered group shall terminate upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the policy or contract shall also provide in substance that attainment of such limiting age shall not operate to terminate the coverage of such child while the child is and continues to be both (a) incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental retardation or physical handicap and (b) chiefly dependent upon the employee or member for support and maintenance, provided proof of such incapacity and dependency is furnished to the insurer or hospital or medical service plan corporation, by the employee or member within thirty-one (31) days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the insurer or corporation, but not more frequently than annually after the two-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

CHAPTER 38—LIFE INSURANCE AND ANNUITIES

Section 40-3802. "Industrial life insurance" defined.

40-3831. Standard nonforfeiture law—life insurance.

40-3802. "Industrial life insurance" defined. For the purposes of this code "industrial life insurance" is that form of life insurance written under policies of face amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000) or less bearing the words "industrial policy" imprinted on the face thereof as part of the descriptive matter, and under which premiums are payable monthly or more often.

History: En. Sec. 296, Ch. 286, L. 1959;
amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 30, L. 1969.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment raised the limit for policies from $1,000 to $2,000.

40-3831. Standard nonforfeiture law—life insurance. (1) to (3).

(4) Cash surrender value—life: Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in the premium payment due on any policy anniversary, whether or not required by subsection (2) of this section, shall be an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value on such anniversary of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions if there had been no default, over the sum of:

(a) The then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in subsections (6), (7), (7-a), (8), (8-a) and (8-b) of this section, corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary, and

(b). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(5) to (7). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(7-a) The adjusted premiums for any policy providing term insurance benefits by rider or supplemental policy provision shall be equal to (i) the adjusted premiums for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance benefits, increased during the period for which premiums for such term insurance benefits are payable, by (ii) the adjusted premiums for such term insurance, the foregoing items (i) and (ii) being calculated separately and as specified in subsections (6) and (7) except that, for the purposes of (b), (c), and (d) of subsection (6), the amount of insurance or equivalent uniform amount of insurance used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums referred to in (ii) shall be equal to the excess of the corresponding amount determined for the entire policy over the amount used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums in (i).

(8) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (8-a) and (8-b), all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of the commissioner's 1941 standard ordinary mortality table, provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated, at the option of the insurer with approval of the commissioner, according to an age younger than the actual age of the insured and such calculations for all policies of industrial insurance shall be made on the basis of the 1941 standard industrial mortality table. All calculations shall be made on the basis of the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred thirty per cent (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table, provided further that for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

(8-a) In the case of ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of this subsection (8-a) as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall be calculated on the basis of the commissioner's 1958 standard ordinary mortality table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, provided that such rate of interest shall not exceed three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum except that a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent (4%) per annum may be used for policies issued on or after the effective date of this amendatory act of 1973 and prior to January 1, 1986, and provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured. Provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the commissioner's 1958 extended term insurance table. Provided, further, that for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the commissioner.

After the effective date of this subsection (8-a), any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this subsection after a specified date before January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-six. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this subsection for such insurer), this subsection shall become operative with respect to the ordinary policies thereafter issued by such insurer. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this subsection for such insurer shall be January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-six.

(8-b) In the case of industrial policies issued on or after the operative date of this subsection (8-b) as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall be calculated on the basis of commissioners 1961 standard industrial mortality table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits provided that such rate of interest shall not exceed three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum except that a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent (4%) per annum may be used for policies issued on or after the effective date of this amendatory act of 1973 and prior to January 1, 1986. Provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the commissioners 1961 industrial extended term insurance table. Provided, further, that for insurance issued on a substandard basis the calculations of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the commissioner.

After the effective date of this subsection (8-b), any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this subsection after a specified date before January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this subsection for such insurer), this subsection shall become operative with respect to the industrial policies thereafter issued by such insurer. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this subsection for such insurer shall be January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight.

(9) Calculation of values—life: Any cash surrender value and any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding policy anniversary. All values referred to in subsections (4), (5), (6), (7), (7-a), (8), (8-a) and (8-b) of this section may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death. The net value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (4) of this section, additional benefits payable:

(a) In the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means,

(b) In the event of total and permanent disability,

(c) As reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits,

(d) As term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which, if issued as a separate policy, this section would not apply,

(e) As term insurance on the life of a child or on the lives of children provided in a policy on the life of a parent of the child, if such term insurance expires before the child's age is twenty-six, is uniform in amount after the child's age is one, and has not become paid up by reason of the death of a parent of the child, and

(f) As other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits, and premiums for all such additional benefits,

Shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and non-forfeiture benefits required by this section, and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

(10) Exceptions. This section shall not apply to any reinsurance, group insurance, pure endowment, annuity or reversionary annuity contract, nor to any term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, of fifteen (15) years or less expiring before age 66 for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy, nor to any term policy of decreasing amount on which each adjusted premium, calculated as specified in subsections (6), (7), (7-a), (8), (8-a) and (8-b) of this section is less than the adjusted premiums so calculated on a policy issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance for a term defined as follows: For ages at issue fifty (50) and under, the term shall be fifteen (15) years; thereafter, the term shall decrease one (1) year for each year of age beyond fifty (50).

(4) (a) No policy or certificate of insurance, which in addition to covering the insured, also covers members of the insured's family, may be issued or amended in this state if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, or other limitation of coverage relative to the accident and sickness coverage or insurability of newborn infants of an insured from and after the moment of birth;

(b) The coverage for newborn infants shall be the same as provided by the policy for other covered persons; provided, however, that for newborn infants there shall be no waiting or elimination periods. (6) The exceptions and reductions of indemnity shall be set forth in the policy and, other than those contained in sections 40-4004 to 40-4026, inclusive, of this chapter, shall be printed, at the insurer's option, either included with the benefit provision to which they apply, or under an appropriate caption such as "Exceptions," or "Exceptions and Reductions," except that if an exception or reduction specifically applies only to a particular benefit of the policy, a statement of such exception or reduction shall be included with the benefit provision to which it applies;

(7) Each such form, including riders and endorsements, shall be identified by a form number in the lower left-hand corner of the first page thereof;

(8) The policy shall contain no provision purporting to make any portion of the charter, rules, constitution or bylaws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion is set forth in full in the policy, except in the case of the incorporation of, or reference to, a statement of rates or classification of risks, or short-rate table filed with the commissioner.

Notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at _____ (insert the location of such office as the insurer may designate for the purpose), or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with information sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed notice to the insurer."

In a policy providing a loss-of-time benefit which may be payable for at least two (2) years, an insurer may at its option insert the following between the first and second sentences of the above provision:

"Subject to the qualifications set forth below, if the insured suffers loss of time on account of disability for which indemnity may be payable for at least two years, he shall, at least once in every six (6) months after having given notice of the claim, give to the insurer notice of continuance of the disability, except in the event of legal incapacity. The period of six (6) months following any filing of proof by the insured or any payment by the insurer on account of such claim or any denial of liability in whole or in part by the insurer shall be excluded in applying this provision. Delay in the giving of such notice shall not impair the insured's right to any indemnity which would otherwise have accrued during the period of six (6) months preceding the date on which such notice is actually given."

Where indebtedness repayable in substantially equal installments is secured by an individual policy of credit life insurance the amount of insurance shall not exceed the approximate unpaid indebtedness on the date of death and, where secured by a group policy of credit life insurance shall not exceed the exact amount of unpaid indebtedness on such date. Except, that agricultural loans not exceeding one year may be written up to the amount of the loan commitment on a nondecreasing or level term plan.

(2) Credit disability insurance: The amount of periodic indemnity payable by credit disability insurance in the event of disability, as defined in the policy, shall be equal to the aggregate of the periodic scheduled unpaid installments of indebtedness and shall not exceed the original indebtedness divided by the number of periodic installments, provided that the original indebtedness does not exceed the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000). CHAPTER 43—PROPERTY INSURANCE CONTRACTS

Section 40-4303. Personal property—when loss computation to be based on specific valuation.

40-4301. Measure of the indemnity.References

Billmayer v. Farmers Union Property & Casualty Co., 146 M 38, 404 P 2d 322.

40-4302. Valued policy law.Future Improvements

When both parties to a fire insurance policy intend that policy cover property plus added value of work on building to be done subsequently, the policy is "open" or "unvalued," not "valued." Century Corp. v. Phoenix of Hartford, 157 M 16, 482 P 2d 1020.

Improvements on Real Property

Mobile home that rested on permanent foundation with its wheels removed, had two additional rooms bolted to it and was connected with sewer line was an "improvement on real property" as used in this section. Meccage v. Spartan Ins. Co., 156 M 135, 477 P 2d 115.

A trailer house set up for occupancy and connected to a cesspool, a light plant and oil and propane tanks, was an improvement on real property within the meaning of this section. Staggers v. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 159 M 254, 496 P 2d 1161.

Partial Payment

Where valued policy fixed valuation of mobile home at $3,000, insured who signed proof of loss calling for payment of $1,500 by the insurer and subsequently accepted check in that amount was not barred from claiming additional $1,500 since claim was a liquidated demand that was not settled by partial payment. Meccage v. Spartan Ins. Co., 156 M 135, 477 P 2d 115.

Total Loss

Mobile home was wholly destroyed under this section even though some articles were salvaged and frame could be used as farm or ranch trailer, since mobile home's identity and specific character were lost. Meccage v. Spartan Ins. Co., 156 M 135, 477 P 2d 115.

40-4303. Personal property—when loss computation to be based on specific valuation. This section applies to policies, except motor vehicle insurance policies, which insure specific listed items of personal property against any loss or damage. If the insurer places specific valuations upon particular items of covered property and bases the premium charge on these valuations, then he shall compute any loss or total damage to the property, when covered, at the stated valuation with no deductions or offsets. An insurer who wishes to vary this requirement and use a different method for computation of loss, the policy and any application for such a policy shall set forth in type of prominent size the actual method of loss computation to be employed.

History: En. 40-4303 by Sec. 1, Ch. 96, L. 1974.

Title of Act

An act requiring insured personal property losses to be computed at the valuations stated in the policy when such valuations affect the premium.

CHAPTER 44—CASUALTY INSURANCE CONTRACTS

40-4403. Motor vehicle liability policies to include uninsured motorist coverage—rejection of coverage by insured.

40-4404. Reimbursement for total loss of motor vehicle based on actual replacement value.

- 40-4405. Notice required for cancellation of auto liability insurance.
- 40-4406. Notice to insured of ground for cancellation—commissioner to ensure compliance.
- 40-4407. Reasons for cancellation.
- 40-4408. Notice of cancellation to be mailed 30 days in advance—exception—statement that insurer will specify reason upon request.
- 40-4409. Advance notice required for nonrenewal—exceptions—exemptions.
- 40-4410. Proof of notice.
- 40-4411. Penalty for violation.
- 40-4412. No liability for statements in connection with cancellation or nonrenewal.
- 40-4413. Cancellation or increase of premium rates of professional liability insurance by reason of unfounded claims prohibited.
- 40-4414. Cancellation or increase of premium rates of professional liability insurance—60 days' written notice required.
- 40-4415. Written notice required for cancellation or nonrenewal of insurance policies on homes.
- 40-4416. Penalty for cancellation or nonrenewal of insurance policies on homes without required notice.

40-4402. Sovereign immunity defense prohibited when liability insured—reduction of award to policy limits. Whenever an insurer accepts any premium, money or other consideration from a political subdivision of the state, municipality, or any public body, corporation, commission, board, agency, organization, or other public entity for casualty or liability insurance, neither such insured nor insurer shall raise the defense of sovereign or governmental immunity in any damage action brought against such insured or insurer, and any agreement in the insurance contract permitting the defense of sovereign or governmental immunity is hereby declared void. No attempt shall be made in the trial of an action brought against such political subdivision of the state, municipality, or any public body, corporation, commission, board, agency, organization, or other public entity, to suggest the existence of any insurance which covers in whole or in part any judgment or award which may be rendered in favor of plaintiff. If the court shall determine that the defendant could have successfully raised the defense of sovereign or governmental immunity, and if the verdict exceeds the limits of the applicable insurance, the court shall reduce the amount of such judgment or award to a sum equal to the applicable limit stated in the policy.

Title of Act

An act prohibiting the defense of sovereign immunity where public bodies are insured; prohibiting the suggestion of insurance coverage in actions against public bodies, and providing for the reduction of awards to policy limits where sovereign immunity defense could have been successfully raised; repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 240, Laws 1963 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Cross-References

Sovereign immunity abolished effective July 1, 1973, 1972 Const., art. II, § 18.

Excessive Liability

If the amount of liability exceeds the amount of insurance, the policy should be delivered by the claimant to the district judge who will apply the limitation requirement of this section. Boettger v. Employers Liability Assurance Corp., 158 M 258, 490 P 2d 717.

Limitation of Actions

This section merely removes a defense previously existing rather than creating a new cause of action; therefore, action against county by motorist who alleged he suffered personal injuries in a single vehicle accident due to negligent failure of county to properly maintain and mark a "T" intersection of county roads was subject to three year statute of limitations under section 93-2605, as a personal injury negligence action, rather than the two year statute of limitations under 93-2607 (1) as an action "upon a liability created by statute." State ex rel. Fallon County v. District Court, Sixteenth Judicial Dist., Fallon County, — M —, 505 P 2d 120.

Parties to Action

In cause of action by administratrix of estate of person allegedly shot in the back by policeman in a negligent, reckless, deliberate, and willful manner, the city was not a proper party. The liability of the police officers in tort must first be determined. If liability is established and insurance exists, then the insurer becomes liable under the policy; should liability be denied, a suit is required and both the insured and insurer would be proper parties. Boettger v. Employers Liability Assurance Corp., 158 M 258, 490 P 2d 717.

40-4403. Motor vehicle liability policies to include uninsured motorist coverage—rejection of coverage by insured. No automobile liability or motor vehicle liability policy insuring against loss resulting from liability imposed by law for bodily injury or death suffered by any person arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state, with respect to any motor vehicle registered or principally garaged in this state, unless coverage is provided therein or supplemental thereto, in limits for bodily injury or death set forth in section 53-438, under provisions filed with and approved by the insurance commissioner, for the protection of persons insured thereunder who are legally entitled to recover damages from owners or operators of uninsured motor vehicles because of bodily injury, sickness or disease, including death, resulting therefrom; provided, that the named insured shall have the right to reject such coverage; and, provided further, that unless the named insured requests such coverage in writing, such coverage need not be provided in or supplemental to a renewal policy where the named insured had rejected the coverage in connection with the policy previously issued to him by the same insurer.

Title of Act

An act relating to automobile liability insurance policies; requiring such policies to contain uninsured motorist provision; permitting rejection of such coverage at the option of the insured; providing for an effective date.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment substituted "section 53-438" for "section 53-422" near the middle of the section.

Effective Date

Recovery from Primary Insurer

Recovery from primary insurer under uninsured motorist coverage, though applied against the total judgment, does not reduce the amount of coverage provided by secondary insurer. Sullivan v. Doe, 159 M 50, 495 P 2d 193.

Workmen's Compensation

Since uninsured motorist coverage is intended to place the injured policyholder in the same position he would have been if the uninsured motorist had liability insurance, the amount of plaintiff's recovery from uninsured motorist coverage cannot be reduced by any workmen's compensation benefits received by him, and the insurance commissioner had no authority to approve a policy providing for such reduction. Sullivan v. Doe, 159 M 50, 495 P 2d 193.

40-4404. Reimbursement for total loss of motor vehicle based on actual replacement value. Each automobile insurance policy issued to residents of this state which provides that reimbursement for total loss of a motor vehicle shall be based on a "book" value rather than on the actual replacement value is void as to such provision and reimbursement shall be made for actual replacement value.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 182, L. 1969.

Title of Act

An act to provide that motor vehicle insurance must provide that reimbursement for a total loss of the vehicle be based on the actual replacement value of the vehicle and not on a book value.

40-4405. Notice required for cancellation of auto liability insurance. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, no cancellation by an insurer of an auto liability insurance policy shall be effective prior to the mailing or delivery to the named insured at the address shown in the policy, of a written notice of the cancellation stating when, not less than thirty (30) days after the date of such mailing or delivery, the date the cancellation shall become effective.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 262, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to establish a law concerning cancellation of automobile liability insurance policies.

40-4406. Notice to insured of ground for cancellation—commissioner to ensure compliance. Whenever an insurer gives notice of cancellation of an automobile liability policy, upon request of the insured, the insurer, within fifteen (15) days of receipt of the request, shall furnish to the insured a statement setting forth the ground or grounds upon which the notice of cancellation is based. If the insurer fails to comply with the provisions of this section, the insured may apply to the commissioner for a certificate of the facts or information desired. The commissioner shall exercise any power conferred upon him by law as may be necessary to ensure compliance with this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 262, L. 1971.

40-4407. Reasons for cancellation. (1) A notice of cancellation of a policy shall be effective only if it is based on one or more of the following reasons:

- (a) Nonpayment of premium; or
- (b) The driver's license or motor vehicle registration of the named insured or of any other operator who either resides in the same household or customarily operates an automobile insured under the policy has been under suspension or revocation during the policy period or, if the policy is a renewal, during its policy period or the one hundred eighty (180) days immediately preceding its effective date.

(2) This section shall not apply to any policy or coverage which has been in effect less than sixty (60) days at the time notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered by the insurer unless it is a renewal policy.

(3) Modification of automobile physical damage coverage by the inclusion of a deductible not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) shall not be deemed a cancellation of the coverage or of the policy.

(4) This section shall not apply to nonrenewal.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 262, L. 1971.

40-4408. Notice of cancellation to be mailed 30 days in advance—exception—statement that insurer will specify reason upon request. No notice of cancellation of a policy to which section 3 [40-4407] applies shall be effective unless mailed or delivered by the insurer to the named insured at least thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of cancellation; provided, however, that where cancellation is for nonpayment of premium, at least ten (10) days' notice of cancellation accompanied by the reason therefor shall be given. This section shall not apply where the named insured has failed to discharge when due any of his obligations in connection with the payment of premiums for the policy, or the renewal thereof, or any installment payments therefor, whether payable directly to the insurer or its agent or indirectly under any premium finance plan or extension of credit. age or older, and their spouses; providing regulation of such insurance by the commissioner of insurance; and providing an effective date.

40-5402. Definition of terms. Wherever used in this act, the following terms shall have the meanings hereinafter set forth or indicated, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Association" means a voluntary unincorporated association formed for the purpose of enabling co-operative action to provide disability insurance in accordance with this act in this or any other state having legislation enabling the issuance of insurance of the type provided in this act.

(b) "Insurer" means any insurance company which is authorized to transact disability insurance in this state.

(c) "Extended health insurance" means hospital, surgical and medical expense insurance provided by a policy issued as provided by this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

40-5403. Joint underwriting authorized—reduction for other coverage—group policies—availability of coverage. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code or any other law which may be inconsistent herewith, any insurer may join with one or more other insurers, to plan, develop, underwrite, and offer and provide to any person who is 65 years of age or older and to the spouse of such person, extended health insurance against financial loss from accident or disease, or both. Such insurance may be offered, issued and administered jointly by two or more insurers by a group policy issued to a policyholder through an association formed for the purpose of offering, selling, issuing and administering such insurance. The policyholder may be an association, a trustee, or any other person. Any such policy may provide, among other things, that the benefits payable thereunder are subject to reduction if the individual insured has any other coverage providing hospital, surgical or medical benefits whether on an indemnity basis or a provision of service basis resulting in such insured being eligible for more than 100 per cent of covered expenses which he is required to pay, and any insurer issuing individual policies providing extended hospital, surgical or medical benefits to persons 65 years of age and older and their spouses may also use such a policy provision. A master group policy issued to an association or to a trustee or any person appointed by an association for the purpose of providing the insurance described in this act shall be another form of group disability insurance.

Any form of policy approved by the commissioner for an association shall be offered throughout Montana to all persons 65 and older and their spouses, and the coverage of any person insured under such a form of policy shall not be cancellable except for nonpayment of premiums unless the coverage of all persons insured under such form of policy is also canceled.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

40-5404. Agents authorized to write coverage. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 40-3316, any person licensed to transact disability insurance as an insurance agent, may transact extended health insurance and may be paid a commission thereon.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

40-5405. Corporate powers of association—examination of books. Any association formed for the purposes of this act, may hold title to property, may enter into contracts, and may limit the liability of its members to their respective pro rata shares of the liability of such association. Any such association may sue and be sued in its associate name and for such purpose only shall be treated as a domestic corporation. Service of process against such association, made upon a managing agent, any member thereof or any agent authorized by appointment to receive service of process, shall have the same force and effect as if such service had been made upon all members of the association. Such association's books and records shall also be subject to examination under the provisions of sections 40-2713 to 40-2719, inclusive, either separately or concurrently with examination of any of its member insurers.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

40-5406. Policy forms to be approved—procedure—duplication of federal benefits—reports and information furnished by association. The forms of the policies, applications, certificates or other evidence of insurance coverage and applicable premium rates relating thereto shall be filed with the commissioner. No such policy, contract, certificate or other evidence of insurance, application or other form shall be sold, issued or used and no endorsement shall be attached to or printed or stamped thereon unless the form thereof shall have been approved by the commissioner or 30 days shall have expired after such filing without written notice from the commissioner of disapproval thereof. The commissioner shall disapprove the forms for such insurance if he finds that they are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading or deceptive or that the rates are by reasonable assumptions excessive in relation to the benefits provided. In determining whether such rates by reasonable assumptions are excessive in relation to the benefits provided, the commissioner shall give due consideration to past and prospective claim experience, within and outside this state, and to fluctuations in such claim experience, to a reasonable risk charge, to contribution to surplus and contingency funds, to past and prospective expenses, both within and outside this state, and to all other relevant factors within and outside this state including any differing operating methods of the insurers joining in the issue of the policy. In exercising the powers conferred upon him by this act, the commissioner shall not be bound by any other requirement of this code with respect to standard provisions to be included in disability policies or forms.

The commissioner may, after hearing upon written notice, withdraw an approval previously given, upon such grounds as in his opinion would authorize disapproval upon original submission thereof. Any such withdrawal of approval after hearing shall be by notice in writing specifying the ground thereof and shall be effective at the expiration of such period, not less than 90 days after the giving of notice of withdrawal, as the commissioner shall in such notice prescribe.

If and when a program of hospital, surgical and medical benefits is enacted by the federal government or the state of Montana, the extended health insurance benefits provided by policies issued under this act shall be adjusted to avoid any duplication of benefits offered by the federal or state programs and the premium rates applicable thereto shall be adjusted to conform with the adjusted benefits.

The association shall submit an annual report to the insurance commissioner which shall become public information and shall provide information as to the number of persons insured, the names of the insurers participating in the association with respect to insurance offered under this act and the calendar year experience applicable to such insurance offered under this act, including premiums earned, claims paid during the calendar year, the amount of claims reserve established, administrative expenses, commissions, promotional expenses, taxes, contingency reserve, other expenses, and profit and loss for the year. The commissioner shall require the association to provide any and all information concerning the operations of the association deemed relevant by him for inclusion in the report.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

40-5407. Filing with commissioner by association—deceptive practices prohibited. The articles of association of any association formed in accordance with this act, all amendments and supplements thereto, a designation in writing of a resident of this state as agent for the service of process, and a list of insurers who are members of the association and all supplements thereto shall be filed with the commissioner.

The name of any association or any advertising or promotional material used in connection with extended health insurance to be sold, offered, or issued, pursuant to this act shall not be such as to mislead or deceive the public.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

40-5408. Exemption of association from other laws. No act done, action taken or agreement made pursuant to the authority conferred by this act shall constitute a violation of or grounds for prosecution or civil proceedings under any other law of this state heretofore or hereafter enacted which does not specifically refer to insurance.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 61, L. 1965.

Effective Date

Section 9 of Ch. 61, Laws 1965 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 25, 1965.

Compiler's Notes

The title of Chapter 64, Laws of 1971, referred to a repealer of sections 40-5501 to 40-5508. However, no repealer was contained in the body of the act.

Title of Act

An act to provide for control and regulation of the affairs of domestic and foreign insurance holding companies; prescribe rules and regulations governing acquisition and disposal of stock of insurance holding companies; prescribe rules and regulations regarding acquisition and disposal of stock of insurance companies by insurance holding companies; exempting certain acquisitions and disposals of stock from the provisions of the act; subjecting domestic insurers coming within the purview of the act to examination by the insurance department; providing for application to be made to the insurance commissioner to approve certain transactions; providing for judicial review of orders; defining terms; and providing penalties.

(6) "Successor" means any company which acquired directly or indirectly from an insurance holding company stock of any insurance company when and if the relationship between such company and insurance holding company is such that the transaction effects no substantial change in the control of the insurance company or beneficial ownership of the stock thereof. The commissioner may, by regulation, further define the word "successor" to the extent necessary to prevent evasion of the purposes of this section.

(7) "Domestic" insurer means one formed under the laws of this state.

(8) "Foreign" insurer means one formed under the laws of any jurisdiction other than this state.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 269, L. 1967.

40-5503. Restrictions on transfers of stock. Except with prior written approval of the commissioner:

(1) No domestic insurance company shall directly or indirectly transfer fifteen per cent (15%) of its voting stock to a foreign or domestic insurance holding company.

(3) Stock acquired as a consequence of a merger or consolidation of one insurance company with another, or the conversion of one insurance company into another, or the sale of assets of one insurance company to another where the stock acquired does not represent a larger percentage interest in the stock of the insurance company in which acquired than was held prior to such consolidation, merger, conversion, or sale by the insurance holding company in the insurance company consolidated, merged, or converted, or whose assets were the subject of the sale; or shall submit a petition, in writing, to the commissioner seeking approval of such acquisition or transfer, on such forms as the commissioner may from time to time prescribe and with such information as the commissioner by rule or regulation shall require. Upon receipt of a petition, the commissioner shall grant approval or grant a hearing on the request. If, after such hearing it is decided by the commissioner that such transfer or acquisition is not in the best interest of the stockholders, or policyholders, or that competition among insurance companies will be unnecessarily affected, he shall deny such petition. Upon denial of any petition, the courts of the state of Montana, first judicial district, in and for Lewis and Clark county, shall have jurisdiction to hear an appeal from said denial. A trial de novo shall be granted upon such an appeal.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 269, L. 1967.

40-5507. Violations of act—penalty. 40-5509. Definitions. As used in this article, the following terms shall have the respective meanings hereinafter set forth, unless the context shall otherwise require:

(a) Affiliate. An "affiliate" of, or person "affiliated" with, a specific person, is a person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, the person specified.

(b) Commissioner. The term "commissioner" shall mean the insurance commissioner, his deputies, or the insurance department, as appropriate.

(c) Control. The term "control" (including the terms "controlling," "controlled by" and "under common control with") means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing ten per cent (10%) or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing made in the manner provided by section 4 [40-5512] (i) that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine, after furnishing all persons in interest notice and opportunity to be heard and making specific findings of fact to support such determination, that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

(d) Insurance holding company system. An "insurance holding company system" consists of two (2) or more affiliated persons, one (1) or more of which is an insurer.

(e) Insurer. The term "insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 40-2603, except that it shall not include agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

(f) Person. A "person" is an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint-stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, any similar entity or any combination of the foregoing acting in concert, but shall not include any securities broker performing no more than the usual and customary broker's function.

(g) Securityholder. A "securityholder" of a specified person is one who owns any security of such person, including common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and any other security convertible into or evidencing the right to acquire any of the foregoing.

(h) Subsidiary. A "subsidiary" of a specified person is an affiliate controlled by such person directly, or indirectly through one (1) or more intermediaries.

(i) Voting security. The term "voting security" shall include any security convertible into or evidencing a right to acquire a voting security.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

(11) Any other business activity determined by the commissioner to be reasonable ancillary to an insurance business.

(12) Owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one (1) or more of the businesses specified in this section.

(b) Additional investment authority. In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities permitted under all other sections of this chapter, a domestic insurer may also:

(1) Invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one (1) or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of five per cent (5%) of such insurer's assets or fifty per cent (50%) of such insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, provided that after such investments the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. In calculating the amount of such investments, there shall be included total net moneys or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of such subsidiary whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities, and all amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus, of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation.

(2) If the insurer's total liabilities, as calculated for national association of insurance commissioners annual statement purposes, are less than ten per cent (10%) of assets, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one (1) or more subsidiaries, provided that, after such investment, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, considering such investment as if it were a disallowed asset, will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(3) Invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities of one (1) or more subsidiaries provided that each such subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that such investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in this clause, "the total investment of the insurer" shall include:

(i) Any direct investment by the insurer in an asset.

(ii) The insurer's proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the insurer's ownership of such subsidiary.

(4) With the approval of the commissioner, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one (1) or more subsidiaries, provided that after such investment, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(5) Invest any amount in the common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of any subsidiary exclusively engaged in holding title to or holding title to and managing or developing real or personal property, if after considering as a disallowed asset so much of the investment as is represented by subsidiary assets which if held directly by the insurer would be considered as a disallowed asset, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs, and if following such investment all voting securities of such subsidiary would be owned by the insurer.

(c) Exemption from investment restrictions. Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to subsection (b) hereof shall not be subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in this chapter applicable to such investments of insurers.

(d) Qualification of investment—when determined. Whether any investment pursuant to subsection (b) meets the applicable requirements thereof is to be determined immediately after such investment is made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations, and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the date they were made.

(e) Cessation of control. If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this section within three (3) years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after such investment shall have been made, such investment shall have met the requirements for investment under any other section of this chapter, and the insurer has notified the commissioner thereof.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5511. Acquisition of control of or merger with domestic insurer.

(a) Filing requirements. No person other than the issuer shall make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of, or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consummation thereof, such person would, directly or indirectly (or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire) be in control of such insurer, and no person shall enter into an agreement to merge with or otherwise to acquire control of a domestic insurer unless, at the time any such offer, request, or invitation is made or any such agreement is entered into, or prior to the acquisition of such securities if no offer or agreement is involved, such person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to such insurer, and such insurer has sent to its shareholders, a statement containing the information required by this section and such offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner hereinafter prescribed. For purposes of this section, a domestic insurer shall include any other person controlling a domestic insurer unless such other person is either directly or through its affiliates primarily engaged in business other than the business of insurance.

(2) The source, nature and amount of the consideration used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control, a description of any transaction wherein funds were or are to be obtained for any such purpose, and the identity of persons furnishing such consideration, provided, however, that where a source of such consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordinary course of business, the identity of the lender shall remain confidential, if the person filing such statement so requests.

(3) Fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding five (5) fiscal years of each such acquiring party (or for such lesser period as such acquiring party and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence), and similar unaudited information as of a date not earlier than ninety (90) days prior to the filing of the statement.

(4) Any plans or proposals which each acquiring party may have to liquidate such insurer, to sell its assets or merge or consolidate it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management.

(5) The number of shares of any security referred to in subsection (a) which each acquiring party proposes to acquire, and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in subsection (a), and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at.

Such description shall identify the persons with whom such contracts, arrangements or understandings have been entered into.

(8) A description of the purchase of any security referred to in subsection (a) during the twelve (12) calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by an acquiring party, including the dates of purchase, names of the purchasers, and consideration paid or agreed to be paid therefor.

(9) A description of any recommendations to purchase any security referred to in subsection (a) made during the twelve (12) calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by any acquiring party, or by anyone based upon interviews or at the suggestion of such acquiring party.

(10) Copies of all tender offers for, requests or invitations for tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any securities referred to in subsection (a), and (if distributed) of additional soliciting material relating thereto.

(11) The terms of any agreement, contract or understanding made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of securities referred to in subsection (a) for tender, and the amount of any fees, commissions or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard thereto.

If the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (a) is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by clauses (1) through (12) shall be given with respect to each partner of such partnership or limited partnership, each member of such syndicate or group, and each person who controls such partner or member. If any such partner, member or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (a) is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information called for by clauses (1) through (12) shall be given with respect to such corporation, each officer and director of such corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than ten per cent (10%) of the outstanding voting securities of such corporation.

If any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer pursuant to this section, an amendment setting forth such change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to such change, shall be filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer within two (2) business days after the person learns of such change. Such insurer shall send such amendment to its shareholders.

(c) Alternative filing materials. If any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in subsection (a) is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or under a state law requiring similar registration or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (a) may utilize such documents in furnishing the information called for by that statement.

(d) Approval by commissioner—hearings. (1) The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition of control referred to in subsection (a) unless, after a public hearing thereon, he finds that:

(i) After the change of control the domestic insurer referred to in subsection (a) would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which it is presently licensed.

(ii) The effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly therein.

(iii) The financial condition of any acquiring party is such as might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer, or prejudice the interest of its policyholders or the interests of any remaining securityholders who are unaffiliated with such acquiring party.

(iv) The terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in subsection (a) are unfair and unreasonable to the securityholders of the insurer.

(v) The plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management, are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest.

(vi) The competence, experience and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control.

(2) The public hearing referred to in clause (1) shall be held within thirty (30) days after the statement required by subsection (a) is filed, and at least twenty (20) days notice thereof shall be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than seven (7) days notice of such public hearing shall be given by the person filing the statement to the insurer and to such other persons as may be designated by the commissioner. The insurer shall give such notice to its securityholders. The commissioner shall make a determination within thirty (30) days after the conclusion of such hearing. At such hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interests may be affected thereby shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and in connection therewith shall be entitled to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the district court of this state. All discovery proceedings shall be concluded not later than three (3) days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

(e) Mailing to shareholders—payment of expenses. All statements, amendments, or other material filed pursuant to subsection (a) or (b), and all notices of public hearings held pursuant to subsection (d), shall be mailed by the insurer to its shareholders within five (5) business days after the insurer has received such statements, amendments, other material, or notices. The expenses of mailing shall be borne by the person making the filing. As security for the payment of such expenses, such person shall file with the commissioner an acceptable bond or other deposit in an amount to be determined by the commissioner.

(f) Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

(i) Any offers, requests, invitations, agreements or acquisitions by the person referred to in subsection (a) of any voting security referred to in subsection (a) which, immediately prior to the consummation of such offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition, was not issued and outstanding.

(ii) Any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition which the commissioner by order shall exempt therefrom as (1) not having been made or entered into for the purpose and not having the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer, or (2) as otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of this section.

(g) Violations. The following shall be violations of this section:

(i) The failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to subsection (a) or (b).

(ii) The effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, or merger with, a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given his approval thereto.

The courts of this state are hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under this section, and over all actions involving such person arising out of violations of this section, and each such person shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by such a person of the commissioner to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all such lawful process shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to such person at his last known address.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5512. Registration of insurers. (a) Registration. Every insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except a foreign insurer subject to disclosure requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile which are substantially similar to those contained in this section. Any insurer which is subject to registration under this section shall register within sixty (60) days after the effective date of this article or fifteen (15) days after it becomes subject to registration, whichever is later, unless the commissioner for good cause shown extends the time for registration, and then within such extended time. The commissioner may require any authorized insurer which is a member of a holding company system which is not subject to registration under this section to furnish a copy of the registration statement or other information filed by such insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority of domiciliary jurisdiction.

(b) Information and form required. Every insurer subject to registration shall file a registration statement on a form provided by the commissioner, which shall contain current information about:

(i) The capital structure, general financial condition, ownership and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer.

(ii) The identity of every member of the insurance holding company system.

(iii) The following agreements in force, relationships subsisting, and transactions currently outstanding between such insurer and its affiliates:

(1) Loans, other investments, or purchases, sales or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the insurer or of the insurer by its affiliates.

(2) Purchases, sales, or exchanges of assets.

(3) Transactions not in the ordinary course of business.

(4) Guaranties or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate which result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer's business.

(5) All management and service contracts and all cost-sharing arrangements, other than cost allocation arrangements based upon generally accepted accounting principles.

(6) Reinsurance agreements covering all or substantially all of one (1) or more lines of insurance of the ceding company.

(iv) All matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in any registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner.

(c) Materiality. No information need be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to section 4 (b) [subdivision (b) of this section] if such information is not material for the purposes of this section. Unless the commissioner by rule, regulation or order provides otherwise, sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, or investments, involving one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of one per cent (1%) or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the 31st day of December next preceding shall not be deemed material for purposes of this section.

(d) Amendments to registration statements. Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions on amendment forms provided by the commissioner within fifteen (15) days after the end of the month in which it learns of each such change or addition, provided, however, that subject to subsection (c) of section 5 [40-5513], each registered insurer shall so report all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within two (2) business days following the declaration thereof.

(e) Termination of registration. The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer which demonstrates that it no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

(f) Consolidated filing. The commissioner may require or allow two (2) or more affiliated insurers subject to registration hereunder to file a consolidated registration statement or consolidated reports amending their consolidated registration statement or their individual registration statements.

(g) Alternative registration. The commissioner may allow an insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under subsection (a) and to file all information and material required to be filed under this section.

(h) Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any insurer, information or transaction if and to the extent that the commissioner by rule, regulation, or order shall exempt the same from the provisions of this section.

(i) Disclaimer. Any person may file with the commissioner a disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer or such a disclaimer may be filed by such insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. The disclaimer shall fully disclose all material relationships and bases for affiliation between such person and such insurer as well as the basis for disclaiming such affiliation. After a disclaimer has been filed, the insurer shall be relieved of any duty to register or report under this section which may arise out of the insurer's relationship with such person unless and until the commissioner disallows such a disclaimer. The commissioner shall disallow such a disclaimer only after furnishing all parties in interest with notice and opportunity to be heard and after making specific findings of fact to support such disallowance.

(j) Violations. The failure to file a registration statement or any amendment thereto required by this section within the time specified for such filing shall be a violation of this section.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5513. Standards. (a) Transactions with affiliates. Material transactions by registered insurers with their affiliates shall be subject to the following standards:

(1) The terms shall be fair and reasonable.

(2) The books, accounts and records of each party shall be so maintained as to clearly and accurately disclose the precise nature and details of the transactions.

(3) The insurer's surplus as regards policyholders following any dividends or distributions to shareholder affiliates shall be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(b) Adequacy of surplus. For purposes of this article, in determining whether an insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs, the following factors, among others, shall be considered:

(1) The size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force and other appropriate criteria.

(2) The extent to which the insurer's business is diversified among the several lines of insurance.

(3) The number and size of risks insured in each line of business.

(4) The extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer's insured risks.

(5) The nature and extent of the insurer's reinsurance program.

(6) The quality, diversification, and liquidity of the insurer's investment portfolio.

(7) The recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders.

(8) The surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers.

(9) The adequacy of the insurer's reserves.

(10) The quality and liquidity of investments in subsidiaries made pursuant to section 3 [40-5511]. The commissioner may treat any such investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in his judgment such investment so warrants.

(c) Dividends and other distributions. No insurer subject to registration under section 6 [40-5514] shall pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until thirty (30) days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration thereof and has not within such period disapproved such payment, or the commissioner shall have approved such payment within such thirty (30) day period.

For purposes of this section, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property, whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding twelve (12) months exceeds the greater of ten per cent (10%) of such insurer's surplus as regards policyholders as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding, or the net gain from operations of such insurer, if such insurer is a life insurer, or the net investment income, if such insurer is not a life insurer, for the twelve (12) month period ending the thirty-first day of December next preceding, but shall not include prorata distributions of any class of the insurer's own securities.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner's approval thereof, and such a declaration shall confer no rights upon shareholders until the commissioner has approved the payment of such dividend or distribution or the commissioner has not disapproved such payment within the thirty (30) day period referred to above.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5514. Examination. (a) Power of commissioner. Subject to the limitation contained in this section and in addition to the powers which the commissioner has under sections 40-2713, 40-2714, 40-2715, 40-2716, 40-2717, R. C. M., 1947, relating to the examination of insurers, the commissioner shall also have the power to order any insurer registered under section 4 [40-5512] to produce such records, books, or other information papers in the possession of the insurer or its affiliates as shall be necessary to ascertain the financial condition or legality of conduct of such insurer. In the event such insurer fails to comply with such order, the commissioner shall have the power to examine such affiliates to obtain such information.

(b) Purpose and limitation of examination. The commissioner shall exercise his power under subsection (a) above only if the examination of the insurer is inadequate or the interests of the policyholders of such insurer may be adversely affected.

(c) Use of consultants. The commissioner may retain at the registered insurer's expense such attorneys, actuaries, accountants and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as shall be reasonably necessary to assist in the conduct of the examination under subsection (a) above. Any persons so retained shall be under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

(d) Expenses. Each registered insurer producing for examination records, books and papers pursuant to subsection (a) above shall be liable for and shall pay the expense of such examination.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5516. Rules and regulations. The commissioner may, upon notice and opportunity for all interested persons to be heard, issue such rules, regulations, and orders as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the insurer's policyholders, creditors and shareholders or the public may require.

(b) Voting of securities—when prohibited. No security which is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition, or which is acquired or to be acquired, in contravention of the provisions of this article or of any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder may be voted at any shareholders' meeting, or may be counted for quorum purposes, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though such securities were not issued and outstanding; but no action taken at any such meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of such securities, unless the action would materially affect control of the insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered. If an insurer or the commissioner has reason to believe that any security of the insurer has been or is about to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this article or of any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder the insurer or the commissioner may apply to the district court for Lewis and Clark county or to the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business to enjoin any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition made in contravention of section 5 [40-5513] or any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner thereunder to enjoin the voting of any security so acquired, to void any vote of such security already cast at any meeting of shareholders, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the insurer's policyholders, creditors and shareholders or the public may require.

(c) Sequestration of voting securities. In any case where a person has acquired or is proposing to acquire any voting securities in violation of this article or any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the district court for Lewis and Clark county or the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business may, on such notice as the court deems appropriate, upon the application of the insurer or the commissioner seize or sequester any voting securities of the insurer owned directly or indirectly by such person, and issue such orders with respect thereto as may be appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this article. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, for the purposes of this article the situs of the ownership of the securities of domestic insurers shall be deemed to be in this state.

Any insurer which willfully violates this article may be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). Any individual who willfully violates this article may be fined not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or, if such willful violation involves the deliberate perpetration of a fraud upon the commissioner, imprisoned not more than two (2) years or both.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5519. Receivership. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has committed a violation of this article which so impairs the financial condition of a domestic insurer as to threaten insolvency or make the further transaction of business by it hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, shareholders or the public, then the commissioner may proceed to take possession of the property of such domestic insurer and to conduct the business thereof.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5520. Revocation, suspension, or nonrenewal of insurer's license. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has committed a violation of this article which makes the continued operation of an insurer contrary to the interests of policyholders or the public, the commissioner may, after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard, determine to suspend, revoke or refuse to renew such insurer's license or authority to do business in this state for such period as he finds is required for the protection of policyholders or the public. Any such determination shall be accompanied by specific findings of fact and conclusions of law.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 64, L. 1971.

40-5521. Judicial review—mandamus. (a) Any person aggrieved by any act, determination, rule, regulation, or order or any other action of the commissioner pursuant to this article may appeal therefrom to the district court for Lewis and Clark county. The court shall conduct its review without a jury and by trial de novo, except that if all parties, including the commissioner, so stipulate, the review shall be confined to the record. Portions of the record may be introduced by stipulation into evidence in a trial de novo as to those parties so stipulating.

(b) The filing of an appeal pursuant to this section shall stay the application of any such rule, regulation, order or other action of the commissioner to the appealing party unless the court, after giving such party notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that such a stay would be detrimental to the interests of policyholders, shareholders, creditors or the public.

(c) Any person aggrieved by any failure of the commissioner to act or make a determination required by this article may petition the district court for Lewis and Clark county for a writ in the nature of a mandamus or a peremptory mandamus directing the commissioner to act or make such determination forthwith.

every such rating organization. The order shall not affect any contract or policy made or issued prior to the expiration of the period set forth in the order.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5612. Filings meeting requirements of act not disapproved. No manual of classifications, rules, rating plan, or any modification of any of the foregoing which establishes standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both, and which has been filed pursuant to the requirements of section 7 [40-5607], shall be disapproved if the rates thereby produced meet the requirements of this act.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5613. Enforcement of filed rates—lower rates prohibited. No insurer shall issue, renew or continue in force in this state any workmen's compensation insurance at premium rates which are less than the rates applicable under the filings in effect for the insurer, or in effect in accordance with section 8 [40-5608], except as is otherwise provided in this act as to the industrial accident board.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5614. Excess rates. Upon the written application of the insured, stating his reasons therefor, filed with and approved by the insurance commissioner, a rate in excess of that provided by a filing otherwise applicable may be used on any specific risk.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5615. Deviations from filings—procedure and effect of modifications. (1) Every member of a rating organization shall adhere to the filings made on its behalf by such organization, except that any plan Number 2 insurer may make written application to the insurance commissioner for permission to file a uniform percentage decrease or increase to be applied to the premium produced by the rating system so filed for a kind of insurance or for a class of insurance which is found by the insurance commissioner to be a proper rating unit for the application of such uniform percentage decrease or increase, or for a subdivision of a kind of insurance:

(a) comprised of a group of manual classifications which is treated as a separate unit for rate making purposes; or

(b) for which separate expense provisions are included in the filings of the rating organization. Such application shall specify the basis for the modification and shall be accompanied by the data upon which the applicant relies. A copy of the application and data shall be sent simultaneously to such rating organization.

(2) The insurance commissioner shall set a time and place for a hearing at which the insurer and such rating organization may be heard and shall give them not less than ten (10) days' written notice thereof. In the event the insurance commissioner is advised by the rating organization that it does not desire a hearing he may, upon the consent of the applicant, waive such hearing. In permitting or denying such modification with respect to workmen's compensation insurance, the insurance commissioner shall give consideration to the operating methods and expense provisions of the insurer as compared with the expense provisions included in the rating system filed by such rating organization.

(3) The insurance commissioner shall issue an order permitting the modification for such insurer to be filed, if he finds it to be justified, and it shall thereupon become effective. He shall issue an order denying such application if he finds that the modification is not justified or that the resulting premiums would be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory.

(4) Each deviation permitted to be filed shall be effective for a period of one (1) year from the date of such permission, unless terminated sooner with the approval of the insurance commissioner.

(5) Any deviation adopted by the industrial accident board for plan Number 3 rates shall be final and without review or approval by the state insurance commissioner except that the said board shall file with the insurance commissioner's office a schedule of such deviations so adopted and a statement of the bases for such modification.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5616. Membership in rating organization required. Every insurer, including the Montana state industrial accident board, writing workmen's compensation insurance in this state, shall be a member of a workmen's compensation rating organization. No insurer may, at the same time, belong to more than one rating organization with respect to such insurance.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5617. Composition of rating organization. Such a rating organization shall have as members not less than five (5) insurers authorized to write and writing workmen's compensation insurance in this state, and whose combined experience is determined by the insurance commissioner to be reasonably adequate for rate-making purposes.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

40-5618. Industrial accident board as member of committee on operation of rating organization—other members. In a rating organization of which the Montana industrial accident board is a member, it shall be entitled, without election, to membership on any committee thereof established in connection with the operation of the rating organization in this state. One member of each such committee shall be chosen by the stock insurers and one by the nonstock insurers. Such committee shall consist of three (3) members as herein provided for.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 329, L. 1969.

Title of Act

A bill to provide a guaranty association for all insurers, to protect the public from insurer insolvency and providing for assessment among association members under certain conditions.

40-5702. Purpose. The purpose of this act is to provide a mechanism for the payment of covered claims under certain insurance policies to avoid excessive delay in payment and to avoid financial loss to claimants or policyholders because of the insolvency of an insurer, to assist in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies, and to provide an association to assess the cost of such protection among insurers.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5703. Scope. This act shall apply to all kinds of direct insurance, except life, title, surety, disability, credit, mortgage, guaranty and ocean marine insurance.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5704. Construction. This act shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose under section 2 [40-5702] which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5705. Definitions. As used in this act, (1) "Association" means the Montana insurance guaranty association created under section 6 [40-5706] of this act.

(2) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of this state.

(3) "Covered claim" means an unpaid claim, including one for unearned premiums, which arises out of and is within the coverage and not in excess of the applicable limits of an insurance policy to which this act applies issued by an insurer, if such insurer becomes an insolvent insurer after the effective date of this act and (a) the claimant or insured is a resident of this state at the time of the insured event; or (b) the property from which the claim arises is permanently located in this state. "Covered claim" shall not include any amount due an reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, or underwriting association, as subrogation recoveries or otherwise.

(4) "Insolvent insurer" means (a) an insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state either at the time the policy was issued or when the insured event occurred and (b) determined to be insolvent by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) "Member insurer" means any person who (a) writes any kind of insurance to which this act applies under section 3 [40-5703], including the exchange of reciprocal or interinsurance contracts, and (b) is licensed to transact insurance in this state.

(6) "Net direct written premiums" means direct gross premiums written in this state on insurance policies to which this act applies, less return premiums thereon and dividends paid or credited to policyholders on such direct business. "Net direct written premiums" does not include premiums on contracts between insurers or reinsurers.

(7) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association or voluntary organization.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5706. Creation of the association. There is created a nonprofit unincorporated legal entity to be known as the Montana insurance guaranty association. All insurers defined as member insurers shall be and remain members of the association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in this state. The association shall perform its functions under a plan of operation established and approved under section 9 [40-5709] and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under section 7 [40-5707].

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5707. Board of directors. (1) The board of directors of the association shall consist of not less than five (5) nor more than nine (9) persons serving terms as established in the plan of operation. The members of the board shall be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board shall be filled for the remaining period of the term in the same manner as initial appointments. If no members are selected within sixty (60) days after the effective date of this act, the commissioner may appoint the initial members of the board of directors.

(2) In approving selections to the board, the commissioner shall consider among other things whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

(3) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5708. Powers and duties of the association. (1) The association shall:

(a) Be obligated to the extent of the covered claims existing prior to the determination of insolvency and arising within thirty (30) days after the determination of insolvency, or before the policy expiration date if less than thirty (30) days after the determination, or before the insured replaces the policy or causes its cancellation, if he does so within thirty (30) days of the determination, but such obligation shall include only that amount of each covered claim which is in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) and is less than three hundred thousand [dollars] ($300,000), except that the association shall pay the full amount of any covered claim arising out of a workmen's compensation policy. In no event shall the association be obligated to a policyholder or claimant in an amount in excess of the obligation of the insolvent insurer under the policy from which the claim arises.

(b) Be deemed the insurer to the extent of its obligation on the covered claims and to such extent shall have all rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent insurer as if the insurer had not become insolvent.

(c) Assess insurers amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under paragraph (a) subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency, and the cost of examinations under section 13 [40-5713] and other expenses authorized by this act. The assessments of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the preceding calendar year bears to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the preceding calendar year. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than thirty (30) days before it is due. No member insurer may be assessed in any year an amount greater than two per cent (2%) of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the preceding calendar year. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association does not provide in any one (1) year an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments, the funds available shall be prorated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon thereafter as funds become available. The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of any member insurer, if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by any jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance. Each member insurer may set off against any assessment, authorized payments made on covered claims and expenses incurred in the payment of such claims by the member insurer.

(d) Investigate claims brought against the association and adjust, compromise, settle, and pay covered claims to the extent of the association's obligation and deny all other claims and may review settlements, releases and judgments to which the insolvent insurer or its insureds were parties to determine the extent to which such settlements, releases and judgments may be properly contested.

(e) Notify such persons as the commissioner directs under section 10 [40-5710] (2)(a).

(f) Handle claims through its employees or through one or more insurers or other persons designated as servicing facilities. Designation of a servicing facility is subject to the approval of the commissioner, but such designation may be declined by a member insurer.

(g) Reimburse each servicing facility for obligations of the association paid by the facility and for expenses incurred by the facility while handling claims on behalf of the association and shall pay the other expenses of the association authorized by this act.

(2) The association may: (a) Employ or retain such persons as are necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the association.

(b) Borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this act in accord with the plan of operation.

(c) Sue or be sued.

(d) Negotiate and become a party to such contracts as are necessary to carry out the purpose of this act.

(e) Perform such other acts as are necessary or proper to effectuate the purpose of this act.

(f) Refund to the member insurers in proportion to the contribution of each member insurer to the association that amount by which the assets of the association exceed the liabilities, if, at the end of any calendar year, the board of directors finds that the assets of the association exceed the liabilities of the association as estimated by the board of directors for the coming year.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5709. Plan of operation. (1) (a) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

(b) If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within ninety (90) days following the effective date of this act or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this act. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation shall: (a) Establish the procedures whereby all the powers and duties of the association under section 8 [40-5708] will be performed.

(b) Establish procedures for handling assets of the association.

(c) Establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under section 7 [40-5707].

(d) Establish procedures by which claims may be filed with the association and establish acceptable forms of proof of covered claims. Notice of claims to the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer shall be deemed notice to the association or its agent and a list of such claims shall be periodically submitted to the association or similar organization in another state by the receiver or liquidator.

(e) Establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors.

(f) Establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its agents, and the board of directors.

(g) Provide that any member insurer aggrieved by any final action or decision of the association may appeal to the commissioner within thirty (30) days after the action or decision.

(h) Establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be submitted to the commissioner.

(i) Contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(4) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under section 8 [40-5708] (1)(c) and 8 [40-5708] (2)(b), are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association, or its equivalent, in two or more states. Such a corporation, association or organization shall be reimbursed as a servicing facility would be reimbursed and shall be paid for its performance of any other functions of the association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this act.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5710. Duties and powers of the commissioner.

(1) The commissioner shall: (a) Notify the association of the existence of an insolvent insurer not later than three (3) days after he receives notice of the determination of the insolvency.

(b) Upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the net direct written premiums of each member insurer.

(2) The commissioner may: (a) Require that the association notify the insureds of the insolvent insurer and any other interested parties of the determination of insolvency and of their rights under this act. Such notification shall be by mail at their last known address, where available, but if sufficient information for notification by mail is not available, notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation shall be sufficient.

(b) Suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such fine shall not exceed five per cent (5%) of the unpaid assessment per month, except that no fine shall be less than one hundred dollars ($100) per month.

(c) Revoke the designation of any servicing facility if he finds claims are being handled unsatisfactorily.

(3) Any final action or order of the commissioner under this act shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5711. Effect of paid claims. (1) Any person recovering under this act shall be deemed to have assigned his rights under the policy to the association to the extent of his recovery from the association. Every insured or claimant seeking the protection of this act shall co-operate with the association to the same extent as such person would have been required to co-operate with the insolvent insurer. The association shall have no cause of action against the insured of the insolvent insurer for any sums it has paid out except such causes of action as the insolvent insurer would have had if such sums had been paid by the insolvent insurer. In the case of an insolvent insurer operating on a plan with assessment liability, payments of claims of the association shall not operate to reduce the liability of insured's to the receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor for unpaid assessments.

(2) The receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor of an insolvent insurer shall be bound by settlements of covered claims by the association or a similar organization in another state. The court having jurisdiction shall grant such claims priority equal to that which the claimant would have been entitled in the absence of this act against the assets of the insolvent insurer. The expenses of the association or similar organization in handling claims shall be accorded the same priority as the liquidator's expenses.

(3) The association shall periodically file with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer statements of the covered claims paid by the association and estimates of anticipated claims on the association which shall preserve the rights of the association against the assets of the insolvent insurer.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5712. Nonduplication of recovery. (1) Any person having a claim against an insurer under any provision in an insurance policy other than a policy of an insolvent insurer which is also a covered claim, shall be required to exhaust first his right under such policy. Any amount payable on a covered claim under this act shall be reduced by the amount of any recovery under such insurance policy.

(2) Any person having a claim which may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured except that if it is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location, he shall seek recovery first from the association of the location of the property, and if it is a workmen's compensation claim, he shall seek recovery first from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any recovery under this act shall be reduced by the amount of recovery from any other insurance guaranty association or its equivalent.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5713. Prevention of insolvencies. (1) It shall be the duty of the board of directors, upon majority vote, to notify the commissioner of any information indicating any member insurer may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

(2) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public. Within thirty (30) days of the receipt of such request, the commissioner shall begin such examination. The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by such persons as the commissioner designates. The cost of such examination shall be paid by the association and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports. In no event shall such examination report be released to the board of directors prior to its release to the public, but this shall not preclude the commissioner from complying with subsection (3). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination shall be kept on file by the commissioner but it shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public.

(3) It shall be the duty of the commissioner to report to the board of directors when he has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined or being examined at the request of the board of directors may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation of any member insurer. Such reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents.

(5) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies.

(6) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report on the history and causes of such insolvency, based on the information available to the association, and submit such report to the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5714. Examination of the association. The association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the commissioner. The board of directors shall submit, not later than March 30 of each year, a financial report for the preceding calendar year in a form approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5715. Tax exemption. The association shall be exempt from payment of all fees and all taxes levied by this state or any of its subdivisions except taxes levied on real or personal property.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5716. Recognition of assessments in rates. The rates and premiums charged for insurance policies to which this act applies shall include amounts sufficient to recoup a sum equal to the amounts paid to the association by the member insurer less any amounts returned to the member insurer by the association and such rates shall not be deemed excessive because they contain an amount reasonably calculated to recoup assessments paid by the member insurer.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5717. Immunity. There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any member insurer, the association or its agents or employees, the board of directors, or the commissioner or his representatives for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this act.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

40-5718. Stay of proceedings—reopening of default judgments. All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party or is obligated to defend a party in any court in this state shall be stayed for sixty (60) days from the date the insolvency is determined to permit proper defense by the association of all pending causes of action. As to any covered claims arising from a judgment under any decision, verdict or finding based on the default of the insolvent insurer or its failure to defend an insured, the association either on its own behalf or on behalf of such insured may apply to have such judgment, order, decision, verdict or finding set aside by the same court or administrator that made such judgment, order, decision, verdict or finding and shall be permitted to defend against such claim on the merits.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 63, L. 1971.

If the board of directors is not selected within sixty (60) days after notice of the organizational meeting, the commissioner may appoint the initial members.

(2) In approving selections or in appointing members to the board, the commissioner shall consider, among other things, whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

40-5808. Powers and duties of the association. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in other sections of this act,

(1) If a domestic insurer is an impaired insurer, the association may, prior to an order of liquidation or rehabilitation, and subject to any conditions imposed by the association other than those which impair the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer, and approved by the impaired insurer and the commissioner:

(a) guarantee or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or re-insured, all the covered policies of the impaired insurer;

(b) provide such moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means as are proper to effectuate [subdivision (a) of this subsection], and assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action under [subdivision (a) of this subsection];

(c) loan money to the impaired insurer.

(2) If a foreign or alien insurer is an impaired insurer, the association may, prior to an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation, with respect to the covered policies of residents and subject to any conditions imposed by the association other than those which impair the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer, and approved by the impaired insurer and the commissioner:

(a) guarantee or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured, the impaired insurer's covered policies of residents;

(b) provide such moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees or other means as are proper to effectuate [subdivision (a) of this subsection], and assure payment of the impaired insurer's contractual obligations to residents pending action under [subdivision (a) of this subsection];

(c) loan money to the impaired insurer.

(3) If a domestic insurer is an impaired insurer under an order of liquidation or rehabilitation, the association shall, subject to the approval of the commissioner:

(a) guarantee, assume, or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed or reinsured the covered policies of the impaired insurer;

(b) assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer; and

(c) provide such moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means as are reasonably necessary to discharge such duties.

If the association fails to act within a reasonable period of time, the commissioner shall have the powers and duties of the association under this act with respect to such domestic impaired insurer.

(4) If a foreign or alien insurer is an impaired insurer under an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation, the association shall, subject to the approval of the commissioner:

(a) guarantee, assume, or reinsure or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured the covered policies of residents;

(b) assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer to residents; and

(c) provide such moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means as are reasonably necessary to discharge such duties.

If the association fails to act within a reasonable period of time, the commissioner shall have the powers and duties of the association under this act with respect to such foreign or alien impaired insurer.

(5) (a) In carrying out its duties under subsections (3) and (4), the association may request that there be imposed policy liens, contract liens, moratoriums on payments, or other similar means and such liens, moratoriums, or similar means may be imposed if the commissioner:

(i) finds that the amounts which can be assessed under this act are less than the amounts needed to assure full and prompt performance of the impaired insurer's contractual obligations, or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the imposition of policy or contract liens, moratoriums, or similar means to be in the public interest, and

(ii) approve the specific policy liens, contract liens, moratoriums, or similar means to be used.

(b) Before being obligated under subsections (3) and (4) the association may request that there be imposed temporary moratoriums or liens on payments of cash values and policy loans and such temporary moratoriums and liens may be imposed if they are approved by the commissioner.

(6) The association shall have no liability under this section for any covered policy of a foreign or alien insurer whose domiciliary jurisdiction or state of entry provides by statute or regulation, for residents of this state protection substantially similar to that provided by this act for residents of other states.

(7) The association may render assistance and advice to the commissioner, upon his request, concerning rehabilitation, payment of claims, continuations of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of any impaired insurer.

(8) The association shall have standing to appear before any court in this state with jurisdiction over an impaired insurer concerning which the association is or may become obligated under this act. Such standing shall extend to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the association, including, but not limited to, proposals for reinsuring or guaranteeing the covered policies of the impaired insurer and the determination of the covered policies and contractual obligations.

(9) (a) Any person receiving benefits under this act shall be deemed to have assigned his rights under the covered policy to the association to the extent of the benefits received because of this act whether the benefits are payments of contractual obligations or continuation of coverage. The association may require an assignment to it of such rights by any payee, policy or contract owner, beneficiary, insured or annuitant as a condition precedent to the receipt of any rights or benefits conferred by this act upon such person. The association shall be subrogated to these rights against the assets of any impaired insurer.

(b) The subrogation rights of the association under this subsection shall have the same priority against the assets of the impaired insurer as that possessed by the person entitled to receive benefits under this act.

(10) The contractual obligations of the impaired insurer for which the association becomes or may become liable shall be as great as but no greater than the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer would have been in the absence of an impairment unless such obligations are reduced as permitted by subsection (5) but the association shall have no liability with respect to any portion of a covered policy to the extent that the death benefit coverage on any one life exceeds an aggregate of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000).

(11) The association may:

(a) enter into such contracts as are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this act;

(b) sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper for recovery of any unpaid assessments under section 9 [40-5809];

(c) borrow money to effect the purposes of this act. Any notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the association not in default shall be legal investments for domestic insurers and may be carried as admitted assets;

(d) employ or retain such persons as are necessary to handle the financial transactions of the association, and to perform such other functions as become necessary or proper under this act;

(e) negotiate and contract with any liquidator, rehabilitator, conservator, or ancillary receiver to carry out the powers and duties of the association;

(f) take such legal action as may be necessary to avoid payment of improper claims;

(g) exercise, for the purposes of this act and to the extent approved by the commissioner, the powers of a domestic life or health insurer, but in no case may the association issue insurance policies or annuity contracts other than those issued to perform the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer.

History: En. 40-5808 by Sec. 8, Ch. 245, L. 1974.

40-5809. Assessments. (1) For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association, the board of directors shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at such times and for such amounts as the board finds necessary. The board shall collect the assessments after thirty (30) days' written notice to the member insurers before payment is due.

(2) There shall be three classes of assessments, as follows:

(a) Class A assessments shall be made for the purpose of meeting administrative costs and other general expenses not related to a particular impaired insurer.

(b) Class B assessments shall be made to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association under section 8 [40-5808] with regard to an impaired domestic insurer.

(c) Class C assessments shall be made to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association under section 8 [40-5808] with regard to an impaired foreign or alien insurer.

(3) (a) The amount of any Class A assessment for each account shall be determined by the board. The amount of any Class B or C assessment shall be divided among the accounts in the proportion that the premiums received by the impaired insurer on the policies covered by each account bears to the premiums received by such insurer on all covered policies.

(b) Class A and Class C assessments against member insurers for each account shall be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this state by each assessed member insurer on policies covered by each account bears to such premiums received on business in this state by all assessed member insurers.

(c) Class B assessments for each account shall be made separately for each state in which the impaired domestic insurer was authorized to transact insurance at any time, in the proportion that the premiums received on business in such state by the impaired insurer on policies covered by such account bears to such premiums received in all such states by the impaired insurer. The assessments against member insurers shall be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in each such state by each assessed member insurer on policies covered by each account bears to such premiums received on business in each state by all assessed member insurers.

(d) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the association with respect to an impaired insurer shall not be made until necessary to implement the purposes of this act. Classification of assessments under subsection (2) and computation of assessments under this subsection shall be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible.

(4) The association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. The total of all assessments upon a member insurer for each account shall not in any one (1) calendar year exceed two per cent (2%) of such insurer's premiums in this state on the policies covered by the account.

(5) In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated, or deferred, in whole or in part, because of the limitations set forth in subsection (4), the amount by which such assessment is abated or deferred, shall be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this section. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in either account, does not provide in any one (1) year in either account an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, the necessary additional funds shall be assessed as soon thereafter as permitted by this act.

(6) The board may, by an equitable method as established in the plan of operation, refund to member insurers, in proportion to the contribution of each insurer to that account, the amount by which the assets of the account exceed the amount the board finds is necessary to carry out during the coming year the obligations of the association with regard to that amount, including assets accruing from net realized gains and income from investments. A reasonable amount may be retained in any account to provide funds for the continuing expenses of the association and for future losses if refunds are impractical.

(7) It shall be proper for any member insurer, in determining its premium rates and policyowner dividends as to any kind of insurance within the scope of this act, to consider the amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations under this act.

(8) The association shall issue to each insurer paying an assessment under this act a certificate of contribution, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, for the amount so paid. All outstanding certificates shall be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or dates of issue. A certificate of contribution may be shown by the insurer in its financial statement as an asset in such form and for such amount, if any, and period of time as the commissioner may approve.

History: En. 40-5809 by Sec. 9, Ch. 245, L. 1974.

40-5810. Plan of operation. (1) (a) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

(b) If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within one hundred eighty (180) days following the effective date of this act or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this act. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation shall, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this act:

(a) establish procedures for handling the assets of the association;

(b) establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under section 7 [40-5807];

(c) establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors;

(d) establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its agents, and the board of directors;

(e) establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be made and submitted to the commissioner;

(f) establish any additional procedures for assessments under section 9 [40-5809];

(g) contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(4) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under sections 8 (11) (c) [40-5808 (11) (c)] and 9 [40-5809], are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association, or its equivalent, in two (2) or more states. Such a corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed for any payments made on behalf of the association and shall be paid for its performance of any function of the association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this act.

History: En. 40-5810 by Sec. 10, Ch. 245, L. 1974.

40-5811. Duties and powers of the commissioner. (1) In addition to the duties and powers enumerated elsewhere in this act, the commissioner shall:

(a) notify the board of directors of the existence of an impaired insurer not later than three (3) days after a determination of impairment is made or he receives notice of impairment;

(b) upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the premiums in the appropriate states for each member insurer;

(c) when an impairment is declared and the amount of the impairment is determined, serve a demand upon the impaired insurer to make good the impairment within a reasonable time. Notice to the impaired insurer shall constitute notice to its shareholders, if any. The failure of the insurer to promptly comply with such demand shall not excuse the association from the performance of its powers and duties under this act;

(d) in any liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding involving a domestic insurer, be appointed as the liquidator or rehabilitator. If a foreign or alien member insurer is subject to a liquidation proceeding in its domiciliary jurisdiction or state of entry, the commissioner shall be appointed conservator.

(2) The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative the commissioner may levy a forfeiture on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such forfeiture shall not exceed five per cent (5%) of the unpaid assessment per month, but no forfeiture shall be less than one hundred dollars ($100) per month.

(3) Any action of the board of directors or the association may be appealed to the commissioner by any member insurer if such appeal is taken within thirty (30) days of the action being appealed. Any final action or order of the commissioner shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(4) The liquidator, rehabilitator, or conservator of any impaired insurer may notify all interested persons of the effect of this act.

History: En. 40-5811 by Sec. 11, Ch. 245, L. 1974.

40-5812. Prevention of impairments. To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer impairments:

(1) The board of directors shall, upon majority vote, notify the commissioner of any information indicating any member insurer may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(2) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations. The commissioner may conduct such examination. The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by such persons as the commissioner designates. The cost of such examination shall be paid by the association and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports. In no event shall such examination report be released to the board of directors of the association prior to its release to the public, but this shall not excuse the commissioner from his obligation to comply with subsection (3). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination shall be kept on file by the commissioner but it shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public and shall be released at that time only if the examination discloses that the examined insurer is unable or potentially unable to meet its contractual obligations.

(3) The commissioner shall report to the board of directors when he has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined at the request of the board of directors may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation of any member insurer. Such reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents.

(5) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer impairments.

(6) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer impairment in which the association carried out its duties under this act or exercised any of its powers under this act, prepare a report on the history and causes of such impairment, based on the information available to the association, and submit such report to the commissioner.

History: En. 40-5813 by Sec. 13, Ch. 245, L. 1974.

40-5814. Miscellaneous provisions. (1) Nothing in this act shall be construed to reduce the liability for unpaid assessments of the insureds of an impaired insurer operating under a plan with assessment liability.

(2) Records shall be kept of all negotiations and meetings in which the association or its representatives are involved to discuss the activities of the association in carrying out its powers and duties under section 8 [40-5808]. Records of such negotiations or meetings shall be made public only upon the termination of a liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation proceeding involving the impaired insurer, upon the termination of the impairment of the insurer, or upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Nothing in this subsection shall limit the duty of the association to render a report of its activities under section 15 [40-5815].

(3) For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this act, the association shall be deemed to be a creditor of the impaired insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies reduced by any amounts to which the association is entitled as subrogee pursuant to section 8(9) [40-5808(9)]. All assets of the impaired insurer attributable to covered policies shall be used to continue all covered policies and pay all contractual obligations of the impaired insurer as required by this act. Assets attributable to covered policies, as used in this subsection, is that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies bear to the reserve that should have been established for all policies of insurance written by the impaired insurer.

(4) (a) Prior to the termination of any liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation proceeding, the court may take into consideration the contributions of the respective parties, including the association, the shareholders and policyowners of the impaired insurer, and any other party with a bona fide interest, in making an equitable distribution of the ownership rights of such impaired insurer. In such a determination, consideration shall be given to the welfare of the policyholders of the continuing or successor insurer.

(b) No distribution to stockholders, if any, of an impaired insurer shall be made until and unless the total amount of assessments levied by the association with respect to such insurer have been fully recovered by the association.

(5) It shall be a prohibited unfair trade practice for any person to make use in any manner of the protection afforded by this act in the sale of insurance.

(6) (a) If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of an insurer domiciled in this state has been entered, the receiver appointed under such order shall have a right to recover on behalf of the insurer, from any affiliate that controlled it, the amount of distributions, other than stock dividends paid by the insurer on its capital stock, made at any time during the five years preceding the petition for liquidation or rehabilitation subject to the limitations of paragraphs (b) to (d).

(b) No such dividend shall be recoverable if the insurer shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable, and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(c) Any person who as an affiliate that controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were paid shall be liable up to the amount of distributions he received. Any person who was an affiliate that controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were declared, shall be liable up to the amount of distributions he would have received if they had been paid immediately. If two persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they shall be jointly and severally liable.

(d) The maximum amount recoverable under this subsection shall be the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the impaired insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer.

(e) If any person liable under paragraph (c) is insolvent, all its affiliates that controlled it at the time the dividend was paid, shall be jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the insolvent affiliate.

40-5817. Tax—writeoffs of certificates of contribution. (1) Unless a longer period has been allowed by the commissioner, a member insurer shall at its option have the right to show a certificate of contribution as an asset in the form approved by the commissioner pursuant to section 9 (8) [40-5809(8)], at percentages of the original face amount approved by the commissioner, for calendar years as follows:

One hundred per cent (100%) for calendar year of issuance, eighty per cent (80%) for the first calendar year after year of issuance, sixty per cent (60%) for second calendar year after year of issuance, forty per cent (40%) for third calendar year after year of issuance, twenty per cent (20%) for fourth calendar year after year of issuance.

(2) The insurer may offset the amount written off by it in the calendar year under subsection (1) above, against its premium tax liability to this state accrued with respect to business transacted in such year.

(3) Any sums acquired by refund, pursuant to section 9 (6) [40-5809(6)], from the association which have therefore been written off by contributing insurers and offset against premium taxes as provided in subsection (2) above, and is not then needed for purposes for this act, shall be paid by the association to the commissioner and by him deposited with the state treasurer for credit to the general fund of this state.

All proceedings in which the impaired insurer is a party in any court in this state shall be stayed sixty (60) days from the date an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation is final to permit proper legal action by the association on any matters germane to its powers or duties. As to a judgment under any decision, order, verdict, or finding based on default the association may apply to have such judgment set aside by the same court that made such judgment and shall be permitted to defend against such suit on the merits.

Title of Act

An act to provide for the regulation of nonprofit health service corporations; and amending section 15-2304, R. C. M. 1947.

40-5902. Application of this act—construction of other related laws.

(1) All health service corporations heretofore or hereafter organized are subject to the provisions of this act.

(2) A law of this state other than the provisions of this act applicable to health service corporations shall be construed in accordance with the fundamental nature of a health service corporation, and in the event of a conflict between that law and the provisions of this act, the latter shall prevail.

History: En. 40-5902 by Sec. 2, Ch. 319, L. 1975.

40-5903. Purposes of health service corporation. A health service corporation may be organized for the purposes of:

(1) establishing and operating a voluntary, nonprofit plan or plans under which health services, or reimbursement therefor, are furnished to persons who become members or beneficiaries; or

(2) acting as agent or intermediary for other health service corporations, for governmental body or agency, or for other corporations, associations, partnerships or individuals in the field of health care and services; and

(3) research, education or related activity to further objects within the purview of this act.

History: En. 40-5903 by Sec. 3, Ch. 319, L. 1975.

40-5904. No profit organization may be a health service corporation. No group, association, or organization created for or engaged in business or activity for profit, provision for the incorporation of which is made by any of the corporation laws of this state, may be organized or operated, directly or indirectly, as a health service corporation under this act.

History: En. 40-5904 by Sec. 4, Ch. 319, L. 1975.

40-5905. Financial security. (1) The corporation shall maintain at all times, unobligated funds adequate to:

(a) provide the hospital, medical-surgical and other health services made available to its members and beneficiaries, and

(b) meet all costs and expenses.

(2) In addition, reserves of a health service corporation in cash, certificates of deposit, obligations issued or guaranteed by the government of the United States or other assets approved by the commissioner shall be maintained in an amount not less than:

(a) five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000); or

(b) an amount equal to one (1) month's average income from dues or fees paid to the corporation by its members or beneficiaries, based on an average of the preceding twelve (12) months, whichever is less.

If the reserves are not equal to the average in (2)(b), they must have been increased during the preceding twelve (12) months by an amount equal to one per cent (1%) of the gross dues or fee income during that period. The determination of minimum reserves is subject, as to amounts payable to participating providers of the health services, to any right of the corporation to prorate the amounts under the terms of its health service contracts with providers. The commissioner may decrease or suspend the requirements of this section if he finds that the action is in the best interest of the members of the corporation.

40-5906. Forms—filing. (1) A copy of all forms of the membership contract or any type of endorsement or rider shall be filed with the commissioner within thirty (30) days after that form is first used. When a form does not comply with the requirements of this act, the commissioner shall notify the corporation in writing of that failure and include the reasons for his opinion. Unless the corporation requests a hearing within ten (10) days, notice by the commissioner disallows use of this form by the corporation. If the corporation challenges the commissioner's disallowance of a form it shall request a hearing on that issue. The commissioner shall schedule a hearing as soon as practicable but not less than fifteen (15) days from the date of the request. If the commissioner finds, after the hearing, that the form is not in compliance with this act he may disapprove the form and issue a final order to that effect. Notice of disapproval, including the grounds for disapproval, shall be presented to the corporation not less than thirty (30) days after the hearing. The final order is effective thirty (30) days after the hearing.

(2) A corporation whose forms have been ordered discontinued by the commissioner, may appeal, within fifteen (15) days after an order, to a district court of the state.  - 41-119. Lie detector tests—when prohibited.
 - 41-120. Law enforcement agencies exempt.

Assumption of Risk

Where master, in an action against him for injuries sustained by a servant during course of employment, introduced evidence tending to show that the servant had actual or implied knowledge of the dangerous condition but voluntarily remained in the face of the danger, and that the injury resulted as a usual and probable consequence of the dangerous condition, then refusal of the trial court to instruct the jury properly on assumption of risk deprived defendant of a possible defense and was prejudicial error. Wollan v. Lord, 142 M 498, 385 P 2d 102.

Employee with prior back injury who neither informed his employer of his previous injury, nor refused to lift 500-pound tire without additional help, assumed the risk of the resultant additional injury to his back. McLaughlin v. Ballard, 156 M 181, 478 P 2d 281.

41-118. Deceived employees—action for damages. (1) No one doing business in this state shall induce, influence, persuade, or engage workmen to change from one place to another in this state, through or by means of deception, misrepresentation, or false advertising concerning the kind or character of the work, or the sanitary or other conditions of employment, or as to the existence of a strike or other trouble pending between the employer and the employees, at the time of, or immediately prior to, such engagement. Failure to state in any advertisement, proposal, or contract for the employment of workmen that there is a strike, lockout, or other labor trouble at the place of the proposed employment, when in fact such strike, lockout, or other trouble then actually exists at such place, shall be deemed a false advertisement and misrepresentation for the purpose of this section.

(2) Any workman influenced, induced, persuaded, or engaged through or by means of any of the things prohibited by subsection (1) of this section has a right of action for recovery of all damages that he had sustained in consequence of the deception, misrepresentation, or false advertising used to induce him to change his place of employment, against anyone directly or indirectly procuring such change, and in addition thereto, he shall recover reasonable attorneys' fees to be fixed by the court and taxed as costs in any judgment recovered.

History: En. 41-118 by Sec. 2, Ch. 513, L. 1973.

41-119. Lie detector tests—when prohibited. No person, firm, corporation or other business entity or representative thereof, shall require as a condition for employment or continuation of employment any person to take a polygraph test or any form of a mechanical lie detector test. A person who violates this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 46, L. 1974.

to the other, except where otherwise provided by sections 41-101 to 41-407 and 2-109 to 2-112 and 2-401 to 2-405, and except as provided in section 1 [41-305.1] of this act.

CHAPTER 7—PREFERENCE OF MONTANA LABOR IN PUBLIC WORKS CONTRACTS

Section 41-701. Preference of Montana labor in public works—wage scale—not to conflict with federal statutes.

41-701. (3043.1) Preference of Montana labor in public works—wage scale—not to conflict with federal statutes. In all contracts hereafter let for state, county, municipal, school, heavy highway or municipal construction, services, repair and maintenance work under any of the laws of this state there shall be inserted in each of said contracts a provision by which the contractor must give preference to the employment of bona fide Montana residents in the performance of said work, and that the said contractor must further pay the standard prevailing rate of wages including fringe benefits for health and welfare and pension contributions, and travel allowance provisions in effect and applicable to the county or locality in which the work is being performed. "Standard prevailing rate of wages including fringe benefits for health and welfare and pension contributions, and travel allowance provisions, applicable to the county or locality in which the work is being performed," means those wages including fringe benefits for health and welfare and pension contributions, and travel allowance provisions which are paid in the county or locality by other contractors for work of a similar character performed in that county or locality by each craft, classification or type of worker needed to complete a contract under this act. When work of a similar character is not being performed in the county or locality, the standard prevailing rate of wages including fringe benefits for health and welfare and pension contributions, and travel allowance provisions shall be those rates established by collective bargaining agreements in effect in the county or locality for each craft, classification or type of worker needed to complete the contract. No contract shall be let to any person, firm, association or corporation refusing to execute an agreement with the above-mentioned provisions in it; provided that, in contracts involving the expenditure of federal aid funds this act shall not be enforced in such a manner as to conflict with or be contrary to the federal statutes prescribing a labor preference to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, and prohibiting as unlawful any other preference or discrimination among citizens of the United States. All public works contracts under this act shall be approved in writing by the legal adviser of the contracting state, county, municipal corporation, school district, assessment district or special improvement district body or officer prior to execution by the contracting public officer or officers. Whenever the employer is not signatory party to a collective bargaining agreement, those moneys designated as negotiated fringe benefits shall be paid to the employee as wages.

(1) The Montana commissioner of labor may determine the standard prevailing rate of wages in the county or locality in which the contract is to be performed. The commissioner shall undertake to keep and maintain copies of collective bargaining agreements and other information from which rates and jurisdictional areas applicable to public works contracts under this act may be ascertained.

(2) Contractors, subcontractors, and employers who are performing work or providing services under public works contracts as provided in this act shall post in a prominent and accessible site on the project or work area, not later than the first day of work, a legible statement of all wages to be paid to the employees employed on such site or work area.

(3) Any contractor, subcontractor or employer who shall pay workers or employees at less than the standard prevailing wage as established under the public works contract shall forfeit to the contracting agency the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) a day for each worker so underpaid. Whenever it shall appear to the contracting agency or to the Montana commissioner of labor that there are insufficient moneys due to the contractor or the employer under the terms of the contract to cover such penalties, the Montana commissioner of labor may within ninety (90) days after the filing of notice of completion of the project and its acceptance by the contracting agency, maintain an action in district court to recover all such penalties and forfeitures due. Nothing in this section shall prevent the individual worker who has been underpaid from maintaining an action for recovery of the wages due under the contract as provided in chapter 13 of this title.

(4) The provisions of this act do not apply in those instances where the standard prevailing rate of wages is determined pursuant to federal law.

(5) In no instances where this act is applicable shall the standard prevailing rate of wage be determined to be greater than the applicable rate of wage in the area for the particular work in question as negotiated under existing and current collective bargaining agreements.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment rewrote portions of this section, redefining the standard prevailing rate of wages to include fringe benefits for health and welfare and pension contributions and travel allowance provisions, providing for approval of public works contracts by the contracting state agency's legal adviser and requiring the commissioner of labor and industry to keep copies of collective bargaining agreements and other information.

The 1973 amendment inserted "services" near the beginning of the first sentence.

The 1975 amendment substituted "worker" for "workman" in two places in the preliminary paragraph; deleted a sentence reading "The Montana commissioner of labor and industry shall undertake to keep and maintain copies of collective bargaining agreements and other information from which rates and jurisdictional areas applicable to public works contracts under this act may be ascertained" before the last sentence of the preliminary paragraph; and added subdivisions (1) to (5).

Effective Date

41-816. Vocational rehabilitation of handicapped persons—legislative purpose and findings. The purpose of this act is to encourage the development, improvement and expansion of sheltered employment and supervised work programs for mentally retarded, severely handicapped and disadvantaged individuals to enable them to become contributing and self-supporting members of society as an alternative to dependency.

The condition of the mentally retarded, severely handicapped and disadvantaged is such that after laborious training in the schools and otherwise they reach the point in their lives where they can and should, under proper and continued guidance, engage in sheltered employment or supervised work to help them become contributing members of society instead of being dependent. For such persons, retention in sheltered employment or supervised work may constitute satisfactory placement. Such training and placement is often a suitable alternative to institutionalization or idleness and its consequences. By keeping these individuals within their communities and in touch with their families, a worthwhile dimension is added to their lives and they are thus spared the anxieties naturally attached to separation. All of these factors have also been shown to reflect tangible benefits upon the mentally retarded, severely handicapped or disadvantaged person by improving his over-all well-being.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 322, L. 1973.

(2) "Physical or mental disability" means a physical or mental condition which materially limits, contributes to limiting or, if not corrected, will probably result in limiting an individual's activities or functioning. The term includes behavioral disorders characterized by deviant social behavior or impaired ability to carry out normal relationships with family and community which may result from vocational, educational, cultural, social, environmental or other factors.

(3) "Vocational rehabilitation services" means goods or services provided handicapped persons to enable such persons to be fit for gainful occupation or to attain or maintain a maximum degree of self-support or self-care and includes every type of goods and services for which federal funds are available for vocational rehabilitation purposes, including, but not limited to, the establishment, construction, development, operation and maintenance of workshops and rehabilitation facilities.

(4) "Self-care" means a reasonable degree of restoration from dependency upon others for personal needs and care and includes but is not limited to ability to live in own home, rather than requiring nursing home care and care for self rather than requiring attendant care.

(7) "Work activity center" means a physically separated department of a workshop having an identifiable program, separate supervision and records, planned and designed exclusively to provide therapeutic activities for handicapped workers whose physical or mental impairment is so severe as to make their productive capacity inconsequential. Therapeutic activities include custodial activities (such as activities where the focus is on teaching the basic skills of living), and any purposeful activity so long as work or production is not the main purpose.

and abilities; or (b) who, because of lack of social competence or mobility, experience, skills, training or other factors, is in need of vocational rehabilitation services in order to become fit to engage in a gainful occupation or to attain or maintain a maximum degree of self-support or self-care; or"; deleted a former subdivision (1)(c) reading "for whom vocational rehabilitation services are necessary to determine rehabilitation potential"; and added subsections (6) and (7).

41-818. Purchase of services for severely handicapped persons—determination of eligibility—register of qualified organizations—rules and regulations. The department is authorized to expend for or toward the cost of providing such sheltered employment or supervised work a sum or sums not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per annum for each such mentally retarded, severely handicapped or disadvantaged person in order to maintain him as a contributing and self-supporting member of society as an alternative to dependency; provided, that the department is authorized to expend in excess of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per annum for each such mentally retarded, severely handicapped or disadvantaged person when federal or other funding becomes available to the state agency for such purpose and such additional expenditures may continue as long as the additional federal or other funding is or becomes available"; deleted former subsection (3) which read "The determination of eligibility for such service shall be made for each individual by the department"; redesignated the remaining subsections as (2) and (3); inserted "and other appropriate state and federal agencies" in the first sentence of subsection (2) after "organizations which it"; and made a minor change in phraseology.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment rewrote this section. For previous text, see parent volume.

41-1304. (3087) Period within which employee may recover penalties. Any employee may recover all such penalties as are provided for the violation of section 41-1302, which have accrued to him, at any time within eighteen (18) months succeeding such default or delay in the payment of such wages.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 11, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 3087, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 234, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment extended the time for recovery of penalties from six months to eighteen months.

41-1306. (3089) Judgment for wages shall include attorney's fee.

Exceptions to Recovery

Attorney fees may not be recovered in judgment for wages taken against the state government or any of its subdivisions, including a school district, since these are expressly excluded from the definition of employer under section 41-1301(3)(b). Bitney v. School District No. 44, — M —, 535 P 2d 1273.

Failure To Include in Memorandum

Award of attorney fees was proper in employee's action to recover for services rendered as bookkeeper under an implied contract, even though not included in plaintiff's memorandum of costs, since the award was made directly to attorney. Cartwright v. Joyce, 155 M 478, 473 P 2d 515.

41-1314.1. Enforcement. The commissioner or his authorized representatives are empowered to enter and inspect such places, question such employees, and investigate such facts, conditions, or matters as they may deem appropriate, to determine whether any person has violated any provision of this act or any rule or regulation issued hereunder or which may aid in the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

The commissioner or his authorized representatives shall have power to administer oaths and examine witnesses under oath, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses, and the production of papers, books, accounts, records, payrolls, documents, and testimony, and to take depositions and affidavits in any proceeding before the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 40, L. 1967.

Duty of Labor Commissioner

Title of Act

An act amending sections 41-1302 and 41-1303, R. C. M. 1947, relating to time for payment of wages; authorizing the commissioner of labor to investigate violations; and authorizing said commissioner to accept assignments of wage claims and institute proceedings to enforce such claims.

After taking assignment of unpaid wages, the commissioner of labor has a clear legal duty to hold a hearing on the matter since the Montana department of labor and industry in its administrative code has charged the labor standards division with the duty of enforcing Montana labor laws, and the determination of the commissioner, to be judicially enforceable, must be made pursuant to a hearing. Burgess v. Softich, — M —, 535 P 2d 178.

41-1314.2. Authority to take wage assignments. Whenever the commissioner determines that one or more employees have claims for unpaid wages, he shall, upon the written request of the employee, take an assignment of the claim in trust for such employee, and may maintain any proceeding appropriate to enforce the claim, including liquidated damages pursuant to this act. With the written consent of the assignor, the commissioner may settle or adjust any claim assigned pursuant to this section.

Any judgment for the plaintiff in a proceeding pursuant to this act shall include all costs reasonably incurred in connection with the proceeding, including attorneys' fees. If the proceeding is maintained by the commissioner, no court costs or fees shall be required of him, nor shall he be required to furnish any bond or other security that might otherwise be required in connection with any phase of the proceeding.

The commissioner is authorized to issue, amend, and enforce rules and regulations for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act.

Compromise Not a Defense

Employer may not compromise minimum wage claims with employees and then establish that compromise as a defense to proceedings seeking enforcement of minimum wage laws; failure of commissioner to obtain assignments of wage claims from all employees was not fatal to his authority to act on their behalf, and nonassigned claims could not be settled by employees themselves. State ex rel. Neiss v. District Court, Thirteenth Judicial Dist., Yellowstone County, — M —, 511 P 2d 979.

Refusal to Hold Hearing

Commissioner of labor did not have discretion to ignore wage claim or reject it without a hearing and making a proper determination. Burgess v. Softich, — M —, 535 P 2d 178.

41-1314.3. Disposition of wages. (1) The commissioner of labor and industry shall deposit wages collected by him under Title 41, chapters 13 and 23, R. C. M. 1947, into the agency fund and shall attempt to make payment of wages to the entitled person. Wages deposited into the agency fund are not interest bearing.

(2) Wages collected by the commissioner of labor and industry remaining unclaimed for a period of more than two (2) years from the date of collection shall be forfeited to the state general fund.

History: En. 41-1314.3 by Sec. 1, Ch. 164, L. 1974.

Title of Act

An act providing for the disposition of wages collected by the commissioner of labor and industry.

41-1314.4. Court enforcement of commissioner's determination. A determination by the commissioner of labor and industry made after a hearing as provided for in Title 41, chapters 13 and 23, R. C. M. 1947, may be enforced by application by the commissioner to a district court for an order or judgment enforcing the determination, if the time provided to initiate judicial review by the employer has passed. The commissioner shall apply to the district court where the employer has its principal place of business, or in the first judicial district of the state. A proceeding under this section is not a review of the validity of the commissioner's determination.

History: En. 41-1314.4 by Sec. 1, Ch. 197, L. 1974.

Title of Act

An act to provide for the enforcement of determinations made by the commissioner of labor and industry as provided for in Title 41, Chapters 13 and 23, R. C. M. 1947.

41-1325. [Transferred from Title 94.]

41-2201. Purpose of act. The purpose of this act is to encourage effective measures to assure uninterrupted continuation of sufficient competent nursing care of the ill and infirm in the state of Montana, and further to encourage the practice of mutually and peacefully agreeing upon the establishment and maintenance of desirable employment practices between nurse employees, professional and practical, and their health care facility employers, either public or private.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

Title of Act

An act providing for the adoption of orderly procedures for establishing desirable employment practices for registered professional and licensed practical nurses employed in health care facilities; establishing procedures for developing employment standards; providing rule-making authority to the state board of health.

41-2202. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) "Appropriate unit" means a homogenous group of employees (as herein defined) of a health care facility having similar duties and qualifications, determined pursuant to section 4 [41-2204] of this act.

(2) "Employee" means a registered professional or licensed practical nurse performing services for compensation for a health care facility, but does not include a member of a religious order assigned to a health care facility by the order as a part of her obligation to the order.

(3) "Health care facility" means a hospital or nursing home, or other agency or establishment, employing employees as defined in this act, whether operated publicly or privately, having as one of its principal purposes the preservation of health or the care of sick or infirm individuals or both.

(4) "Board" or "board of health" means the state board of health.

(5) "Strike" shall mean any work stoppage caused by the employees of a health care facility as defined in section 2 [subdivision (3) of this section] of this act, that interferes with the operation of the health care facility or affects the care of patients in the health care facility.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

41-2203. Improper employment practices. It is an improper employment practice for a health care facility to do one or more of the following:

(1) Interfere with or restrain or coerce employees in any manner in the exercise of their right of self-organization;

(2) Initiate, create, dominate, contribute to or interfere with the formation or administration of any employee organization that has collective bargaining as one of its principal functions;

(3) Discriminate in regard to hire terms or conditions of employment when a purpose of such is to discourage membership in an employee organization that has collective bargaining as one of its principal functions;

(4) Refuse to meet and bargain in good faith with the duly designated representatives of an appropriate bargaining unit of its employees. For the purpose of this subsection, it is a requirement of bargaining in good faith that the parties be willing to reduce in writing, and have their representative sign, any agreement arrived at through negotiations and discussion;

(5) Unilaterally exclude from work or prevent from working, or discharge any one or more employees, when the purpose of such action is in whole or in part, to interfere with or coerce or intimidate an employee in the exercise of rights assured in this law.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

41-2204. Bargaining units—determination by mutual consent or application to board. (1) The composition of an appropriate unit in a health care facility, for purposes of this law, may be determined by mutual consent between such facility and the employees thereof.

(2) In the event no such mutual consent is available, then either the facility, or representatives of employees may apply to the state board of health and said board, through a duly designated agent, shall make a determination of the composition of such an appropriate unit.

(3) In determining such appropriate unit professional employees may not be included in the same unit with nonprofessional employees unless a majority of professional employees in a proposed unit desire such inclusion. Weight shall be accorded similarity of duties, licensure, and conditions of employment, among other relevant factors, in determining an appropriate unit.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

41-2205. Proof of status as bargaining unit. An employee organization is considered to be the duly designated representative of all the employees in an appropriate unit for the purpose of section 3 [41-2203] of this act if it can show evidence that bargaining rights have been assigned to it by a majority of the employees in that unit.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

Assignment of Bargaining Rights

Where nine of seventeen nurses had assigned their bargaining rights to new nurses' association prior to "cutoff date," assignments were effective; board's request that assignments of bargaining rights be executed anew after employer asked for a redetermination was unnecessary and fact that employee reaffirmed assignment of her bargaining rights after the cutoff date and also after termination of her employment had no effect on validity of assignment where she had previously assigned her bargaining rights to new association, such assignment had not been revoked and she was an employee on the cutoff date. St. John's Lutheran Hospital, Inc. v. State Board of Health, — M —, 506 P 2d 1378.

41-2206. Determination of question on status of bargaining unit—petition—election—redetermination. (1) If the right of an employee organization to represent the employees in an appropriate unit is questioned by the authority in charge of the facility employing the employees, the employee organization may petition the board of health for a determination. The board of health, or his representative, shall investigate and determine the composition of an appropriate unit, if such determination has not previously been made under section 4 [41-2204] of this act, and shall determine the representative, if any, designated to represent the employees in the appropriate unit.

(2) An employee organization found by the state board of health to be authorized by at least thirty per cent (30%) of the employees in an appropriate unit may apply for an election by secret ballot to determine its right to represent the employees in that unit. If more than one employee organization claims to represent employees in that unit, the state board of health may conduct an election by secret ballot to determine which is authorized to represent the unit. If any employee organization receives a majority of the valid votes cast at the election, it is considered to be authorized to represent all the employees in that unit for the purpose of section 3 [41-2203] of this act.

(3) A determination under this section remains in effect for at least one (1) year and until either the health care facility or an employee organization shall apply for a redetermination.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

41-2207. Duties of board relating to bargaining unit determinations. The board of health may: (1) Set the time and place for hearings for determination of the composition of appropriate units when requested to make such determination under subsection 2, section 4 [41-2204], or subsection 1, section 6 [41-2206] of this act.

(2) Determine, on its own motion, by holding hearings or conducting such investigations as it thinks necessary, general classifications for health care facilities and appropriate units. When such determination has been made hereunder and when an application has been made by a health care facility or an employee organization for a specific determination as to it, the board may make such determination on the basis of such general classification. The health care facility or employee organization may, within thirty (30) days after notice to it of such determination, file a request for a hearing upon written petition which shall set forth the facts which it believes remove it from such general classification and hearing shall be held on such petition.

(3) Adopt and promulgate rules and regulations as to times and places for hearing and notice thereof so as to provide adequate notice and opportunity to be heard to all interested parties; as to elections; and so as to carry into effect the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 320, L. 1969.

competition of wage and hour standards which do not provide such adequate standards of living; and (3) to sustain purchasing power and increase employment opportunities.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 417, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to establish minimum wages and hours for employees in the state of Montana; delegating to the commissioner of labor the duty of administering the act; and providing enforcement.

Constitutionality

This act does not violate the due process clause because of vagueness, does not constitute an unlawful delegation of legislative or judicial power, and meets the constitutional requirement that the subject of an act be clearly expressed in its title. City of Billings v. Smith, 158 M 197, 490 P 2d 221.

41-2302. Definitions. (a) As used in this act, "commissioner" means the commissioner of labor and industry.

(b) "Wage" means compensation due to an employee by reason of his employment, payable in legal tender of the United States or check on banks convertible into cash on demand at full face value, subject to such allowance as may be permitted by regulations of the commissioner under section 5 [41-2305] of this act. The term "wage" includes the reasonable cost to the employer of furnishing such employee with board, lodging, or other facilities, if such board, lodging, or other facilities are customarily furnished by such employer to his employees; provided however, that in no case shall such inclusion exceed an amount equal to forty per cent (40%) of the total wage paid by such employer to such employee.

(c) "Employ" means to suffer or permit to work.

(d) "Employee" includes any individual employed by an employer.

(e) "Occupation" means any occupation, service, trade, business, industry or branch or group of industries or employment or class of employment in which employees are gainfully employed.

(f) "Farm worker" means any person employed to do any service performed on a farm or ranch.

(g) "Farm or ranch" shall mean any endeavor primarily engaged in cultivating the soil, or in connection with raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity, including the raising, shearing, feeding, caring for, training, and management of livestock, bees, and poultry and fur-bearing animals and wildlife.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 417, L. 1971.

41-2303. Compensation. (a) Except as may otherwise be provided pursuant to this act, every employer shall pay to each of his employees wages at a rate not less than provided in subsections (1) and (2) save and except for farm workers as herein defined:

(1) One dollar eighty cents ($1.80) an hour for the first year from the effective date of this act;

(2) Two dollars ($2.00) an hour for the second year from the effective date of this act and thereafter.

(b) No employer shall employ any of his employees for a work week longer than forty (40) hours, unless such employee receives compensation for his employment in excess of forty (40) hours in a work week at a rate of not less than one and one-half (1-½) times the hourly wage rate at which he is employed. No overtime provision shall apply for farm workers. Employers of students at an amusement or recreational area that operates on a seasonal basis who furnish said students with board, lodging or other facilities shall not employ said students for a work week longer than forty-eight (48) hours, unless such students receive compensation for their employment in excess of forty-eight (48) hours in a work week at a rate of not less than one and one-half (1-½) times the hourly wage rate at which they are employed.

(c) In the case of a farm worker employed for a part of a calendar year which includes periods requiring working hours in excess of eight hours per day and other seasonal periods requiring working hours substantially less than eight hours per day the employer may pay the worker at a fixed rate of compensation during the term of employment. The employer may elect to: (1) keep a record of the total number of hours worked by the worker during the part of the year during which the worker was employed by him. The total wages paid by such employer to such employee for that part of the year during which said employee was employed by him shall not be less than the applicable minimum wage rate multiplied by the total number of hours so worked, or (2) in lieu of the minimum wage set forth herein, pay the farm worker a wage as herein defined on a monthly basis. This monthly compensation shall constitute a minimum wage and shall not be less than the following rates:

(1) four hundred twenty dollars ($420) a month for the first year from the effective date of this act;

(2) four hundred sixty dollars ($460) a month for the second year from the effective date of this act and thereafter.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 417, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 363, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 421, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment inserted "exclusive of gratuities" at the end of the preliminary paragraph of subsection (a).

The 1975 amendment substituted "not less than provided in subsections (1) and (2)" for "not less than $1.60 an hour" in subsection (a); deleted from the end of subsection (a) "and students employed at an amusement or recreational establishment that operates on a seasonal basis, who shall be compensated at not less than the following rates, exclusive of gratuities"; increased the first year hourly minimum in subdivision (a)(1) from $1.20 to $1.80; increased the second year hourly minimum in subdivision (a)(2) from $1.40 to $2.00 and made it apply "thereafter"; deleted subdivision (a)(3) which read "one dollar sixty cents ($1.60) an hour for the third year from the effective date of this act and thereafter"; redesignated subdivisions (c)(a) and (b) as (c)(1) and (2); increased the first year minimum monthly wage in subdivision (c)(1) from $280 to $420; increased the second year monthly minimum wage in subdivision (c)(2) from $325 to $460 and made it apply "thereafter"; deleted a last subdivision which read "three hundred seventy-five dollars ($375) a month for the third year from the effective date of this act"; and made minor changes in punctuation.

Public Officers and Employees

Provisions of this act and the provision dictating that county commissioners fix the salaries of deputies (25-604) are in conflict and the special act prevails over the general provisions of this act. Because a maximum is provided by section 25-604, the time-and-a-half for overtime hours in excess of 40 hours per week is unenforceable. City of Billings v. Smith, 158 M 197, 490 P 2d 221.

41-2304. Exclusions. The provisions of section 41-2303 of this act shall not apply with respect to:

The 1973 amendment reduced the age specified near the beginning of subdivision (h) from 19 to 18 years.

Law Enforcement Officers

Subdivision (j) was not intended by the legislature to include policemen, firemen, and deputy sheriffs within the terms of "bona fide executives, administrative, or professional capacity." City of Billings v. Smith, 158 M 197, 490 P 2d 221.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 417, L. 1971;
amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 363, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment added the second sentence.

41-2307. Provisions cumulative. The provisions of this act shall be in addition to other provisions now provided by law for the payment and collection of wages and salaries, but shall not apply to employees covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act.

42-203. (7743) Term of hiring when no limit is fixed.

Construction of Oral Farm Lease

Judgment for tenant in action for construction of an oral farm lease was reversed and the case was remanded for a new trial where the evidence was insufficient to show either a mutual agreement or usage and the record was completely confused as to when the lease commenced. Enott v. Hinkle, 140 M 206, 369 P 2d 413, 414.

to expiration of year to year tenancy. Roseneau Foods, Inc. v. Coleman, 140 M 572, 374 P 2d 87, 91.

Oral Lease

Under this section it is possible to have an oral lease for at least one year without an expression as to time therein. This is consistent with section 13-606, statute of frauds, which voids an oral agreement for the leasing of realty of a period longer than one year. Roseneau Foods, Inc. v. Coleman, 140 M 572, 374 P 2d 87, 89.

Notice to Quit

Landlord could not maintain an action for unlawful detainer where notice to quit was not given to tenant thirty days prior

Entry by a tenant under an invalid oral lease may create a tenancy from year to year, month to month, or a tenancy at will depending upon the circumstances. Roseneau Foods, Inc. v. Coleman, 140 M 572, 374 P 2d 87, 89.

Presumption as to Term

When tenant, pursuant to an oral agreement, entered into possession of property on April 1, 1957 to conduct a meat processing and selling business, his hiring of the property was presumed to be for one year from its commencement. Roseneau Foods, Inc. v. Coleman, 140 M 572, 374 P 2d 87, 89.

The presumption that hiring is to be for one year is a rebuttable presumption. If the presumption is not controverted, the facts must be found according to the presumption. If it is controverted, the presumption must be given weight as evidence. Roseneau Foods, Inc. v. Coleman, 140 M 572, 374 P 2d 87, 90.

Tenancy from Month to Month

Payment of a monthly rental does not compel the conclusion that a tenancy is from month to month where other facts indicate to the contrary. Roseneau Foods, Inc. v. Coleman, 140 M 572, 374 P 2d 87, 90.

Tenancy from Year to Year

The section is printed above as amended by Ch. 392 which is effective for pre-session caucus meetings of the 45th legislature. 44-212. Library systems defined — establishment. Library systems shall include library federations, or library networks as defined hereafter:

- (1) Library federations. A library federation is a combination of libraries serving a multi-county, multi-city, or city-county area within a federation area designated by the state library commission. Any other public library or town, city, or county within the federation area may participate in such a federation. Two (2) or more cities, towns, counties, or a city and one or more counties may agree by contract to form such a federation by action of their respective governing bodies or duly created boards of library trustees, provided that one of the parties is or maintains a library which has been designated by the state library commission as a headquarters library for that federation area. The participating entities may retain such autonomy over their respective libraries as may be specified in the contract. The expense of providing library services for the library federation shall be apportioned between or among the towns, cities and counties involved on such basis as shall be agreed upon in the contract. The treasurer of one of the participating units, as shall be provided in the contract shall have the custody of the funds of the federation, and the participating governments concerned shall transfer semi-annually to him all moneys collected for the "free library fund" in their respective jurisdiction. A participating entity may withdraw from a federation according to the terms for withdrawal provided in the contract by the action of its governing body or by a majority of its qualified voters voting at a general or special election.

(2) Library networks. A library network is an agreement between individual libraries or library systems, which may be inter-city, intra-state, or inter-state, for the exchange of information or to provide specific library services not provided in existing library federations.

When a library federation shall have been established, the legislative body of any government unit in the designated library federation area may decide, with the concurrence of the board of trustees of its library, if it is maintaining a library, to participate in the library federation. Each local entity may determine the amount of services it wishes to supply to fulfill the needs of its unit. After the necessary contract has been executed and beginning with the next fiscal year, the said governmental unit shall participate in the library federation and its residents shall be entitled to the benefits of the library federation, and property within its boundaries shall be subject to taxation for library federation purposes.

The state board of regents may contract with the government of any city or county, or the governments of both the city and the county, in which a unit of the university of Montana is located for the establishment and operation of joint library services. Any such contract which proposes the erection of a building shall be subject to the approval of the legislature. Any joint library services established pursuant to this section shall be operated and supported as provided in such contract and under this chapter.

(2) Establishment grant defined: Establishment grants are grants to federation headquarters libraries in order to provide basic library service to governmental units participating in library federations for the first time. The local governmental unit must contract with the headquarters library for federation services according to the provisions of section 44-213, and must contribute to the costs of providing such services. All funds will be administered by the federation headquarters library.

(3) Special project grant defined: Special project grants are grants to federation headquarters libraries to implement services not provided for in basic grants or to provide construction funds or remodeling funds. Grants for construction or remodeling must be equally matched by local funds; grants for services may fund the full cost of such services.

The population figure shall be the population of the area served by the federation as of the latest published federal census. The area figure shall be the number of square miles of the area served by the federation. The local support figure shall be the average of the percentage of the maximum allowable mill levy for public library services of each governmental unit participating in the federation actually expended for public library purposes by each such governmental unit from all sources. In computing the percentage of local support the amount actually expended for public library services shall not include building construction and remodeling funds, but it shall include federal or state revenue-sharing moneys, all purpose levies, library fund levies, local general fund moneys, in-kind services, or any other local public moneys expended for public library services. In computing the percentage of local support for a federation no participating governmental unit shall be included at more than one hundred per cent (100%) of local support, and in computing the basic grant no federation as a whole shall be included at more than one hundred per cent (100%) of local support.

Applications for basic grants for the following fiscal year must be submitted to the Montana state library commission by April 30 preceding the fiscal year.

(2) Establishment grants may be applied for any time during the biennium until January 1, of the last year of the biennium. Any funds not granted by January 1 of the last year of the biennium will be allocated to special project grants and distributed by the Montana state library commission according to the special project grant plans approved.

CHAPTER 6—INTERSTATE LIBRARY COMPACT

Section 44-601. Text of library compact.

44-602. Executive officer of state library commission as administrator.

44-601. Text of library compact. The Interstate Library Compact is hereby approved, enacted into law, and entered into by the state of Montana, which compact is in full as follows:

INTERSTATE LIBRARY COMPACT

Article I. Policy and Purpose

Because the desire for the services provided by libraries transcends governmental boundaries and can most effectively be satisfied by giving such services to communities and people regardless of jurisdictional lines, it is the policy of the state's party to this compact to co-operate and share their responsibilities; to authorize co-operation and sharing with respect to those types of library facilities and services which can be more economically or efficiently developed and maintained on a co-operative basis; and to authorize co-operation and sharing among localities, states and others in providing joint or co-operative library services in areas where the distribution of population or of existing and potential library resources make the provision of library service on an interstate basis the most effective way of providing adequate and efficient service.

Article II. Definitions

As used in this compact:

- (a) "Public library agency" means any unit or agency of local or state government operating or having power to operate a library.
- (b) "Private library agency" means any nongovernmental entity which operates or assumes a legal obligation to operate a library.
- (c) "Library agreement" means a contract establishing an interstate library district pursuant to this compact or providing for the joint or co-operative furnishing of library services.

Article III. Interstate Library Districts

(a) Any one or more public library agencies in a party state in co-operation with any public library agency or agencies in one or more other party states may establish and maintain an interstate library district. Subject to the provisions of this compact and any other laws of the party states which pursuant hereto remain applicable, such district may establish, maintain and operate some or all of the library facilities and services for the area concerned in accordance with the terms of a library agreement therefor. Any private library agency or agencies within an interstate library district may co-operate therewith, assume duties, responsibilities and obligations thereto, and receive benefits therefrom as provided in any library agreement to which such agency or agencies become party.

(b) Within an interstate library district, and as provided by a library agreement, the performance of library functions may be undertaken on a joint or co-operative basis or may be undertaken by means of one or more arrangements between or among public or private library agencies for the extension of library privileges to the use of facilities or services operated or rendered by one or more of the individual library agencies.

(c) If a library agreement provides for joint establishment, maintenance or operation of library facilities or services by an interstate library district, such district shall have power to do any one or more of the following in accordance with such library agreement:

1. Undertake, administer and participate in programs or arrangements for securing, lending or servicing books and other publications, any other materials suitable to be kept or made available by libraries, library equipment or for the dissemination of information about libraries, the value and significance of particular items therein, and the use thereof.

2. Accept for any of its purposes under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services, (conditional or otherwise), from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, or interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation, and receive, utilize and dispose of the same.

3. Operate mobile library units or equipment for the purpose of rendering bookmobile service within the district.

4. Employ professional, technical, clerical and other personnel, and fix terms of employment, compensation and other appropriate benefits; and where desirable, provide for the in-service training of such personnel.

5. Sue and be sued in any court of competent jurisdiction.

6. Acquire, hold, and dispose of any real or personal property or any interest or interests therein as may be appropriate to the rendering of library service.

7. Construct, maintain and operate a library, including any appropriate branches thereof.

8. Do such other things as may be incidental to or appropriate for the carrying out of any of the foregoing powers.

Article IV. Interstate Library Districts, Governing Board

(a) An interstate library district which establishes, maintains or operates any facilities or services in its own right shall have a governing board which shall direct the affairs of the district and act for it in all matters relating to its business. Each participating public library agency in the district shall be represented on the governing board which shall be organized and conduct its business in accordance with provision therefor in the library agreement. But in no event shall a governing board meet less often than twice a year.

(b) Any private library agency or agencies party to a library agreement establishing an interstate library district may be represented on or advise with the governing board of the district in such manner as the library agreement may provide.

Article V. State Library Agency Co-operation

Any two or more state library agencies of two or more of the party states may undertake and conduct joint or co-operative library programs, render joint or co-operative library services, and enter into and perform arrangements for the co-operative or joint acquisition, use, housing and disposition of items or collections of materials which, by reason of expense, rarity, specialized nature, or infrequency of demand therefor would be appropriate for central collection and shared use. Any such programs, services or arrangements may include provision for the exercise on a co-operative or joint basis of any power exercisable by an interstate library district and an agreement embodying any such program, service or arrangement shall contain provisions covering the subjects detailed in Article VI of this compact for interstate library agreements.

Article VI. Library Agreements

(a) In order to provide for any joint or co-operative undertaking pursuant to this compact, public and private library agencies may enter into library agreements. Any agreement executed pursuant to the provisions of this compact shall, as among the parties to the agreement:

1. Detail the specific nature of the services, programs, facilities, arrangements or properties to which it is applicable.
2. Provide for the allocation of costs and other financial responsibilities.
3. Specify the respective rights, duties, obligations and liabilities of the parties.
4. Set forth the terms and conditions for duration, renewal, termination, abrogation, disposal of joint or common property, if any, and all other matters which may be appropriate to the proper effectuation and performance of the agreement.

(b) No public or private library agency shall undertake to exercise itself, or jointly with any other library agency, by means of a library agreement any power prohibited to such agency by the constitution or statutes of its state.

(c) No library agreement shall become effective until filed with the compact administrator of each state involved, and approved in accordance with Article VII of this compact.

Article VII. Approval of Library Agreements

(a) Every library agreement made pursuant to this compact shall, prior to and as a condition precedent to its entry into force, be submitted to the attorney general of each state in which a public library agency party thereto is situated, who shall determine whether the agreement is in proper form and compatible with the laws of his state. The attorneys general shall approve any agreement submitted to them unless they shall find that it does not meet the conditions set forth herein and shall detail in writing addressed to the governing bodies of the public library agencies concerned the specific respects in which the proposed agreement fails to meet the requirements of law. Failure to disapprove an agreement submitted hereunder within ninety days of its submission shall constitute approval thereof.

(b) In the event that a library agreement made pursuant to this compact shall deal in whole or in part with the provision of services or facilities with regard to which an officer or agency of the state government has constitutional or statutory powers of control, the agreement shall, as a condition precedent to its entry into force, be submitted to the state officer or agency having such power of control and shall be approved or disapproved by him or it as to all matters within his or its jurisdiction in the same manner and subject to the same requirements governing the action of the attorneys general pursuant to paragraph (a) of this article. This requirement of submission and approval shall be in addition to and not in substitution for the requirement of submission to and approval by the attorneys general.

Article VIII. Other Laws Applicable

Nothing in this compact or in any library agreement shall be construed to supersede, alter or otherwise impair any obligation imposed on any library by otherwise applicable law, nor to authorize the transfer or disposition of any property held in trust by a library agency in a manner contrary to the terms of such trust.

Article IX. Appropriations and Aid

(a) Any public library agency party to a library agreement may appropriate funds to the interstate library district established thereby in the same manner and to the same extent as to a library wholly maintained by it and, subject to the laws of the state in which such public library agency is situated, may pledge its credit in support of an interstate library district established by the agreement.

(b) Subject to the provisions of the library agreement pursuant to which it functions and the laws of the states in which such district is situated, an interstate library district may claim and receive any state and federal aid which may be available to library agencies.

Article X. Compact Administrator

Each state shall designate a compact administrator with whom copies of all library agreements to which his state or any public library agency thereof is party shall be filed. The administrator shall have such other powers as may be conferred upon him by the laws of his state and may consult and co-operate with the compact administrators of other party states and take such steps as may effectuate the purposes of this compact. If the laws of a party state so provide, such state may designate one or more deputy compact administrators in addition to its compact administrator.

Article XI. Entry into Force and Withdrawal

(a) This compact shall enter into force and effect immediately upon its enactment into law by any two states. Thereafter, it shall enter into force and effect as to any other state upon the enactment thereof by such state.

(b) This compact shall continue in force with respect to a party state and remain binding upon such state until six months after such state has given notice to each other party state of the repeal thereof. Such withdrawal shall not be construed to relieve any party to a library agreement entered into pursuant to this compact from any obligation of that agreement prior to the end of its duration as provided therein.

Article XII. Construction and Severability

This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party thereto, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

45-109. (8227) Lien on future interest. An agreement may be made to create a lien upon property not yet acquired by the party agreeing to give the lien, or not yet in existence. Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, in such case the lien agreed for attaches from the time when the party agreeing to give it acquires an interest in the thing, to the extent of such interest. 45-112. (8230) Certain contracts void. Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code: all contracts for the forfeiture of property subject to a lien, in satisfaction of the obligation secured thereby, and all contracts in restraint of the right of redemption from a lien, are void. Amendment

CHAPTER 2—PRIORITY OF LIENS

Settlement of Personal Injury Claim

Where injured party received payment in settlement of his personal injury claim in the form of three different drafts, the settlement was nevertheless one fund against which hospital lien could be asserted according to its priority rather than three different funds to which mar-shaling principles would be applied in discharging attorney's lien, even though one of the drafts was in the amount of the hospital bill and included the hospital as payee. Sisters of Charity of Providence of Montana v. Nichols, 157 M 106, 483 P 2d 279.

CHAPTER 3—REDEMPTION FROM LIENS—EXTINCTION

Section 45-301. Right to redeem.

45-308. When restoration extinguishes lien.

45-301. (8238) Right to redeem. Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, every person, having an interest in property subject to a lien, has a right to redeem it from the lien, at any time after the claim is due, and before his right of redemption is foreclosed. Amendment

The 1963 amendment inserted "Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code" at the beginning of the section.

45-308. (8245) When restoration extinguishes lien. Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code: the voluntary restoration of property to its owner by the holder of a lien thereon, dependent upon possession, extinguishes the lien as to such property, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, and extinguishes it, notwithstanding any such agreement, as to creditors of the owner and persons subsequently acquiring a title to the property, or a lien thereon, in good faith, and for a good consideration. CHAPTER 4—LOGGERS' LIENS

Section 45-401. Who entitled to lien.

45-401. Who entitled to lien. Every person, general partnership, limited partnership, corporation or association performing labor upon, or who shall assist in obtaining or securing sawlogs, piling, railroad ties, cordwood, or other timber, has a lien upon the same and upon all other sawlogs, piling, railroad ties, cordwood, or other timber which, at the time of the filing of the claim or lien hereinafter provided, belonged to the person or corporation for whom the labor was performed, for the work or labor done upon or in obtaining or securing the particular sawlogs, piling, railroad ties, cordwood, or other timber in said claim or lien described, whether such work or labor was done at the instance of the owner of the same or his agent, or a contractor or subcontractor, or any person in behalf of such owner or his agent, or a contractor or subcontractor. The cook in a logging-camp shall be regarded as a person who assists in obtaining or securing any of the timber herein mentioned.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment inserted "general partnership, limited partnership, corporation or association" after "Every person" at the beginning of the section.

Persons Entitled to Lien

A logging corporation acting in the capacity of an independent contractor was not a "person" as set forth in this chapter and was not entitled to a lien thereunder. Jack Long Logging Co. v. Pyramid Mountain Lumber, Inc., 143 M 87, 387 P 2d 712.

45-407. (8324) Recording claim of lien.

Advances in Excess of Promised Compensation

Loggers who had originally agreed to compensation of $5.00 per thousand board feet and who, upon finding that scaling process was not proceeding at a rapid enough rate to determine their payment on a timely basis, agreed to an advance of fifty cents per tree cut, were not entitled to logger's lien on remaining timber cut but not scaled where they had received advances in excess of the original rate of compensation on all the timber cut. Alexander v. Hardy, — M —, 505 P 2d 1201.

CHAPTER 5—MECHANICS' LIENS

Section 45-501. Who entitled to lien.

45-502. How lien perfected.

45-502.1. Notice of completion.

45-511. Who deemed owners.

45-513. Substitution of bond allowed—filing—amount—condition.

45-514. Lien discharged upon filing of bond.

45-515. Action upon bond—period of limitation same.

45-501. (8339) Who entitled to lien. Every mechanic, miner, machinist, architect, foreman, engineer, builder, lumberman, artisan, workman, laborer, and any other person, performing any work and labor upon, or furnishing any material, machinery, or fixture for, any building, structure, bridge, flume, canal, ditch, aqueduct, mining claim, coal mine, quartz lode, tunnel, city or town lot, farm, ranch, fence, railroad, telegraph, telephone, electric light, gas, or waterworks or plant, or any improvements, upon complying with the provisions of this chapter, for his work or labor done, or material, machinery or fixtures furnished, has a lien upon the property upon which the work or labor is done or material is furnished.

Compiler's Note

The decision in Caird Engineering Works v. Seven-up Gold Mining Co., Inc., 111 M 471, annotated under this section in the parent volume, is reported at 111 P 2d 267 rather than at 111 P 2d 1267.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted a comma after "machinery" the first place that word appears.

Abandoned Improvements — Delay in Completion

Where contract specifically said that contractor's ability to continue work would be dependent upon prompt payment by owner as agreed and owner did not pay as agreed, contractor was allowed foreclosure of lien even though he was unable to complete the work. Gramm v. Insurance Unlimited, 141 M 456, 378 P 2d 662.

Claim Arising upon Contract

A mechanic's lien under this section and sections 45-502 to 45-512 is not a claim arising upon a contract under section 91-2704 and the lien is not lost because creditor's claim is not filed. Hammer v. Chapin, 256 F Supp 818, 820.

Materialmen

There could be no valid materialman's lien against owner where general contractor, subcontractor and materialman told owner that he was not dealing with materialman and that materialman was wholesaler and dealt only with contractors. Glacier State Electric Supply Co. v. Hoyt, 152 M 415, 451 P 2d 90.

Property Covered by Lien

Where defendant owned seven unpatented mining claims and leased such claims under agreement requiring lessee to do shaft and engineering work, and such work was subsequently done by plaintiff with knowledge of lessor, mechanic's lien held by plaintiff attached to all mining claims held by defendant, notwithstanding that plaintiff performed work on only one such claim in group of seven claims. Fausett v. Blanchard, 154 M 301, 463 P 2d 319.

Requirement of Contract

Subcontractor who verbally agreed with contractor to install electrical circuitry in residence was not entitled to lien against the homeowner where the contract between the homeowner and the general contractor specifically provided that the contractor was not entitled to subcontract work without the homeowner's written permission and the homeowner had not expressly or impliedly assented to the subcontractor's performance of the work; in order for a valid lien to be created under this section there must be a contract, express or implied, between the owner of the property and the subcontractor. Intermountain Electric, Inc. v. Berndt, — M —, 518 P 2d 1168.

Substantial Performance

Electrical subcontractor was not entitled to lien under this section where, after completing forty per cent of the agreed work and upon learning of the contractor's insolvency, he voluntarily abandoned the work without requesting a promise for payment from the homeowner. Intermountain Electric, Inc. v. Berndt, — M —, 518 P 2d 1168.

45-502. (8340) How lien perfected. (1) Every person wishing to avail himself of the benefits of this chapter must file with the county clerk of the county in which the property or premises mentioned in the preceding section is situated, and within ninety days after the material or machinery aforesaid has been furnished, or the work or labor performed, a just and true account of the amount due him, after allowing all credits, and containing a correct description of the property to be charged with such lien, verified by affidavit, but any error or mistake in the account or description does not affect the validity of the lien, if the property can be identified by the description; which paper containing the account, description, and affidavit is deemed the lien, and when there is an open account between the parties for labor, material, or machinery, such lien may be filed within ninety days after the date of the last item in such account, and include all items and charges contained therein, for material or machinery furnished for, or work performed on, the property on which the lien is claimed.

(2) The time within which to perfect the lien by filing of the notice of lien is shortened if the provisions of section 3 [45-502.1] of this act are complied with and a notice of completion is timely filed, in which event such notice of lien must be filed within sixty (60) days immediately following the first publication of the notice of completion.

(3) The following acts of events constitute "completion of any work or improvement" for the purpose of filing a notice of completion:

(a) The written acceptance by the owner, his agent or his representative of the building, improvement or structure. The filing of a notice of completion shall not be considered as an acceptance of the building, improvement, or other structure.

(b) The cessation from labor for thirty (30) days upon any building, improvement or structure, or the alteration, addition to or repair thereof.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment designated the former section as subsection (1); and added subsections (2) and (3).

Effect of Failure to File Lien within Ninety Days after Material Is Furnished—Subsequent Contract

Where no privity of contract existed between subcontractor and the owners of the improved building and subcontractor did not comply with the ninety-day limitation for filing lien, such subcontractor lost all right to sue owner who had paid prime contractor for work done, and subcontractor was also barred from adding on time period of a subsequent contract with owners for purposes of filing its mechanic's lien. Frank J. Trunk & Son v. DeHaan, 143 M 442, 391 P 2d 353.

Effect of Overstatement of Amount

Where there were indications that contractor had "padded the bill" for nearly $4000 but no proof that he had done so with intent to defraud, he did not lose his right to a mechanic's lien but the trial court should require an accounting. Hammond v. Knievel, 141 M 433, 378 P 2d 388.

Father and Son

Fact that father and son worked together on one of two projects and that they often worked together did not justify "tacking" the two projects together for purpose of determining timeliness of mechanic's lien filed by person furnishing them concrete where there were two distinct contracts and two distinct accounts; fact that lien was not timely as to one project did not render entire lien void, and it remained valid as to second project. Tindall v. Negaard, — M —, 507 P 2d 845.

Last Item in Open Account

Entries made in open account crediting owner for materials returned did not operate to keep ninety-day period allowed under this section for filing mechanic's lien from lapsing, since entry of credit for payment or for goods returned does not fall within ambit of "last item in such account"; legislature by that language meant last item furnished, not last entry in open account. American Homes, Inc. v. Broadmoor Corp., 153 M 184, 455 P 2d 334.

Question of Continuous Open Account One of Fact

The question of whether a continuous open account existed some fifteen months after completion of the contracted construction work was one of fact and the finding by the trial court would not be disturbed on appeal when supported by evidence. Hammond v. Knievel, 141 M 433, 378 P 2d 388.

45-502.1. Notice of completion. (1) The owner may file a notice of completion at any time after the completion of any work or improvement.

(2) The notice of completion together with an affidavit of publication as hereinafter required shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county where the property is situated and the notice shall set forth:

(a) The date when the work or improvement was completed, or the date on which cessation from labor occurred first and the period of its duration.

(b) The owner's name or owners' names, as the case may be, the address of the owner or addresses of the owners, as the case may be, and the nature of the title, if any, of the person signing the notice.

(c) A description of the property sufficient for identification.

(d) The name of the contractor, if any.

(3) The notice shall be verified by the owner or his agent.

(4) A copy of the notice of completion shall be published once each week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the land on which the work or improvement was performed is situated.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 408, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to shorten the period for filing mechanics' liens by providing for filing of a notice of completion and amending sections 45-501 and 45-502, R. C. M., 1947.

Mining Claims

Limit of one acre to mechanic's lien, as set forth in this section, does not apply to mining claim. Fausett v. Blanchard, 154 M 301, 463 P 2d 319.

45-505. (8343) Leasehold interest—how affected.

45-506. (8344) Priority of lien over mortgage or other liens.

Lien Preferred to Subsequent Mortgage

A mechanic's lien for performed work and furnished material for building, erected on land of decedent prior to his death, which was perfected August 23, 1963 after decedent's death, had priority over a mortgage executed by the successor to the estate of the deceased on January 21, 1965 to the small business administration, an agency of the United States, which failed to protect itself by withholding a sufficient amount of the loan proceeds to retire the lien. Hammer v. Chapin, 256 F Supp 818, 820.

45-511. (8349) Who deemed owners. Every person, including guardians of minors, married persons, and any company, association, or corporation not tenants or lessees, for whose use, benefit, or enjoyment any property, building, structure, or improvement mentioned in this chapter is constructed, repaired, or altered, is deemed the owner thereof for the purposes of this chapter.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment substituted "married persons" for "married women."

45-513. Substitution of bond allowed — filing — amount — condition.

Whenever a mechanics' lien has been filed upon real property or any improvements thereon, as enumerated in section 45-501, R. C. M. 1947, the owner of any interest in such property, whether legal or beneficial, may, at any time before the lien claimant has commenced an action to foreclose such lien, file a bond with the clerk of the district court in the county in which such property is situated, or, if such property is situated in more than one county, with the clerk of the district court of any county in which a part of such property is situated. Such bond shall be in an amount one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) times the amount of the said lien, written by a corporate surety, such bond shall be approved by a judge and shall be either in cash or written by a corporate surety company. If of the district court with which such bond is filed. The bond shall be conditioned that if the lien claimant shall be finally adjudged to be entitled to recover upon the claim upon which his lien is based, the principal or his sureties shall pay to such claimant the amount of his judgment, together with any interest, costs, attorney fees, and other sums which such claimant would be entitled to recover upon the foreclosure of a lien against the principal.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 338, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act providing that the owner of real property against which a mechanics' lien has been filed may substitute a bond for the security of the lien and that said real property shall then be released from the effect of such lien, together with any improvements thereon, and providing, in such instance, that the lien claimant shall have an action upon the bond rather than an action to foreclose a lien, and providing that the statute of limitations for foreclosure of a mechanics' lien shall apply to an action upon such bond.

45-514. Lien discharged upon filing of bond. Upon the filing of a bond as provided in section 1 [45-513] of this act, the lien against the said real property shall forthwith be discharged and released in full and the said bond shall be substituted for such lien.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 338, L. 1971.

45-515. Action upon bond—period of limitation same. When a bond is filed as provided in section 1 [45-513] of this act, the person filing such lien may bring an action upon the said bond. Such action shall be commenced within the time allowed for the commencement of an action upon foreclosure of a lien, and the statute of limitations applicable to a lien foreclosure shall apply to an action upon such bond as it would had no bond been filed.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 338, L. 1971.

CHAPTER 6—LIENS FOR SALARIES AND WAGES

Section 45-603. Priority of wages in case of death of employer.

45-603. (8353) Priority of wages in case of death of employer. In case of the death of any employer, the wages of each miner, mechanic, salesperson, clerk, servant, and laborer for services rendered within four (4) months next preceding the death of the employer, in the amount actually owed, are preferred debts under section 91A-3-805(1)(e) and must be paid before other claims against the estate of the deceased person.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 263 and once by Ch. 535. Neither amendatory act mentioned or included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 263, Laws of 1975, substituted "are preferred debts under section 91A-3-805(1)(e)" for "rank in priority next after the funeral expenses, expenses of the last sickness, the charges and expenses of administering upon the estate, and the allowance to the widow and infant children."

Chapter 535, Laws of 1975, substituted "salesperson" for "salesman" and "surviving spouse" for "widow."

CHAPTER 7—CROP LIENS FOR SEED, GRAIN AND HAIL INSURANCE

Section 45-704. Acknowledgment of satisfaction of lien.

45-707. Satisfaction of lien.

45-704. (8362) Acknowledgment of satisfaction of lien. Whenever the indebtedness which is a lien upon such grain or other crops is paid and satisfied, it is the duty of the lienor to acknowledge satisfaction thereof, and to discharge the said lien of record; and if any lienor fails to acknowledge satisfaction and discharge of said lien as aforesaid, within thirty (30) days after being requested to do so by a person having a property interest in such grain or other crops, he is liable to any person injured thereby in the amount of such injury and the costs of the action. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

Amendment

The 1963 amendment deleted "as in the case of a chattel mortgage" after "acknowledge satisfaction thereof" in the first part of the section; and inserted "within thirty (30) days after being requested to do so by a person having a property interest in such grain or other crops" in the latter part of the section.

45-707. (8365) Satisfaction of lien. Whenever the indebtedness, which is a lien upon such grain or other crops, is paid or satisfied on or before November 1 of the then current year, it is the duty of the lienor to acknowledge satisfaction thereof within twenty days after receiving payment, and to discharge the said lien of record, and if any lienor fails to acknowledge satisfaction and discharge of said lien as aforesaid he is liable to any person injured thereby in the amount of such injury and the costs of action. If any hail lien is not satisfied on or before the first day of March of the next succeeding year after the insurance was carried on the crop, the same shall be deemed satisfied and released of record. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

45-809. Acknowledgment of satisfaction of lien—penalty.

45-801. (8366) Liens of threshermen, swathers and owners of combine harvester and thresher upon grain or crops. All threshermen or swathers owning or operating threshing or swathing machines, and all owners of combine harvesters and threshers, shall have a lien upon the grain and other crops swathed or threshed by said threshing or swathing machine or cut and threshed by said combine harvester and thresher, for and on account of the services rendered and the labor performed by them on said grain and crops, and which lien may be claimed by the owner of said grain for the reasonable value of such services, if same are performed by him. Liens on grain and other crops shall be charged for at the prevailing price for that particular locality in which such grain or other crop is threshed, harvested or combined; and, provided, notices are given and lien is filed within the time provided by this act.

If the prevailing price for threshing, harvesting or combining grain or other crop is disputed by the thresherman or swather and the owner of the grain or other crop, the matter may be submitted to arbitration under the provisions of chapter 201, Title 93.

CHAPTER 11—MISCELLANEOUS LIENS

Section 45-1106. Agisters' liens and liens for service—priority.

45-1107. Secured party may take possession of property.

45-1104. (8381) Repealed.

Repeal

This section (Sec. 3933, Civ. C. 1895), relating to liens of sellers of personal property, was repealed by Sec. 10-102, Ch. 264, Laws 1963, effective January 1, 1965.

45-1106. (8383) Agisters' liens and liens for service—priority. Every person who, while lawfully in possession of an article of personal property, renders any service to the owner or lawful claimant thereof by labor or skill employed for the making, repairing, protection, improvement, safe-keeping, or carriage thereof, has a special lien thereon, dependent on possession, for the compensation, if any, which is due to him from the owner or lawful claimant for such service and for material, if any, furnished in connection therewith. A ranchman, farmer, agister, herder, hotel-keeper, livery, boarding, or feed stable-keeper, to whom any horses, mules, cattle, sheep, hogs, or other stock are entrusted, and there is a contract, express or implied, for their keeping, feeding, herding, pasturing, or ranching, has a lien upon such stock for the amount due for keeping, feeding, herding, pasturing, or ranching the same, and is authorized to retain possession thereof until the sum due is paid. The lien hereby created shall not take precedence over perfected security interests under the Uniform Commercial Code—Secured Transactions, or other recorded liens on the property involved, unless within ten days from the time of receiving the property, the person desiring to assert a lien thereon shall give notice in writing to said secured party or other lien holder, stating his intention to assert a lien on said property, under the terms of this act, and stating the nature and approximate amount of the work, or feed, performed or furnished or intended to be performed or furnished therefor.

Such service may be made either by personal service or by mailing by registered mail a copy of said notice to the secured party or other lien holder at his last known post-office address. Said service shall be deemed complete upon the deposit of the notice in the post office. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

Amendment

The 1963 amendment substituted "perfected security interests under the Uniform Commercial Code — Secured Transactions" in the first part of the third sentence in the first paragraph for "the lien of prior chattel mortgages"; and substituted "secured party" for "mortgagee" in the third sentence in the first paragraph and in the first sentence in the second paragraph.

Other Recorded Liens

The term "other recorded liens" includes conditional sales contracts. Williamson v. Skerriitt, 141 M 422, 378 P 2d 215.

Notice to Secured Party

Automobile repairman's asserted agister's lien did not have priority over bank's security interest where person authorizing repairs was not registered owner or agent of owner and notice of lien was not given to bank within ten days of receipt of vehicle for repair; failure to file copy of lien with registrar of motor vehicles as required by 53-110(a) also rendered the asserted agister's lien invalid; repossession of vehicle on behalf of bank did not, under these circumstances, constitute conversion. Parker v. West, — M —, 505 P 2d 94.

45-1107. (8384) Secured party may take possession of property. Within ten days after the date of such mailing, or five days after such personal service, the secured party or other lien holder, or his representative, shall have the right to take possession of said property upon payment of the amount of the lien then accrued. A failure on the part of such secured party or other lien holder so to do shall constitute a waiver of the priority of such security interest or other lien over the lien created by this act. [Effective January 1, 1965.]

The department may quarantine a lot, yard, land, building, room, premises, inclosure, or other place or section in this state, which is or may be used or occupied by livestock, and which, in the judgment of the department is infected or contaminated with an infectious, contagious, communicable, or dangerous disease, or disease-carrying medium by which the disease may be communicated. The department may quarantine livestock in this state, when the livestock is affected with, or has been exposed to disease or disease-carrying medium. The department may prescribe treatments and enforce sanitary rules which are necessary and proper to circumscribe, extirpate, control, or prevent the diseases.

(2) Foster, promote, and protect the livestock industry in this state by the investigation of diseases and other subjects related to ways and means of prevention, extirpation, and control of diseases, or to the care of livestock and its products; and to this end to establish and maintain a laboratory, and to make, or cause to be made, biologic products, curatives, and preventative agents; and to do or perform any other acts and things as may be necessary or proper in the fostering, promotion, or protection of the livestock industry in this state.

(3) Impose and collect such fees as the department considers appropriate for the tests and services performed by the laboratory and for such biologic products, curatives and preventative agents made or caused to be made by the department. In fixing such fees the department shall take into consideration the costs, both direct and indirect, of such tests, services, products, curatives and agents. All fees shall be deposited in the earmarked revenue fund for the use of the animal health functions of the department.

(4) Adopt rules and orders which it considers necessary or proper to prevent the introduction or spreading of infectious, contagious, communicable, or dangerous diseases affecting livestock in this state, and to this end may adopt rules and orders necessary or proper governing inspections and tests of livestock intended for importation into this state, before it may be imported into this state.

(5) Adopt rules and orders which it considers necessary or proper for the inspection, testing, and quarantine of all livestock imported into this state.

These standards, in so far as they relate to dairies or milk and its by-products, may not include standards of weight or measurement.

(7) Adopt rules and orders which seem necessary or proper for the supervision and control of manufactured and refined foods for livestock, and the manufacture, importation, sale, and method of using a biologic remedy or curative agent for the treatment of diseases of livestock. However, as far as practicable the standards approved by the United States department of agriculture shall be adopted.

(8) Install an adequate system of meat inspection at any time and in such places as public welfare may demand under the rules which may provide fees for the maintenance of such inspection, and which shall provide ways and means for shipping home-grown and home-killed meats into any city in this state. As far as practicable, the rules shall conform with the meat-inspection requirements of the United States department of agriculture.

Amendments

46-218. Classification of animals as to compensation for slaughter. Animals, slaughtered under the direction of the department by order of the board, under this act, are divided into two classes for the purposes of compensation:

(1) Animals determined by the department to be affected with an incurable disease, which are destroyed by order of the board, are designated as animals of class 1 and unless otherwise provided each of the animals shall be paid for on the basis of seventy-five per cent (75%) of its appraised value. The county in which the animal was owned at the time it was determined to be affected with an incurable disease, is liable in part, as later provided, for an indemnity to be paid for the animal. The ownership and county are determined by an affidavit of the owner of the animal or his agent. Each animal directed to be destroyed shall be appraised by a representative or an authorized agent of the department with the owner agreeing in writing as to the value of the animal. When appraised, due consideration shall be given to its breeding value as well as its dairy or meat value and the condition of the animal as to the disease and the present and probable effect of the disease on the animal. In the absence of an agreement, there shall be appointed three (3) competent, disinterested parties, one appointed by the department, one by the owner, and a third by the first two, to appraise each animal, taking into consideration its breeding value as well as its dairy or meat value and the condition of the animal as to the disease and the present probable effect of the disease on the animal. The judgment of the majority is the judgment of the appraisers and is binding on both parties as the final determination of indemnity to be paid for each animal. The total compensation of each group of appraisers is limited to five dollars (\$5) for the group appraisal, one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of which shall be paid by the department. The total amount of indemnity paid by the state and a county for an animal may not exceed the actual sound value of an animal of its class, and the total combined amount of indemnity paid for the animal by the state and a county may not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars (\$100) for a registered purebred animal or the sum of fifty dollars (\$50) for a grade animal. Animals presented for appraisal as purebreds shall be accompanied by their registration papers at the time of appraisal or they shall be appraised as grades. If purebreds are less than three (3) years old and not registered, the department may grant a reasonable time for their registration and presentation of their registration papers to the appraiser. Registration papers shall accompany the claim for indemnity.

(2) Animals of class 1 shall be paid for on the basis of their full appraised value as determined in this section if no evidence of incurable disease is disclosed by autopsy, bacteriologic, serologic, microscopic, or other findings. The total combined amount of indemnity paid by the state and a county for an animal may not exceed the actual sound value of an animal of its class. History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 144, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3301, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 90, Ch. 310, L. 1974.

The department shall designate the position on the animals on which the mark or brand shall be placed, and the species of animals on which the mark or brand may be used. 46-606. (3304) Right of owner of recorded brand. A copy of the record certified by the department is prima facie evidence of this right; and the certificate is also prima facie evidence that the person, firm, or corporation entitled to use the mark or brand is the owner of all animals on which it appears in the position and on the species of animal stated in the certificate.

Ownership of Cattle

Although under this section and section 67-308, prima facie owners of the recorded brand have the same interest in the cattle bearing their brand as shown in brand record, joint ownership of the cattle may be contradicted and overcome by other evidence under section 93-301-11. Marshall v. Minlschmidt, 148 M 263, 419 P 2d 486, 490.

In action by administrator of estate of deceased partner against surviving partners to recover assets transferred by deceased during his last illness, evidence that deceased had a half interest in partnership cattle and failure of defendants to produce any of the partnership records at the trial in the lower court, overcame the prima facie showing of one-third interest in the partnership cattle arising from the recording of the brand in name of three persons. Marshall v. Minlschmidt, 148 M 263, 419 P 2d 486, 491.

46-607. (3305) Publication of notice of re-recording brands. Between the period beginning January 1 and ending June 30 in each re-recording year, the department shall publish in at least one (1) issue of at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation in each county of this state, in which a newspaper is published, a notice to the effect that the year is a year for re-recording marks and brands, and that no mark or brand continues of record unless re-recorded. The department shall also mail to each person, firm, and corporation in whose name a mark or brand stands of record, a similar notice addressed to the person, firm, or corporation at his or its post-office address as shown by the records in the department.

partment" for "general recorder of marks and brands" in the first sentence; substituted "the department" for "such recorder's office" at the end of the section; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

The department shall charge and collect ten dollars ($10) for recording a new mark or brand, for recording a mark or brand transfer, or for re-recording a mark and brand. The department shall charge one dollar ($1) for a certified copy of a record and a duplicate certificate. All fees collected shall be paid into the earmarked revenue fund for the use of the department. However, not more than ten per cent (10%) of the net re-recording fees after all expenses of re-recording are paid, shall be expended in any one (1) year except in case of an emergency declared by the governor.

(1) "Livestock" means a cow, ox, bull, stag, calf, steer, heifer, horse, mule, mare, colt, foal or filly;

(2) "State stock inspector" means an employee of the department of livestock and designated by the department as a state stock inspector;

(3) "Deputy state stock inspector" means a person designated by the department as a deputy state stock inspector, who does not receive a salary or compensation from the department.

History: En. 46-801.1 by Sec. 103, Ch. 310, L. 1974.

46-801.2. Inspection of livestock before change of ownership or removal from county—transportation permits. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this act, it is unlawful to remove or cause to be removed from a county in this state any livestock, or to transfer ownership by sale or otherwise or for an intended purchaser or his agent to take possession of any such animal subject to title passing upon meeting or satisfaction of any conditions unless the livestock has been inspected for brands by a state stock inspector or deputy state stock inspector, and a certificate of the inspection has been issued in connection with and for the purpose of the transportation or removal or of such change of ownership as provided in this act. The inspection must be made in daylight provided, however, that the change of ownership inspection requirements of this subsection shall not apply when such sale or change of ownership transaction involves five (5) or less such animals.

(2) It is unlawful to sell or offer for sale at a livestock market any livestock originating within any county in this state in which a livestock market is maintained, or transported under a market consignment permit until the livestock has been inspected for marks and brands by a state stock inspector, as provided in this act.

(3) It is unlawful to remove or cause to be removed any livestock from the premises of a livestock market in this state unless the livestock has been inspected for marks and brands by a state stock inspector and an inspection certificate for the livestock has been issued in connection with and for the purpose of the removal from the premises of the livestock market, as provided in this act.

(4) The person in charge of livestock being removed from a county in this state, where inspection thereof is required by this act, or where change of ownership has occurred or when moved under a market consignment permit shall have in his possession the certificate of inspection or market consignment permit issued in connection therewith, and shall exhibit the certificate to any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, highway patrolman, state stock inspector or deputy state stock inspector at the request of either of them. Section 46-803 shall be extended to livestock transported or sold under the above-mentioned permits.

(5) The following transportation permits may be issued:

(a) If a saddle, work, or show horse is being transported from county to county in this state by the owner for his personal use or business, or where a purebred cow is being transported from county to county in this state by its owner for show purposes, and where there is no change of ownership, the inspection certificate as required by this act, may be endorsed as to the purpose and extent of transportation by the inspector issuing the certificate in order to serve as a travel permit in this state for a period not to exceed one (1) year for the horse or cow described thereon. The permit becomes void upon any transfer of ownership or if the horse or cow are to be removed from the state. In such instances an inspection must be secured for removal and the endorsed certificate surrendered.

(b) The owner of a saddle, work, or show horse may apply for a permanent transportation permit valid for both interstate and intrastate transportation of the horse until there is a change of ownership. To obtain a permit a horse must have either a registered brand that has been legally cleared, or a lip tattoo, or the owner must present proof of ownership to a state stock inspector. A written application, on forms to be provided by the department, must be completed by the owner and presented to a state stock inspector together with a five dollar ($5) permit fee for each horse. The application shall contain a thorough physical description of the horse and list all brands and tattoos carried by the horse.

Upon approval of the application by a state stock inspector, a permanent transportation permit shall be issued by the department to the owner for each horse and such permit shall be valid for the life of the horse. If there is a change of ownership in a horse the permit shall automatically become void. The permit must accompany the horse for which it was issued at all times while the horse is in transit. This permit shall be in lieu of other permits and certificates required under the provisions of this section. The state of Montana shall recognize as valid permanent transportation permits issued in other jurisdictions to the owner of a saddle, work, or show horse subsequently entering the state. Such a permit shall be automatically void upon a change of ownership.

(c) When livestock owned by and bearing the registered brand of a bona fide rodeo producer are being transported from county to county in this state by the owner for rodeo purposes, and where there is no change of ownership, the inspection certificate required by this section may be endorsed as to the purpose and extent of transportation by the inspector issuing the certificate in order to serve as a travel permit in this state for the livestock described thereon. The certificate is effective only between April 1 and October 31 of the year for which it is issued. The certificate shall be issued by a state stock inspector.

(2) If, after hearing upon the application, the board finds from the evidence that public convenience and necessity require the authorization of the proposed livestock market, a certificate therefor shall be issued to the applicant. In determining whether public convenience and necessity require the livestock market, the board shall give reasonable consideration to the service rendered by other existing livestock markets in this state and the effect upon them if the proposed livestock market is authorized, and shall give due consideration to the likelihood of the proposed service being permanent and continuous throughout twelve (12) months of the year. The board may not authorize the proposed livestock market unless it appears from the evidence submitted at the hearing that the minimum revenue derived by the state from inspection fees shall be equal to seventy-five per cent (75%) of the cost to the state in maintaining a resident livestock inspector and an office for him at the proposed livestock market, and the cost of maintaining at the office of a sufficient record of the recorded livestock brands and marks in the state; however, the board may authorize the proposed livestock market if the operator of the proposed market shall, by bond approved by the board guarantee the payment of the minimum revenue.

The sheriff shall receive ten cents ($.10) for each skin examined, this amount to be paid by the owner of the skin. A sheriff, undersheriff, and deputy sheriff, to prevent fraud, shall carefully examine each skin presented. If the examination discloses that the scalp and ears with the skin from the entire head of the animal have not been severed, punched, patched, or marked, he shall, in the presence of the person presenting the skin, mark the skin by severing the skin from the head, including the ears, and then redeliver the skin to the person presenting it, and shall require an affidavit from the claimant that the claimant killed the animal. The affidavit shall be on forms prescribed by the department, and contain information the department requires. On receipt of the skin or skins he shall call to his assistance either the county treasurer, or, in his absence, the clerk of the district court, who, with both present, in order to prevent fraud, shall examine each scalp. If the examination discloses that the scalps agree with the number and kind of scalps, or lower jaw of mountain lion, mentioned in the certificate, the county clerk shall, in the presence of the treasurer or clerk of the district court, destroy the scalps by fire. The county clerk shall then make out and deliver to the person named in that certificate a second certificate showing the statement of the facts contained in the certificate to the sheriff, undersheriff, or deputy sheriff, with the additional statement of the examination made by him, and that he found the scalps to agree with the number and kind mentioned in the certificate of the sheriff, undersheriff, or deputy sheriff. To defray the expense of such protection the board of county commissioners of any county shall have the power to require all owners or persons in possession of any sheep, coming one year old or over, in the county on the regular assessment date of each year to pay a license fee of not exceeding fifteen cents (15¢) per head of sheep so owned or possessed by him in the county; provided that all owners or persons in possession of any sheep, coming one year old or over, coming into the county after the regular assessment date and subject to taxation under the provisions of section 84-6008 shall also be subject to payment of the license fee herein prescribed. Upon the order of the board of county commissioners such license fees may be imposed by the entry thereof in the name of the licensee upon the property tax rolls of the county by the county assessor. Said license fees shall be payable to and collected by the county treasurer, and when so levied, shall be a lien upon the property, both real and personal of the licensee. In case the person against whom said license fee is levied owns no real estate against which said license fee is or may become a lien, then said license fee shall be payable immediately upon its levy and the treasurer shall collect the same in the manner provided by law for the collection of personal property taxes which are not a lien upon real estate. Upon petition of the resident owners of at least fifty-one per cent (51 %) of the sheep in the county, as shown by the assessment rolls of the last preceding assessment, which petition shall be filed with the board of county commissioners on or before the first Monday in December in any year, such board shall establish the predatory animal control program, and cause said licenses to be secured and issued and the fees collected for the following year in such amount, not exceeding the limits of fifteen cents (15¢) per head of sheep as shown by said assessment rolls, as will defray the cost of administering the program so established. The license fee determined and set by the board, within said limits, shall remain in full force and effect from year to year without change, unless there is filed with the board a petition subscribed by the resident owners of at least fifty-one per cent (51 %) of the sheep in the county, as shown by the assessment rolls of the last assessment preceding the filing of the petition, for termination of the program and repeal of the license fee, in which event the program shall by order of the board of county commissioners be disestablished and the license fee shall not be further levied. If the resident owners of at least fifty-one per cent (51 %) of the sheep in the county either (a) petition for an increase in the license fee, subject always to the maximum limitation of fifteen cents (15¢) per head of sheep, or (b) petition for a decrease in the license fee then in force, the board of county commissioners shall upon receipt of any such petition fix a new license fee to continue from year to year and the program shall thereupon continue within the limits of the aggregate amount of the license fee as collected from year to year.

(6) Fix and determine the amount of grazing fees to be imposed on members or nonmembers for the purpose of paying leases and operating expenses and fix and determine the amount of assessments to be made on members on an animal unit basis for the purpose of acquiring lands by purchase, or for the purpose of constructing improvements in the state district.

Repeal

Creek grazing district, was repealed by Sec. 208, Ch. 253, Laws of 1974.

46-2322. Grazing preferences appurtenant to dependent commensurate property and commensurate property and method of transferring preferences to other lands. (1) Grazing preferences run with and are appurtenant to the dependent commensurate and commensurate property upon which they are based. They are not subject to devise, bequest, attachment, execution, lease, sale, exchange, transfer, pledge, mortgage, or other process, or transaction, except as provided in this section or in the bylaws of a state district. Upon application by a permittee, the state district with the approval of the department may allow a preference based on ownership or control of dependent commensurate or commensurate property to be transferred to other property of sufficient commensurability; however, in any transfer of preference from dependent commensurate or commensurate property controlled but not owned by the applicant, the applicant must have had control and use of the dependent commensurate or commensurate property and the preference appurtenant thereto for five (5) consecutive years and must have established and maintained the livestock operation upon which the dependency was established by use or priority immediately prior to the application for transfer. In addition, the transfer may not interfere with the stability of livestock operations or with proper range management and may not affect adversely the established local economy. A transfer may not be allowed without the written consent of the owner or owners and any encumbrances of the dependent commensurate or commensurate property from which the transfer is to be made, and a transfer is not effective until approved by the department. This section does not apply to trespass violations.

(2) When an application for transfer is presented to the board of directors of a state district, the secretary upon the direction of that board shall give notice thereof, setting forth in general the application and the time and place of a hearing thereon as fixed by the board. A copy of the notice shall be given or mailed to the applicant and shall be published for at least once a week for two (2) successive weeks prior to the hearing in a newspaper published or generally circulated within the district, and the notice shall also be posted for at least two (2) full weeks prior to the hearing in three (3) public places within the district. The date of hearing must be at least fifteen (15) days from the first publication of the notice. At the hearing the directors shall fully hear and determine the application and any objections thereto.

(3) Upon the allowance of a transfer under this section, the property from which the transfer is made loses its grazing preference to the extent of the preference transferred.

(4) All expenses involved under the application shall be borne by the applicant.

(5) When the land to which a preference is attached changes its control or ownership the preference changes with the land, and the person to which the control or ownership changes shall secure a nonuse permit or shall pay the usual grazing fees. If the person fails to secure a nonuse permit or refuses to pay the grazing fees, the preferences may be revoked by the state district. If a person controls but does not own land and does not secure a nonuse permit and refuses to pay grazing fees, the state district shall notify the owner of the land by registered mail that the preference attached to the land will be revoked unless the owner pays the usual grazing fees to the state district within sixty (60) days from the time of receipt of the notice. The state district may revoke the preference if the owner or mortgagor does not pay the fees or secure a nonuse permit.

(6) If a permittee fails to pay grazing fees or assessments levied by the state district, or fails to obtain a nonuse permit or violates any of the rules and regulations of the state district, the state district may notify the permittee and owner of the land by registered mail that the preference attached to the land will be revoked unless the grazing fees or assessments are paid or the permittee ceases to violate the rules and regulations laid down by the district within sixty (60) days from the time of receipt of the notice. The state district may revoke the preference if the permittee or owner fails to pay the charges or comply.

(7) When a preference is revoked, it is detached from the dependent commensurate or commensurate property to which it was formerly appurtenant, and it immediately shifts to the state district. The state district may then allocate it to either dependent commensurate or commensurate property in the manner provided by its bylaws.

(8) In all cases where notices are given permittees under this act by registered mail and addressed to the post-office address of the permittee as shown by the records of the state district, the notices shall be considered received by the permittee when deposited in the United States post office by the district or by the department.

The value shall be the value at the expiration date of the lease. If the owner and the state district cannot agree as to the value, the state district may either remove or abandon the improvement. If the subsequent lessee and the state district cannot agree as to the value, it shall be fixed by the department.

46-2325. Dissolution of district. A state district with the written consent of three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of its permittee members may at any time request the board of natural resources and conservation to dissolve the state district. When a hearing thereon has been held before the department and the board's consent has been given, the directors shall distribute the assets of the state district, either in items of property or in cash or in both. Distribution shall first be made with the approval of the department to creditors up to the amount of their claims. Distribution shall then be made with the approval of the department to permittee members upon the basis of their proportionate interest in the assets. If assets must be liquidated, the directors shall offer them for sale at public auction after publication of a notice of the sale once a week for two (2) successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation within the state district. A final report of all dissolution proceedings shall be made to the department by the directors. Upon the approval of the report by the department, the board shall order the state district dissolved.

Retail Installment Sales Act

The finance charges provided for in the Retail Installment Sales Act are not compensation for the forbearance of money within the statutory definition of interest in this section since, at the time of purchase, the debt created is a time obligation and is not then due because of the express provisions of the revolving charge account agreement which allows the customer to pay for the purchases in installments over a period of time; the "time price" doctrine applies to revolving charge account sales even though they are governed by the terms of one price agreement covering all future purchases from time to time rather than a series of identical individual agreements entered into at the time of each individual sale. Cecil v. Allied Stores Corp., — M —, 513 P 2d 704.

47-124. (7725) Legal interest. Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code: Unless there is an express contract in writing, fixing a different rate, or a law or ordinance or resolution of a public body fixing a different rate on its obligations, interest is payable on all moneys at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum after they become due on any instrument of writing, except a judgment, on an account stated, and on moneys lent or due on any settlement of accounts from the date on which the balance is ascertained, and on moneys received to the use of another and detained from him. In the computation of interest for a period of less than one (1) year, three hundred and sixty-five (365) days are deemed to constitute a year.

Retail Installment Sales Contracts

In a diversity action to recover the balance due on a note and conditional sales contract executed and delivered by defendants to a North Dakota corporation and assigned by it to plaintiff, where defendants contended that the rate of interest charged them pursuant to the Montana Retail Installment Sales Act, section 74-608 was 16.3%, which exceeded the maximum rate of 10% permitted by this section and constituted a special law regulating the rate of interest on money, proscribed by section 26, article V of the constitution, the federal court applied the abstention doctrine and postponed further action until the issue was determined by the supreme court of Montana. B-W Acceptance Corp. v. Torgerson, 234 F Supp 214, 216.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment inserted "On amounts up to one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000)" at the beginning of the section; inserted "or more than four (4) percentage points in excess of the discount rate on ninety-day commercial paper in effect at the federal reserve bank in the ninth federal reserve district, whichever is greater" in the first sentence; and added the last two sentences.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 503, Laws 1975 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved April 29, 1975.

Add-on Interest

Promissory note, payable in installments, bearing 6.5% add-on interest (i.e., real interest rate of 11.75%) was not illegal under the provisions of section 5-527; however, when bank, after default of borrower, changed to a straight 11.75% annual interest rate, the note became usurious. Montana Nat. Bank of Boze-

Sale of Assets

Where plaintiffs advanced the money and purchased the assets of a business, and at the same time entered an agreement for future resale of a part of the business to defendant, the entire transaction was a sale and contract of sale, rather than a loan, so that the difference in sale prices was not interest subject to the usury statute. Favero v. Wynacht, 140 M 358, 371 P 2d 858, 867.

47-126. (7727) Penalty for usury—action to recover, etc.

Demand for Double Penalty

Where bank had brought suit for enforcement of usurious note, defendants properly responded with counterclaim for double penalty payment, although no prior written demand had been made upon plaintiff. Montana Nat. Bank of Bozeman v. Kolokotronis, — M —, 535 P 2d 1017.

Intent

Letter demanding payment and including a schedule of principal and interest payments was sufficient to establish the intent of bank to take more than the legal amount of interest. Montana Nat. Bank of Bozeman v. Kolokotronis, — M —, 535 P 2d 1017.

Penalty

Computation of penalty for usury does not rest on the difference between the amount of interest charged and the maximum amount that could have legally been charged, but is simply twice the amount of interest appearing on the face of the note. Montana Nat. Bank of Bozeman v. Kolokotronis, — M —, 535 P 2d 1017.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 172 and once by Ch. 431. Neither amendatory act mentioned or included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "one or both of the licenses" for "the license" in subdivision (b); and increased the maximum loan specified in subdivision (c) from $1,000 to $2,500.

Chapter 172, Laws of 1975, increased the loan amount limit in subdivision (5) from $2,500 to $7,500.

Chapter 431, Laws of 1975, substituted the definition of "Department" for a definition of "Commissioner"; redesignated the subdivisions as (1) through (5); and made minor changes in phraseology, punctuation and style. For prior version, see parent volume and 1971 amendment note.

47-203. Department—powers and duties—adoption of rules. (1) All powers and duties of regulation and supervision conferred by this act are vested in the department. The department shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this act. A copy of every rule shall be mailed to each licensee at least fifteen (15) days in advance of its effective date. However, the failure of a licensee to receive a copy of a rule does not exempt him from complying with a rule adopted under this act.

(2) All rules adopted under this act are binding on all licensees and enforceable by the department through the power of suspension or revocation of licenses.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 283, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 111, Ch. 431, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment deleted former subsection (a) which created the office of consumer loan commissioner; redesignated subsections (b) and (c) as (1) and (2); substituted "department" for "commissioner" throughout the section; deleted a former third sentence in subsection (1) which required rules and regulations to be filed in the commissioner's office and be open to the public; deleted "postage pre-paid" after "mailed to each licensee" in the third sentence of subsection (1); and made numerous changes in style and phraseology. For prior version, see parent volume.

47-204. Scope—exemptions—invalidity of contracts in violation. (a) Scope; prohibiting engaging in the business of making loans of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) or less, except after having obtained a license; exemptions. On or after July 1, 1959, no person shall engage in the business of making loans or advances of money on credit in amounts of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) or less and contract for, charge, or receive directly or indirectly on or in connection with any such loan or advance, any charges whether for interest, compensation, consideration, or expense which in the aggregate are greater than ten per cent (10%) per annum, except as provided in and authorized by this act. A person doing business under the authority of this state or the United States relating to banks, trust companies, savings or building and loan associations, credit unions, Morris Plan companies, or a person engaged in business as a licensed pawnbroker, or any person who shall extend credit in connection with the sale of a commodity shall not become a licensee under this act, nor shall any of the provisions of this act apply to any such exempted person.

The department shall grant, on application, a supplementary license to a holder of a license provided for in section 47-206. Section 47-209 shall be applicable as to time of payment of supplementary license fee and penalty for failure to pay the same. Said charges shall be computed at the applicable rates on the full, original principal amount of the loan from the date of the loan to the due date of the final scheduled installment irrespective of the fact that the loan is payable in installments. Said charges shall be added to the principal of the loan and shall not be discounted or deducted therefrom nor paid or received at the time the loan is made. For the purpose of computing charges for a fraction of a month, a day shall be considered one-thirtieth ($\frac{1}{30}$) of a month. The license fee shall be returned to the applicant if the application is denied. (b) Insurance permitted under the provisions of this section shall be obtained through an insurance company authorized to conduct such business in Montana by a duly licensed agent or agency of this state. Premiums shall not exceed those fixed by law or current applicable manual rates. It shall be optional with the borrower to obtain such insurance in an amount greater than the amount of the loan or for a longer term.

(d) Credit life insurance and credit disability insurance. Subject to the laws of this state, credit life insurance and credit disability insurance may be provided at the expense of the borrower and may be provided by a licensee upon the request of the borrower when the principal amount of the loan exceeds three hundred dollars ($300) exclusive of the portion thereof attributable to insurance premiums and charges. If any loan shall include amounts advanced for insurance premiums and charges such loan shall not in any event exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500).

insurance company as a condition precedent for the obtaining of a loan. Any gain or advantage to the licensee or any employee, affiliate or associate of the licensee from the sale, provision or obtaining of insurance as authorized by this section shall not be deemed to be additional charges or a violation of this act.

A licensee shall not require insurance under this section until any existing insurance of the same type has expired or has been canceled and the unearned portion of the premium for the canceled insurance has been rebated to the borrower.

(13) The enumeration of powers in a charter shall not be construed as a limitation or prohibition on the residual or self-governing powers granted by the constitution.

(14) The charter may contain prohibitions on the exercise of power by a unit of local government.

(15) The charter may include such provisions as may be necessary to permit an orderly transition to the new form of government.

(16) The charter shall specify the date on which the charter will take effect, except that provisions may be made for temporary partial effectiveness consistent with an orderly transition of government.

A license so issued shall authorize a marriage ceremony to be performed in the county where the license is issued or in any other county of this state.

If both parties be nonresidents of the state, such license may be obtained from the clerk of the district court of the county where the marriage ceremony is to be performed. If one of such persons is a nonresident of the county where such license is to issue, his part of the application may be completed sworn to (or affirmed) before the person authorized to accept such applications in the county and state in which he resides.

No license to marry shall be issued by any clerk of the district court if either of the applicants for a license is or has been failing to support lawful dependents when ordered to do so by a court having jurisdiction, unless a judge of a court of record after hearing shall determine that despite such failure said applicant is financially able to discharge the duty to support existing dependents and those resulting from the contemplated marriage and shall authorize the clerk to issue the license. The judge shall have authority to require that the applicant post sufficient security to insure the performance of the support obligation to existing dependents.

Title of Act

An act to revise the marriage and dissolution of marriage laws of this state by adopting the provisions of the Uniform Marriage and Divorce Act as recommended by the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws; amending section 48-130, R. C. M. 1947; and repealing sections 21-101 through 21-150, 48-101, 48-103 through 48-105, 48-111, 48-115, 48-116, 48-118.1, 48-119, 48-120, 48-122, 48-125, 48-127 through 48-129, 48-133, 48-142, 48-143, 48-145, 48-149, 48-150, 48-201 through 48-203, 48-206, and 48-207, R. C. M. 1947; and providing an effective date.

48-302. Purposes of act. This act shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes, which are to:

- (1) provide adequate procedures for the solemnization and registration of marriage;
- (2) strengthen and preserve the integrity of marriage and safeguard family relationships;
- (3) promote the amicable settlement of disputes that have arisen between parties to a marriage;
- (4) mitigate the potential harm to the spouses and their children caused by the process of legal dissolution of marriage;
- (5) make reasonable provision for spouse and minor children during and after litigation; and
- (6) make the law of legal dissolution of marriage effective for dealing with the realities of matrimonial experience by making irretrievable breakdown of the marriage relationship the sole basis for its dissolution.

History: En. 48-302 by Sec. 2, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-303. Uniformity of application and construction. This act shall be so applied and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of this act among those states which enact it.

History: En. 48-303 by Sec. 3, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-304. Formalities. Marriage is a personal relationship between a man and a woman arising out of a civil contract to which the consent of the parties is essential. A marriage licensed, solemnized, and registered as provided in this act is valid in this state. A marriage may be contracted, maintained, invalidated, or dissolved only as provided by the law of this state.

History: En. 48-304 by Sec. 4, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Right of Consortium

The mutual rights which arise in the husband and wife upon marriage, termed contractual or legal rights, included rights which are embraced within the term consortium. Duffy v. Lipsman-Fulkerson & Co., 200 F Supp 71, 73; Dutton v. Hightower & Lubrecht Constr. Co., 214 F Supp 298, 300.

tion 36-101 a woman by her marriage obtained a contractual right to consortium. 214 F Supp 298, 300, distinguished in 266 F Supp 671.
Dutton v. Hightower & Lubrecht Constr.,

48-305. Form of application, license, certificate, and consent. (1) The director of the department of health and environmental sciences shall prescribe the form for an application for a marriage license, which shall include the following information:

(a) name, sex, address, date and place of birth of each party to the proposed marriage;

(b) if either party was previously married, his name, and the date, place, and court in which the marriage was dissolved or declared invalid or the date and place of death of the former spouse;

(c) name and address of the parents or guardian of each party;

(d) whether the parties are related to each other and, if so, their relationship; and

(e) the name and date of birth of any child, of whom both parties are parents, born prior to the making of the application unless their parental rights and the parent and child relationship with respect to the child have been terminated.

(2) The director of the department of health and environmental sciences shall prescribe the forms for the marriage license, the marriage certificate, and the consent to marriage.

History: En. 48-305 by Sec. 5, Ch. 536,
L. 1975.

48-306. License to marry. When a marriage application has been completed and signed by both parties to a prospective marriage and at least one (1) party has appeared before the clerk of the district court and paid the marriage license fee of fifteen dollars ($15), the clerk of the district court shall issue a license to marry and a marriage certificate form upon being furnished:

(1) satisfactory proof that each party to the marriage will have attained the age of eighteen (18) years at the time the marriage license is effective, or will have attained the age of sixteen (16) years and has obtained judicial approval as provided in section 48-308; and

(2) satisfactory proof that the marriage is not prohibited; and

(3) a certificate of the results of any medical examination required by the laws of this state.

History: En. 48-306 by Sec. 6, Ch. 536,
L. 1975.

48-307. Effective date of license. A license to marry becomes effective throughout this state three (3) days after the date of issuance, unless the judge of the district court orders that the license is effective when issued, and expires one hundred eighty (180) days after it becomes effective.

History: En. 48-307 by Sec. 7, Ch. 536,

48-308. Judicial approval. (1) The district court may order the clerk of the district court to issue a marriage license and a marriage certificate form to a party aged sixteen (16) or seventeen (17) years who has no parent capable of consenting to his marriage, or has the consent of both parents, or of the parent having the actual care, custody, and control, to his marriage, if capable of giving consent, or of his guardian. The court may require both parties to participate in a reasonable period of marriage counseling with a designated counselor as a condition of the order for issuance of a marriage license and a marriage certificate form under this section.

(2) A marriage license and a marriage certificate form may be issued under this section only if the court finds that the underaged party is capable of assuming the responsibilities of marriage and the marriage will serve his best interest. Pregnancy alone does not establish that the best interest of the party will be served.

(3) The district court shall authorize performance of a marriage by proxy upon the showing required by the provisions on solemnization.

History: En. 48-308 by Sec. 8, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-309. Solemnization and registration. (1) A marriage may be solemnized by a judge of a court of record, by a public official whose powers include solemnization of marriages, or in accordance with any mode of solemnization recognized by any religious denomination, Indian nation or tribe, or native group. Either the person solemnizing the marriage, or, if no individual acting alone solemnized the marriage, a party to the marriage, shall complete the marriage certificate form and forward it to the clerk of the district court.

(2) If a party to a marriage is unable to be present at the solemnization, he may authorize in writing a third person to act as his proxy. If the person solemnizing the marriage is satisfied that the absent party is unable to be present and has consented to the marriage, he may solemnize the marriage by proxy. If he is not satisfied, the parties may petition the district court for an order permitting the marriage to be solemnized by proxy.

(3) Upon receipt of the marriage certificate, the clerk of the district court shall register the marriage.

(4) The solemnization of the marriage is not invalidated by the fact that the person solemnizing the marriage was not legally qualified to solemnize it, if either party to the marriage believed him to be so qualified.

History: En. 48-309 by Sec. 9, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-310. Prohibited marriages. (1) The following marriages are prohibited:

(a) a marriage entered into prior to the dissolution of an earlier marriage of one of the parties;

(b) a marriage between an ancestor and a descendant, or between a brother and a sister, whether the relationship is by the half or the whole blood, or between first cousins;

(c) a marriage between an uncle and a niece or between an aunt and a nephew, whether the relationship is by the half or the whole blood.

(2) Parties to a marriage prohibited under this section who cohabit after removal of the impediment are lawfully married as of the date of the removal of the impediment.

(3) Children born of a prohibited marriage are legitimate.

History: En. 48-310 by Sec. 10, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

Prosecution for Bigamy

Although bigamous marriage may have been void from beginning for civil purposes, it nevertheless rendered subsequent marriage bigamous under former section 94-701 for criminal purposes, unless defendant could show that previous bigamous marriage was pronounced void, annulled or dissolved by competent court as provided under former section 94-702. Crosby v. Ellsworth, 431 F 2d 35.

Voidness of Former Marriage

Under former section 94-702 voidness of former marriage must have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction; such a determination of voidness could not be made under former section 48-111 by the person involved to avoid being charged with the crime of bigamy under former sections 94-701 and 94-702. State v. Crosby, 148 M 307, 420 P 2d 431, 433.

48-311. Declaration of invalidity. (1) The district court shall enter its decree declaring the invalidity of a marriage entered into under the following circumstances:

(a) a party lacked capacity to consent to the marriage at the time the marriage was solemnized, either because of mental incapacity or infirmity or because of the influence of alcohol, drugs, or other incapacitating substances, or a party was induced to enter into a marriage by force or duress, or by fraud involving the essentials of marriage;

(b) a party lacks the physical capacity to consummate the marriage by sexual intercourse, and at the time the marriage was solemnized the other party did not know of the incapacity;

(c) a party was under the age of sixteen (16) years or was aged sixteen (16) or seventeen (17) years and did not have the consent of his parents or guardian or judicial approval; or

(d) the marriage is prohibited.

(2) A declaration of invalidity under subsection (1)(a) through (c) may be sought by any of the following persons and must be commenced within the times specified, but in no event may a declaration of invalidity be sought after the death of either party to the marriage:

(a) for lack of capacity to consent because of mental incapacity or infirmity, no later than one (1) year after the petitioner obtained knowledge of the described condition;

(b) for lack of capacity to consent because of the influence of alcohol, drugs, or other incapacitating substances, no later than one (1) year after the petitioner obtained knowledge of the described condition;

(c) for lack of capacity to consent because of force, duress or fraud, no later than two (2) years after the petitioner obtained knowledge of the described condition;

(d) for the reason set forth in subsection (1)(b), by either party, no later than four (4) years after the petitioner obtained knowledge of the described condition;

(e) for the reason set forth in subsection (1)(c), by the underaged party, his parent or guardian, prior to the time the underaged party reaches the age at which he could have married without satisfying the omitted requirement.

(3) A declaration of invalidity for the reason set forth in subsection (1)(d) may be sought by either party, the legal spouse in case of a bigamous marriage, the county attorney, or a child of either party, at any time prior to the death of one (1) of the parties.

(4) Children born of a marriage declared invalid are legitimate.

(5) Unless the court finds, after a consideration of all relevant circumstances, including the effect of a retroactive decree on third parties, that the interests of justice would be served by making the decree not retroactive, it shall declare the marriage invalid as of the date of the marriage. The provisions of this act relating to property rights of the spouses, maintenance, support, and custody of children on dissolution of marriage are applicable to nonretroactive decrees of invalidity.

History: En. 48-311 by Sec. 11, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Necessity for Judicial Declaration

In view of statute providing that either party to void marriage could have it declared so judicially, former statute making it unlawful to marry again until six months after a judgment of divorce meant that marriage in violation thereof should be void only from time its nullity was declared so judicially. State ex rel. Angvall v. District Court, 151 M 483, 444 P 2d 370.

48-312. Putative spouse. Any person who has cohabited with another to whom he is not legally married in the good faith belief that he was married to that person is a putative spouse until knowledge of the fact that he is not legally married terminates his status and prevents acquisition of further rights. A putative spouse acquires the rights conferred upon a legal spouse, including the right to maintenance following termination of his status, whether or not the marriage is prohibited (section 48-310) or declared invalid (section 48-311). If there is a legal spouse or other putative spouses, rights acquired by a putative spouse do not supersede the rights of the legal spouse or those acquired by other putative spouses, but the court shall apportion property, maintenance, and support rights among the claimants as appropriate in the circumstances and in the interests of justice.

History: En. 48-312 by Sec. 12, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-313. Application. All marriages contracted within this state prior to the effective date of this act, or outside the state, that were valid at the time of the contract or subsequently validated by the laws of the place in which they were contracted or by the domicile of the parties, are valid in this state.

History: En. 48-313 by Sec. 13, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-314. Validity of common law marriage. Common law marriages are not invalidated by this act. Declarations of marriage pursuant to sections 48-130 through 48-132 are not invalidated by this act.

History: En. 48-314 by Sec. 14, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Common-law Marriage

Finding that claimant and deceased workman had been married at common law was not supported by evidence, instances of their cohabitation warranting conclusion of meretricious relations as easily as any other. Miller v. Townsend Lumber Co., 152 M 210, 448 P 2d 148.

Man and woman who exchanged wedding rings, mutually declared their marriage, and thereafter openly lived together, were legally married even though wife continued to use her previous name for business purposes. Estate of Swanson, 160 M 271, 502 P 2d 33.

Evidence of cohabitation alone was insufficient to justify findings of common-law marriage under former law. In re Estate of Slavens, — M —, 509 P 2d 293, 295.

In view of statute recognizing consensual or common-law marriage, presumption that man and woman deporting themselves as husband and wife had entered into lawful contract of marriage was itself proof of marriage, and was overcome as matter of law only when in light of proved facts reasonable men could no longer find in accordance with the presumed fact; presumption was not overcome by the fact that mother claimed a ceremonial marriage and produced no evidence of mutual consent to common-law marriage. Spradlin v. United States, 262 F Supp 502.

48-315. Application of the Montana rules of civil procedure to proceedings under this act. (1) The Montana rules of civil procedure apply to all proceedings under this act, except as otherwise provided in this act.

(2) A proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation, or declaration of invalidity of marriage shall be entitled "In re the Marriage of _____ and _____." A custody or support proceeding shall be entitled "In re the (Custody) (Support) of _____."

(3) The initial pleading in all proceedings under this act shall be denominated a petition. A responsive pleading shall be denominated a response. Other pleadings, and all pleadings in other matters under this act, shall be denominated as provided in the Montana rules of civil procedure.

(4) In this act, "decree" includes "judgment."

(5) A decree of dissolution or of legal separation, if made, shall not be awarded to one of the parties, but shall provide that it affects the status previously existing between the parties in the manner decreed.

History: En. 48-315 by Sec. 15, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-316. Dissolution of marriage—legal separation. (1) The district court shall enter a decree of dissolution of marriage if:

(a) the court finds that one of the parties, at the time the action was commenced, was domiciled in this state, or was stationed in this state while a member of the armed services, and that the domicil or military presence has been maintained for ninety (90) days next preceding the making of the findings;

(b) the court finds that the marriage is irretrievably broken, which findings shall be supported by evidence

(i) that the parties have lived separate and apart for a period of more than one hundred eighty (180) days next preceding the commencement of this proceeding, or

(ii) that there is serious marital discord which adversely affects the attitude of one or both of the parties towards the marriage;

(c) the court finds that the conciliation provisions of the Montana Conciliation Law and of section 48-319 either do not apply or have been met; and

(d) to the extent it has jurisdiction to do so, the court has considered, approved, or made provision for child custody, the support of any child entitled to support, the maintenance of either spouse, and the disposition of property; or provided for a separate, later hearing to complete these matters.

(2) If a party requests a decree of legal separation rather than a decree of dissolution of marriage, the court shall grant the decree in that form unless the other party objects.

History: En. 48-316 by Sec. 16, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

Jurisdiction Over Indian Divorce

State of Montana had jurisdiction over divorce action brought by an Indian plaintiff against an Indian defendant, both residing on an Indian reservation, since federal law has not pre-empted state activities in the area of marriage and divorce and the tribe had determined not to exercise jurisdiction in that area by virtue of a tribal enactment. State ex rel. Iron Bear v. District Court, — M —, 512 P 2d 1292.

48-317. Procedure—commencement—pleadings—abolition of existing defenses. (1) All proceedings under this act are commenced in the manner provided by the Montana rules of civil procedure.

(2) The verified petition in a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation shall allege that the marriage is irretrievably broken and shall set forth:

(a) the age, occupation, and residence of each party and his length of residence in this state;

(b) the date of the marriage and the place at which it was registered;

(c) that the jurisdictional requirements of section 48-316 exist and that the marriage is irretrievably broken in that either

(i) the parties have lived separate and apart for a period of more than one hundred eighty (180) days next preceding the commencement of this proceeding, or

(ii) that there is serious marital discord which adversely affects the attitude of one or both of the parties towards the marriage, and that there is no reasonable prospect of reconciliation;

(d) the names, ages, and addresses of all living children of the marriage, and whether the wife is pregnant;

(e) any arrangements as to support, custody, and visitation of the children and maintenance of a spouse; and

(f) the relief sought.

(3) Either or both parties to the marriage may initiate the proceeding.

(4) If a proceeding is commenced by one of the parties, the other party must be served in the manner provided by the Montana rules of civil procedure and may within twenty (20) days after the date of service file a verified response. No decree may be entered until twenty (20) days after the date of service.

(5) Previously existing defenses to divorce and legal separation, including but not limited to condonation, connivance, collusion, recrimination, insanity, and lapse of time, are abolished.

(6) The court may join additional parties proper for the exercise of its authority to implement this act.

History: En. 48-317 by Sec. 17, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-318. Temporary order or temporary injunction. (1) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, or in a proceeding for disposition of property or for maintenance or support following dissolution of the marriage by a court which lacked personal jurisdiction over the absent spouse, either party may move for temporary maintenance or temporary support of a child of the marriage entitled to support. The motion shall be accompanied by an affidavit setting forth the factual basis for the motion and the amounts requested.

(2) As a part of a motion for temporary maintenance or support or by independent motion accompanied by affidavit, either party may request the court to issue a temporary injunction for any of the following relief:

(a) restraining any person from transferring, encumbering, concealing, or otherwise disposing of any property except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life, and, if so restrained, requiring him to notify the moving party of any proposed extraordinary expenditures made after the order is issued;

(b) enjoining a party from molesting or disturbing the peace of the other party or of any child;

(c) excluding a party from the family home or from the home of the other party upon a showing that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result;

(d) enjoining a party from removing a child from the jurisdiction of the court; and

(e) providing other injunctive relief proper in the circumstances.

(3) The court may issue a temporary restraining order without requiring notice to the other party only if it finds on the basis of the moving affidavit or other evidence that irreparable injury will result to the moving party if no order is issued until the time for responding has elapsed.

(4) A response may be filed within twenty (20) days after service of notice of motion or at the time specified in the temporary restraining order.

(5) On the basis of the showing made and in conformity with sections 48-322 and 48-323, the court may issue a temporary injunction and an order for temporary maintenance or support in amounts and on terms just and proper in the circumstance.

(6) A temporary order or temporary injunction:

(a) does not prejudice the rights of the parties or the child which are to be adjudicated at subsequent hearings in the proceeding;

(b) may be revoked or modified before final decree on a showing by affidavit of the facts necessary to revocation or modification of a final decree under section 48-330; and

(c) terminates when the final decree is entered or when the petition for dissolution or legal separation is voluntarily dismissed.

History: En. 48-318 by Sec. 18, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Temporary Support Payments

On application for money judgment for delinquent temporary support payments, it was not error to order sum of $8,174 plus interest to be paid by defendant in 63 monthly installments of $150. Latus v. Latus, — M —, 517 P 2d 356.

48-319. Irretrievably breakdown. (1) If both of the parties by petition or otherwise have stated under oath or affirmation that the marriage is irretrievably broken, or one of the parties has so stated and the other has not denied it, the court, after hearing, shall make a finding whether the marriage is irretrievably broken.

(2) If one of the parties has denied under oath or affirmation that the marriage is irretrievably broken, the court shall consider all relevant factors, including the circumstances that gave rise to filing the petition and the prospect of reconciliation, and shall:

(a) make a finding whether the marriage is irretrievably broken; or

(b) continue the matter for further hearing not fewer than thirty (30) nor more than sixty (60) days later, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be reached on the court's calendar, and may suggest to the parties that they seek counseling. The court at the request of either party shall, or on its own motion may, order a conciliation conference. At the adjourned hearing the court shall make a finding whether the marriage is irretrievably broken.

(3) A finding of irretrievably breakdown is a determination that there is no reasonable prospect of reconciliation.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to affect the provisions of sections 36-201 through 36-205, known as the Montana Conciliation Law.

History: En. 48-319 by Sec. 19, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-320. Separation agreement. (1) To promote amicable settlement of disputes between parties to a marriage attendant upon their separation or the dissolution of their marriage, the parties may enter into a written separation agreement containing provisions for disposition of any property owned by either of them, maintenance of either of them, and support, custody, and visitation of their children.

(2) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or for legal separation, the terms of the separation agreement, except those providing for the support, custody, and visitation of children, are binding upon the court unless it finds, after considering the economic circumstances of the parties and any other relevant evidence produced by the parties, on their own motion or on request of the court, that the separation agreement is unconscionable.

(3) If the court finds the separation agreement unconscionable, it may request the parties to submit a revised separation agreement or may make orders for the disposition of property, maintenance, and support.

(4) If the court finds that the separation agreement is not unconscionable as to disposition of property or maintenance, and not unsatisfactory as to support:

(a) unless the separation agreement provides to the contrary, its terms shall be set forth in the decree of dissolution or legal separation and the parties shall be ordered to perform them, or

(b) if the separation agreement provides that its terms shall not be set forth in the decree, the decree shall identify the separation agreement and state that the court has found the terms not unconscionable.

(5) Terms of the agreement set forth in the decree are enforceable by all remedies available for enforcement of a judgment, including contempt, and are enforceable as contract terms.

(6) Except for terms concerning the support, custody, or visitation of children, the decree may expressly preclude or limit modification of terms set forth in the decree if the separation agreement so provides. Otherwise, terms of a separation agreement set forth in the decree are automatically modified by modification of the decree.

History: En. 48-320 by Sec. 20, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-321. Disposition of property. (1) In a proceeding for dissolution of a marriage, legal separation, or disposition of property following a decree of dissolution of marriage or legal separation by a court which lacked personal jurisdiction over the absent spouse or lacked jurisdiction to dispose of the property, the court, without regard to marital misconduct, shall, and in a proceeding for legal separation may, finally equitably apportion between the parties the property and assets belonging to either or both however and whenever acquired, and whether the title thereto is in the name of the husband or wife or both. In making apportionment the court shall consider the duration of the marriage, and prior marriage of either party, antenuptial agreement of the parties, the age, health, station, occupation, amount and sources of income, vocational skills, employability, estate, liabilities, and needs of each of the parties, custodial provisions, whether the apportionment is in lieu of or in addition to maintenance, and the opportunity of each for future acquisition of capital assets and income. The court shall also consider the contribution or dissipation of value of the respective estates, and the contribution of a spouse as a homemaker or to the family unit. In disposing of property acquired prior to the marriage; property acquired by gift, bequest, devise or descent; property acquired in exchange for property acquired before the marriage or in exchange for property acquired by gift, bequest, devise, or descent; the increased value of property acquired prior to marriage; and property acquired by a spouse after a decree of legal separation, the court shall consider those contributions of the other spouse to the marriage, including the nonmonetary contribution of a homemaker; the extent to which such contributions have facilitated the maintenance of this property and whether or not the property disposition serves as an alternative to maintenance arrangements.

(2) In a proceeding, the court may protect and promote the best interests of the children by setting aside a portion of the jointly and separately held estates of the parties in a separate fund or trust for the support, maintenance, education, and general welfare of any minor, dependent, or incompetent children of the parties.

History: En. 48-321 by Sec. 21, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Orders as to Property

Equal division of the property accumulated during the marriage was not unreasonable and was within the court's power even though the husband had made greater contributions during the marriage and most of the property was held in his name. Cook v. Cook, 159 M 98, 495 P 2d 591.

There must be a complete disclosure by both parties of the total value of their assets and resources in order for the court to make an equitable division of property, and testimony of wife which was vague and confusing and conflicting regarding the family money and business accounts, was not sufficient basis for the court's unequal division of property. Fautsch v. Fautsch, — M —, 530 P 2d 1172.

Property Division

Property division could not be decreed in same suit in which husband was denied divorce and wife was granted separate maintenance. Stapleton v. Stapleton, 158 M 96, 488 P 2d 1144, following Decker v. Decker, 56 M 338, 185 P 168 and Boggs v. Boggs, 119 M 540, 545, 177 P 2d 869, 872.

Vague and confusing testimony as to bank balances, values of real property, and health of wife were insufficient evidence to support an unequal division of property, where divorce was granted to both parties. Fautsch v. Fautsch, — M —, 530 P 2d 1172.

Sale of Farm

Order of the court that the farm be sold and the proceeds divided was not abuse of discretion since the entire investment was in jeopardy because of delinquent taxes and mortgage, and since it would have been difficult for one person to manage the farm. Turville v. Turville, — M —, 533 P 2d 962.

48-322. Maintenance. (1) In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation, or a proceeding for maintenance following dissolution of the marriage by a court which lacked personal jurisdiction over the absent spouse, the court may grant a maintenance order for either spouse only if it finds that the spouse seeking maintenance:

- (a) lacks sufficient property to provide for his reasonable needs, and
- (b) is unable to support himself through appropriate employment or is the custodian of a child whose condition or circumstances make it appropriate that the custodian not be required to seek employment outside the home.

(2) The maintenance order shall be in such amounts and for such periods of time as the court deems just, without regard to marital misconduct, and after considering all relevant facts including:

(a) the financial resources of the party seeking maintenance, including marital property apportioned to him, and his ability to meet his needs independently, including the extent to which a provision for support of a child living with the party includes a sum for that party as custodian;

(b) the time necessary to acquire sufficient education or training to enable the party seeking maintenance to find appropriate employment;

(c) the standard of living established during the marriage;

(d) the duration of the marriage;

(e) the age, and the physical and emotional condition of the spouse seeking maintenance; and

(f) the ability of the spouse from whom maintenance is sought to meet his needs while meeting those of the spouse seeking maintenance.

History: En. 48-322 by Sec. 22, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Alimony—Erroneous Denial

Trial court erred in denying wife alimony settlement where denial of alimony resulted in leaving the wife at large in the community without means of support due to her lack of marketable skills and physical disabilities; trial court's finding that wife should leave the marriage with nothing because she had brought no assets into the marriage was incorrect where for fourteen years wife had contributed to the marriage by helping on the family farm, by aiding the husband in the building of an addition to the farm home, and by the performance of domestic duties. Stenberg v. Stenberg, — M —, 505 P 2d 110.

Divorce Granted to Husband

Although divorce was granted to husband, where district court had made finding that both parties were entitled to a divorce, the court had jurisdiction to make alimony award for wife, and also had jurisdiction to increase award. Clontz v. Clontz, — M —, 531 P 2d 1003.

Estoppel from Terminating Alimony

Where divorce had been granted to the husband but both parties were at fault, court had jurisdiction to make award of alimony to wife; and since husband had accepted the benefits of the divorce he was estopped from seeking relief from its burdens, which had been agreed to by him in writing at the time of the divorce. Clontz v. Clontz, — M —, 531 P 2d 1003.

Survival of Support Obligation

District court may make support obligation a continuing one that survives the father's death and is enforceable against his estate. Horning v. Estate of Lagerquist, 155 M 412, 473 P 2d 541.

48-323. Child support. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation, maintenance, or child support, the court may order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child to pay an amount reasonable or necessary for his support, without regard to marital misconduct, after considering all relevant factors including:

(1) the financial resources of the child;

(2) the financial resources of the custodial parent;

(3) the standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage not been dissolved;

(4) the physical and emotional condition of the child, and his educational needs; and

(5) the financial resources and needs of the noncustodial parent.

Financial Protection

The main purpose of the divorce decree is the financial protection of the wife and children, and the husband who, pursuant to informal agreement of the parties, had made regular mortgage payments instead of child-support payments, had satisfactorily achieved the objective of the decree; although half of each mortgage payment accrued to the benefit of the husband, wife's increased equity in the house had amounted to more total support than the decreed child-support payments. Haaby v. Haaby, — M —, 529 P 2d 1387.

Liability for Support

Husband was not liable for both child-support payments and mortgage payments under a divorce decree in which mortgage payments had been premised upon immediate sale of the homestead, but pursuant to an informal agreement of the parties the homestead had not been sold and the husband had made mortgage payments for five years instead of child-support payments. Haaby v. Haaby, — M —, 529 P 2d 1387.

48-324. Representation of child. The court may appoint an attorney to represent the interests of a minor dependent child with respect to his support, custody, and visitation. The court shall enter an order for costs and fees in favor of the child's attorney. The order shall be made against either or both parents, except that, if the responsible party is indigent, the costs shall be waived.

History: En. 48-324 by Sec. 24, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-325. Payment of maintenance or support to court. (1) Upon its own motion or upon motion of either party, the court may order at any time that maintenance or support payments be made to the clerk of the district court as trustee for remittance to the person entitled to receive the payments.

(2) The clerk of the district court shall maintain records listing the amount of payments, the date payments are required to be made, and the names and addresses of the parties affected by the order.

(3) The parties affected by the order shall inform the clerk of the district court of any change of address or of other condition that may affect the administration of the order.

History: En. 48-325 by Sec. 25, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-326. Assignments. The court may order the person obligated to pay support or maintenance to make an assignment of a part of his periodic earnings or trust income to the person entitled to receive the payments. The assignment is binding on the employer, trustee, or other payor of the funds two (2) weeks after service upon him of notice that it has been made. The payor shall withhold from the earnings or trust income payable to the person obligated to support the amount specified in the assignment and shall transmit the payments to the person specified in the order. The payor may deduct from each payment a sum not exceeding one dollar ($1) as reimbursement for costs. An employer shall not discharge or otherwise discipline an employee as a result of a wage or salary assignment authorized by this section.

History: En. 48-326 by Sec. 26, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-327. Costs—Attorney's fees. The court from time to time after considering the financial resources of both parties may order a party to pay a reasonable amount for the cost to the other party of maintaining or defending any proceeding under this act and for attorney's fees, including sums for legal services rendered and costs incurred prior to the commencement of the proceeding or after entry of judgment. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

History: En. 48-327 by Sec. 27, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Showing of Necessity

Showing of necessity is condition precedent to exercise of court's discretion to grant attorney's fees; provision in decree awarding defendant wife attorney's fees was stricken where defendant failed to show necessity of award and assets of the marriage were several hundred thousand dollars. Whitman v. Whitman, — M —, 519 P 2d 966.

48-328. Decree. (1) A decree of dissolution of marriage or of legal separation is final when entered, subject to the right of appeal. An appeal from the decree of dissolution that does not challenge the finding that the marriage is irretrievably broken does not delay the finality of that provision of the decree which dissolves the marriage beyond the time for appealing from that provision, and either of the parties may remarry pending appeal.

(2) No earlier than six (6) months after entry of a decree of legal separation, the court on motion of either party shall convert the decree to a decree of dissolution of marriage.

(3) The clerk of court shall give notice of the entry of a decree of dissolution or legal separation:

(a) if the marriage is registered in this state, to the clerk of the district court of the county where the marriage is registered who shall enter the fact of dissolution or separation in the book in which the marriage license and certificate are recorded; or

(b) if the marriage is registered in another jurisdiction, to the appropriate official of that jurisdiction, with the request that he enter the fact of dissolution in the appropriate record.

(4) Upon request by a wife whose marriage is dissolved or declared invalid, the court may, and if there are no children of the parties shall, order her maiden name or a former name restored.

History: En. 48-328 by Sec. 28, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-329. Independence of provisions of decree or temporary order. If a party fails to comply with a provision of a decree or temporary order or injunction, the obligation of the other party to make payments for support or maintenance or to permit visitation is not suspended; but he may move the court to grant an appropriate order.

History: En. 48-329 by Sec. 29, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-330. Modification and termination of provisions for maintenance, support, and property disposition. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of section 48-320, the provisions of any decree respecting maintenance or support may be modified by a court only as to installments accruing subsequent to the motion for modification and either:

(a) upon a showing of changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unconscionable; or

(b) upon written consent of the parties. The provisions as to property disposition may not be revoked or modified by a court, except:

(i) upon written consent of the parties, or

(ii) if the court finds the existence of conditions that justify the reopening of a judgment under the laws of this state.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, the obligation to pay future maintenance is terminated upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the party receiving maintenance.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child are terminated by emancipation of the child but not by the death of a parent obligated to support the child. When a parent obligated to pay support dies, the amount of support may be modified, revoked, or commuted to a lump-sum payment, to the extent just and appropriate in the circumstances.

History: En. 48-330 by Sec. 30, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Alimony—Modification of Decree

Trial court acted properly in ordering husband, who had stopped paying alimony because of alleged changes in financial standing, to pay back alimony in full, since under former statute modification of alimony applied only to future installments. Porter v. Porter, 155 M 451, 473 P 2d 538.

Joint Tenancy Property

Pursuant to M. R. Civ. P., Rules 18(a) and 54(c), it was proper for divorce court to divest wife of her interest in joint tenancy property and provide for payment of alimony in lieu thereof. Libra v. Libra, 157 M 252, 484 P 2d 748, overruling Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251 and affirming rule of Johnson v. Johnson, 137 M 11, 349 P 2d 310.

Modification of Amount of Award

District court was free to modify original decree to provide for child-support payments which were lower than those set forth in separation agreement. Gessell v. Jones, 149 M 418, 427 P 2d 295.

Although there was no abuse of discretion in the original award of $500 per month alimony and child support, where husband's later earnings made it impossible for him to pay such amount, court properly reduced award to $250 a month. Grant v. Grant, — M —, 531 P 2d 1007.

Modification of Decree for Support

Under former section court of sister state entering valid custody order retained continuing jurisdiction to modify such award after party changed domicile to this state since change in child's domicile did not, in itself, deprive court of sister state of its jurisdiction; courts of either state could possess jurisdiction resulting in concurrent jurisdiction of matter. Corkill v. Cloninger, 153 M 142, 454 P 2d 911.

Property Settlement Agreement

Trial court erred in modifying and setting aside "alimony" of property settlement agreement incorporated in divorce decree where wife agreed to assume $10,000 of husband's liability and release her interest in all jointly held property in return for receipt of 51% of jointly held corporation and payment of $750 per month for nine years, which payments were to continue if the wife remarried and were to be a charge upon the husband's estate if he died before full payment was made; the monthly payments were not "alimony" but were a part of the property settlement agreement which could not be modified or severed from the divorce decree without destroying the contract.

Washington v. Washington, — M —, 512 P 2d 1300.

Retroactive Modification of Alimony Payments

Former statute was sufficiently broad to permit court to order modification of alimony payments effective as of date of application therefor as opposed to date of order. Movius v. Movius, — M —, 517 P 2d 884.

48-331. Jurisdiction—commencement of proceedings. (1) A court of this state competent to decide child custody matters has jurisdiction to make a child custody determination by initial or modification decree if:

(a) this state

(i) is the home state of the child at the time of commencement of the proceedings, or

(ii) had been the child's home state within six (6) months before commencement of the proceeding and the child is absent from this state because of his removal or retention by a person claiming his custody or for other reason, and a parent or person acting as parent continues to live in this state; or

(b) it is in the best interest of the child that a court of this state assume jurisdiction because

(i) the child and his parents, or the child and at least one contestant, have a significant connection with this state, and

(ii) there is available in this state substantial evidence concerning the child's present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships; or

(c) the child is physically present in this state and

(i) has been abandoned or

(ii) it is necessary in an emergency to protect him because he has been subjected to or threatened with mistreatment or abuse or is neglected or dependent; or

(d) (i) no other state has jurisdiction under prerequisites substantially in accordance with paragraphs (a), (b), or (c), or another state has declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that this state is the more appropriate forum to determine custody of the child, and

(ii) it is in his best interest that the court assume jurisdiction.

(2) Except under paragraphs (c) and (d) of subsection (1), physical presence in this state of the child, or of the child and one of the contestants, is not alone sufficient to confer jurisdiction on a court of this state to make a child custody determination.

(3) Physical presence of the child, while desirable, is not a prerequisite for jurisdiction to determine his custody.

(4) A child custody proceeding is commenced in the district court:

(a) by a parent, by filing a petition

(i) for dissolution or legal separation; or permanently resident or found; or

(b) by a person other than a parent, by filing a petition for custody of the child in the county in which he is permanently resident or found, but only if he is not in the physical custody of one of his parents.

(5) Notice of a child custody proceeding shall be given to the child's parent, guardian, and custodian, who may appear, be heard, and file a responsive pleading. The court, upon a showing of good cause, may permit intervention of other interested parties.

History: En. 48-331 by Sec. 31, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-332. Best interest of child. The court shall determine custody in accordance with the best interest of the child. The court shall consider all relevant factors including:

- (1) the wishes of the child's parent or parents as to his custody;
- (2) the wishes of the child as to his custodian;
- (3) the interaction and interrelationship of the child with his parent or parents, his siblings, and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interest;
- (4) the child's adjustment to his home, school, and community; and
- (5) the mental and physical health of all individuals involved.

History: En. 48-332 by Sec. 32, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Award to Father

District court did not abuse its discretion in awarding custody of two younger children to father who had moved to California, since children had a good home with their father and paternal grandparents, were well cared for and happy, were given more than adequate educational and religious training and had lived with their father for more than five years. Anderson v. Anderson, 145 M 244, 400 P 2d 632.

Although twelve-year-old daughter expressed desire to live with her mother, custody was properly awarded to father where evidence showed emotional instability on part of mother which she evinced by communicating her morbid suspicion of improper conduct by father. Libra v. Libra, 157 M 252, 458 P 2d 748.

Award to father was supported by evidence that he spent considerable amounts of time with the boys and entered into activities with them, whereas mother had made no attempt to see children for a year, and had not written or sent birthday gifts. Haywood v. Sedillo, — M —, 535 P 2d 1014.

Emotional Problem of Child

It was in the best interests of child of tender years, who had been in the physical custody of her father by agreement of the parents because of the child's emotional problem, to change the legal custody to the father. Gilbert v. Gilbert, — M —, 533 P 2d 1079.

Fitness of Parents

In contested custody cases, the court should determine the fitness of both parents, and it was error for the court to determine only the fitness of the father without making any finding as to the fitness of the mother, especially where the court was considering children of tender years. Love v. Love, — M —, 533 P 2d 280.

Mother Preferred

In absence of any evidence disputing the fitness of the mother it was an abuse of discretion to separate children of tender years from mother and exemplary older brother by awarding custody to father who had refused to make any effort to support his children of previous marriages. Love v. Love, — M —, 533 P 2d 280.

48-333. Temporary orders. (1) A party to a custody proceeding may move for a temporary custody order. The motion must be supported by an affidavit as provided in section 48-340. The court may award temporary custody under the standards of section 48-332 after a hearing, or, if there is no objection, solely on the basis of the affidavits.

(2) If a proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation is dismissed, any temporary custody order is vacated unless a parent or the child's custodian moves that the proceeding continue as a custody proceeding and the court finds, after a hearing, that the circumstances of the parents and the best interest of the child requires that a custody decree be issued.

(3) If a custody proceeding commenced in the absence of a petition for dissolution of marriage or legal separation under subsection (a) (ii) or (b) of section 48-331 is dismissed, any temporary custody order is vacated.

History: En. 48-333 by Sec. 33, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-334. Interviews. (1) The court may interview the child in chambers to ascertain the child's wishes as to his custodian and as to visitation. The court may permit counsel to be present at the interview. The court shall cause a record of the interview to be made and to be part of the record in the case.

(2) The court may seek the advice of professional personnel, whether or not employed by the court on a regular basis. The advice given shall be in writing and made available by the court to counsel upon request. Counsel may examine as a witness any professional personnel consulted by the court.

History: En. 48-334 by Sec. 34, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-335. Investigations and reports. (1) In contested custody proceedings, and in other custody proceedings if a parent or the child's custodian so requests, the court may order an investigation and report concerning custodial arrangements for the child. The investigation and report may be made by the county welfare department.

(2) In preparing his report concerning a child, the investigator may consult any person who may have information about the child and his potential custodial arrangements. Upon order of the court, the investigator may refer the child to professional personnel for diagnosis. The investigator may consult with and obtain information from medical, psychiatric, or other expert persons who have served the child in the past without obtaining the consent of the parent or the child's custodian; but the child's consent must be obtained if he has reached the age of sixteen (16) unless the court finds that he lacks mental capacity to consent. If the requirements of subsection (3) are fulfilled, the investigator's report may be received in evidence at the hearing.

(3) The court shall mail the investigator's report to counsel and to any party not represented by counsel at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing. The investigator shall make available to counsel and to any party not represented by counsel the investigator's file of underlying data, and reports, complete texts of diagnostic reports made to the investigator pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2), and the names and addresses of all persons whom the investigator has consulted. Any party to the proceeding may call the investigator and any person whom he has consulted for cross-examination. A party may not waive his right of cross-examination prior to the hearing.

History: En. 48-335 by Sec. 35, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-336. Hearings. (1) Custody proceedings shall receive priority in being set for hearing.

(2) The court may tax as costs the payment of necessary travel and other expenses incurred by any person whose presence at the hearing the court deems necessary to determine the best interest of the child.

(3) The court without a jury shall determine questions of law and fact. If it finds that a public hearing may be detrimental to the child's best interest, the court may exclude the public from a custody hearing, but may admit any person who has a direct and legitimate interest in the particular case or a legitimate educational or research interest in the work of the court.

(4) If the court finds it necessary to protect the child's welfare that the record of any interview, report, investigation, or testimony in a custody proceeding be kept secret, the court may make an appropriate order sealing the record.

History: En. 48-336 by Sec. 36, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-337. Visitation. (1) A parent not granted custody of the child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger seriously the child's physical, mental, moral, or emotional health.

(2) The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interest of the child; but the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the visitation would endanger seriously the child's physical, mental, moral, or emotional health.

History: En. 48-337 by Sec. 37, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-338. Judicial supervision. (1) Except as otherwise agreed by the parties in writing at the time of the custody decree, the custodian may determine the child's upbringing, including his education, health care, and religious training, unless the court after hearing, finds, upon motion by the noncustodial parent, that in the absence of a specific limitation of the custodian's authority, the child's physical health would be endangered or his emotional development significantly impaired.

(2) If both parents or all contestants agree to the order, or if the court finds that in the absence of the order the child's physical health would be endangered or his emotional development significantly impaired, the court may order the county welfare department to exercise continuing supervision over the case to assure that the custodial or visitation terms of the decree are carried out.

History: En. 48-338 by Sec. 38, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

48-339. Modification. (1) No motion to modify a custody decree may be made earlier than two (2) years after its date, unless the court permits it to be made on the basis of affidavits that there is reason to believe the child's present environment may endanger seriously his physical, mental, moral, or emotional health.

(2) The court shall not modify a prior custody decree unless it finds, upon the basis of facts that have arisen since the prior decree or that were unknown to the court at the time of entry of the prior decree, that a change has occurred in the circumstances of the child or his custodian, and that the modification is necessary to serve the best interest of the child. In applying these standards the court shall retain the custodian appointed pursuant to the prior decree unless:

(a) the custodian agrees to the modification;

(b) the child has been integrated into the family of the petitioner with consent of the custodian; or

(c) the child's present environment endangers seriously his physical, mental, moral, or emotional health, and the harm likely to be caused by a change of environment is outweighed by its advantages to him.

(3) Attorney fees and costs shall be assessed against a party seeking modification if the court finds that the modification action is vexatious and constitutes harassment.

History: En. 48-339 by Sec. 39, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

Admission of Evidence

In an action for change of custody, the court was not justified in admitting testimony relating back to and prior to the time of the divorce, where the mother had signed a separation, custody, and property agreement, and there was no evidence of fraud in the record. Svennungsen v. Svennungsen, — M —, 527 P 2d 640.

Change of Circumstances

Evidence the mother had, since time of divorce, remarried, overcome previous emotional difficulties, and quit her job in order to provide for time and attention needed to raise child, supported modification of divorce decree, in best interest of child, so as to grant custody to mother. McCullough v. McCullough, 159 M 419, 498 P 2d 1189.

Finding of a change in circumstances is a prerequisite to modification of custody, whether the custody was granted after a full adversary proceeding or after a default divorce. The reason for this requirement is to protect the person who has custody from the harassment of further litigation. Svennungsen v. Svennungsen, — M —, 527 P 2d 640.

Remarriage of custodial parent is not a sufficient change of circumstance to require change of custody without evidence that this remarriage was detrimental to the welfare of the child. Svennungsen v. Svennungsen, — M —, 527 P 2d 640.

Mother's restored mental health and remarriage was not a change in the circumstances upon which the original custody award had been based; and all witnesses (including mother), having agreed that the father was a fit parent and that the children were well cared for, change in custody was denied. Gilmore v. Gilmore, — M —, 530 P 2d 480.

Justifiable Grounds

If the court, in an uncontested divorce hearing, has made any award or adjudication of custody, the issue of custody has been heard and may not be changed without a showing of justifiable grounds. Svennungsen v. Svennungsen, — M —, 527 P 2d 640.

Notice

It was improper to terminate custody at a hearing on contempt for nonsupport when respondent had not been given notice that custody would be at issue. State ex rel. Shelhamer v. District Court, 159 M 11, 494 P 2d 928.

Unfitness of Custodial Parent

In proceeding for change of custody, a showing of unfitness of the custodial parent may be substituted for a change of circumstances, but will not be required in addition a showing of change of circumstances. Svennungsen v. Svennungsen, — M —, 527 P 2d 640.

48-340. Affidavit practice. A party seeking a temporary custody order or modification of a custody decree shall submit together with his moving papers an affidavit setting forth facts supporting the requested order or modification and shall give notice, together with a copy of his affidavit, to other parties to the proceeding, who may file opposing affidavits. The court shall deny the motion unless it finds that adequate cause for hearing the motion is established by the affidavits, in which case it shall set a date for hearing on an order to show cause why the requested order or modification should not be granted.

48-341. Application. (1) This act applies to all proceedings commenced on or after its effective date.

(2) This act applies to all pending actions and proceedings commenced prior to its effective date with respect to issues on which a judgment has not been entered. Pending actions for divorce or separation are deemed to have been commenced on the basis of irretrievable breakdown. Evidence adduced after the effective date of this act shall be in compliance with this act.

(3) This act applies to all proceedings commenced after its effective date for the modification of a judgment or order entered prior to the effective date of this act.

(4) In any action or proceeding in which an appeal was pending or a new trial was ordered prior to the effective date of this act, the law in effect at the time of the order sustaining the appeal or the new trial governs the appeal, the new trial, and any subsequent trial or appeal.

History: En. 48-341 by Sec. 41, Ch. 536, L. 1975.

Separability Clause

Section 43 of Ch. 536, Laws 1975 read "If any provision of this act or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of the act are severable."

Compiler's Notes

Section 42 of Ch. 536, Laws 1975 read "If any provision of this act is in conflict with any other law of this state, or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder, this act shall govern and control, and such other law, rule, or regulation shall be deemed superseded for the purpose of this act."

Release Void as Contrary to Public Policy.

This section together with sections 58-607 and 13-801 (2) were broad enough to render illegal any exculpatory clause or release relieving a potential tortfeasor from all liability for future negligent conduct where such clause or release was contrary to public policy or against the public interest; release relieving county fair board from any liability to livestock while on fairgrounds was illegal and unenforceable as contrary to public policy and against public interest and precluded county from disclaiming liability in negligence action for exhibitor's horses killed in barn fire on county fairgrounds; suppression of release in exhibitor's negligence action was not error or ground for new trial. *Haynes v. Where husband feloniously killed his wife, he did not acquire by right of sur-vivorship her share of property held jointly with him, but took the property under a constructive trust, and when he thereafter committed suicide his heirs had no right to wife's share. In re Cox' Estate, 141 M 583, 380 P 2d 584.

acts, trial court properly entered judgment for vendor on evidence that purchaser, prior to payment, was going to insist on performance by vendor of other acts not contained in contract, since performance of acts specified in contract would have been idle and under this section law does not require performance of idle acts. Quayle v. Counts, 155 M 57, 466 P 2d 911.

Contract of Sale

In vendor's action against subsequent bona fide purchaser to determine ownership and right to possession of an airplane, vendor was estopped to challenge sale by vendee by failing to record title document to avoid transfer tax, making no inquiry for a number of months about the plane, which he allowed vendee to have, even though the payments were due under the contract, and failing to make a diligent effort to recover the plane after the payments became due. Lakes v. Orley, 148 M 325, 420 P 2d 151, 153.

50-102. (3419) Inspections and investigations—access to mine—order to close mine or abate violation—notice—hearing and review. (a) The division is authorized at any time to cause to be made such inspections and investigations as it shall deem necessary in surface and underground mines which are subject to this act (1) for the purpose of obtaining, utilizing, and disseminating information relating to health and safety conditions in such mines, the causes of accidents involving bodily injury or loss of life, or the causes of occupational diseases originating therein, and (2) for the purpose of determining whether or not there is compliance with a health and safety standard or order issued under this act.

(b) For the purpose of making any inspection or investigation authorized by this act, authorized representatives of the division shall have the right of entry to, upon, or through any mine which is subject to this act.

(c) If, upon any inspection of a mine which is subject to this act authorized representatives of the division find that the conditions or practices in the mine are such that a danger exists which could reasonably be expected to cause death or serious physical harm immediately or before the imminence of such danger can be eliminated, such representatives shall determine the extent of the area of such mine throughout which the danger exists, and thereupon issue an order requiring the operator of such mine to cause all persons, except the persons designated below, whose presence in such area is necessary to eliminate the danger described in such order, to be withdrawn from, and to be debarred from entering such area:

(1) Any person whose presence in such area is necessary in the judgment of the operator of the mine, to eliminate the danger described in the order.

(2) Any public official whose official duties require him to enter such area.

(3) Any legal or technical consultant, or any representative of the employees of the mine, who is a person qualified to make mine examinations, or is accompanied by such a person, and whose presence in such area is necessary, in the judgment of the operator of the mine, for the proper investigation of the conditions described in the order.

(d) If, upon any such inspection or investigation, an authorized representative finds that there has been a failure to comply with a mandatory standard which is applicable to such mine, but that such failure to comply has not created a danger that could reasonably be expected to cause death or serious physical harm in such mine immediately or before the imminence of such danger can be eliminated, he shall find what would be a reasonable period of time within which such violation should be totally abated and thereupon issue a notice fixing a reasonable time for the abatement of the violation. If, upon the expiration of such period of time as originally fixed or extended, the authorized representative finds that such violation has not been totally abated, and if he also finds that such period of time should not be further extended, he shall also find the extent of the area which is affected by such violation; thereupon, the division shall make an order requiring the operator of such mine to cause all persons in such area, excepting the following persons whose presence in such area is necessary to abate the violation described in the order, to be withdrawn from, and to be debarred from entering such area:

(1) Any person whose presence in such area is necessary, in the judgment of the operator of the mine, to abate the violation described in the order.

(2) Any public official whose official duties require him to enter such area.

(3) Any legal or technical consultant, or any representative of the employees of the mine who is a person qualified to make examinations, or is accompanied by such a person, and whose presence in such area is necessary, in the judgment of the operator of the mine, for the proper investigation of the conditions described in the order.

(e) Findings and orders issued pursuant to this section shall contain a detailed description of the conditions or practices which cause and constitute a situation of imminent danger or a violation of a mandatory standard, and a description of the area of the mine throughout which persons must be withdrawn and debarred.

(f) Each finding made and notice or order issued under this section shall be given promptly to the operator of the mine to which it pertains by the person making such finding or order, and all such findings, orders, and notices shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the person making them. A notice or order issued by an authorized representative pursuant to this section may be annulled, canceled, or revised by the authorized representative, and in case of a division order, the division may annul, cancel or revise the order.

(g) The order of the duly authorized representative of the division shall remain in effect, but shall immediately be subject to review as provided in this act.

(h) An operator notified of an order made pursuant to section 50-102 (c) may apply to the division for a hearing, revision, or annulment of such order. Whenever the division after such a hearing upon complaint, or upon its own motion, finds that danger throughout the area of such mine as set out in such order existed at the time of making the inspection, it shall make an order denying a revision or annulment; but, if it finds that such danger did not exist throughout the area of such mine, it shall make an order consistent with its findings, revising or annulling the order under review.

(i) An operator notified of an order made pursuant to section 50-102 (d) may apply to the division for a hearing or revision of such order. If the division finds that there was no violation, it shall make an order annulling the order under review. If the division finds that there was such a violation, but such violation has since been abated, it shall make an order annulling the order under review. If the division finds that such violation was not totally abated, it shall make an order consistent with its findings.

(j) In view of the urgent need for prompt decisions of matters submitted to the division under section 50-102, all actions which the division or its authorized representatives are required to take under this section shall be taken as rapidly as practical, consistent with adequate consideration of the issues involved.

50-403. (3449) Qualifications of inspector. A person is not eligible to be a state coal mine inspector unless he is a citizen of the United States, a resident of this state, has been actually employed in coal mining five (5) years before his appointment, and holds a mine foreman's certificate and a mine inspector's certificate from this state.

50-404. (3450) Powers and duties of division. (1) The division may enter, inspect, and examine any coal mine or any shaft, drift, or slope in the process of sinking for the purpose of mining coal in this state, and the workings and the machinery belonging thereto, at all reasonable times, either by day or night, but not so as to impede or obstruct the workings of the mine.

(2) The division shall immediately notify the owner, lessee, superintendent, or mining boss of the discovery of any violation of the mining laws of this state, and of the penalty thereby imposed for those violations; and if the notice is disregarded, the division may stop immediately the working and operation of any mine or any part thereof where any dangerous or unlawful conditions are found. However, where conditions justify the division in so doing, it may grant a reasonable length of time for making repairs or for putting the mine in proper condition, but the number of workers employed in the mine or in the section of the mine involved shall be limited to those necessary to correct the unsafe condition. Where any stops or cessation of work are enforced, the division may thereafter allow the mine or part of a mine to be reopened when the dangerous or unlawful conditions existing there are removed or remedied so that they no longer exist.

(3) The owner, lessee, operator, superintendent, or mining boss of the mine is required to furnish the means necessary for the entry, inspection, examination, inquiry, and exit. The division shall carefully examine all the coal mines in operation in this state at least every three (3) months, and more often if necessary, to see that every precaution is taken to ensure the safety of all workers that may be engaged in the coal mine. The division shall make a record of the visit, noting the time and the material circumstances of the inspection. If the division has in its possession any complaint to the effect that this chapter is being violated, it shall notify the employer and the employees that it is about to make an inspection. The employees' representative has the right to accompany the division in making an official mine inspection. The owner or operator has the right to personally accompany the division while inspecting his property, or to designate someone to accompany the division.

50-476. Duties of other employees. (1) A person may not enter a mine generating firedamp so as to be detected by a safety lamp until the mine examiners make a report to the division.

(2) A person, unless accompanied by the mine examiner, may not go beyond a danger signal until all standing gas discovered has been removed or diluted and rendered harmless by a current of air. A person, being ordered to withdraw by the mine foreman or mine examiner from the mine on account of the interruption of the ventilation, may not re-enter the mine until given permission to do so by the mine foreman.

(3) A person other than the mine examiner may not remove any caution board or danger signal placed at the entrance to any working place, or at the entrance to any old workings in a mine.

(4) A person may not erase or change a mark of reference or monument made in connection with a measurement; change marks or dates or any caution board, or erase or change the dates at room or entry face, when made by the mine examiner, or take for his use a life check not issued to him under rules adopted by the division, or change the checks on cars, wrongfully check a car, or do any act with intent to defraud. A person may not take anything containing fire, except as provided for in rules adopted by the division, into an underground mine.

(5) A person may not place refuse in or obstruct an airway or breakthrough used as an airway. A worker or other person may not damage or alter a water gauge, barometer, air-course, brattice equipment, machinery, or livestock; obstruct or throw open any airway; handle or disturb any part of the machinery of the hoisting engine of a mine, open a door of a mine and neglect to close it; endanger the miners or those working therein; disobey an order given in pursuance of law, or do a willful act endangering the lives or health of persons working there or the security of a mine or machinery.

50-477. Notice to inspectors. Within fifteen (15) days after the close of each calendar month the operator of a coal mine shall report to the division the tons of coal produced each day during the preceding month. Immediate notice must be conveyed to the division by the operator interested:

(1) when an accident occurs whereby a person receives serious or fatal injury;

(2) when work is commenced to sink a shaft, slope or drift, either for hoisting or escape purposes;

(3) when there is intent to abandon a mine or to reopen an abandoned mine;

(4) upon the appearance of a large body of firedamp in a mine, whether accompanied by explosion or not, and upon the occurrence of a serious fire within the mine or on the surface around the mine;

(5) when the workings of a mine are approaching near an abandoned mine believed to contain accumulation of water or gas; or,

(6) upon the accidental closing or intended abandonment of a regularly established passageway to an escape outlet.

History: En. Sec. 50-477 by Sec. 20,
Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-478. Duty of division. (1) When advised by an operator of any accident in a coal mine involving loss of life or serious personal injury, the division shall, if it considers it necessary from the facts reported, and in all cases of loss of life, immediately have an inspector go to the scene of the accident within forty-eight (48) hours of notification. Every operator of a coal mine, or his agent, shall make and preserve for the information of the division, upon uniform blanks furnished by the division, a record of all injuries sustained by any employees on the premises.

(2) The division may also make any original or supplementary investigation which it considers necessary as to the nature and cause of an accident, and shall make a record of the circumstances and of the result of the investigations for its files.

(3) The inspection team shall include a division coal mine inspector, the employer or his designee, and a representative of the employees.

(4) The operator shall, upon being notified of a fatality in a coal mine, relay that information promptly to the district office of the miners' organization. The representative of the miners' organization, or some person delegated by him, may enter any coal mine for the purpose of investigating the causes of a fatal accident.

History: En. 50-478 by Sec. 21, Ch. 267,
L. 1974.

50-479. Hoisting—licensing of hoisting engineers. Hoisting of personnel and licensing of hoisting engineers shall be performed in mines under the provisions of the law and rules and standards adopted by the division.

History: En. 50-479 by Sec. 22, Ch. 267,
L. 1974.

50-480. Inspections and investigations—access to mine—order to close mine or abate violation—notice—hearing and review. The division may at any time perform such inspections and investigations as it considers necessary in surface and underground mines which are subject to this chapter for the purpose of obtaining, utilizing, and disseminating information relating to health and safety conditions in the mines, the causes of accidents involving bodily injury or loss of life, or the causes of occupational diseases originating therein, and for the purpose of determining whether there is compliance with a health and safety standard or order issued under this chapter.

History: En. 50-480 by Sec. 23, Ch. 267,
L. 1974.

50-480.1. Inspections—continued. For the purpose of making an inspection or investigation authorized by this chapter, representatives of the division may enter, upon or through, any mine which is subject to this chapter.

History: En. 50-480.1 by Sec. 24, Ch.
267, L. 1974.

50-480.2. Imminent danger elimination. If, upon an inspection of a mine the division finds that the conditions or practices in the mine are such that a danger exists which could reasonably be expected to cause death or serious physical harm immediately or before the danger can be eliminated, the division shall determine the extent of the area of the mine throughout which the danger exists, and order the operator of the mine to have all persons (except the persons designated below, whose presence in the area is necessary to eliminate the danger described in the order) withdrawn from and excluded from entering the area:

(1) a person whose presence in the area is necessary in the judgment of the operator of the mine, to eliminate the danger;

(2) a public official whose official duties require him to enter the area;

(3) a legal or technical consultant, or a representative of the employees of the mine, who is a person qualified to make mine examinations, or is accompanied by such a person, and whose presence in the area is necessary in the judgment of the operator of the mine, for the proper investigation of the conditions in the area.

History: En. 50-480.2 by Sec. 25, Ch.
267, L. 1974.

50-480.3. Inspections—standards violated—abatement. If, upon an inspection or investigation, the division finds that there has been a failure to comply with a mandatory standard which is applicable to the mine, but that the failure to comply has not created a danger that could reasonably be expected to cause death or serious physical harm in the mine immediately or before the imminence of the danger can be eliminated, it shall determine what would be a reasonable period of time within which the violation should be totally abated and issue a notice fixing a reasonable time for the abatement of the violation. If, upon the expiration of the period of time as originally fixed or extended, the division finds that the violation has not been totally abated, and if it also finds that the period of time should not be further extended, it shall also find the extent of the area which is affected by the violation. The division shall order the operator of the mine to have all persons in the area (excepting the following persons whose presence in the area is necessary to abate the violation described in the order) to be withdrawn from, and to be excluded from entering the area:

(1) a person whose presence in the area is necessary, in the judgment of the operator of the mine, to abate the violation;

(2) a public official whose official duties require him to enter the area;

(3) a legal or technical consultant, or a representative of the employees of the mine who is a person qualified to make examinations, or is accompanied by such a person, and whose presence in the area is necessary in the judgment of the operator of the mine, for the proper investigation of the conditions in the area.

History: En. 50-480.3 by Sec. 26, Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-480.4. Findings and orders. (1) Findings and orders issued under this chapter shall contain a detailed description of the conditions or practices which cause and constitute a situation of imminent danger or a violation of a mandatory standard, and a description of the area of the mine throughout which persons must be withdrawn and excluded.

(2) Each finding made and notice or order issued by the division shall be given promptly to the operator of the mine to which it pertains, and all the findings, orders, and notices shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the division inspector making them. A notice or order issued by the division under this chapter may be amended, canceled, or revised by the division.

History: En. 50-480.4 by Sec. 27, Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-480.5. Order subject to review. The order of the division shall remain in effect, but shall immediately be subject to review as provided in this chapter.

History: En. 50-480.5 by Sec. 28, Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-480.6. Application for hearing. An operator notified of an order made under section 50-480.2 may apply to the division for a hearing, revision, or amendment of the order. When the division after a hearing upon complaint, or upon its own motion, finds that danger throughout the area of the mine as set out in the order existed at the time of making the inspection, it shall make an order denying a revision, or amendment. However, if it finds that the danger did not exist throughout the area of the mine, it shall make an order consistent with its findings, revising, or amending the order under review.

History: En. 50-480.6 by Sec. 29, Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-480.7. Order—no violation—abatement. An operator notified of an order made under section 50-480.2 may apply to the division for a hearing or revision of the order. If the division finds that there was no violation, it shall make an order rescinding the order under review. If the division finds that there was a violation, but the violation has since been abated, it shall make an order rescinding the order under review. If the division finds that the violation was not totally abated, it shall make an order consistent with its findings.

History: En. 50-480.7 by Sec. 30, Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-480.8. Expeditious hearing by division. In view of the urgent need for prompt decisions of matters submitted to the division under this chapter, all actions which the division is required to take under this chapter shall be taken as rapidly as practicable, consistent with adequate consideration of the issues involved.

History: En. 50-480.8 by Sec. 31, Ch. 267, L. 1974.

50-481. Violation of the act—penalties. (1) When an operator:

(a) violates or fails or refuses to comply with an order, rule, or standard adopted under this chapter, or

(b) interferes with, hinders, or delays the division or its authorized representatives in carrying out any duties under this chapter, or

(c) refuses to admit an authorized representative of the division to a mine which is subject to this chapter, or

(d) refuses to permit the inspection or investigation of a mine, or an accident, injury, or occupational disease occurring in or connected with a mine, or

(e) refuses to furnish the division any information or report requested by the division and which may reasonably be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter; a civil action for preventive relief, including, but not limited to, an application for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other appropriate order, may be instituted by the division in the district court for the county in which the mine in question is located or in which the mine operator has its principal office.

(2) A person who knowingly:

(a) violates or fails or refuses to comply with an order, rule, or standard adopted under this chapter, or

(b) interferes with, hinders, or delays the division or its authorized representatives in carrying out any duties under this chapter, or

(c) refuses to admit an authorized representative of the division to a mine, or

(d) refuses to permit the inspection or investigation of a mine, or of an accident, injury, or occupational disease occurring in or connected with a mine, or in the county jail not exceeding six (6) months, or both. In an instance in which the offense is committed by a corporation, an officer or authorized representative of the corporation who knowingly permits the offense to be committed is subject to the same fine or imprisonment, or both.

50-482. Severability. If a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid parts remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

CHAPTER 7—LOCATION AND RECORD OF MINING AND MILLSITE CLAIMS

- Section 50-701. Discovery—notice—marking boundaries—compliance with federal law.
 50-702. Record of certificate of location.
 50-702.1. Filing of false mining claims prohibited—punishment.
 50-704. Recording of affidavit of performance of annual work.

50-701. (7365) Discovery—notice—marking boundaries—compliance with federal law. Any person who discovers upon the public domain of the United States, within the state of Montana, a vein, lode, or ledge of rock in place, bearing gold, silver, cinnabar, lead, tin, copper, or other valuable deposits, or a placer deposit of gold, or other deposit of minerals having a commercial value which is subject to entry and patent under the mining laws of the United States, may, if qualified by the laws of the United States, locate a mining claim upon such vein, lode, ledge, or deposit in the following manner, viz.:

1. * * * [Same as parent volume.]
2. Within thirty days after posting the notice of location, he shall distinctly mark the location on the ground so that its boundaries can be readily traced. It shall be prima facie evidence that the location is properly marked if the boundaries are defined by a monument at each corner or angle of the claim, consisting of any one of the following kinds: (1) A tree at least eight inches in diameter, and blazed on four sides; (2) A post at least four inches square by four feet six inches in length, set one foot in the ground, unless solid rock should occur at a less depth, in which case the post should be set upon such rock, and surrounded in all cases by a mound of earth or stone at least four feet in diameter by two feet in height. A squared stump of the requisite size, surrounded by such mound, shall be deemed the equivalent of a post and mound; (3) A stone at least six inches square by eighteen inches in length, set two-thirds of its length in the ground, with a mound of earth or stone alongside at least four feet in diameter by two feet in height; or (4) A boulder at least three feet above the natural surface of the ground on the upper side. Where other monuments, or monuments of lesser dimensions than those above described, are used, it shall be a question for the jury, or for the court where the action is tried without a jury, as to whether the location has been marked upon the ground so that its boundaries can be readily traced. Whatever monument is used, it must be marked with the name of the claim and the designation of the corner, either by number or cardinal point.

3. Within sixty (60) days after posting such notice, the locator shall comply with the United States mining laws.

History: Earlier acts were those of Feb. 11, 1876, governing location of quartz claims, appearing as Secs. 1477 and 1478, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887.

Ap. p. Sec. 3610, Pol. C. 1895; en. Sec. 1, Ch. 16, L. 1907; Sec. 2283, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 7365, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 4, Ex. L. 1971. Cal. Civ. C. Sec. 1426.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted a new subdivision 3 for the subdivision 3 appearing in the parent volume; corrected a typographical error; and made a minor change in style.

50-702. (7366) Record of certificate of location. Within sixty (60) days after posting the notice of location, the locator shall record his location in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the mining claim is situated, and within twenty (20) days thereafter the county clerk shall provide a copy thereof to the department of state lands, Helena, Montana. The record shall consist of a certificate of location for each claim containing:

1. The name of the lode or claim and whether located as a lode or placer claim.
2. The name of the locator or locators, if there be more than one, together with the post-office address of such locator or locators.
3. The date of location, and the description of the claim, with reference to some natural object or permanent monument, as will identify the claim and the section, township, and range wherein the claim is situated (by projected survey lines if located in unsurveyed country).
4. The directions and distances from the discovery point which describe the claim.

The certificate of location must be verified, before some officer authorized to administer oaths, by the locator, or one of the locators if there be more than one, or by authorized agent. In the case of a corporation, the verification may be made by any officer thereof, or by an authorized agent. When the verification is made by an agent, the fact of the agency shall be stated in the affidavit. A certificate of location so verified, or a certified copy thereof, is prima facie evidence of all facts properly recited therein. Failure of the locator or locators to record a certificate of location as herein required shall create a prima facie presumption of intent to abandon. However, recordation after the sixty (60) day period, but before the ground is located by another renews the location and saves the rights of the original locator. Nothing contained in section 50-713 affects the prima facie presumption created by this section.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted "and for the purpose of constituting constructive notice of the location" after "notice of location" in the first sentence of the introductory paragraph; added "and within twenty * * * successor agency" to the first sentence of the introductory paragraph; inserted "for each claim" in the second sentence of the introductory paragraph; added "and whether located as a lode or placer claim" to the end of subdivision 1; added "together with the post-office address of such locator or locators" to the end of subdivision 2; added "and the section * * * unsurveyed country" to the end of subdivision 3; substituted a new subdivision 4 for former subdivisions 4 and 5; deleted the designation of former subdivision 6 and made it the final paragraph; deleted the former first sentence of the present final paragraph; added the last two sentences to the final paragraph; and made a minor change in style.

The 1973 amendment deleted "and investments" following "department of state lands" near the end of the first sentence in the first paragraph; and made minor changes in style and phraseology.

Reference to Natural or Permanent Monument

Fact that location certificate did not refer to a natural or permanent monument was of no significance when contestant found a copy of the certificate at the entrance to the mine. McCarthy v. Morris, 159 M 227, 497 P 2d 97.

50-702.1. Filing of false mining claims prohibited—punishment.

Every person who shall offer any location certificate for a placer mining claim, or lode claim, or affidavit of assessment work to be filed in an office of a county clerk of this state on behalf of himself, or for any other person, or any person who shall procure others to do so, knowing that such claim, or certificate or affidavit was not preceded by a proper location of the claim physically upon the ground by the establishment of a proper notice of claim and the designation of the surface boundaries of the claim by substantial posts or monuments as required by the laws of the state shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five (5) years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 135, L. 1973.

Title of Act

An act prohibiting the filing of false mining claims; providing for a penalty; and providing for an effective date.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 135, Laws 1973 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 5, 1973.

50-704. (7368) Recording of affidavit of performance of annual work.

The owner of a lode or placer claim who performs or causes to be performed the annual work, or makes the improvements required by the laws of the United States, as permitted and defined by laws of the United States, in order to prevent the forfeiture of the claim, must, within ninety (90) days after the expiration of the federal annual assessment work period, file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such claim or claims is situated an affidavit of his own, or an affidavit of the person who performed such work or made the improvements, showing:

1. The name of the mining claim or claims;
2. The location of the claim or claims by section, township, and range (by projected survey lines if located in unsurveyed country);
3. The book and page numbers wherein the original or latest amended relocation for each claim is recorded;

4. The number of days' work done, and the character and value of the improvements placed thereon, or the verified report required by United States mining law if geological, geophysical, or geochemical work or labor is being relied upon;

5. The dates between which such work or improvements were effected;

6. At whose instance the work was done or the improvements made;

7. The actual amount paid for work and improvements, and by whom paid when the same was not done by the owner.

Annual assessment work may be performed or caused to be performed at one (1) or more points within a group of contiguous claims and may be utilized to satisfy annual assessment work requirements upon the group of contiguous claims. Said point or points of work may be performed upon a patented claim. If annual assessment work is performed or caused to be performed at one (1) or more points within a group of contiguous claims, the affidavit of performance of assessment work must be filed for the group of claims. The affidavit, in addition to requirements established by this section for affidavits of performance of assessment work, must contain a description and location of the work done upon the group at a point or points within the group, the specific names of all the claims in the group for whose benefit the work was performed, and the total cost of the work performed.

If group work is claimed for a group of claims crossing county lines, the affidavit required by this section shall be filed for recording within the required time in each of the counties in which such claims are located.

An affidavit of performance of annual assessment work must be verified, before some officer authorized to administer oaths, by the locator, or one of the locators if there be more than one, or by authorized agent. In the case of a corporation, the verification may be made by any officer thereof, or by an authorized agent. When the verification is made by an agent, the fact of the agency shall be stated in the affidavit. Such affidavits, or a certified copy thereof, are prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. The failure to file such affidavits within the period allowed therefor shall be prima facie evidence that such labor has not been performed and that the owner of the claim or claims has abandoned and surrendered same.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "as permitted and defined by laws of the United States" in the introductory paragraph; substituted "must" for "may" after "forfeiture of the claim" in the introductory paragraph; substituted "ninety (90)" for "twenty" in the introductory paragraph; substituted "expiration of the federal annual assessment work period" for "annual work" in the introductory paragraph; inserted new subdivisions 2 and 3; redesignated former subdivision 2 as subdivision 4 and added to the end "or the verified * * * relied upon"; revised and reworded former subdivision 3 and redesignated it as subdivision 5; redesignated former subdivisions 4 and 5 as subdivisions 6 and 7; added the three paragraphs after the numbered subdivisions; made the former final paragraph into the fourth sentence of the present final paragraph; and made minor changes in phraseology.

The 1973 amendment deleted "not exceeding ten (10)" following "contiguous claims" in the first and second sentences of the first paragraph following the numbered clauses.

The 1974 amendment inserted "Said point or points of work may be performed upon a patented claim" as the second sentence in the second paragraph.

Amount of Work Required

Recorded affidavit was prima facie evidence that annual assessment work was done, and it was not important how much work was done. McCarthy v. Morris, 159 M 227, 497 P 2d 97.

50-1034. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as "The Montana Strip and Underground Mine Reclamation Act."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 325, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Title of Act

An act creating "The Montana Strip Mining and Reclamation Act" and providing for the control of prospecting for and the strip mining of coal, clay, phosphate rock, and uranium; providing for permits, reclamation plan requirements, methods of operation, and penalties; providing for the termination of reclamation contracts entered into under chapter 245, Laws of Montana, 1967; repealing sections 50-1018 through 50-1033, R. C. M. 1947; and providing an effective date.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment substituted the present title for "The Montana Strip Mining and Reclamation Act."

50-1035. Policy of state—findings. It being the declared policy of this state and its people —to maintain and improve the state's clean and healthful environment for present and future generations, —to protect its environmental life-support system from degradation, —to prevent unreasonable degradation of its natural resources, —to restore, enhance, and preserve its scenic, historic, archeologic, scientific, cultural, and recreational sites, —to demand effective reclamation of all lands disturbed by the taking of natural resources, and —to require the legislature to provide for proper administration and enforcement, create adequate remedies, and set effective requirements and standards (especially as to reclamation of disturbed lands) in order to achieve the aforementioned objectives, the legislature hereby finds and declares:

(1) That, in order to achieve the aforementioned policy objectives, promote the health and welfare of the people, control erosion and pollution, protect domestic stock and wildlife, preserve agricultural and recreational productivity, save cultural, historic, and aesthetic values, and assure a long-range dependable tax base, it is reasonably necessary to require, after the effective date of this act, that all strip mining and underground mining operations be limited to those for which annual permits are granted, that no permit be issued until the operator presents a comprehensive plan for reclamation and restoration, together with an adequate performance bond, and the plan is approved, that certain other things must be done, that certain remedies are available, and that certain lands because of their unique or unusual characteristics may not be strip mined or underground mined under any circumstances, all as more particularly appears in the remaining provisions of this act.

(2) That this act be deemed to be an exercise of the authority granted in the Montana constitution, as adopted June 6, 1972, and in particular, a response to the mandate expressed in article IX thereof, and also be deemed to be an exercise of the general police power to provide for the health and welfare of the people.

Each set shall depict subsurface conditions at five hundred (500) foot intervals across the surface and shall run at a ninety (90) degree angle to the other set unless the department determines that closer intervals are required. Each cross-section shall depict the thickness and geological character of all known strata beginning with the top soil; in addition, each application for an underground mining permit shall be accompanied by cross-sections and maps showing the proposed underground locations of all shafts, entries, and haulageways or other excavations to be excavated during the permit year. These cross-sections shall also include all existing shafts, entries and haulageways;

(1) be certified as follows: "I, the undersigned, hereby certify that this map is correct, and shows to the best of my knowledge and belief all the information required by the mining laws of this state." The certification shall be signed and notarized. The department may reject a map as incomplete if its accuracy is not so attested;

The operator shall file with the department a bond payable to the state of Montana with surety satisfactory to the department in the penal sum to be determined by the board (on the recommendation of the commissioner) of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) for each acre or fraction thereof of the area of land affected, with a minimum bond of two thousand dollars ($2,000), conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this act and of the rules of the board. A political subdivision or agency of the state need not file a bond unless required to do so by the board. The board may require the filing of the bond prior to permit issuance or at any time thereafter.

In determining the amount of the bond within the above limits, the board shall take into consideration the character and nature of the overburden, the future suitable use of the land involved and the cost of backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, subsidence stabilization, water control, topsoiling, and reclamation to be required; but in no event shall the bond be less than the total estimated cost to the state of completing the work described in the reclamation plan.

In those instances in which the surface owner is not the owner of the mineral estate proposed to be mined by strip mining operations, the application for a permit shall include the written consent, or a waiver by, the owner or owners of the surface lands involved to enter and commence strip mining operations on such land, except that nothing in this section applies when the mineral estate is owned by the federal government in fee or in trust for an Indian tribe.

History: En. 50-1039.1 by Sec. 2, Ch. 538, L. 1975.

Title of Act

An act to require prior to issuance of a strip mining permit, the written consent of the owner of a surface estate overlying the mineral estate to be mined when such owner does not own the mineral estate; amending section 50-1036, R. C. M. 1947.

50-1040. Increase or reduction in area—application—fee—bond. The department may increase or reduce the area of land affected by an operation under a permit on application by an operator, but an increase may not extend the period for which an original permit was issued. An operator may, at any time within one (1) year from the date of issuance of the permit, apply to the department for an amendment of the permit so as to increase or reduce the acreage affected by it. The operator shall file an application and map in the same form and with the same content as required for an original application under this act and shall pay an application fee of fifty dollars ($50) and shall file with the department a supplemental bond in the amount to be determined under section 6 [50-1039] for each acre or fraction of an acre of the increase approved. If the department approves a reduction in the acreage covered by the original or supplemental permit, it shall release the bond for each acre reduced, but in no case shall the bond be reduced below two thousand dollars ($2,000), except as provided in subsection (5) of section 6 [50-1039].

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1041. Prospecting permit—application—contents—reclamation plan—fee—bond. (1) On and after the effective date of this act prospecting by any person on land not included in a valid strip mining or underground mining permit shall be unlawful without possessing a valid prospecting permit issued by the department as provided in this section. No prospecting permit shall be issued until the operator submits an application, the application is examined, amended if necessary, and approved by the department, and adequate reclamation performance bond is posted, all of which prerequisites must be done in conformity with the requirements of this act.

(2) An application for a prospecting permit shall be made in writing, notarized, and submitted to the department in duplicate upon forms prepared and furnished by it. The application shall include among other things, a prospecting map and a prospecting reclamation plan of substantially the same character as required for a surface mining or underground mining map and reclamation plan under this act. The department shall determine, by rules and regulations, the precise nature of such required prospecting map and reclamation plan. Any operator who intends to prospect by means of core drilling shall specify the location and number of holes to be drilled, methods to be used in sealing aquifers, and such other information as may be required by the department. The applicant must state what types of prospecting and excavating techniques will be employed on the affected land. The application shall also include any other or further information the department may require.

(3) The application shall be accompanied by a fee of one hundred dollars ($100). This fee shall be used as a credit toward the strip mining or underground mining permit fee provided by this act if the area covered by the prospecting permit becomes covered by a valid surface mining or underground mining permit obtained before or at the time the prospecting permit expires.

(4) Before the department gives final approval to the prospecting permit application, the applicant shall file with the department a reclamation and revegetation bond in a form and in an amount as determined in the same manner for strip mining or underground mining reclamation and revegetation bonds under this act.

(5) In the event that the holder of a prospecting permit desires to strip mine or underground mine the area covered by the prospecting permit, and has fulfilled all the requirements for a strip mining or underground mining permit, the department may permit the postponement of the reclamation of the acreage prospected if that acreage is incorporated into the complete reclamation plan submitted with the application for a strip mining or underground mining permit. Any land actually affected by prospecting or excavating under a prospecting permit and not covered by the strip mining or underground mining reclamation plan shall be promptly reclaimed.

(6) The prospecting permit shall be valid for one (1) year, and shall be subject to renewal, suspension, and revocation in the same manner as strip mining or underground mining permits under this act.

(7) The holder of the prospecting permit shall file with the department the same progress reports, maps, and revegetation progress reports, as are required of strip mining or underground mining operators under this act.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 325, L. 1973;
amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment inserted "or underground mining" after references to strip mining or surface mining throughout the section.

Compiler's Notes

Chapter 325, Laws of 1973, became effective March 16, 1973.

50-1042. Refusal of permit—grounds. (1) An application for a prospecting, strip mining or underground mining permit shall not be approved by the department if there is found on the basis of the information set forth in the application, an on-site inspection, and an evaluation of the operation by the department that the requirements of the act or rules will not be observed or that the proposed method of operation, backfilling, grading, subsidence stabilization, water control, highwall reduction, topsoiling, revegetation, or reclamation of the affected area cannot be carried out consistent with the purpose of this act.

(2) The department shall not approve the application for a prospecting, strip mining or underground mining permit where the area of land described in the application includes land having special, exceptional, critical, or unique characteristics, or that mining or prospecting on that area would adversely affect the use, enjoyment, or fundamental character of neighboring land having special, exceptional, critical, or unique characteristics. For the purposes of this act, land is defined as having such characteristics if it possesses special, exceptional, critical or unique:

(a) biological productivity, the loss of which would jeopardize certain species of wildlife or domestic stock; or

(b) ecological fragility, in the sense that the land, once adversely affected, could not return to its former ecological role in the reasonable foreseeable future; or

(c) ecological importance, in the sense that the particular land has such a strong influence on the total ecosystem of which it is a part that even temporary effects felt by it could precipitate a system-wide reaction of unpredictable scope or dimensions; or

(d) scenic, historic, archeologic, topographic, geologic, ethnologic, scientific, cultural, or recreational significance. In applying this subsection, particular attention should be paid to the inadequate preservation previously accorded Plains Indian history and culture.

(3) If the department finds that the overburden on any part of the area of land described in the application for a prospecting, strip mining or underground mining permit is such that experience in the state with a similar type of operation upon land with similar overburden shows that substantial deposition of sediment in streambeds, subsidence, landslides, or water pollution cannot feasibly be prevented, the department shall delete that part of the land described in the application upon which the overburden exists.

(4) If the department finds that the operation will constitute a hazard to a dwelling house, public building, school, church, cemetery, commercial or institutional building, public road, stream, lake, or other public property, the department shall delete those areas from the prospecting, strip mining or underground mining permit application before it can be approved.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 325, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment inserted "or underground mining" after references to strip mining throughout the section; inserted "subsidence stabilization, water control" before "highwall reduction" in subsection (1); inserted "subsidence" before "landslides, or water pollution" in subsection (3); and made minor changes in punctuation and phraseology.

50-1043. Reclamation operations—submission and action on plan. (1) As rapidly, completely, and effectively as the most modern technology and the most advanced state of the art will allow, each operator granted a permit under this act, shall reclaim and revegetate the land affected by his operation, except that underground tunnels, shafts, or other subsurface excavations need not be revegetated. Under the provisions of this act and rules adopted by the board, an operator shall prepare and carry out a method of operation, plan of grading, backfilling, highwall reduction, subsidence stabilization, water control, topsoiling and a reclamation plan for the area of land affected by his operation. In developing a method of operation, and plans of backfilling, subsidence stabilization, water control, grading, highwall reduction, topsoiling and reclamation, all measures shall be taken to eliminate damages to landowners and members of the public, their real and personal property, public roads, streams and all other public property from soil erosion, subsidence, landslides, water pollution, and hazards dangerous to life and property. The reclamation plan shall set forth in detail the manner in which the applicant intends to comply with this section and sections 50-1044, 50-1045 and 50-1046. The plan shall be submitted to the department and the department shall notify the applicant by registered mail within one hundred twenty (120) days after receipt of the plan and complete application if it is or is not acceptable. The department may extend the one hundred twenty (120) days an additional one hundred twenty (120) days upon notification of the operator in writing. If the plan is not acceptable, the department shall set forth the reasons why the plan is not acceptable and it may propose modifications, delete areas, or reject the entire plan. A landowner, operator, or any person aggrieved by the decision of the department may, by written notice, request a hearing by the board. The board shall notify the person by registered mail within twenty (20) days after the hearing of its decision. Every reclamation plan shall be subject to annual review and modification.

(2) In addition to the method of operation, grading, backfilling, subsidence stabilization, water control, highwall reduction, topsoiling and reclamation requirements of this act and rules adopted under this act, the operator, consistent with the directives of subsection (1) of this section shall:

(a) bury under adequate fill all toxic materials, shale, mineral, or any other material determined by the department to be acid producing, toxic, undesirable, or creating a hazard;

(b) seal off, as directed by rules, tunnels, shafts, or other openings or any breakthrough of water creating a hazard;

(c) impound, drain, or treat all runoff or underground mine waters so as to reduce soil erosion, damage to grazing and agricultural lands, and pollution of surface and subsurface waters;

(d) remove or bury all metal, lumber, and other refuse resulting from the operation;

(e) use explosives in connection with the operation only in accordance with department regulations designed to minimize noise, damage to adjacent lands and water pollution, ensure public safety, and for other purposes;

(f) adopt measures to prevent land subsidence unless the board approves a plan for inducing subsidence into an abandoned operation in a predictable and controlled manner with measures for grading, topsoiling, and revegetating the subsided land surface. In order for a controlled plan to be approved the applicant must show that subsidence will not cause a direct or indirect hazard to any public or private buildings, roads, facilities, or use areas; constitute a hazard to human life or health; constitute a hazard to domestic livestock or to a viable agricultural operation; or any other restrictions the board may consider necessary;

(g) stockpile and protect from erosion all mining and processing wastes until such wastes can be disposed of according to the provisions of this act;

(h) deposit as much stockpiled waste material as possible back into the mine voids upon abandonment in such manner as to prevent or minimize land subsidence. The remaining waste material shall be disposed of as provided by this act and the rules of the board;

(i) seal all portals, entryways, drifts, shafts or other openings between the surface and underground mine workings upon abandonment.

(3) An operator may not throw, dump, pile or permit the dumping, piling, or throwing or otherwise placing any overburden, stones, rocks, mineral, earth, soil, dirt, debris, trees, wood, logs or any other materials or substances of any kind or nature beyond or outside of the area of land which is under permit and for which a bond has been posted under section 50-1039, or place the materials described in this section in such a way that normal erosion or slides brought about by natural physical causes will permit the materials to go beyond or outside of the area of land which is under permit and for which a bond has been posted under section 50-1039.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 325, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 22, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment added the exception for subsurface excavations at the end of the first sentence; inserted "subsidence stabilization, water control" in subsections

(1) and (2); inserted "subsidence" before "landslides" in the third sentence of subsection (1); inserted "tunnels, shafts, or other openings" in subdivision (2)(b); inserted "or underground mine" after "runoff" in subdivision (2)(c); added subdivisions (2)(f) to (i); and made minor changes in style and phraseology.

50-1044. Area mining required—grading and revegetation—release of bond—alternative plan. (1) Area strip mining, a method of operation which does not produce a bench or fill bench, is required where strip mining is proposed. All highwalls must be reduced and the steepest slope of the reduced highwall shall be no greater than twenty (20) degrees from the horizontal. Highwall reduction shall be commenced at or beyond the top of the highwall and sloped to the graded spoil bank. Reduction, backfilling, and grading shall eliminate all highwalls and spoil peaks. The area of land affected shall be restored to the approximate original contour of the land. When directed by the department, the operator shall construct in the final grading, such diversion ditches, depressions, or terraces as will accumulate or control the water runoff. Additional restoration work may be required by the department according to rules adopted by the board.

(2) In addition to the backfilling and grading requirements, the operator's method of operation on steep slopes may be regulated and controlled according to rules adopted by the board. These rules may require any measure whatsoever to accomplish the purpose of this act.

(3) All available topsoil shall be removed in a separate layer, guarded from erosion and pollution, kept in such a condition that it can sustain vegetation of at least the quality and variety it sustained prior to removal, and returned as the top layer after the operation has been backfilled and graded; provided that the operator shall accord substantially the same treatment to any subsurface deposit of material that is capable, as determined by the department, of supporting surface vegetation virtually as well as the present topsoil.

(4) As determined by rules of the board, time limits shall be established requiring backfilling, grading, subsidence stabilization, water control, highwall reduction, topsoiling, planting, and revegetation to be kept current. All backfilling, subsidence stabilization, sealing, grading, and topsoiling shall be completed before necessary equipment is moved from the operation.

(5) When the backfilling, grading, subsidence stabilization, water controls, and topsoiling have been completed and approved by the department, the commissioner may release so much of the bond which was filed for that portion of the operation as the commissioner may determine, provided that no less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre shall be retained by the department until such time as the planting and revegetation is done according to law and approved by the department, at which time the commissioner shall release the bond in the remaining amount.

(6) An operator may propose alternative plans other than backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, or topsoiling if the restoration will be consistent with the purpose of this act. These plans shall be submitted to the department, and, after consultation with the landowner, if the plans are approved by the board and complied with within the time limits as may be determined by the board as being reasonable for carrying out the plans, the backfilling, grading, highwall reduction, or topsoiling requirements of this act may be modified by the board. An operator who proposes alternative plans that will affect an existing permit shall comply with the notice requirement of section 50-1039 (2) (k).

Amendments

The 1975 amendment added "where strip mining is proposed" at the end of the first sentence; inserted "subsidence stabilization, water control" after "grading" in subdivision (4); inserted "subsidence stabilization, sealing" after "backfilling" in subdivision (4); inserted "subsidence stabilization, water control" after "grading" in subsection (5); and made minor changes in style and punctuation.

50-1045. Planting of vegetation following grading of disturbed area.

(1) After the operation has been backfilled, graded, topsoiled, and approved by the department, the operator shall prepare the soil and plant such legumes, grasses, shrubs, and trees upon the area of land affected as are necessary to provide a suitable permanent diverse vegetative cover capable of:

(a) feeding and withstanding grazing pressure from a quantity and mixture of wildlife and livestock at least comparable to that which the land could have sustained prior to the operation;

(b) regenerating under the natural conditions prevailing at the site, including occasional drought, heavy snowfalls, and strong winds; and

(c) preventing soil erosion to the extent achieved prior to the operation.

The seed or plant mixtures, quantities, method of planting, type and amount of lime or fertilizer, mulching, irrigation, fencing, and any other measures necessary to provide a suitable permanent diverse vegetative cover shall be defined by rules of the board.

(2) All underground shafts, tunnels, or other excavations are excluded from the provisions of subsection (1) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 325, L. 1973;
amd. Sec. 24, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment inserted the subsection (1) designation; and added subsection (2).

50-1046. Time of commencement of reclamation. The operator shall commence the reclamation of the area of land affected by his operation as soon as possible after the beginning of strip mining or underground mining of that area in accordance with plans previously approved by the department. Those grading, backfilling, subsidence stabilization, topsoiling, and water management practices that are approved in the plans shall be kept current with the operation as defined by rules of the board and a permit or supplement to a permit may not be issued, if in the discretion of the department, these practices are not current.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 325, L. 1973;
amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

50-1047. Planting report—inspection and release of bond. (1) At least sixty (60) days prior to the date of each permit expiration, the operator shall file a planting report with the department on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the department, giving the following information:

- (a) identification of the operation;
- (b) the type of planting or seeding, including mixtures and amounts;
- (c) the date of planting or seeding;
- (d) the area of land planted;
- (e) any other relevant information the department requires.

(2) All planting reports shall be certified by the operator.

(3) Inspection and evaluation for permanent diverse vegetative cover shall be made as soon as it is possible to determine if a satisfactory stand has been established. If the department determines that a satisfactory permanent diverse vegetative cover has been established, it shall release the remaining bond held on the area reclaimed after public notice and an opportunity for a hearing; but in no event shall such remaining bond be released prior to a period of five (5) years from the initial planting provided for in section 12 [50-1045] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1048. Vegetation planted as property of landowner. All legumes, grasses, shrubs, and trees which are planted or seeded on the area of land affected as required by this act or rules adopted under this act, become the property of the landowner, after complete release of the bond, unless the operator and the landowner agree otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1049. Annual report of reclamation work—map. Within sixty (60) days after each date of expiration of a permit, the operator shall annually file with the department a report stating the exact number of acres of land affected by the operation, the extent of the reclamation already accomplished by him, and any other information required by the rules of the department and the board. The report shall be accompanied by a copy of the map filed with the original application which shall show any revisions made necessary by results of the operation.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1050. Notice of noncompliance—suspension of permits—conditions required for reinstatement of permits. (1) If any of the requirements of this act or rules or orders of the department and the board have not been complied with within the time limits set by the department or the board or by this act, the department shall serve a notice of noncompliance on the operator, or where found necessary, the commissioner shall order the suspension of a permit. The notice or order shall be handed to the operator in person or served by registered mail addressed to the permanent address shown on the application for a permit. The notice of noncompliance or order of suspension shall specify in what respects the operator has failed to comply with this act or the rules or orders of the department and the board. If the operator has not complied with the requirement set forth in the notice of noncompliance or order of suspension within time limits set therein, the permit may be revoked by order of the board and the performance bond forfeited to the department.

(2) Any additional permits held by an operator whose mining permit has been revoked shall be suspended and the operator is not eligible to receive another permit or to have the suspended permits reinstated until he has complied with all the requirements of this act in respect to former permits issued him. An operator who has forfeited a bond is not eligible to receive another permit unless the land for which the bond was forfeited has been reclaimed without cost to the state, or the operator has paid into the reclamation account a sum together with the value of the bond, the board finds adequate to reclaim the lands. The department may not issue any additional permits to an operator who has repeatedly been in non-compliance or violation of this act.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1051. Successive operators. Where one operator succeeds another at an uncompleted operation, either by sale, assignment, lease, or otherwise, the department may release the first operator from all liability under this act as to that particular operation if both operators have been issued a permit and have otherwise complied with the requirements of this act, and the successor operator assumes as part of his obligation under this act, all liability for the reclamation of the area of land affected by the former operator.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1052. Receipts paid into special fund—use of fund. (1) All fees, forfeit funds, and other moneys available or paid to the department under the provisions of this act shall be placed in the state treasury and credited to a special agency account to be designated as the mining and reclamation fund. This fund shall be available to the department by appropriation and shall be expended for the administration and enforcement of this act and for the reclamation and revegetation of land and the rehabilitation of water affected by any mining operations. Any unencumbered and any unexpended balance of this fund remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall not lapse but shall be carried forward for the purposes of this act until expended or until appropriated by subsequent legislative action.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 325, L. 1973;
amd. Sec. 26, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Compiler's Notes

The 1975 amendment included the subsection designation (1) at the beginning of this section, but there are no other subsections.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment deleted "strip" before "mining and reclamation fund" near the end of the first sentence; and made a minor change in style.

50-1053. Funds received by board—reclamation work by board—rehabilitation of unreclaimed lands. (1) The board may receive any federal funds, state funds, or any other funds for the reclamation of land affected by strip mining or underground mining. The board may have reclamation work done by its own employees or by employees of other governmental agencies, soil conservation districts, or through contracts with qualified persons.

(2) Any funds or any public works programs available to the board shall be used and expended to reclaim and rehabilitate lands that have been subjected to strip mining or underground mining that have not been reclaimed and rehabilitated in accordance with the standards of this act.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 325, L. 1973;
amd. Sec. 27, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment added "or underground mining" after "strip mining" in subsections (1) and (2).

50-1054. Reclamation of lands after bond forfeited. The board may reclaim, in keeping with the provisions of this act, any affected lands with respect to which a bond has been forfeited and to use moneys appropriated from the mining and reclamation fund for such purposes.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 325, L. 1973;
amd. Sec. 28, Ch. 441, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment deleted "strip" before "mining and reclamation fund."

50-1055. Mandamus to compel enforcement of law—action for damage to water supply—damage from surface water—other remedies. (1) A resident of this state, with knowledge that a requirement of this act or a rule adopted under this act, is not being enforced by a public officer or employee whose duty it is to enforce the requirement or rule may bring the failure to enforce to the attention of the public officer or employee by a written statement under oath that shall state the specific facts of the failure to enforce the requirement or rule. Knowingly making false statements or charges in the affidavit subjects the affiant to penalties prescribed under the law of perjury.

(2) If the public officer or employee neglects or refuses for an unreasonable time after receipt of the statement to enforce the requirement or rule, the resident may bring an action of mandamus in the district court of the first judicial district of this state, in and for the county of Lewis and Clark, or in the district court of the county in which the land is located. The court, if it finds that a requirement of this act or a rule adopted under this act, is not being enforced shall order the public officer or employee, whose duty it is to enforce the requirement or rule, to perform his duties. If he fails to do so, the public officer or employee shall be held in contempt of court and is subject to the penalties provided by law.

(3) An owner of an interest in real property who obtains all or part of his supply of water for domestic, agricultural, industrial, or other legitimate use from an underground source other than a subterranean stream having a permanent, distinct, and known channel, may sue an operator to recover damages for contamination, diminution, or interruption of the water supply, proximately resulting from strip mining or underground mining.

(a) Prima facie evidence of injury in a suit under this subsection is established by the removal of coal or disruption of overlying aquifer from designated "ground water areas" as prescribed in Title 89, chapter 29. If the area is not a designated "ground water area," a showing that the coal or overlying strata is an aquifer in that geographical location and that the coal or the overlying strata has been removed or disrupted shifts the burden to defendant (operator) to show that plaintiff's (owner's) water supply was not injured thereby.

(b) An owner of water rights adversely affected may file a complaint, detailing the loss in quality and quantity of his water, with the department. Upon receipt of this complaint the department shall:

(i) investigate the complaint using all available information including monitoring data gathered at the mine site;

(ii) require the defendant (operator) to install such monitoring wells or other practices that may be needed to determine the cause of water loss, if there is a loss, in terms of quantity or quality;

(iii) issue, within ninety (90) days, a written finding specifying the cause of the water loss, if there is a loss, in terms of quantity or quality;

(iv) order the mining operator in compliance with the Water Use Act to replace the water immediately on a temporary basis to provide the needed water and within a reasonable time replace the water in like quality, quantity, and duration, if the loss is caused by the surface coal mining operation; and

(v) order the suspension of the operator's permit, for failure to replace the water, until such time as the operator provides substitute water.

(4) A servient tract of land is not bound to receive water contaminated by strip mining or underground mining on a dominant tract of land, and the owner of the servient tract may sue an operator to recover the damages proximately resulting from the natural drainage from the dominant tract of waters contaminated by strip mining or underground mining on the dominant tract.

(5) This section does not create, modify, or affect any right, liability, or remedy other than as expressly provided in this section.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 295 and once by Ch. 441. Neither amendatory act mentioned or included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 295, Laws of 1975, added subdivisions (3)(a) and (b).

Chapter 441, Laws of 1975, inserted the references to "underground mining" in subsections (3) and (4); and deleted "surface" before "water" and "waters" in subsection (4).

50-1056. Violation—civil penalty—injunction—misdemeanor. (1) A person or operator who violates any of the provisions of this act or rules or orders adopted under this act shall pay a civil penalty of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for the violation, and an additional civil penalty of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each day during which a violation continues, and may be enjoined from continuing such violations as hereinafter provided in this section. These penalties shall be recoverable in any action brought in the name of the state of Montana by the attorney general in the district court of the first judicial district of this state, in and for the county of Lewis and Clark, or in the district court having jurisdiction of the defendant.

(2) The attorney general shall, upon the request of the commissioner, sue for the recovery of the penalties provided in this section for, and bring an action for a restraining order, temporary or permanent injunction, against an operator or other person violating or threatening to violate an order adopted under this act.

(3) A person who willfully violates any of the provisions of this act, or any determination or order adopted under this act which has become final is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). Each day on which a violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

50-1057. Procedure for hearings and appeals. All hearings and appeal procedures shall be in accordance with sections 82-4209 through 82-4217.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 325, L. 1973.

Separability Clause

Section 25 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 read "If a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications."

Repealing Clause

Section 26 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 read

"Sections 50-1018 through 50-1033, R. C. M. 1947, are repealed."

Temporary Provisions

Section 27 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 read "Every operator shall within ninety (90) days after the effective date of this act file with the department an application for a permit."

Section 28 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 read "Ninety (90) days after the effective date of this act, the state shall proceed to cancel, according to their terms, all existing contracts entered into pursuant to chapter 245, Laws of Montana, 1967. If the contract does not provide according to its terms, for the cancellation, it shall be terminated and void within two hundred seventy (270) days from the effective date of this act."

Effective Date

Section 29 of Ch. 325, Laws 1973 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 16, 1973.

CHAPTER 11—DREDGE MINING—PRESERVATION OF LANDS

(Repealed—Section 116, Chapter 428, Laws of 1973)

50-1101 to 50-1114. Repealed.

Repeal

Sections 50-1101 to 50-1114 (Secs. 1 to 14, Ch. 123, L. 1969), relating to dredge mining and preservation of lands, were repealed by Sec. 116, Ch. 428, Laws 1973.

Unconstitutionality

This act is repugnant to section 23, article V of the 1889 constitution, in that it purports to regulate sluice washing without mentioning that process in its title; and it violates the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution in that it exempts open pit mining, strip coal mining and certain other types of operations without valid reason for a distinction. Sigety v. State Board of Health, 157 M 48, 482 P 2d 574, distinguished in 158 M 197, 205, 490 P 2d 221, 226.

50-1201. Legislative observations and finding. The extraction of mineral by mining is a basic and essential activity making an important contribution to the economy of the state and the nation. At the same time, proper reclamation of mined land and former exploration areas not brought to mining stage is necessary to prevent undesirable land and surface water conditions detrimental to the general welfare, health, safety, ecology, and property rights of the citizens of the state. Mining and exploration for minerals takes place in diverse areas where geological, topographical, climatic, biological and sociological conditions are significantly different, and reclamation specifications must vary accordingly. It is not practical to extract minerals or explore for minerals required by our society without disturbing the surface or subsurface of the earth and without producing waste materials, and the very character of many types of mining operations precludes complete restoration of the land to its original condition. The legislature finds that land reclamation as provided in this act will allow exploration for and mining of valuable minerals while adequately providing for the subsequent beneficial use of the lands to be reclaimed.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act requiring the licensing of persons engaged in mining exploration and related activities; requiring permits for the conduct of development, mining and related activities; providing for the reclamation of explored, developed, and mined land; providing for the administration and enforcement of said act by the board of state lands and investments; and providing for an appeal procedure; and providing an effective date.

50-1202. Purposes of act. The purposes of this act are to provide: (i) that the usefulness, productivity and scenic values of all lands and surface waters involved in mining and mining exploration within the boundaries and lawful jurisdiction of the state will receive the greatest reasonable degree of protection and reclamation to beneficial use; (ii) authority for co-operation between private and governmental entities in carrying this act into effect; (iii) for the recognition of the recreational and aesthetic values of land as a benefit to the state of Montana; and (iv) priorities and values to the aesthetics of our landscape, waters and ground cover. Although both the need for and the practicability of reclamation will control the type and degree of reclamation in any specific instance, the basic objective will be to establish, on a continuing basis, the vegetative cover, soil stability, water condition and safety condition appropriate to any proposed subsequent use of the area.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1203. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context indicates otherwise: (1) "Surface mining" shall mean and include all or any part of the process involved in mining of minerals by removing the overburden and mining directly from the mineral deposits thereby exposed, including, but not limited to, open-pit mining of minerals naturally exposed at the surface of the earth, mining by the auger method, and any and all similar methods by which earth or minerals exposed at the surface are removed in the course of mining. Surface mining shall not include the extraction of oil, gas, bentonite, clay, coal, sand, gravel, phosphate rock, or uranium nor excavation or grading conducted for on-site farming, on-site road construction, or other on-site building construction.

(2) "Unit of surface mined area" shall mean and include that area of land and surface water included within an operating permit actually disturbed by surface mining during each twelve-month period of time, beginning at the date of the issuance of the permit, and shall comprise and include the area from which overburden and/or minerals have been removed, the area covered by mining debris, and all additional areas used in surface mining or underground mining operations which, by virtue of such use, are thereafter susceptible to erosion in excess of the surrounding undisturbed portions of land.

(3) "Disturbed land" shall mean and include that area of land or surface water disturbed, beginning at the date of the issuance of the permit, and shall comprise that area from which the overburden, and/or minerals have been removed; tailings ponds, waste dumps, roads, conveyor systems, leach dumps, and all similar excavations or covering resulting from said operation and which has not been previously reclaimed under the reclamation plan.

(4) "Abandonment of surface or underground mining" may be presumed when it is shown that continued operation will not resume.

(5) "Underground mining" shall mean and include all methods of mining other than surface mining.

(6) "Person" shall mean and include any person, corporation, firm, association, partnership or other legal entity engaged in exploration for or development or mining of minerals on or below the surface of the earth.

(7) "Mineral" shall mean and include any ore, rock or substance, other than oil, gas, bentonite, clay, coal, sand, gravel, phosphate rock or uranium, taken from below the surface or from the surface of the earth for the purpose of milling, concentration, refinement, smelting, manufacturing, or other subsequent use or processing or for stockpiling for future usage, refinement or smelting.

(8) "Exploration" shall mean and include all activities conducted on or beneath the surface of lands resulting in material disturbance of the surface for the purpose of determining the presence, location, extent, depth, grade, and economic viability of mineralization in those lands, if any, other than mining for production and economic exploitation, as well as all roads made for the purpose of facilitating exploration, except as noted in section 20 [50-1220] and section 24 [50-1224] herein.

(9) "Development" shall mean and include all operations between exploration and mining.

(10) "Mining" shall be deemed to have commenced at such time as the operator shall first mine ores or minerals in commercial quantities for sale, beneficiation, refining, or other processing or disposition or shall first take bulk samples for metallurgical testing in excess of aggregate of ten thousand (10,000) short tons.

(11) "Reclamation plan" shall mean and include the operator's written proposal, as required and approved by the board for reclamation of the land that will be disturbed, which proposal shall include to the extent practical at the time of application for a developing or operating permit:

(a) a statement of the proposed subsequent use of the land after reclamation;

(b) Plans for surface gradient restoration to a surface suitable for the proposed subsequent use of the land after reclamation is completed, and proposed method of accomplishment;

(c) Manner and type of revegetation or other surface treatment of disturbed areas;

(d) Procedures proposed to avoid foreseeable situations of public nuisance, endangerment of public safety, damage to human life or property, or unnecessary damage to flora and fauna in or adjacent to the area;

(e) Method of disposal of mining debris;

(f) Method of diverting surface waters around the disturbed areas where necessary to prevent pollution of such waters or unnecessary erosion;

(g) Method of reclamation of stream channels and stream banks to control erosion, siltation, and pollution;

(h) Such maps and other supporting documents as may be reasonably required by the department;

(i) A time schedule for reclamation that meets the requirements of section 9 [50-1209] of this act.

(12) "Vegetative cover" as used in this act shall mean the type of vegetation, grass, shrubs, trees, or any other form of natural cover deemed suitable at time of reclamation.

(13) "Board" shall mean the board of land commissioners, or such state employee or state agency as may succeed to its powers and duties under this act.

(14) "Department" shall mean the department of state lands.

(15) "Small miner" shall mean any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of mining who does not remove from the earth during any twenty-four (24) hour period material in excess of one hundred (100) tons in the aggregate.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 252, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "director" in subdivision

(11)(h); substituted "board of land commissioners" for "Board of State Lands and Investments" in subdivision (13); and substituted the definition of "Department" for definitions of "Director" and "administrator" in subdivision (14).

50-1204. Administration—rules and regulations—employment of supervisors. The board is charged with the responsibility of administering this act. In order to implement its terms and provisions, the board shall from time to time promulgate such rules and regulations as the board shall deem necessary. The board may delegate such powers, duties and functions to the department as it deems necessary for the performance of its duties as administrator of this act. The board shall employ experienced, qualified persons in the field of mined land reclamation, who for the purpose of this act, are hereinafter referred to as supervisors.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 252, L. 1971; Amendments
amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

The 1974 amendment substituted "the department" in the third sentence for "its director and staff members."

50-1205. Investigations, research and experiments in reclamation. The board shall have the authority to conduct or authorize investigations, research, experiments and demonstrations in reclamation and to collect and disseminate nonconfidential information relating to mining.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1206. Co-operation with other agencies—receipt and expenditure of funds. The board shall co-operate with other governmental and private agencies in this state and other states and agencies of the federal government, and may reasonably compensate them for any services the board requests that they provide. The board may receive federal funds, state funds, and any other funds and, within the limits imposed by the grant, expend them for reclamation of land affected by mining or exploration and for purposes enumerated in section 9 [50-1209] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1207. Exploration license and development permit—duration and renewal—requirements. (1) Effective sixty (60) days after the date on which the board shall first promulgate its regulations as authorized by section 4 [50-1204] of this act, no person shall engage in exploration or development in the state without first obtaining an exploration license or development permit from the board to do so, such license or permit to be issued for a period of one (1) year from date of issue and to be renewable from year to year on application therefor filed at any time within the thirty (30) days next preceding the expiration of the current license or permit and payment of like fee as required for a new license or permit; provided that the applicant for renewal is not then held by the board to be in violation of any provision of this law. Such license or permit shall be subject to suspension and revocation as provided by this act.

(2) An exploration license shall be issued to any applicant therefor who shall: (i) pay a fee of five dollars ($5) to the board; (ii) agree to reclaim any surface area damaged by the applicant during exploration operations, all as may be reasonably required by the board, (iii) not be in default of any other reclamation obligation under this law.

(a) An application for an exploration license shall be made in writing, notarized and submitted to the department in duplicate upon forms prepared and furnished by it. The application shall include an exploration map or sketch in sufficient detail to locate the area to be explored and to determine whether significant environmental problems would be encountered. The department shall, by rules and regulations, determine the precise nature of such exploration map or sketch. The applicant must state what types of prospecting and excavation techniques will be employed in disturbing the land.

(b) Upon filing of any certificate of claim location as permitted by federal and state mining laws and regulations, the locator shall provide copies of said certificates to the board.

(c) Prior to the issuance of an exploration license, the applicant shall file with the department a reclamation and revegetation bond in a form and amount as determined by the department in accordance with section 50-1211.

(d) In the event that the holder of an exploration permit desires to mine or develop the area covered by the exploration license and has fulfilled all of the requirements for a development or operating permit, the department may allow the postponement of the reclamation of the acreage explored if that acreage is incorporated into the complete reclamation plan submitted with the application for a development or operating permit. Any land actually affected by exploration or excavation under an exploration license and not covered by the development or operating reclamation plan shall be reclaimed within two (2) years after the completion of exploration or abandonment of the site, in a manner acceptable to the department.

(3) An application for a development permit shall be made in writing, notarized and submitted to the department in duplicate upon forms prepared and furnished by it. An application shall contain the following:

(a) a twenty-five dollar ($25) application fee;

(b) a description of the area within which development is to be conducted;

(c) a suitable map or aerial photograph showing topographic, cultural and drainage features;

(d) a statement of proposed development methods, i.e., drilling, trenching, etc., and the location of primary support roads and facilities;

(e) an estimate of the acreage expected to be disturbed in the twelve (12) months following issue of the permit, together with a map of the general area of the development operations for a like period. If the board shall, on good cause, consider the operator's estimate of the quantity of surface to be disturbed to be more than twenty per cent (20%) below what the board considers correct in the circumstances, it may by order require the operator to increase the amount of his bond accordingly.

(f) a proposed reclamation plan for lands to be disturbed in the next twelve (12) months. Such plan must be approved by the department prior to the permit issuance;

(g) an affidavit, as may be required by the board, showing that any lands disturbed by exploration, development, or mining in the state of Montana by applicant within two years prior to the application for said permit is or is in course of being reclaimed in accordance with the provisions of this act; or submission of an affidavit and such supporting documents and evidence as may be required by the board showing that any lands disturbed by exploration, development, or mining by applicant in the state of Montana during the two (2) years prior to the application for said permit will be restored in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(h) a reclamation and revegetation bond in form and amount to be determined by the department in accordance with section 50-1211, prior to the issuance of a development permit.

(4) Upon receipt of a complete development application the department shall, within sixty (60) days, notify the applicant that the reclamation plan is or is not acceptable. If the plan is not acceptable the department shall notify the applicant, in writing, of the deficiencies. Failure of the department to so act within that period shall constitute approval of the application and the permit shall be issued promptly thereafter.

(5) Employees of persons holding a valid license or permit under this act shall be deemed included in and covered by such license or permit.

(6) Upon proper application by the holder of an exploration license or development permit, the board may excuse such holder from reclamation obligations with reference to any specified openings or excavations exposing geological indications or phenomena of especial interest, even though the licensee does not apply or have any intention to apply for development license or operating permit for the land in which such openings or excavations have been made.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 252, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment added the final sentence to subsection (1); deleted "unless the applicant shall have applied for and been issued a development or operating permit for the lands so damaged" from item (ii) in subsection (2); rewrote subdivision (2)(a) which read "Except as hereafter provided, the holder of such license shall not be compelled to disclose the area of his exploration operations, except where charged with a delinquency in performing reclamation obligations hereunder"; added subdivisions (2)(c) and (2)(d); rewrote the first sentence of subsection (3) which read "A development permit shall be issued to any applicant therefor that shall meet the following requirements"; added the second sentence to subdivision (3)(f); added subdivision (3)(h); rewrote subsection (4) which read "Following approval of a development plan, the operator shall be required to file a performance bond in accordance with provisions of this act"; and made minor changes in phraseology.

50-1208. Operating permit—fee—contents of application. (1) Effective sixty (60) days after the date on which the board shall first promulgate its regulations as authorized by section 4 [50-1204] of this act, no person shall engage in mining in the state without first obtaining an operating permit from the board to do so. A separate operating permit shall be required for each mine complex. Any person, prior to receiving an operating permit from the board, must pay the basic permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and must submit an application on a form provided by the board, which shall contain the following information and any other pertinent required data by the rules and regulations:

(a) Name and address of the operator and, if a corporation or other business entity, the name and address of its principal officers, partners and the like and its resident agent for service of process, if required by law;

(b) Minerals expected to be mined;

(c) A proposed reclamation plan;

(d) Expected starting date of mining;

(e) A map showing the specific area to be mined and the boundaries of the land which will be disturbed; topographic detail; the location and names of all streams, roads, railroads, and utility lines on or immediately adjacent to the area; location of proposed access roads to be built and the names and addresses of the surface and mineral owners of all lands within the mining area, to the extent known to applicant;

(f) Types of access roads to be built and manner of reclamation of road sites on abandonment;

(g) A plan of mining which will provide, within limits of normal operating procedures of the industry, for completion of mining and associated land disturbances.

(h) A reclamation and revegetation bond in form and amount to be determined by the department in accordance with section 50-1211.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 252, L. 1971;
amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment added subdivision
(1)(h).

50-1209. Reclamation plan—accomplishment of specific activities. (a)

The reclamation plan shall provide that reclamation activities, particularly those relating to control of erosion, shall, to the extent feasible, be conducted simultaneously with mining and in any case shall be initiated promptly after completion or abandonment of mining on those portions of the mine complex that will not be subject to further disturbance by the mining operation. In the absence of an order by the board providing a longer period, the plan shall provide that reclamation activities shall be completed not more than two (2) years after completion or abandonment of mining on said portion of mine complex.

(b) In the absence of emergency or suddenly threatened or existing catastrophe, an operator may not depart from an approved plan without having previously obtained from the department written approval of his proposed change.

(c) Provision shall be made to avoid accumulation of stagnant water in the mined area which may serve as a host or breeding ground for mosquitoes or other disease-bearing or noxious insect life.

(d) All final grading shall be made with nonnoxious, nonflammable, noncombustible solids unless approval has been granted by the board for a supervised sanitary fill.

(e) Where mining has left an open pit exceeding two (2) acres of surface area, and composition of the floor and/or walls of which pit are likely to cause formation of acid, toxic, or otherwise pollutive solutions (hereinafter "objectionable effluents") on exposure to moisture, the reclamation plan must include provisions which adequately provide for:

(1) Insulation of all faces from moisture of water contact by covering to a depth of two (2) feet or more with material or fill not susceptible itself to generation of such objectionable effluents; or

(2) Processing of any such objectionable effluents in the pit before their being allowed to flow or be pumped out of it to reduce toxic or other objectionable ratios to a level deemed safe to humans and the environment by the board; or

(3) Drainage of any such objectionable effluents to settling or treatment basins when the objectionable effluents must be reduced to levels deemed safe by the board before release from the settling basin; or

(4) Absorption and/or evaporation of objectionable effluents in the open pit itself; and

(5) Prevention of entrance into the open pit by persons or livestock lawfully upon adjacent lands by fencing, warning signs, and such other devices as may reasonably be required by the board.

(f) Vegetative cover will be required in the reclamation plan if appropriate to the future use of the land as specified in the reclamation plan.

(g) The reclamation plan shall provide for the reclamation of all disturbed land. Proposed reclamation need not reclaim the areas to a better condition or different use than that which existed prior to development or mining.

(h) A reclamation plan will be approved by the board if it adequately provides for the accomplishment of the activities heretofore specified.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 252, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "supervisor or director" in subsection (b); inserted "To the extent practical" at the beginning of subsection (g); and made a minor change in punctuation.

50-1210. Inspection of mining site—issuance of operating permit—modification of reclamation plan—succession to interest in uncompleted mining operation. Upon receipt of an application for an operating permit the mining site shall be inspected by the department. Within sixty (60) days of receipt of the complete application and reclamation plan by the board and receipt of the permit fee, the board shall either issue an operating permit to the applicant or return any incomplete or inadequate application to the applicant along with a description of the deficiencies. Failure of the board to so act within that period shall constitute approval of the application and the permit shall be issued promptly thereafter.

The operating permit shall be granted for the period required to mine the land covered by the plan and shall be valid until the surface or underground mining authorized by the permit is completed or abandoned, unless the permit is suspended or revoked by the board as provided in this act. The operating permit shall provide that the reclamation plan may be modified by the board, upon proper application of the permittee, or department, after timely notice and opportunity for hearing, at any time during the term of the permit and for any of the following reasons:

(a) To modify the requirements so they will not conflict with existing laws;

(b) The previously adopted reclamation plan is impossible or impracticable to implement and maintain;

(c) When significant environmental problem situations are revealed by field inspection.

When one (1) operator succeeds to the interest of another in any uncompleted mining operation by sale, assignment, lease, or otherwise, the board may release the first operator from the duties imposed upon him by this act as to such operation; provided, that both operators have complied with the requirements of this act and the successor operator assumes the duty of the former operator to complete the reclamation of the land, in which case the board shall transfer the permit to the successor operator upon approval of the successor operator's bond as required under this act.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 252, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "the department" for "a supervisor" in the first sentence; increased the processing period from 35 to 60 days in the second sentence; inserted "complete" before "application" near the beginning of the second sentence; inserted "or revoked" after

"suspended" in the first sentence of the second paragraph; inserted "or department" after "application of the permittee" in the second sentence of the second paragraph; and rewrote item (c) in the second paragraph which read "The operator and the supervisor mutually agreed, in the field, to temporarily modify the reclamation plan, pending final approval by the board."

50-1211. Performance bond. The applicant shall file with the department a bond payable to the state of Montana with surety satisfactory to the department in the penal sum to be determined by the department of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) for each acre or fraction thereof of the disturbed area, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements of this act and the rules of the board. In lieu of such bond the applicant may file with the board a cash deposit, an assignment of a certificate of deposit, or other surety acceptable to the board. Regardless of the above limits, the bond shall not be less than the estimated cost to the state to complete the reclamation of the disturbed land. A public or governmental agency shall not be required to post a bond under the provisions of this act. A blanket performance bond covering two (2) or more operations may be accepted by the board. Such blanket bond shall adequately secure the estimated total number of acres of disturbed land. When determined by the department that the set bonding level of a permit or license does not represent the present costs of reclamation, the department may modify the bonding requirements of that permit or license.

No bond filed in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be released by the department until the provisions of this act, the rules adopted pursuant thereto and this reclamation plan have been fulfilled.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 252, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 281, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment rewrote this section which read "Concurrently with issue of a permit, the board may provide the permittee with a list of corporate sureties acceptable to the board from whom the performance bond hereafter required can be obtained.

"Upon receipt of a permit the permittee, other than a public or governmental agency, shall not commence operation until the permittee has deposited with the board an acceptable performance bond on forms prescribed and furnished by the board. This performance bond shall be a corporate surety bond executed in favor of the board by a corporation authorized to do a surety business in the state of Montana and approved by the board. The bond shall be filed and maintained in an amount equal to the estimated cost of completing the reclamation plan for the area to be developed or mined during the next twelve (12) month period and any previously developed or mined area for which a permit has been issued and on which the reclamation has not been satisfactorily completed and approved. The board shall have the authority to determine the amount of the bond that shall be required, and may refuse any bond not deemed adequate. In no case shall the amount of the bond be more than five hundred dollars ($500) per acre of the area above described or fraction thereof.

"The bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this chapter and of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

"In lieu of the surety bond required by this section, the permittee may file with the board a cash deposit, negotiable securities acceptable to the board, or an assignment of a savings account in a Montana bank on an assignment form prescribed by the board.

"Liability under the bond shall be maintained as long as reclamation is not completed in compliance with the approved reclamation plan unless released prior thereto as hereinafter provided. Liability under the bond may be released only upon written notification from the board. Notification shall be given upon completion of compliance or acceptance by the board of a substitute bond. In no event shall the liability of the permittee or surety exceed the amount of the surety bond required by this section.

"A public or governmental agency shall not be required to post a bond under the terms of this chapter.

"A blanket performance bond covering two (2) or more operations may be accepted by the board in lieu of separate bonds for each separate operation.

"If adequate proof exists that a bond is unobtainable for any reason other than lack of fiscal responsibility on the operator's part from any source, the licensee's obligation to supply such bond shall be suspended until such time as a source for bonding is obtained.

"Notwithstanding the foregoing, an applicant for a permit who shall, as part of his application, submit his duly acknowledged certificate that he will not, in the course of his entire operations in the state of Montana, exceed five (5) acres in aggregate of disturbed land unreclaimed, shall not be required to show financial capability to procure a performance bond as required by this section or thereafter to procure a corporate surety bond or make any in lieu deposit with the board therefor. Relief from such surety requirements shall in no wise relieve the permittee from any direct reclamation obligations hereunder. On acceptable showing of hardship on the part of an applicant, the board may relieve any permittee within the classification first described in this paragraph from such technical showings under sections 3 [50-1203] (11) and 8 [50-1208] which the board considers may be waived without injury to the interest of the public."

50-1212. Annual report of activities by permittee—annual fee. Within thirty (30) days after completion or abandonment of operations on an area under permit or within thirty (30) days after each anniversary date of the permit, whichever is earlier, or at such later date as may be provided by rules and regulations of the board and each year thereafter until reclamation is completed and approved, the permittee shall pay the annual fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and shall file a report of activities completed during the preceding year on a form prescribed by the board, which report shall:

- (a) Identify the permittee and the permit number;
- (b) Locate the operation by subdivision, section, township and range, and with relation to the nearest town or other well-known geographic feature;
- (c) Estimate acreage to be newly disturbed by operation in the next twelve (12) month period; and
- (d) Update any maps previously submitted or specifically requested by the board. Such maps shall show:
 - (1) The permit area;
 - (2) The unit of disturbed land;
 - (3) The area to be disturbed during the next twelve (12) month period;
 - (4) If completed, the date of completion of operations;
 - (5) If not completed, the additional area estimated to be further disturbed by the operation within the following permit year; and

(6) The date of beginning, amount and current status of reclamation performed during the previous twelve (12) months.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 252, L. 1971.

50-1213. Inspection to determine compliance with reclamation plan—rectification of deficiencies—board actions to reclaim disturbed lands. Following receipt of the permittee's report, and at any other reasonable time the board may elect, the board shall cause the permit area to be inspected to determine if the permittee has complied with the reclamation plan and the board's rules and regulations.

The permittee shall proceed with reclamation as scheduled in his approved reclamation plan. Following written notice by the board noting deficiencies, the permittee shall commence action within thirty (30) days to rectify these deficiencies and shall diligently proceed until the deficiencies are corrected; provided, that deficiencies that also violate other laws that require earlier rectification shall be corrected in accordance with the applicable time provisions of such laws. The board may extend performance periods referred to in this section and in section 9 [50-1209] of this act, for delays clearly beyond the permittee's control, but only when the permittee is, in the opinion of the board, making every reasonable effort to comply.

Within thirty (30) days after notification by the permittee and when in the judgment of the board reclamation of a unit of disturbed land area is properly completed, the permittee shall be notified in writing and his bond on said area shall be released or decreased proportionately to the acreage included within the bond coverage.

If reclamation of disturbed land is not pursued in accordance with the reclamation plan and the permittee has not commenced action to rectify deficiencies within thirty (30) days after notification by the board, or if reclamation is not properly completed in conformance with the reclamation plan within two (2) years after completion or abandonment of operation on any fraction of the permit area, or such longer period as may have been authorized hereunder, or if, after default by the permittee, the surety either refuses or fails to perform the work to the satisfaction of the board within the time required therefor, the board may, with the staff, equipment and material under its control, or by contract with others, take such actions as are necessary for required reclamation of the disturbed lands. Such work shall be let on the basis of competitive bidding. The board shall keep a record of all necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the work or activity authorized under this section, including a reasonable charge for the services performed by the state's personnel and the state's equipment and materials utilized.

The board shall notify the permittee and his surety by order. The order shall state the amount of necessary expenses incurred by the board in reclaiming the disturbed land and a notice that the amount is due and payable to the board by the permittee and the surety. If the amount specified in the order is not paid within thirty (30) days after receipt of the notice, the attorney general, upon request of the board, shall bring an action on behalf of the state in district court. The surety shall be liable to the state to the extent of the bond; the permittee shall be liable for the remainder of the cost.

In addition to the other liabilities imposed by this act, failure to commence action to remedy specific deficiencies in reclamation within thirty (30) days after notification by the board or failure to satisfactorily complete reclamation work on any segment of the permit area within two (2) years, or such longer period as the board may permit on permittee's application therefor, or on the board's own motion, after completion or abandonment of operations on any segment of the permit area shall constitute sufficient grounds for cancellation of a permit or license and refusal to issue another permit or license to the applicant; provided, however, that such action shall not be effected while an appeal is pending from any ruling requiring the same.

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 209 and once by Ch. 235. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

50-1505. Administration of act—delegation of functions. The commission is the administrator of this act and it has all the power necessary to implement and enforce it. The commission may delegate to the commissioner of state lands such powers, duties and functions under this act as it deems necessary for the performance of its duties.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1506. Powers, duties and functions of commission. The commission has the following powers, duties and functions:

(1) to enter into contracts where it is found on the basis of the information set forth in the application and an evaluation of the operation by the commission that the requirements of the act or rules will be observed and that the operation and the reclamation of the affected area can be carried out consistent with the purpose of the act;

(2) to prepare and adopt rules and regulations pertaining to open cut mining to accomplish the purposes of this act;

(3) to conduct hearings and for the purposes of conducting such hearings, to administer oaths and affirmations, to subpoena witnesses, to compel attendance of witnesses, to hear evidence and to require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, documents or other records relevant or material to the inquiry;

(4) to adopt uniform procedures for the filing of necessary records, the issuance of contracts, and for any other matters of administration not specifically enumerated in this act;

(5) to reclaim any affected land with respect to which a bond has been forfeited;

(6) to make investigations or inspections which may be deemed necessary to ensure compliance with any provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1507. Contract for reclamation required for large open cut operations. From and after the effective date of this act, no operator shall conduct open cut mining operations which shall result in the removal of ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards, or more, of product or overburden, until he has entered into a contract with the commission for the reclamation of the land affected. Any operator conducting a number of operations each of which result in the removal of less than ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards of product or overburden but which result in the removal of ten thousand (10,000) cubic yards, or more, of product or overburden in the aggregate shall be subject to the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1508. Application for contract—contents—issuance of contract—amendment—withdrawal of land. Applications for a contract shall be made upon a form furnished by the commission, which form contains the following:

(1) the name of the operator and, if other than the owner of the land, the name and address of the owner.

(2) the type of operation to be conducted;

(3) the volume of earth to be removed, as accurately as the same may then be estimated, and the volume which has been previously removed, if any;

(4) the location of the operation by legal subdivision, section, township and range, and county;

(5) the date when such operation was or will be commenced;

(6) the operator must submit a plan of his operation and the method and manner of reclamation that will be used or followed. If the operator, prior to applying for a contract, notifies the commission of his intention to submit a plan, and requests the commission to examine the area to be mined, the commission shall cause the area to be examined and make recommendations to the operator regarding reclamation;

(7) a statement that the applicant has the right and power by legal estate owned to mine by open cut mining the lands so described;

(8) the application shall be accompanied by:

(a) a bond or security meeting the requirements as set out in this act, and

(b) a fee of fifty dollars ($50);

Upon receipt of such application, bond or security and fee due from the operator, and upon agreement to the terms of the contract by the parties, the commission may issue a contract to the applicant which shall entitle him thereafter to continue in or engage in open cut mining on land therein described;

(9) an operator desiring to have his contract amended to cover additional contiguous or nearby land may file an amended application with the commission. Upon receipt of the amended application, and such additional bond as may be required, and upon agreement to the terms of the amendment by the parties, the commission may issue an amendment to the original contract covering the additional land described in the amended application, without the payment of any additional fee;

(10) an operator may withdraw any land covered by contract, except affected land, by notifying the commission thereof, in which case the penalty of the bond or security filed by such operator pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be reduced proportionately.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1509. Terms of bond required—deposit in lieu of bond—substitution of bond—forfeiture—release. (1) Any bond required to be filed in this act by the operator shall be in such form as the commission prescribes, payable to the state of Montana, and conditioned upon the operator's full compliance with all requirements of this act and all rules and regulations of the commission. Such bond shall be signed by the landowner or operator, as appropriate, as principal, and by a good and sufficient corporate surety, licensed to do business in the state of Montana, as surety. The penalty of such bond shall be in an amount not to exceed the costs of restoration required by this act as determined by the commission, but shall not be less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) per acre.

(2) In lieu of such bond, the operator may deposit cash and government securities or a bond with property sureties with the commission in an amount equal to that of the required bond on conditions as above prescribed. In the discretion of the commission, surety bond requirements may be fulfilled by the operator's posting a bond with land and improvements and facilities thereon as security, in which event no surety shall be required. The penalty of the bond or amount of cash and securities shall be increased or reduced from time to time as provided in this act. Such bond or security shall be and remain in effect until the mined acreages have been reclaimed, as provided under the contract, and approved and released by the commission, and shall from time to time cover only actual mined acreages and may be increased or reduced to cover only such acreages as remained unreclaimed.

(3) If the license to do business in the state of any surety upon a bond filed with the commission pursuant to this act shall be suspended or revoked, the operator, within thirty (30) days after receiving notice thereof from the commission, shall substitute for such surety a good and sufficient surety licensed to do business in the state. Upon failure of the operator to make substitution of surety, the commission shall have the right to suspend the contract of the operator to conduct operations upon the land described in such contract until such substitution has been made.

(4) The commission shall cause to be reclaimed any affected land with respect to which a bond has been forfeited.

(5) Whenever an operator shall have completed all of the requirements under the provisions of this act as to any affected land, he shall notify the commission thereof. If the commission shall release the operator from further obligation regarding such affected land, the penalty of the bond shall be reduced proportionately.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1510. Contract requirements—performance bond—effective period of contract. The contract shall meet the following requirements:

(1) The operator shall submit a reclamation plan to the commission before commencing any open cut mining, and may not commence mining before it receives approval from the commission. The operator may request and receive a meeting with the commission prior to submission of the plan. If the commission does not notify the operator that it has approved or disapproved a plan within thirty (30) days after the commission has received the plan, the commission shall be deemed to have approved the plan. The commission, however, may for sufficient cause extend its period of consideration for an additional thirty (30) days if it notifies the operator prior to the end of the original thirty (30) day period. The commission shall submit all reclamation plans or amendments to the reclamation plan to the landowner for his recommendations and shall consider those recommendations in deciding whether to approve or disapprove any plan or amendments. The commission may seek technical help from any state or federal agency. The commission must submit the plan immediately to the director, university of Montana state-wide archaeological survey for evaluation of possible archaeological or historical values in the area to be mined. The commission may approve a reclamation plan only if the commission has found that the plan provides for the best possible reclamation procedures available under the circumstances at the time, so that after mining operations are completed the affected land shall be reclaimed to a productive use. Once the reclamation plan has been accepted in writing by the commission, it shall become a part of the contract but shall be subject to annual review and modification by the commission.

(2) The commission may not approve any reclamation plan unless the plan provides that:

(a) the land will be reclaimed for one or more specified uses, including but not limited to: forest, pasture, orchard, cropland, residence, recreation, industry, habitat (including food, cover or water) for wildlife or other uses;

(b) to the extent reasonable and practicable, the operator shall establish vegetative cover commensurate with the proposed land use;

(c) where operations result in a need to prevent acid drainage or sedimentation, on or in adjoining lands or streams, there shall be provisions for the construction of earth dams or other reasonable devices to control water drainage, provided the formation of such impoundments or devices will not interfere with other landowners' rights or contribute to water pollution;

(d) to accomplish practical utilization of soil materials, such material will be utilized for placement on affected areas if required by the reclamation plan after completion or termination of that particular phase of the mining operations at a depth sufficient for plant growth on slopes of 3:1 or less. Grading specifications shall be commensurate with the topography sought and land use designated;

(e) metal and other waste shall be removed or buried;

(f) all access, haul and other support roads shall be located, constructed and maintained in such a manner as to control and minimize channeling and other erosion;

(g) the operator shall submit annually to the commission a progress report;

(h) all operations shall be conducted so as to avoid range and forest fires and spontaneous combustion. Open burning of carbonaceous materials shall be in accordance with suitable practices for fire prevention and control;

(i) archaeological and historical values in areas to be mined shall be given appropriate protection;

(j) except for rock faces, bench faces and excavations used for water impoundments, each surface area of the mined premises which will be disturbed shall be revegetated when its use for extractive purposes is no longer required. Seeding and planting shall be done in a manner to achieve a permanent suitable vegetative cover for wildlife, livestock and retardation of erosion. All seed will be drilled unless otherwise provided in the plan;

(k) reclamation shall be as concurrent with mining operations as feasible, and must be completed within a specified length of time.

(3) If reclamation according to the plan has not been completed in the time specified, the commission shall after thirty (30) days' written notice order the operator to cease mining, and, if the operator does not cease, shall institute an action to enjoin further operation and may sue for damages for breach of contract, for payment of the performance bond, or for both.

(4) (a) At any time during the period of reclamation the operator may for good reason submit to the commission a new reclamation plan or amendment to the existing plan including extensions of time.

(b) The commission may approve the proposed new reclamation plan, or amendments to the existing plan if:

(i) the operator has in good faith carried on reclamation according to the existing plan, and

(ii) the proposed new plan, or amendments to the existing plan, will result in reclamation as desirable or more so than the reclamation proposed under the existing plan, or

(iii) it is highly improbable reclamation will be successful unless the existing plan is replaced or amended.

When accepted, the proposed new reclamation plan or the proposed amendments to the existing plan becomes a part of the contract.

(5) The operator shall provide a performance bond, or an alternative acceptable to the commission, in an amount commensurate with the estimated cost of reclamation, but in no case shall the bond be less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre. The estimated cost of reclamation shall be set forth in the reclamation plan.

(6) The contract, reclamation plan and amendments accepted by the commission shall be a public record and open to inspection.

(7) The contract shall become effective when signed by the commission and the operator, and shall remain in force until terminated by mutual consent or by the commission upon six (6) months' notice.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1511. Receipt of funds by commission—reclamation work by commission. The commission may receive any federal funds, state funds or any other funds for the reclamation of land affected by open cut mining. The commission may cause the reclamation work to be done by its own employees or by employees of other governmental agencies, soil conservation districts or through contracts with qualified persons.

Any funds or any public works programs available to the commission shall be used and expended to reclaim and rehabilitate any lands that have been subject to open cut mining that have not been reclaimed and rehabilitated in accordance with the standards of this act.

50-1513. Operation without contract as misdemeanor—penalty. Any one required by this act to have a contract and who engages in open cut mining without previously securing a contract to do so as prescribed by this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) and not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000). Each day of operation without a contract required by this act shall be deemed a separate violation.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1514. Reclamation of land on which bond forfeited. The commission shall have the power to reclaim, in keeping with the provisions of this act, any affected lands with respect to which a bond has been forfeited.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 326, L. 1973.

50-1515. Commission hearing on final order of commissioner—judicial review. (1) A person who is aggrieved by a final decision of the commissioner of state lands is entitled to a hearing before the commission.

C. M. 1947.

(3) The department shall notify the applicant within three hundred sixty-five (365) days of receipt of a complete application if the proposed site is an acceptable location for development of a new strip mine or a new underground mine. If the site is approved, the department shall issue the applicant a mine site location permit. If the location is not approved, the department shall notify the applicant in writing, setting forth reasons why the location is not acceptable. The department shall also notify the applicant within three hundred sixty-five (365) days of receipt of a complete application whether the proposed reclamation plan is or is not acceptable. If the plan is not acceptable, the department shall set forth the reasons for nonacceptance of the plan. It may propose modifications, delete areas, or reject the entire plan.

(4) A fee of fifty dollars ($50) shall be paid before the mine site location permit required in this act may be issued. The operator shall also file with the department a bond payable to the state of Montana with surety satisfactory to the department in the penal sum to be determined by the board (on the recommendation of the commissioner) of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each acre or fraction thereof of the area of land to be disturbed by preparatory work, with a minimum bond of five thousand dollars ($5,000), conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this act and of the rules of the board. In determining the amount of the bond within the above limits, the board shall take into consideration the character and nature of the surface and subsurface disturbances, the future suitable use of the land involved and the cost of removing or burying facilities, subsidence stabilization, water controls, backfilling, grading, topsoiling, and reclamation to be required. Notwithstanding the above limits the bond may not be less than the total estimated cost to the state of completing the work described in the reclamation plan.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment added references to underground mines or mining to the references to strip mines and mining throughout the section; inserted "and subsurface" after "surface" in the next to the last sentence of subsection (4); and inserted "subsidence stabilization, water controls" before "backfilling, grading" in the next to the last sentence of subsection (4).

(2) The department shall not approve a new strip mining site, a new underground mining site or preparatory work site for any areas of land or water included in the application if the department determines that the area could not be approved under the criteria specified in section 50-1042, R. C. M. 1947.

(3) The department shall not issue a permit under this act if a proposed reclamation plan does not meet the requirements of Title 50, chapter 10, R. C. M. 1947.

The notice or order shall be handed to the operator in person or served by registered mail addressed to the permanent address shown on the application for a permit. The notice of noncompliance or order of suspension shall specify in what respects the operator has failed to comply with this act or the rules or orders of the department and the board. If the operator has not complied with the requirement set forth in the notice of noncompliance or order of suspension within time limits set therein, the permit may be revoked by order of the board and the performance bond forfeited to the department.

(2) Any additional strip mining, or underground mining, or mine site location permits held by an operator whose mine site location permit has been revoked shall be suspended and the operator is not eligible to receive another permit or to have the suspended permits reinstated until he has complied with all the requirements of this act in respect to former permits issued him. An operator who has forfeited a bond is not eligible to receive another permit unless the land for which the bond was forfeited has been reclaimed without cost to the state, or the operator has paid into the reclamation account a sum together with the value of the bond, the board finds adequate to reclaim the lands. The department may not issue any additional permits to an operator who has repeatedly been in noncompliance or violation of this act.

Any unencumbered and any unexpended balance of this fund remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall not lapse but shall be carried forward for the purposes of this act until expended or until appropriated by subsequent legislative action.

CHAPTER 17—CONTROL OF URANIUM SOLUTION EXTRACTION

- Section 50-1701. Statement of legislative findings and policy.
50-1702. Definitions.
50-1704. Suspension of action.

50-1701. Statement of legislative findings and policy. The legislature, noting that the energy shortage has prompted a widespread search for energy resources; that there is substantially increased prospecting, exploration and land acquisition for uranium in Montana; that rising world prices make previously uneconomical uranium deposits economically recoverable; that many Montana uranium deposits are so deep or have such a configuration that economic recovery is only possible through extraction in-place; and that extraction and energy companies have shown interest in utilizing in-place leaching in Montana to recover uranium; and further noting that pilot projects involving solution extraction are being seriously undertaken in other states and that contamination of fresh water resources is occurring, finds that solution extraction of uranium constitutes a technologically feasible method of uranium extraction which threatens Montana's land and water resources to the detriment of existing and projected agricultural, recreational, domestic, and other uses. The legislature, pursuant to its mandate and authority under article IX of the Montana constitution declares that it is the policy of the state to provide for the protection of the lands and waters of the state and therefore to make provisions for the control of uranium solution extraction and rehabilitation of lands and waters affected by this extraction.

History: En. 50-1701 by Sec. 1, Ch. 317, L. 1975.

A complaint may be amended by the department in its discretion at any time five (5) days prior to the issuance of an order based on it. The person, firm or corporation so complained of may appear at the place and time so fixed and show cause why an order should not be entered by the department requiring that person, firm, or corporation to stop the violation of the law charged in the complaint. Any person, firm or corporation may make application, and upon good cause shown may be allowed by the department to intervene and appear in the proceeding by counsel or in person. The testimony in the proceeding shall be reduced to writing and filed in the office of the department. If upon the hearing the department believes that the act or conduct in question is prohibited by this chapter, it shall make a report in writing in which it shall state its findings as to the facts and shall issue and cause to be served on that person, firm, or corporation an order requiring that person, firm, or corporation to stop the acts or conduct. Until a transcript of the record in the hearing has been filed in a district court, as hereinafter provided, the department may at any time, upon the notice and in the manner as it considers proper, modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any report or any order made or issued by it under this section.

(4) A court reviewing an order of the department may issue such writs as are ancillary to its jurisdiction or are necessary in its judgment to prevent injury to the public or to competitors pending the suit.

(5) To the extent that the order of the department is affirmed, the court shall thereupon issue its own order commanding obedience to the terms of the order of the department.

(6) Proceedings in the district court shall be given precedence over other civil cases pending therein, and shall be in every way expedited.

(7) A person, firm, or corporation who violates an order of the department to cease and desist after it has become final, and while the order is in effect shall forfeit and pay to this state a penalty of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each violation, which shall accrue to this state and may be recovered in a civil action brought by this state.

(8) The remedies and method of enforcement of this chapter provided for in this section are concurrent and in addition to the other remedies provided in this chapter.

51-114. Procedure for establishing cost survey — hearing — notice.

(1) The department shall, whenever application has been made by ten (10) or more persons, firms, or corporations within a particular trade or business, establish the cost survey provided for in section 51-105. When petition for a cost survey has been so presented to the department, the department shall, as soon as possible, fix a time for a public hearing upon the question of whether the cost survey should be established. The hearing shall be held at the office of the department and upon that notice which the department may by rule require. However, notice of the hearing shall be published for at least two (2) successive weeks in the daily newspaper or newspapers as the department may designate as most commonly circulated in the counties to be affected by the cost survey. The notice shall further state the locality or area in respect to which the cost survey is proposed to be established and the particular trade or business to be affected by it.

(2) At the time fixed in the notice any person, firm, or corporation may appear and be heard by the department upon all questions to be determined by it as provided in this section. If the department determines that a cost survey shall be established, it shall at the same hearing proceed to classify and define the particular trade or business, or parts thereof, to be affected, determine and delimit the particular area within which the trade or business shall be affected, and find and determine the probable "cost of doing business" or "overhead expense," stated in percentage of invoice or replacement cost which would probably be incurred by the most efficient person, firm, or corporation in the trade or business within the area.

(3) Where the department determines that the probable "cost of doing business" or "overhead expense," stated in percentage of invoice or replacement cost which would probably be incurred by the most efficient person, firm, or corporation in the trade or business is the same for the entire state, then the department may, upon proper notice given as provided in this section, create one trade area embracing the entire state.

(4) The percentage so determined shall be presumed to be the actual "cost of doing business" and "overhead expense" of any person, firm, or corporation in the trade or business and within the area affected by the cost survey.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment substituted "department" for references to the Montana trade commission throughout the section; and made minor changes in phraseology, punctuation and style.

51-115. Hearings and investigations—contempts. The department for the purpose of conducting hearings and investigations which, in the opinion of the department, are necessary and proper for the exercise of the powers vested in it by this chapter has the following powers:

(1) The department shall at all reasonable times have access to, for the purpose of examination, and the right to copy any evidence of a person being investigated or proceeded against that relates to any matter under investigation or in question. Any member of the department may issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of any evidence that relates to any matter under investigation or in question, before the department, or before its duly authorized agent conducting the investigation. An agent, duly authorized by the department for those purposes, may administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence. The attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence may be required from any place in this state at any designated place of hearing.

(2) In any case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpoena issued to a person, any district court of this state, within any district where the inquiry is carried on or where a person guilty of contumacy or refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business, upon application by the department has jurisdiction to issue to that person, an order requiring him to appear before the department, or its duly authorized agent, and there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony regarding the matter under investigation. Failure to obey the order of the court may be punished by the court as a contempt.

(3) A person may not be excused from attending and testifying or from producing books, records, correspondence, documents, or other evidence in obedience to the subpoena of the department, on the ground that the testimony or evidence required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture. An individual may not be prosecuted or subjected to a penalty or forfeiture for or on account of a transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after having claimed his

of the section and redesignated subsections (2) to (4) as subdivisions (1) to (3); substituted "department" for references to the Montana trade commission throughout the section; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

51-116. Alteration of invoices unlawful. It is unlawful for a person, partnership, firm, corporation, joint stock company, or other association, as defined in section 51-103, to change, alter, substitute, or falsify an invoice where the practice tends to injure a competitor or to destroy competition or to mislead a court or the department of business regulation. That practice is unfair trade practice and a person, firm, partnership, corporation, or association resorting to that trade practice is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to the penalties provided in section 51-112.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the state to promote the public welfare and it is the purpose of this act to carry out that policy in the public interest and stabilize the sale of cigarettes, maximize and protect the state revenues from this source.

History: En. Preamble, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

Title of Act

An act to prevent unfair competition and unfair trade practices in the sale of cigarettes; to prohibit sales of cigarettes below cost; to protect and stabilize the collection of taxes on the sale of cigarettes and revenues from the licensing of persons engaged in the sale of cigarettes; to confer powers and impose duties on the state board of equalization and on persons, as herein defined, engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail or wholesale; and providing remedies and imposing penalties for violations thereof.

51-302. Short title. This act shall be known, designated and cited as "The Montana Cigarette Sales Act."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-303. Definitions. When used in this act, the following words and phrases shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning: (1) "Person" shall mean and include any individual, firm, association, company, partnership, corporation for profit or nonprofit corporation, joint stock company, club, agency, syndicate, co-operative, municipal corporation or other political subdivision of this state, trust, receiver, trustee, fiduciary and conservator.

(2) "Wholesaler" shall include any person who:

(a) purchases cigarettes directly from the manufacturer; or

(b) purchases cigarettes from any other person who purchases from the manufacturer and who acquires such cigarettes solely for the purpose of bona fide resale to retail dealers; or

(c) services retail outlets by the maintenance of an established place of business for the purchase of cigarettes, including, but not limited to, the maintenance of warehousing facilities for the storage and distribution of cigarettes.

Nothing contained herein shall prevent a person from qualifying in different capacities as both "wholesaler" and "retailer" under the applicable provisions of this act.

(3) "Retailer" shall mean and include any person who operates a store, stand, booth or concession for the purpose of making sales of cigarettes at retail.

(4) "Administrative agency" or "department" shall mean the state department of revenue of Montana and, where the meaning or the context so requires, all deputies and employees duly authorized by such board.

(5) "Cigarettes" shall mean any roll for smoking made wholly or in part of tobacco, irrespective of size or shape and whether or not such tobacco is flavored, adulterated or mixed with any other ingredient, the wrapper or cover of which is made of paper or any other substance or material except tobacco.

(10) (a) The term "cost to the wholesaler" shall mean the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the wholesaler plus the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler," as evidenced by the standards and methods of accounting regularly employed by the said wholesaler in his determination of costs for income tax reporting purposes for the total operation of his establishment and shall include within said costs, without limitation, labor costs (including salaries of executives and officers), rent, depreciation, selling costs, maintenance of equipment, delivery costs, all types of licenses, business taxes, insurance and advertising. The cost of doing business by a wholesaler shall also include any rebates, patronage dividends or concessions no matter how defined, and any and all other indirect or overhead costs with respect to the operation of the establishment of the said wholesaler, expressed as a percentage and applied to the "basic cost of cigarettes."

(b) In the absence of the filing with the department of proof which the department declares to be satisfactory of a lesser or higher cost of doing business by the wholesaler making the sale, the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler" shall be presumed to be five per centum (5%) of the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the wholesaler, plus cartage to the retail outlet, if performed or paid for by the wholesaler, which cartage cost, in the absence of the filing with the department of satisfactory proof of a lesser or higher cost, shall be considered to be three-fourths of one per centum ($\frac{3}{4}$ of 1%) of the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the wholesaler.

(11) (a) The term "cost to the retailer" shall mean the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the retailer plus the "cost of doing business by the retailer" as evidenced by the standards and methods of accounting regularly employed by the said retailer in his determination of costs for income tax reporting purposes for the total operation of his establishment and shall include within said costs, without limitation, labor costs, (including salaries of executives and officers), rent, depreciation, selling costs, maintenance of equipment, delivery costs, all types of licenses, business taxes, insurance, and advertising, including any rebates or concessions no matter how defined, and any and all other indirect or overhead costs with respect to the operation of the establishment of the said retailer, expressed as a percentage and applied to the "basic costs of cigarettes"; provided, however, that any retailer who purchases from the manufacturer or from any other person at or at less than or about the price normally and usually charged for purchases in wholesale quantities shall, in determining "cost to the retailer," pursuant to this subsection, add the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler," as determined in subparagraph 10 (b) of this act, to the "basic cost of cigarettes" to said retailer, as well as the "cost of doing business by the retailer."

(b) In the absence of the filing with the department of satisfactory proof of a lesser or higher cost of doing business by the retailer making the sale, the "cost of doing business by the retailer" shall be presumed to be ten per centum (10%) of the "basic cost of cigarettes" to the retailer.

(c) In the absence of the filing with the department of satisfactory proof of a lesser or higher cost of doing business, the "cost of doing business by the retailer," who, in connection with the retailer's purchase, received not only the discounts ordinarily allowed upon purchases by a retailer, but also, in whole or part, the discounts ordinarily allowed upon purchases by a wholesaler, shall be presumed to be ten per centum (10%) of the sum of the "basic cost of cigarettes" and the "cost of doing business by the wholesaler."

(12) "Business day" shall mean any day other than a Sunday or a legal holiday.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment in subparagraph (10)(a) substituted "by the standards and methods * * * shall include within said costs" for "accounting, which shall include allocation of overhead costs and expenses, paid or incurred, and must include" after "as evidenced by" and added the last sentence; in subparagraph (11) (a) substituted "the said retailer * * * shall include within said costs" for "him in his allocation of overhead costs and expenses, paid or incurred, and must include" after "employed by," inserted "costs" after "labor," inserted "business" before "taxes," inserted "including any rebates * * * the 'basic costs of cigarettes'" after "advertising," inserted "however" after "provided," substituted "purchases from the manufacturer * * * wholesale quantities" for "in connection with the retailer's purchases by a wholesaler" after "any retailer who," substituted "as determined in" for "as defined in section 2" before "subparagraph (10) (b)," and added "(b)" after "subparagraph (10)."

The 1973 amendment substituted "department" for "board" and "department of revenue" for "board of equalization" in subdivision (4); and substituted "department" for "board" in subdivisions (10)(b) and (11)(b) and (c).

Cost to Wholesaler

Board of equalization formula requiring cigarette wholesaler to reduce wholesale price by tax discount provided for under section 84-5606.12 was improper because full face value of the tax insignia was to be used in determining wholesale price. Montana Assn. of Tobacco & Candy Distributors v. State Board of Equalization, 156 M 108, 476 P 2d 775.

51-304. Practices declared unlawful—penalty—prima facie evidence of unlawful intent. It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act:

(1) For any retailer or wholesaler with intent to injure a competitor or substantially lessen competition;

(a) To advertise, offer to sell or sell, at retail or wholesale, cigarettes at less than cost to such a retailer or wholesaler, as the case may be.

(b) To offer a rebate in price, to give a rebate in price, to offer a concession of any kind, or to give a concession of any kind or nature whatever in connection with the sale of cigarettes if such rebate or concession offered or given in connection with the sale of cigarettes is not offered or given by the wholesaler or retailer in the same ratio with respect to all other merchandise as to which such rebate or concession may lawfully be given which is sold by said wholesaler or retailer in the ordinary course of his trade or business.

(2) For any retailer:

(a) To induce or attempt to induce or to procure or attempt to procure the purchase of cigarettes at a price less than "cost to the wholesaler," as defined in this act.

(b) To induce or attempt to induce or to procure or attempt to procure any rebate or concession of any kind or nature whatever in connection with the purchase of cigarettes.

(3) Any retailer or wholesaler who violates the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be prosecuted and punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each such offense. Any individual who, as a director, officer, partner, member or agent of any person violating the provisions of this act, assists or aids, directly or indirectly, in such violation, shall, equally with the person for whom he acts, be responsible therefor and subject to the punishment and penalties set forth herein.

(4) Evidence of advertisement, offering to sell or sale of cigarettes by any retailer or wholesaler at less than cost to him, or evidence of any offer of a rebate in price, or the giving of a rebate in price, or an offer of a concession, or the giving of a concession of any kind or nature whatever in connection with the sale of cigarettes if such rebate or concession offered or given in connection with the sale of cigarettes is not offered or given by the wholesaler or retailer in the same ratio with respect to all other merchandise as to which such rebate or concession may lawfully be given which is sold by said wholesaler or retailer in the ordinary course of his trade or business, or the inducing or attempt to induce, or the procuring or the attempt to procure the purchase of cigarettes at a price less than cost to the wholesaler or the retailer, shall be prima facie evidence of intent to injure competitors or substantially lessen competition.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-305. Sales from wholesaler to wholesaler. When one wholesaler sells cigarettes to any other wholesaler, the former shall not be required to include in his selling price to the latter "cost to the wholesaler," as provided by section 2 [51-303], subparagraph (10) of this act, except that no such sale shall be made at a price less than the "basic cost of cigarettes," as defined in said section 2 [51-303], subparagraph (9) of this act, but the latter wholesaler, upon resale to a retailer, shall be considered to be the wholesaler governed by the provisions of said section 2 [51-303], subparagraph (10) of this act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-306. Combination sales. In all advertisements, offers for sale or sales involving two or more items, at least one of which items is cigarettes, at a combined price, and in all advertisements, offers for sale or sales involving the giving of any gift or concession of any kind whatever (whether it be coupons or otherwise) if such rebate or concession offered or given in connection with the sale of cigarettes is not offered or given by the wholesaler or retailer in the same ratio with respect to all other merchandise as to which such rebate or concession may lawfully be given which is sold by said wholesaler or retailer in the ordinary course of his trade or business, the retailer's or wholesaler's combined selling price shall not be below the "cost to the retailer" or the "cost to the wholesaler," respectively, of the total costs of all articles, products, commodities, gifts and concessions included in such transactions.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-307. Exceptions. The provisions of this act shall not apply to sales at retail or sales at wholesale made (a) as an isolated transaction and not in the usual course of business; (b) where cigarettes are advertised, offered for sale, or sold in bona fide clearance sales for the purpose of discontinuing trade in such cigarettes and said advertising, offer to sell, or sale, shall state the reason thereof and the quantity of such cigarettes advertised, offered for sale, or sold as imperfect or damaged, and said advertising, offer to sell, or sale, shall state the reason therefor and the quantity of such cigarettes advertised, offered for sale, or to be sold; (c) where cigarettes are sold upon the final liquidation of a business; or (d) where cigarettes are advertised, offered for sale, or sold by any fiduciary or other officer acting under the order or direction of any court.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-308. Sales to meet competition. (a) Any retailer may advertise, offer to sell, or sell cigarettes at a price made in good faith to meet the price of a competitor who is selling the same article at cost to him as a retailer as prescribed in this act. Any wholesaler may advertise, offer to sell, or sell cigarettes at a price made in good faith to meet the price of a competitor who is rendering the same type of service and is selling the same article at cost to him as a wholesaler, as prescribed in this act. The price of cigarettes advertised, offered for sale, or sold under the exceptions specified in section 6 [51-307] shall not be considered the price of a competitor and shall not be used as a basis for establishing prices below cost, nor shall the price established at a bankrupt sale be considered the price of a competitor within the purview of this section.

(b) In the absence of proof of the "price of a competitor," under this section, the "lowest cost to the retailer," or the "lowest cost to the wholesaler," as the case may be, determined by any "cost survey," made pursuant to section 11 [51-312] of this act, may be considered to be the "price of a competitor," within the meaning of this section.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-309. Contracts in violation void. Any contract, expressed or implied, made by any person in violation of any of the provisions of this act, is declared to be an illegal and void contract and no recovery thereon shall be had.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-310. Evidence to be considered as bearing on bona fides of cost. (a) In determining "cost to the retailer" and "cost to the wholesaler," the board or a court shall receive and consider as bearing on the bona fides of such cost, evidence tending to show that any person complained against under any of the provisions of this act purchased cigarettes, with respect to the sale of which complaint is made, at a fictitious price, or upon terms, or in such a manner, or under such invoices, as to conceal the true cost, discounts or terms of purchase, and shall also receive and consider as bearing on the bona fides of such cost, evidence of the normal, customary and prevailing terms and discounts in connection with other sales of a similar nature in the trade area or state.

(b) Merchandise given gratis, or payment made to a retailer or wholesaler by the manufacturer thereof for display, or advertising, or promotion purposes or otherwise, shall not be considered in determining the cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-311. Cigarettes purchased outside ordinary trade channels. In establishing the cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler, the invoice cost of said cigarettes purchased at a forced, bankrupt or closeout sale, or other sale outside of the ordinary channels of trade, may not be used as a basis for justifying a price lower than one based upon the replacement cost of the cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler in the quantity last purchased, through the ordinary channels of trade.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-312. Cost survey. Where a cost survey pursuant to cost accounting practices, including those defined in section 2 [51-303] (10) (a), has been made by the board, or by a trade association or other industry group, for the trading area in which the offense is committed, to establish the lowest "cost to the retailer" and the lowest "cost to the wholesaler," said cost survey shall be considered to be competent evidence for use in proving the cost to the person complained against within the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-313. Civil suits for violation of act. (a) In addition to penalties provided by section 3 [51-304] of this act, any person injured by any violation of this act, or any trade association which is representative of such a person, may maintain an action in any court of equitable jurisdiction to prevent, restrain or enjoin such violation. If in such action a violation of this act shall be established, the court shall enjoin and restrain or otherwise prohibit such violation and, in addition thereto, shall assess in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant the costs of the suit and reasonable attorney's fee. In such action it shall not be necessary that actual damages to the plaintiff be alleged or proved, but where alleged and proved, the plaintiff in said action, in addition to such injunctive relief and fees and costs of suit, shall be entitled to recover from the defendant the amount of actual damages sustained by the plaintiff.

(b) In the event no injunctive relief is sought or required, any person injured by a violation of this act may maintain an action for damages alone in any court of competent jurisdiction and the measure of damages in such action shall be the same as prescribed in subsection (a) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

51-314. Powers of board. (a) In addition to the penalties and rights imposed and set forth in sections 3 [51-304] and 12 [51-313] of this act, the board shall enforce the provisions of this act. The board shall have the power to adopt, amend and repeal rules and regulations necessary to enforce and administer the provisions of this act. The board is given full power and authority to revoke or suspend the license or permit of any wholesale or retail cigarette dealer in the state of Montana upon sufficient cause appearing of the violation of this act or upon the failure of such licensee or permittee to comply with any of the provisions of this act.

(b) No license or licenses shall be suspended or revoked except upon notice to the licensee, and after a hearing prescribed by said board at its principal office. The board, upon a finding by it that the licensee has failed to comply with any provisions of this act or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder, shall, in the case of the first offender, suspend the license or licenses of the said licensee for a period of not less than five (5) nor more than twenty (20) consecutive business days, and, in the case of a second or plural offender, shall suspend said license or licenses for a period of not less than twenty (20) consecutive business days nor more than twelve (12) months, and, in the event the board finds the offender has been guilty of willful and persistent violations, he may revoke such licensee's license or licenses.

(c) Any person whose license or licenses have been so revoked may apply to the board at the expiration of one year for a reinstatement of his license or licenses. Such license or licenses may be reinstated by the board if it shall appear to the satisfaction of said board that the licensee will comply with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(d) No person whose license has been suspended or revoked shall sell cigarettes or permit cigarettes to be sold during the period of such suspension or revocation on the premises occupied by him or upon other premises controlled by him or others or in any other manner or form whatever. Nor shall any disciplinary proceedings or action be barred or abated by the expiration, transfer, surrender, continuance, renewal or extension of any license issued under the provisions of the "cigarette tax law," as provided in articles of chapter 11 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947.

Any determination by the board and any order of suspension or revocation of a license or licenses thereunder, or refusal to reinstate a license or licensee after revocation, shall be reviewable by the court in a proper case and in proceedings as provided by the procedural law of this jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 258, L. 1965.

Section 14 of Ch. 258, Laws 1965 read "Provisions of act severable. The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its sections, provisions, exceptions, sentences, clauses, phrases or parts be held unconstitutional or void, the remainder of this act shall continue in full force and effect."

Repealing Clause

Section 15 of Ch. 258, Laws 1965 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

52-312. (8286) Foreclosure of security interests in personal property—by action—by sheriff's sale. An action for the foreclosure of a security interest in personal property may be commenced and conducted in the same manner as provided by law for the foreclosure of mortgages upon real property, and the same may be joined in an action for the recovery of the possession of the property subject to the security interest; but the remedial scope of proceedings for the foreclosure of interests subject to the Uniform Commercial Code—Secured Transactions is governed by Part 5 thereof.

A security agreement covering personal property may contain a clause authorizing the sheriff of the county in which said property, or any part thereof, may be, on request of the secured party and the delivery to the sheriff of a copy of such security agreement, to take possession of such property in case of default and to sell the same. The sheriff shall require a reasonable indemnity bond from the secured party or his assigns before taking possession of or selling the said property. Deficiency Judgment after Foreclosure Sale

Deficiency judgment after foreclosure sale was proper even though sale was not public and contract contained clause that "notice [be] given in the manner provided in Section 52-312," since mortgagee was given power of sale by contract, with contract setting forth statute as an acceptable method of sale. Bell v. Cole, 154 M 43, 459 P 2d 692.

Any sale may be postponed at the discretion of the sheriff one week, by public announcement at the time designated for the sale to take place when there are no bidders, or when the amount offered is grossly inadequate, or upon the request of the debtor.  52-417. Trust indenture deemed to be mortgage on real property.

52-401. Short title. This act may be cited as the "Small Tract Financing Act of Montana."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 177, L. 1963.

Title of Act

An act authorizing the optional use of trust indentures as security instruments in the financing of small tracts embracing three acres of land, or less; providing for the conveyance of title to a trustee to secure the performance of an obligation and for reconveyance upon performance;

conferring a power of sale upon the trustee under a trust indenture and prescribing the time and manner in which such power may be exercised; providing for the sale of the property at trustee's sale in the event of default; prescribing the form of notice of sale and providing for the recordation, mailing, posting and publication of notice of sale; providing for trustee's deeds and the form and effect thereof; providing for the disposition of the proceeds of sale; disallowing deficiency judgment in certain cases; providing for possession following sale; defining the fees and expenses chargeable to the grantor of a trust deed; providing for discontinuance of foreclosure by advertisement and sale; relating to the applicability of mortgage laws to trust indenture transactions; amending sections 93-6005, 93-6006, and 93-6007, R.C.M. 1947, relating to sales of real estate under powers of sale in mortgages and rights of redemption, to exclude therefrom trust indentures as defined in this act; and providing a short title, a severability clause and an effective date.

52-402. Declaration of policy. Because the financing of homes and business expansion is essential to the development of the state of Montana, and because such financing, usually involving areas of real estate of not more than fifteen (15) acres, has been restricted by the laws relating to mortgages of real property, and because more such financing of homes and business expansion is available if the parties can use security instruments and procedures not subject to all the provisions of the mortgage laws, it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the state of Montana to permit the use of trust indentures for estates in real property of not more than fifteen (15) acres as hereinafter provided.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment increased from three acres to fifteen acres the limit on the size of property to be considered under the act.

Constitutionality

This act is not unconstitutional on grounds that it is special legislation favoring rural landowners, that its withdrawal of redemption rights and its notice provisions violate due process, or that it provides for statutory power of sale to be read into all agreements using trust indentures even where agreement between parties does not so provide. Great Falls Nat. Bank v. McCormick, 152 M 319, 448 P 2d 991.

52-403. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) "Beneficiary" means the person named or otherwise designated in a trust indenture as the person for whose benefit a trust indenture is given, or his successor in interest, and who shall not be the trustee.

(2) "Grantor" means the person conveying real property by a trust indenture as security for the performance of an obligation.

(3) "Trust indenture" means an indenture executed in conformity with this act and conveying real property to a trustee in trust to secure the performance of an obligation of the grantor or other person named in the indenture to a beneficiary.

(4) "Trustee" means a person to whom the legal title to real property is conveyed by a trust indenture, or his successor in interest.

(5) "Fifteen (15) acres" means fifteen (15) acres of land. Where the trust indenture states that the real property involved does not exceed fifteen (15) acres, such statement shall be binding upon all parties and conclusive as to compliance with the provisions of this act relative to the power to make a transfer, trust, and power of sale.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 177, L. 1963;
amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 337, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "fifteen (15) acres" for "three (3) acres" in subdivision (5) and in the final sentence.

52-404. Authorization of trust indentures. Transfers in trust of any interest in real property of an area not exceeding fifteen (15) acres may be made to secure the performance of an obligation of a grantor, or any other person named in the indenture, to a beneficiary; provided that it shall be unlawful to substitute a trust indenture for any mortgage in existence on the effective date of this act. Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 41 and once by Ch. 390. Neither amendatory act mentioned or included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1965 amendment substituted the second, third, and fourth sentences of subsection (2) for "Such registration plate and the required serial numbers and letters thereon, shall be of sufficient size and spacing to be plainly readable from a distance of 100 feet during daylight. tab bearing the last two numbers of the year for which such license is issued and such insert plate or tab shall be serially numbered in the same manner as the numbered plates, and such permanent number or identification plates shall be made in such form and of such materials as the registrar shall determine; provided further, that the registrar may, in his discretion, designate number or identification plates for any year as the proper means of identifying the vehicle for a subsequent year or years, said plates to be validated by a windshield sticker of such size, color and design and displayed as he shall direct; such sticker shall bear a distinctive number and the registration period for which it is issued, after which period it shall be unlawful to further display same on the vehicle."

The 1967 amendment substituted "issued every other year" for "renewed annually," and deleted "each year" after "marking" in the third sentence of subsection (1); added the fourth sentence of subsection (1); deleted "and the required serial numbers and letters thereon" after "registration plate" and "or numerals and border" after "material" in the second sentence of subsection (2); substituted "motor vehicle recording account of the earmarked revenue fund. eral fund of the state of Montana" in the third sentence of subsection (2); and added "and house trailers" after "trailers" at the end of the first sentence of subsection (4).

The 1969 amendment added the second paragraph in subsection (4).

The 1971 amendment inserted in the second sentence of subsection (1) the provision for distinctive letters for plates issued to dealers in vehicles of the motorcycle type; inserted "provided that number plates will next be issued in the year 1973 and in alternate years thereafter" in the third sentence of subsection (1); added at the end of the first paragraph of subsection (4) the provision for distinctive letters for plates assigned to vehicles of the motorcycle type; inserted references to vehicles of the motorcycle type in two places in the second paragraph of subsection (4); and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

Chapter 41, Laws of 1975, increased the additional fee specified in subsection (2) from 50¢ to $1.00.

Chapter 390, Laws of 1975, rewrote the next to last sentence in subsection (1) which read: "All number plates for motor vehicles shall be issued every other year, provided that number plates will next be issued in the year 1973 and in alternate years thereafter, shall bear a distinctive marking, and shall be furnished by the state"; substituted "In years when number plates are not issued" in the last sentence of subsection (1) for "In alternate years"; inserted "and trucks" after "motor cars" and inserted "the number plates issued * * * plates issued after 1976" near the beginning of subsection (2); and substituted "separation mark" for "dash or dot" in the next to last sentence of subsection (2).

In the event of the death of an owner of one or more motor vehicles and/or trailer, and/or semitrailer, and/or trailer-house registered hereunder and not exceeding the value of four thousand dollars ($4,000), without leaving other property necessitating the procuring of letters of administration or letters testamentary, then the surviving husband or wife, or other heir, unless such property is by will otherwise bequeathed, may secure transfer of the certificate of ownership and the certificate of registration of the deceased, in and to such motor vehicle in the name of the surviving husband or wife or other heir, as above mentioned, upon filing with the registrar an affidavit of such person setting forth the fact of survivorship and the name and address of any other heirs and such other facts as are hereby made necessary to entitle the affiant to a transfer and thereupon the registrar is authorized to make such transfer of the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration, subject to all contracts, leases, mortgages, or other liens as shown by his records.

Nothing in the foregoing subdivision of this section shall prevent any conditional sales vendor, mortgagee, or other lienor from assigning his interest or title in or to a motor vehicle registered under the provisions of this act to any other person without the consent of and without effecting the interest of the holder of the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration. Upon any conditional sales vendor, mortgagee, or other lienor assigning his interest in any motor vehicle registered under this act a copy of such assignment must be filed with the registrar and record thereof made upon his records.

(d) Every person who transfers any motor vehicle to a junk dealer for the purpose of scrapping said vehicle shall so notify the registrar and deliver the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration to the registrar for cancellation.

The 1969 amendment increased the maximum value specified in the third paragraph of former subsection (e), now subsection (c), from $1,000 to $4,000.

The 1971 amendment substituted "county treasurer, who shall forward the same to the registrar" in the first sentence of subsection (b) for "registrar, who shall file the same upon receipt thereof"; added the second sentence to subsection (b); deleted former subsections (c) and (d); and redesignated former subsections (e) and (f) as (c) and (d), respectively.

53-109.1. Used motor vehicles—transfer to and from dealers. The provisions of subdivision (b) of section 53-109 shall not apply in the event of the transfer of a motor vehicle to a duly licensed automobile dealer intending to resell such vehicle and who operates the same only for demonstration purposes. In such cases, the dealer shall not be required to make application for a new certificate of ownership or for registration during the period of his ownership of said vehicle, but upon his transfer of ownership thereof to a person other than a licensed motor vehicle dealer, the following acts shall be required of the dealer on or before the times herein set forth:

(1) Prior to his delivery of the vehicle to the purchaser, the dealer shall issue and affix to the rear window of said vehicle a sticker in form to be prescribed by the registrar, and containing the name and address of the purchaser, date of sale, name and address of the dealer, and a description of the vehicle, including its serial number. There shall be imprinted upon said sticker in bold letters the following statement: "IT IS UNLAWFUL TO PLACE LICENSE PLATES UPON THIS VEHICLE UNTIL REGISTERED AT THE OFFICE OF THE COUNTY TREASURER." One copy of said sticker shall be delivered by the dealer to the county treasurer in the manner prescribed in subsection (2) hereof, and a copy shall be retained by the dealer for his file.

(2) Within three (3) days following the date of delivery of said vehicle, the dealer shall forward to the county treasurer of the county where the purchaser resides, the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration (if the same are then in his possession), with an application for registration executed by the new owner in accordance with the provisions of section 53-107, and a copy of the sticker affixed to said vehicle by the dealer, and the registrar, upon receipt of said documents from the county treasurer, together with the conditional sales contract or other lien, if any, shall issue a new certificate of ownership and certificate of registration together with a statement of any conditional sales contract, mortgage, or other lien as provided in said section 53-107.

Transmission of said documents by the dealer to the county treasurer may be accomplished either by personal delivery or by first class mail, in which event they shall be deemed to have been delivered at the time of mailing.

(3) If the dealer is unable to forward the certificate of ownership and/or certificate of registration within the time set forth in subsection (2) hereof, because the same are lost, are in the possession of third parties, or are in process of reissuance in this state or elsewhere, he shall comply in all other respects with the provisions of said subdivision (2) and shall forward the missing document or documents to the county treasurer, either personally or by first class mail, within three (3) days after their receipt.

Upon compliance by the dealer with the requirements set forth in this section, title to said motor vehicle shall be deemed to have passed to the purchaser as of the date of the delivery of said vehicle to him by the dealer, and the dealer shall have no further liability or responsibility with respect to the processing of registration.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to provide for the issuance by licensed motor vehicle dealers of stickers to be affixed to the rear window of new and used vehicles purchased from such dealers, to remain thereon during the ten day grace period for making application for registration of such vehicle; providing a nonregistration penalty; requiring that in cases of sales of used motor vehicles to persons other than licensed dealers, the dealer forward to the county treasurer, either personally or by first class mail, within three days following delivery of the vehicle, the certificate of ownership and certificate of registration with an application for registration executed by the new owner, and a copy of the sticker affixed to said vehicle by the dealer; providing that in such cases and upon compliance by the dealer with such requirements, title to said motor vehicle shall be deemed to have passed to the purchaser as of the date of delivery of said vehicle; amending sections 53-108, 53-109, 53-146, and 53-147, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947; and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Attachment of Vehicle

Where plaintiff assignee of vehicle had not recorded the title in her name even though she had possession of the vehicle and endorsed documents of title, she was a stranger to the title under former subsection (d) of section 53-109 and had no standing to complain of a wrongful attachment for the debt of the supposed owner, her former husband. Ott v. Fidelity Finance Co., 158 M 91, 488 P 2d 1148.

Contract for Purchase

Where registrar never issued certificate of registration to purchaser of a vehicle, so that under former subsection (d) of section 53-109 title did not pass to the purchaser, a non-negotiable promissory note given by the purchaser was without consideration, therefore voidable against an assignee of the note. Sonnek v. Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp., 140 M 503, 374 P 2d 105, 108.

Insurance Coverage

his name and neither party had filed any documents relating to the transfer with the registrar of motor vehicles, title had not passed to the buyer even though the parties had agreed on the price and buyer had taken possession, so that liability from an accident while buyer was driving was covered by dealer-seller's insurance rather than by the owned-replacement clause of buyer's insurance. Safeco Ins. Co. of America v. Northwestern Mutual Ins. Co., 142 M 155, 382 P 2d 174, distinguished in 368 F 2d 405, 409 and in 329 F Supp 172, 175.

Where dealer-seller retained possession of the certificate of registration of a vehicle pending payment of the final installments of the purchase price, the title remained in the seller under the provisions of former subsection (d) of section 53-109, even though the vehicle had been delivered to buyer, and liability for an accident involving buyer's son's driving of the car was covered by the seller's insurance rather than by the 30-day automatic coverage for a new car under buyer's policy or by uninsured motorist coverage of injured parties. Ostermiller v. Parker, 152 M 337, 451 P 2d 515, explained in 323 F Supp 1164, 1173 and distinguished in 329 F Supp 172, 175.

Where none of the parties had taken any steps to have a new certificate of title issued to buyer of a vehicle, title remained in the dealer-seller under former subsection (d) of section 53-109, even though the vehicle and the executed documents of title had been delivered to the buyer by a third party non-dealer who had purchased from the dealer, and liability for an accident arising out of the buyer's brother's operation of the vehicle was covered by the insurance of the dealer and the third party, rather than by the insurance of the buyer. Irion v. Glen Falls Ins. Co., 154 M 156, 461 P 2d 199, explained in 323 F Supp 1164, 1174 and distinguished in 329 F Supp 172, 175.

Where purchaser of vehicle had exercised complete dominion over a vehicle for over three years, had taken possession of the seller's certificate of registration, had purchased license plates for it in his own name for two years, had purchased insurance for it, and had repaired it, he was the owner of the vehicle for purposes of the non-owned clause of his insurance policy, despite the fact that there had been no compliance with section 53-109 and no certificate of registration had been issued to him as required by former subsection (d) of section 53-109. National Farmers Union Property & Casualty Co. v. Colbrese, 368 F 2d 405, reversing 227 F Supp 978, cert. den. 386 US 991, 87 S Ct 1306, questioned in 154 M 156, 461 P 2d 199, 205.

Where certificate of title had not been endorsed by dealer-seller and there had been no application for a certificate in buyer's name, the failure to meet the requirements of section 53-109 invalidated the sale under the terms of former subsection (d) of section 53-109, the seller was still legally in possession, and buyer was not excluded by an exclusion of persons to whom possession had been delivered pursuant to a contract of sale, despite the fact that the vehicle and the documents of title had been physically delivered to buyer, so dealer's insurance covered liability for an accident involving buyer's brother's operation of the vehicle. Glen Falls Ins. Co. v. Irion, 323 F Supp 1164.

Where buyer took possession of vehicle and executed application for certificate of title on Saturday and dealer-seller endorsed the old certificate and delivered the documents to the county treasurer on Monday, the next day of business for that office, the requirements of section 53-109 were met and title passed as of Saturday, despite former subsection (d) of section 53-109 and despite death of buyer later on Saturday, so that seller's insurance policy did not cover liability for accident arising out of operation of vehicle with buyer's consent occurring on Saturday after delivery of vehicle to buyer. Phoenix Ins. Co. v. Newell, 329 F Supp 172, distinguished in 343 F Supp 576, 581.

Where, at the time of an accident arising out of operation of the vehicle by buyer's employee, the vehicle had been delivered to buyer but buyer had not executed an application for certificate of title, the title had not passed under former subsection (d) of section 53-109, and the subsequent registration of the transfer could not cause the transfer to relate back to the time the vehicle was delivered to the buyer but only to the time that buyer executed an application for certificate of title; therefore, liability arising out of the accident was covered by seller's insurance. American States Ins. Co. v. Angstman Motors, Inc., 343 F Supp 576.

53-109.2. Applicability of sticker provisions to new car purchases. The provisions of section 3 [53-109.1], subsection (1), pertaining to the issuance of a sticker by the dealer, placement thereof upon the rear windshield of the vehicle prior to delivery, and transmission of a copy of said sticker to the county treasurer, either personally or by first class mail within ten (10) days following delivery of said vehicle, shall be applicable to sales of new motor vehicles as well as to sales of used motor vehicles.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

53-109.3. Temporary windshield sticker. Any purchaser of a motor vehicle who is unable to obtain license plates from the county treasurer at the time he makes application for registration or reregistration of said vehicle, because the certificate of ownership is lost, in the possession of third parties, or in the process of reissuance in this state or elsewhere, may, upon making affidavit to that effect upon a form prescribed by the registrar and upon the payment of a fee of two dollars ($2) to be collected by the county treasurer and remitted to the registrar, obtain from the county treasurer of the county in which said vehicle is subject to tax, a temporary windshield sticker of such size, color and design as the registrar may prescribe, to be validated by the county treasurer for a period of sixty (60) days from the date of issuance, and such purchaser, upon displaying such sticker on the lower right-hand corner of the windshield of such motor vehicle shall be entitled to operate such vehicle during the period for which such windshield sticker has been validated without displaying the registration certificate or number plates or plate for the current year. Provided, however, the county treasurer shall not sell, and no person shall purchase, more than one (1) sixty (60) day temporary windshield sticker for any vehicle, the ownership of which has not changed since the issuance of the previous sixty (60) day windshield sticker.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 138, L. 1971.

53-109.4. Grace period—penalty. Any purchaser of a new or used motor vehicle from a duly licensed motor vehicle dealer shall have the grace period of ten (10) days from the date of purchase to make application for registration and to obtain registration plates, and it shall not be a violation of this chapter or any other law for such purchaser to operate such vehicle upon the streets and highways of this state without a certificate or registration and registration plates during the said ten (10) day period; provided that at all times during said period the sticker issued by the dealer at the time of purchase shall remain affixed to said vehicle as provided in section 3 [53-109.1]. Failure to make such application within the time provided herein shall subject the purchaser to a penalty of ten dollars ($10), plus one dollar ($1) for each additional day in which said vehicle remains unregistered, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), said penalty to be collected by the county treasurer at the time of registration, and in addition to the fees otherwise provided by law.

(c) From and after the filing of any mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease, or other lien, or copy thereof on any motor vehicle, as herein provided, then and in that event such mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease or other lien shall be constructive notice of the said mortgage, conditional sales contract, lease or other lien and its contents to subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers.

(d) Upon default under a chattel mortgage or conditional sales contract covering a motor vehicle the mortgagee or vendor has the same remedies as in the case of other personal property, except that the remedy of seizure prescribed by section 52-312 shall be available upon delivery to the sheriff of the original instrument or a copy certified by the registrar of motor vehicles and such undertaking as may be required by the sheriff. In case of attachment of motor vehicles all the provisions of section 93-4338 shall be applicable except that deposits must be made with the registrar of motor vehicles.

Amendments

The 1963 amendment completely rewrote subsection (b), for previous text of which see parent volume; inserted "or conditional sales contract" near the beginning of subsection (d); substituted "mortgagee or vendor has the same remedies as in the case of other personal property, except that the remedy of seizure prescribed by section 52-312 shall be available" in subsection (d) for "mortgagee may foreclose his mortgage as in the case of other personal property, and upon default under a conditional sales contract covering a motor vehicle the vendor shall have the remedies prescribed by section 74-207"; substituted the reference to section 93-4338 in the latter part of subsection (d) for a reference to section 52-309; deleted the words "instead of the county treasurer" from the end of subsection (d); and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation in subsection (d).

Notice of Agister's Lien

Failure of automobile repairman to file copy of asserted agister's lien with registrar of motor vehicles as required by subsection (a) rendered that lien invalid as against bank holding recorded security interest in vehicle repaired and those seizing vehicle in its behalf. Parker v. West, — M —, 505 P 2d 94.

Notice of Prior Interest

Where auto repairman failed to ascertain true ownership of auto before making repairs, the filing of conditional sales contract with the registrar of motor vehicles by assignee prior to repairman's lien established a dominant interest under subsection (c) of this section. Williamson v. Skerritt, 141 M 422, 378 P 2d 215.

53-112. (1758.4) Fee for original certificate of ownership and transfer of title. Upon a transfer of registration by the owner, there shall be forwarded to the registrar of motor vehicles, the certificate of ownership or title and registration card, properly filled out and executed, together with a transfer fee of one dollar ($1.00)."

of a licensed dealer, the county treasurer shall indicate such fact by proper entry on said application, and the applicant for registration shall not be required to pay the personal property tax on any motor vehicle so assessed as merchandise."

"section 32-3315, R. C. M. 1947" for "section 53-617" after "tax provided by."

The 1971 amendment deleted "executed in quintuplet" near the end of the preliminary paragraph of subsection (1); substituted "engine or serial number" for "engine and serial number" in subdivision (1)(c); and made minor changes in punctuation and style.

The 1975 amendment added subsection (9).

Amendment

The 1965 amendment deleted from the end of the section sentences reading, "All motor vehicle license fees collected by the county treasurer shall be credited to the motor vehicle license fund hereby established. The cost of making and delivering license plates and identification marks, certificates, and all other expense of operating the motor vehicle department of the state of Montana, shall be paid out of the motor vehicle recording fund (sometimes called the motor vehicle administrative fund); provided, however that each county shall receive its pro rata share of any license fees, except dealer license fees, paid to the registrar of motor vehicles. The remainder in said county motor vehicle license fund shall be transferred by the county treasurer at the end of each month to the road fund of said county and shall be used by the county for the purpose set forth in section 53-122."

53-118. (1759.4) Application for dealer's license. Every person, firm, corporation, or association who, for commission or profit, engages in the business of buying, selling, exchanging or acting as a broker of new motor vehicles, used motor vehicles, trailers, (except trailers having an unladen weight of less than five hundred (500) pounds), semitrailers or special mobile equipment as defined in section 53-642 and qualifies under subparagraph (f) of this section, shall cause to be filed, by mail or otherwise, in the office of the registrar of motor vehicles, a verified application for licensing as a dealer on a blank to be furnished by the registrar of motor vehicles for that purpose, and containing the information therein required. The application and all of the information therein contained shall be verified by the Montana highway patrol. Each application must be accompanied by the license fee hereinafter named. Dealer's license must be renewed and paid for annually, and an application for relicensing must be filed not later than January first of each year. To qualify for licensing and the issuance and use of "D," "UD," "DTR," or "MCD" plates, as hereinafter provided, the applicant must furnish the following information and qualify under the following provisions:

- (a) The name under which the business is conducted;
- (b) Location of premises (street, address, city, county and state) where records are kept, sales are made and stock of motor vehicles displayed;
- (c) Name and address of all owners or persons having an interest in the business; provided, however, that in the case of a corporation, the names and addresses of the president and secretary thereof will be sufficient;
- (d) Name and make of all vehicles handled, if factory franchised or selling under a written agreement with a manufacturer, importer or distributor;
- (e) Whether or not used vehicles are handled exclusively;
- (f) A certificate to the effect that the applicant is a bona fide dealer in motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers or special mobile equipment; and that the applicant if a dealer in new motor vehicles, is recognized by a manufacturer, importer or distributor as a dealer in particular makes of new motor vehicles.
- (g) Other information required by the registrar to efficiently administer this law.

The applicant for a dealer's license shall also file with his application a good and sufficient bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), and the bond shall be conditioned that the applicant shall conduct his business in accordance with the requirements of the law. All bonds shall run to the state of Montana and shall be approved by the registrar of motor vehicles and filed in his office and shall be renewed annually.

The registrar of motor vehicles shall not register or license as a dealer any applicant for the sale of new motor vehicles at retail unless such applicant owns, leases or rents a permanent building wherein he shall conduct his business and who has a dealers' franchise from a manufacturer of motor vehicles. A private residence, tent, or temporary building is not a sufficiently permanent place of business within the meaning of this section. The registrar of motor vehicles shall not register or license any applicant as a dealer in used cars unless such applicant furnishes sufficient evidence to the registrar that he has a building or lot to provide display of merchandise, a sign indicating the firm name and headquarters as the principal place of business.

Upon making such application, the applicant shall pay to the registrar of motor vehicles, in addition to the fees required of dealers under the provisions of section 53-122, a fee of five dollars ($5). Upon receipt of the application, fee and bond, as provided above, the registrar of motor vehicles shall examine the application, and may, prior to issuing a license, make individual investigation of the truth of the statements contained in the application. If the registrar of motor vehicles is satisfied that the applicant qualifies for the issuance of a dealer's license under the provisions of this act, he may thereupon issue the same.

Every dealer licensed under this section shall keep a book or record of the purchase, sale or exchange or receipt for the purpose of sale, of any used vehicle, a description of such vehicles, together with the name and address of the seller, of the purchaser, and of the alleged owner or other person from whom such vehicle was purchased or received, or to whom it was sold or delivered, as the case may be. Such description in the case of motor vehicles shall also include the engine number, if any, the maker's number, if any, chassis number, if any, and such other numbers or identification marks as may be thereon, and shall include a statement that a number has been obliterated, defaced or changed, if such is the fact. In the case of a trailer, semitrailer or special mobile equipment, the record shall include the manufacturer's number and such other numbers or identification marks as may be thereon. He shall also have in his possession a duly assigned certificate of title from the owner of said motor vehicle in accordance with the provisions of another section of this act, from the time when the motor vehicle is delivered to him until it has been disposed of by him.

Upon the licensing of a dealer as a new motor vehicle dealer, used motor vehicle dealer, or trailer, semitrailer, or special mobile equipment dealer, or a dealer of the motorcycle-type vehicle, the registrar of motor vehicles shall assign to such dealer a distinctive serial license number as a dealer and furnish every qualified dealer in motor vehicles with not less than two (2) sets of number plates, and as many more as the fee the dealer pays entitles the dealer to, which number plates shall be similar to number plates furnished to owners of motor vehicles but shall bear thereon, in addition to the serial number assigned such dealer, the letter "D" if the dealer sells new motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers) or new and used motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers); the letters "UD" if the dealer sells used motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers) only; and the letters "DTR" if the dealer sells trailers, semitrailers or special mobile equipment (new or used) only, and the letters "MCD" if the dealer sells vehicles of the motorcycle type. Only new motor vehicle dealers' license plates bearing the letter "D" shall be assigned if both new and used motor vehicles (including trucks and trailers) are sold, and only one license fee shall be required of any one dealer. The registrar of motor vehicles shall cause to be placed on each set of license plates issued to a dealer, a serial number assigned to each dealer and the actual number of license plates issued to each dealer. The number of the dealer shall follow the prefix of the county, and the number of plates issued the dealer shall follow the prefix of the county and the number of the dealer, the dealer's number to be separated from the county prefix by a dash, and the number of plates issued to a dealer to be separated from the dealer's number by a dash, as follows: Dealer number 4 in Lewis and Clark County would be numbered 5-4, and if the dealer were issued three sets of plates, they would be numbered consecutively as follows, 5-4-1, 5-4-2 and 5-4-3. Dealers properly licensed under this section are authorized to use and display, dealer's license plates on any motor vehicle held for sale or used principally in the conduct of the dealer's business in selling or demonstrating motor vehicles. No dealer's license plate shall be used or displayed on vehicles normally used for hire, lease or rental or for purposes not incident to the business of a motor vehicle dealer. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the registrar of motor vehicles, from information furnished to him by the sheriff or any other law enforcement officer, that any such dealer has been improperly licensed, has used the dealer's license in a manner other than the one permitted above, or is not qualified as a dealer under the requirements of this section, the registrar of motor vehicles may revoke such dealer's license. No person, firm, corporation or association shall, for commission or profit, engage in the business of buying, selling, exchanging or acting as a broker of new motor vehicles, trailers or semitrailers unless duly licensed in compliance with this section (except trailers having an unladen weight of less than five hundred (500) pounds).

Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) and not more than five hundred dollars ($500). For the purposes hereof, every sale of a motor vehicle in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a separate offense.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1971, once by Ch. 226 and once by Ch. 244. Neither amendatory act mentioned nor included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict the compiler has made a composite section incorporating both amendments.

Amendments

The 1965 amendment completely rewrote this section. For previous text, see parent volume.

The 1969 amendment, in the first paragraph, inserted "except trailers * * * pounds" after "trailers" in the first sentence, substituted "Montana highway patrol" for "sheriff of the county in which the business is to be conducted, as designated in subparagraph (b) below" in the second sentence and deleted a third sentence which read "A fee of two dollars ($2) shall be paid to the sheriff for such verification"; in the second paragraph, substituted "five thousand dollars ($5,000)" for "one thousand dollars ($1,000.00)" and added "and shall be renewed annually"; in the sixth paragraph inserted the third and fourth sentences, deleted "exclusively" before "for hire" and inserted "lease or rental" in the sixth sentence, and added "except trailers * * * pounds" at the end of the eighth sentence; and, in the seventh paragraph changed the minimum fine from $50 to $250 and the maximum fine from $300 to $500.

Chapter 226, Laws of 1971, inserted references to motorcycle dealers and to MCD plates near the end of the paragraph preceding the lettered subdivisions and in two places in the fifth paragraph following the lettered subdivisions, and made minor changes in style.

Chapter 244, Laws of 1971, inserted references to special mobile equipment dealers near the middle of the paragraph preceding the lettered subdivisions, in subdivision (f), in the fourth paragraph following the lettered subdivisions, and in two places in the fifth paragraph following the lettered subdivisions; and made minor changes in style, phraseology, and punctuation.

Amendments

Chapter 147, Laws 1963, substituted "the earmarked revenue fund and shall be used to pay" in what is now the last paragraph for "the motor vehicle recording fund of said registrar (sometimes called the motor vehicle administrative fund) out of which shall be paid"; added the second sentence to the same paragraph; deleted a former next to last paragraph reading, "There shall be immediately transferred from the motor vehicle fund of the registrar of motor vehicles to the said motor vehicle recording fund all moneys now in said motor vehicle fund which were collected by the registrar of motor vehicles as fees other than license fees"; and substituted "motor vehicle recording account" for "motor vehicle recording fund" in the paragraph later deleted by Ch. 121, Laws 1965.

Chapter 178, Laws 1963, amended former paragraph (c), for previous text of which see parent volume, to read, "In every county which does not have within its borders a city and area coming within the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) above, the net license fee derived from the registration of motor vehicles shall be by the registrar of motor vehicles transmitted to, and paid over to the county treasurer of each such county and shall be allocated and divided by the county treasurer as hereinafter provided. The motor vehicle license fund in each such county shall be divided between accounts designated as 'city road fund' and 'county road fund' in a prorata manner based upon the total number of miles of all public streets and highways situated within the limits of incorporated cities and towns within each county as compared with the total number of miles of public streets and highways situated within the county, but outside the corporate limits of any incorporated cities and towns"; inserted immediately after former paragraph (c) two new paragraphs reading, "The license fees held in the city road fund, as hereinabove provided shall be at the end of each thirty (30) day period beginning March 1, 1964, be paid by the county treasurer to the treasurer of each incorporated city or town within the county in a pro rata manner based upon the number of miles of all public streets and highways situated within such city or town as compared to the total number of miles of all public streets and highways within the limits of all incorporated cities and towns within the county. The city or town treasurer shall hold said moneys in a separate fund designated as the 'city road fund' which shall be used by the city or town council only for the construction and repair of streets and highways within the corporate limits of such incorporated city or town" and "The net license fees derived from the registration of vehicles shall be used by said county for the construction, repair and maintenance of all public highways, except state and federal highways, within the boundaries of said county"; and added a final paragraph reading, "The board of county commissioners of each county which does not have within its borders a city and area coming within the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) above shall prior to March 1 of each year, beginning with the year 1964, determine the number of miles of public streets and highways situated in each incorporated city and town in the county, and the number of miles of public streets and highways within the county, but outside the corporate limits of the incorporated cities and towns, in order that the motor vehicle license and registration fees can be divided between the 'county road fund' and each 'city road fund' in the pro rata manner as provided in this act. The board of county commissioners shall at the same time also compute the percentage of said motor vehicle license and registration fees to be paid by the county treasurer to the treasurer of each incorporated city and town and also the percentage to be deposited in the county road fund."

The personal property taxes assessed against the special mobile equipment must be paid before the issuance of a special mobile equipment plate. The fees collected under this section belong to the county road fund.

The department may enter into an agreement or arrangement with the duly authorized representatives of other jurisdictions, granting to vehicles or to owners of vehicles which are properly registered or licensed in those jurisdictions, and for which evidence of compliance is supplied, benefits, privileges and exemptions from payment, wholly or partially, of any taxes, fees, or other charges imposed upon those vehicles or owners with respect to the operation or ownership of the vehicles under the laws of this state. The agreement or arrangement shall provide that vehicles properly registered or licensed in this state, when operated upon highways of those other jurisdictions, shall receive exemptions, benefits and privileges of a similar kind or to a similar degree as are extended to vehicles properly registered or licensed in the jurisdiction when operated in this state. The agreement or arrangement shall, in the judgment of the department, be in the best interests and fair and equitable to this state and its citizens determined on the basis and recognition of the benefits which accrue to the economy of this state from the uninterrupted flow of commerce.

53-706. Base state registration reciprocity. An agreement or arrangement entered into, or a declaration issued under the authority of this act may contain provisions authorizing the registration or licensing in another jurisdiction of vehicles located in or operated from a base in such other jurisdiction which vehicles otherwise would be required to be registered or licensed in this state; and in such event the exemptions, benefits and privileges extended by such agreement, arrangement or declaration shall apply to such vehicles, when properly licensed or registered in such base jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-707. Proportional registration of fleet vehicles. If a jurisdiction permits or requires the licensing of fleets of vehicles in interstate or combined interstate and intrastate commerce and payment of registration fees, license fees, taxes or other fixed fees on those vehicles on an apportionment basis commensurate with and determined by the miles traveled on and the use made of the jurisdiction's highways, as compared with the miles traveled on and the use made of other jurisdiction's highways or any other equitable basis of apportionment, and exempts vehicles registered in any other jurisdiction under this apportionment basis from the requirements of full payment of its own registration, license fees, taxes or other fixed fees, then the department may, by agreement, adopt such exemption with respect to vehicles of these fleets, whether owned by residents or nonresidents of this state and regardless of where based. An agreement, under the terms, conditions or restrictions the department considers proper, may provide that owners of vehicles operated in interstate or combined interstate and intrastate commerce in this state be permitted to pay registration, license fees, taxes or other fixed fees on an apportionment basis, commensurate with and determined by the miles traveled on and the use made of the highways of this state as compared with the use made of the highways of other jurisdictions or any other equitable basis of apportionment. This agreement may not authorize, nor be construed to authorize a vehicle so registered to be operated in intrastate commerce in this state unless the owner of the vehicle has been granted intrastate authority or rights by the public service commission, if a grant is otherwise required by law. The department may adopt rules it considers necessary to carry out and administer this section, and the registration of fleet vehicles under this chapter is subject to the rights, terms and conditions granted by or contained in any applicable agreement, arrangement or declaration made by the department.

Amendments

The 1965 amendment substituted "license fees, taxes" for "license taxes" near the beginning of the section and "license fees, taxes" for "license" following "registration" in two places.

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board" throughout the section; substituted "public service commission" for "Montana railroad and public service commission" in the third sentence; substituted "this section" for "this subsection" in the last sentence; substituted "this chapter" for "this act" in the last sentence; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

53-708. Declarations of extent of reciprocity. In the absence of an agreement or arrangement with another jurisdiction, the department may examine the laws and requirements of the jurisdiction and declare the extent and nature of exemptions, benefits, and privileges to be extended to vehicles properly registered or licensed in the other jurisdiction, or to the owners of the vehicles, which are, in the judgment of the department in the best interests and fair and equitable to this state and its citizens determined on the basis and recognition of the benefits which accrue to the economy of this state from the uninterrupted flow of commerce.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 206, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 194, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "Montana motor vehicle reciprocity board"; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

53-709. Extension of reciprocal privileges to lessees authorized. An agreement or arrangement entered into, or a declaration issued under the authority of this act, may contain provisions under which a leased vehicle properly registered by the lessor thereof may be entitled, subject to terms and conditions stated therein, to the exemptions, benefits and privileges extended by such agreement, arrangement or declaration.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-710. Automatic reciprocity. On and after the effective date of this act, if no agreement, arrangement or declaration is in effect with respect to another jurisdiction as authorized by this act, any vehicle properly registered or licensed in such other jurisdiction, and for which evidence of compliance is supplied, shall receive, when operated in this state, the same exemptions, benefits and privileges granted by such other jurisdictions to vehicles properly registered in this state. Reciprocity extended under this subsection shall apply to commercial vehicles only when engaged exclusively in interstate commerce.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-711. Proportional registration not exclusive. Nothing contained in this act relating to proportional registration of fleet vehicles shall be construed as requiring any vehicle to be proportionally registered if it is otherwise registered in this state for the operation in which it is engaged, including but not by way of limitation, regular registration, temporary registration, or trip permit or registration.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 206, L. 1963.

53-712. Proportional registration of fleet vehicles, application, fee-formula and payment. (1) An owner engaged in operating one (1) or more fleets may, instead of registration of vehicles under other sections of this title, register and license each fleet for operation in this state by filing an application with the department which shall contain the following information, and other information pertinent to vehicle registration the department requires:

(a) Total fleet miles. This shall be the total number of miles operated in all jurisdictions during the preceding year by the vehicles in the fleet during the year.

(b) In-state miles. This shall be the total number of miles operated in this state during the preceding year by the vehicles in the fleet during the year.

(c) A description and identification of each vehicle of the fleet which is to be operated in this state during the registration year for which proportional fleet registration is requested.

(2) The application for each fleet shall be accompanied by a fee payment computed as follows:

(a) Divide in-state miles by total fleet miles.

(b) Determine the total amount necessary to register each vehicle in the fleet for which registration is requested, based on the regular annual registration fees prescribed by section 53-122, Title 32, chapter 32 and chapter 33 and the property taxes which are due on the fleet.

(c) Multiply the sum obtained under subsection (2) (b) by the fraction obtained under subsection (2) (a).

Oregon, Puerto Rico, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Virgin Islands, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

NOTE.—The following states have enacted the Uniform Narcotic Drug Act: Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma,

Title of Act

An act providing for regulation of the possession and sale of dangerous drugs in the state of Montana; defining dangerous drugs to include depressant, stimulant, hallucinogenic and narcotic drugs and defining certain words and phrases in connection therewith; defining who may lawfully sell and possess dangerous drugs; providing for the fraudulent obtaining of dangerous drugs or the alteration of labels; providing for the enforcement of unlawful sale and possession; providing for the state board of pharmacy to regulate, license and supervise, and designate other dangerous drugs after proper notice and hearing; amending section 95-302, R. C. M. 1947, to exclude trial jurisdiction in the justices' courts in cases commenced under this act; repealing sections 27-724, 27-725, 54-101 through 54-128 inclusive, 94-35-123, 94-35-148, 94-35-199, R. C. M. 1947.

Amendments

Chapter 412, Laws of 1973, deleted "and does not come within the exceptions of section 3" from the end of subsection (a); and deleted from subsection (b) the same sentence deleted by Ch. 55.

The 1974 amendment inserted in subsection (2) "barter, exchanges, gives away, or offers to sell, barter, exchange or give away"; and added subsection (c).

Cross-References

Justices' court jurisdiction, sec. 95-302.

Constitutionality

This statute is not unconstitutional just because the legislature defined the offense of criminal sale of dangerous drugs in terms of several types of conduct that might constitute that offense, and although the Montana legislature could have set forth a separate statute prohibiting the cultivation of marijuana and could have labeled it accordingly, defendant who cultivated marijuana was guilty of the offense of criminal sale of dangerous drugs. State ex rel. LeMieux v. District Court, — M —, 531 P 2d 665.

Dismissal of Charge

Alternative motion to amend information from preparation of drugs to sale of drugs in order to conform with the affidavit, or to dismiss and refile charges, would have been tantamount to amending the charge as a matter of substance and was properly denied by the trial court. State v. Tropf, — M —, 530 P 2d 1158.

Information Insufficient

Information charging offense under this section was insufficient where it contained neither identity of informer nor specific facts concerning the offense and identity of time and place to protect accused from double jeopardy. State ex rel. Offerdahl v. District Court, 156 M 432, 481 P 2d 338.

Nature of Drug

Evidence that victims hallucinated following ingestion of drugs furnished by defendant and described by him as "acid" established dangerous nature of drugs to support conviction, despite absence of proof of exact type of drug, and the possibility that hallucinations might have been flashback from previous trips did not necessarily create reasonable doubt. State v. Dunn, 155 M 319, 472 P 2d 288.

Possession Only

Trial court's instruction to jury that law implies knowledge that drug was a prohibited drug from mere possession of the drug was an incorrect statement of the law, confusing to the jury, and entitled defendant to new trial. State v. Anderson, 159 M 344, 498 P 2d 295.

Repeal Pending Prosecution

Where defendant was charged with selling narcotics in violation of former section 54-102, and between date of commission of crime and time information was filed legislature repealed former section 54-102 and passed this section of Dangerous Drug Act, such repeal did not bar prosecution under former section since general statutory saving clause, section 43-514, operated to sustain jurisdiction of subject matter in district court. State ex rel. Huffman v. District Court, 154 M 201, 461 P 2d 847.

Transfer of Marijuana

The testimony of witnesses was sufficient to support the act of giving or transferring marijuana, which without even considering evidence of a cash transfer, establishes the crime beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Thomas, — M —, 532 P 2d 405.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Dangerous Drug

Defendant was not entitled to have words "and none others" added at end of jury instructions defining dangerous drugs in words of statute. State v. Dunn, 155 M 319, 472 P 2d 288.

Deferred Imposition of Sentence

Evidence of sale of two pounds of hashish to three minors, one only 15 years old, was sufficient to overcome presumption of entitlement to deferred imposition of sentence. Campus v. State, 157 M 321, 483 P 2d 275.

The statutory presumption of entitlement to deferred imposition of sentence for persons under 21 convicted of a first violation may be overcome where the evidence is sufficient, but, the record itself must disclose the evidence; evidence may be contained within or without proof of the crime itself; aggravating circumstances should be substantial evidence beyond the simple facts of the prima facie case. Campus v. State, 157 M 321, 483 P 2d 275.

Conditioning deferred imposition of sentence on serving term of 30 days in county jail was within trial court's authority where 18-year-old defendant was convicted of sale of dangerous drugs. State ex rel. Woodbury v. District Court, 159 M 128, 495 P 2d 1119, distinguishing State v. Drew, 158 M 214, 490 P 2d 230.

Hearsay statement and affidavits which accused defendant of prior dealings in drugs were not admissible in aggravation and mitigation hearing to overcome presumption that defendant was entitled to deferred imposition of sentence, where defendant had no opportunity to cross-examine affiants or even determine if they were known to him. State v. Harney, 160 M 55, 499 P 2d 802.

54-133. Criminal possession of dangerous drugs. (a) A person commits the offense of criminal possession of dangerous drugs if he possesses any dangerous drug as defined in this act.

(b) Any person convicted of a criminal possession of marihuana or its derivatives in an amount, the aggregate weight of which does not exceed sixty (60) grams of marihuana, or one (1) gram of hashish, shall, for the first offense, be guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one (1) year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. A person convicted of a second, or subsequent, offense under this subsection is punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one (1) year or in the state prison not to exceed three (3) years or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) A person convicted of criminal possession of dangerous drugs not otherwise provided for in subsection (b) shall be imprisoned by imprisonment in the state prison not to exceed five (5) years.

(d) A person of the age of twenty-one (21) years or under, convicted of a first violation under this section shall be presumed to be entitled to a deferred imposition of sentence. Jurisdiction under this section shall be exclusively in the district court.

History: En. Sec. 5, ch. 314, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 228, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 26, Ch. 412, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 174, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "other than criminal possession of marihuana and its derivatives as hereinafter provided" in the first sentence of subsection (b); added new second and third sentences to subsection (b); redesignated the former second sentence of subsection (b) as the first sentence of subsection (d); added the second sentence of subsection (d); and made minor changes in phraseology.

The 1973 amendment deleted "and does not come within the exceptions of section 3" from the end of subsection (a).

The 1974 amendment deleted from the beginning of subsection (b) "A person convicted of criminal possession of dangerous drugs, other than criminal possession of marihuana and its derivatives as hereinafter provided, shall be imprisoned by imprisonment in the state prison not to exceed five (5) years"; inserted subsection (c); and redesignated former subsection (c) as subsection (d).

Effective Dates

Section 2 of Ch. 228, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 9, 1971.

Section 2 of Ch. 174, Laws 1974 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 11, 1974.

Constitutionality

vague and uncertain due to its failure to require knowledge and intent in relation to possession of dangerous drugs since meaning of term "possession" has been so well defined that it cannot be considered ambiguous. State ex rel. Glantz v. District Court, 154 M 132, 461 P 2d 193.

Constructive Possession

Possession of airline baggage claim tag was constructive possession of contraband contained in suitcase. State v. Trowbridge, 157 M 527, 487 P 2d 530.

Deferred Sentence

Trial court improperly sentenced 21-year-old defendant to three years imprisonment for violation of this section where there was no evidence to overcome the statutory presumption that defendant was entitled to deferred sentence. State v. Simtob, 154 M 286, 462 P 2d 873.

Elements of Crime

Whether several ingredients besides amphetamine are present within a pill is immaterial in a prosecution under Dangerous Drug Act. State v. Hull, 158 M 6, 487 P 2d 1314.

Probable Cause for Arrest

Where relators were arrested and charged under this section, allegation that probable cause did not exist for their arrest without warrant was without merit in regard to three who were present and lived in house where drugs were found; but probable cause did not exist concerning fourth party arrested who was present on premises but did not live there, notwithstanding later finding of drugs on this party, since mere presence in place where search was made without further proof of probable cause was insufficient to justify arrest. State ex rel. Glantz v. District Court, 154 M 132, 461 P 2d 193, distinguished in 158 M 6, 487 P 2d 1314, 1320.

Quantity in Possession

As the Dangerous Drug Act did not require proof of any specific quantity of a dangerous drug in order to constitute violation, it was unnecessary for the jury to find that the defendant possessed an amphetamine pill in sufficient quantity to be dangerous. State v. Hull, 158 M 6, 487 P 2d 1314.

Sentencing

Under subsection (c), a defendant may not be sentenced to a term in jail; and at the termination of the time of deferment or stayed imposition, the sentencing statute (95-2207) authorizes the court to accept a plea withdrawal or to strike the verdict of guilty and order the charge dismissed. State v. Drew, 158 M 214, 490 P 2d 230, distinguished in 159 M 128, 495 P 2d 1119, 1123.

Once the presumption provided for in subsection (c) has been found by the trial judge not to have been overcome, the court's discretion is limited by this act to defer the imposition of sentence as provided under subsection (2) of section 95-2206. State v. Drew, 158 M 214, 490 P 2d 230, distinguished in 159 M 128, 495 P 2d 1119, 1123.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Exclusive Nature of Statute

Marijuana seized in private residence under search warrant issued by justice of peace was unlawfully seized and warrant was void since, under former section 54-112, only district judge could issue search warrant for narcotics and no search warrant could be issued to search private residence for narcotics. The provisions of former Uniform Drug Act were sole and exclusive provisions governing issuance of search warrants authorizing lawful search and seizure of narcotic drugs and state's contentions that statute applied only to in rem proceedings to seize and destroy contraband narcotics and did not apply to in personam proceedings against possessor which are governed by criminal code could not be sustained. State v. Langan, 151 M 558, 445 P 2d 565, accord, State v. Kurland, 151 M 569, 445 P 2d 570 (marijuana inadmissible in criminal prosecution for possession against social guest), distinguished in 158 M 6, 487 P 2d 1314, 1320.

54-133.1. Criminal possession with intent to sell. (1) A person commits the offense of criminal possession with intent to sell if he possesses with intent to sell any dangerous drug as defined in section 54-301. No person commits the offense of criminal possession with intent to sell marijuana unless he possesses one kilogram or more.

(2) A person convicted of criminal possession with intent to sell shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a term of not more than twenty (20) years.

(3) Practitioners and agents under their supervision acting in the course of a professional practice as defined by section 54-301 are exempt from this section.

History: En. 54-133.1 by Sec. 1, Ch. 545, L. 1975.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-135. Altering labels on dangerous drugs. A person commits the offense of altering labels on dangerous drugs if he affixes a false, forged, or altered label to a package or receptacle containing a dangerous drug, or otherwise misrepresents the package containing a dangerous drug.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-136. Penalty for fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs or altering the labels of dangerous drugs. A person convicted of fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs or altering the labels on dangerous drugs shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not to exceed six (6) months.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-137. Alternative sentencing authority. A person convicted of criminal possession of dangerous drugs, fraudulently obtaining dangerous drugs or altering labels on dangerous drugs, if he is shown to be an excessive or habitual user of dangerous drugs either from the face of the record or by a presentence investigation, may in lieu of imprisonment, be committed to the custody of any institution for rehabilitative treatment for not less than six (6) months nor more than two (2) years.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

54-138. Jurisdiction. The district court shall have exclusive trial jurisdiction over all prosecutions commenced under the Montana Dangerous Drug Act.

Title of Act

An act to amend the Dangerous Drug Act, by adopting substantially the definitions, procedures, standards and schedules and the regulatory provisions of the uniform controlled substances act as recommended by the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws; by excluding from such schedules non-narcotic drugs which may be lawfully sold over the counter without a prescription; by repealing sections 54-129, 54-130, 54-131, and 66-1504.1, R. C. M. 1947; amending sections 54-132 and 54-133, R. C. M. 1947, by deleting references to section 54-131, R. C. M. 1947; amending section 54-132 by deleting the provision regarding deferred imposition of sentence; providing for severability if any part of this act is determined unconstitutional; and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment inserted the definitions of "Board" and "Department."

The 1975 amendment substituted the present subdivision (16) defining marijuana for a former specific definition reading "Marijuana means all parts of the plant cannabis sativa L., whether growing or not; the seeds thereof; the resin extracted from any part of the plant; and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of the plant, its seeds or resin. It does not include the mature stalks of the plant, fiber produced from the stalks, oil or cake made from the seeds of the plant, any other compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture or preparation of the mature stalks (except the resin extracted therefrom), fiber, oil, or cake, or the sterilized seed of the plant which is incapable of germination"; and made a minor change in style.

54-302. Administration of act—scheduling and rescheduling of drugs—findings—deviations from federal schedules—substances excluded. (1) The board of pharmacists shall administer this act and may add drugs to or delete or reschedule all drugs enumerated in the schedules in sections 54-305, 54-307, 54-309, 54-311, or 54-313, pursuant to the rule-making procedures of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act (82-4201 through 82-4225). In making a determination regarding a drug, the board shall consider the following:

- (a) the actual or relative potential for abuse;
- (b) the scientific evidence of its pharmacological effect, if known;
- (c) the state of current scientific knowledge regarding the drug;
- (d) the history and current pattern of abuse;
- (e) the scope, duration, and significance of abuse;
- (f) the risk to the public health;
- (g) the potential of the drug to produce psychic or physiological dependence liability; and
- (h) whether the drug is an immediate precursor of a drug already controlled under this act.

(2) After considering the factors enumerated in subsection (1) the board shall make findings with respect thereto and if it finds the drug has a potential for abuse it shall designate such drug a dangerous drug in the manner set forth in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(3) If the board designates a drug as an immediate precursor, drugs which are precursors of the controlled precursor shall not be subject to control solely because they are precursors of the controlled precursor.

(4) If any drug is designated, rescheduled, or deleted as a "controlled substance" under federal law and notice thereof is given to the board, the board shall similarly control the drug under this act after the expiration of thirty (30) days from publication in the federal register of a final order designating a drug as a "controlled substance" or rescheduling or deleting a drug, unless within that thirty (30) day period, the board objects to inclusion, rescheduling, or deletion. In that case, the board shall cause the reasons for objection to be published and afford all interested parties an opportunity to be heard. At the conclusion of the hearing, the department shall publish the board's decision, which shall be final unless altered thereafter by the board or by statute. Upon publication of objection to inclusion, rescheduling, or deletion under this act by the board, control under this act is stayed until the board's decision is published.

(5) Authority to control under this section does not extend to distilled spirits, liquor, wine, malt beverages, beer, porter, ale, stout or tobacco.

(6) The board shall exclude any non-narcotic drug from a schedule if such drug may, under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and section 27-716 (a) (2) of the Montana Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, be lawfully sold over the counter without a prescription.

(3) Practitioners shall be registered to dispense any dangerous drugs or to conduct research with dangerous drugs in Schedules II through V if they are authorized to dispense or conduct research under the laws of this state. The board need not require separate registration for practitioners engaging in research with nonnarcotic dangerous drugs in Schedules II through V where the registrant is already registered under this act in another capacity. Practitioners registered under federal law to conduct research with Schedule I drugs may conduct research with Schedule I drugs within this state upon furnishing the board evidence of that federal registration.

- (c) has had his federal registration suspended or revoked to manufacture, distribute, or dispense controlled substances.

(2) The board may limit revocation or suspension of a registration to the particular dangerous drug with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist.

(3) If the board suspends or revokes a registration, all dangerous drugs owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal. No disposition may be made of drugs under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable drugs and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all dangerous drugs may be forfeited to the state.

The suspension shall continue in effect until the conclusion of the proceedings, including judicial review thereof, unless sooner withdrawn by the board or dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction.
